A HUNTING WE DID GO!!

Deer hunting on the first day of the season paid off unexpectedly for three local hunters last Saturday morning when they bagged the prize of the season . . . the young cougar which has been decimating sheep flocks for some months.

Jim Spencer despatched the animal with one shot from about 100 yards up on the Cranberry when the animal came out of a thicket and calmly stood and stared at the men. It was a magnificent young animal weighing over 100 pounds. In on the kill also were Messrs. Howard Byron and Peter Stevens from Beaver Point.

It is believed this is one of the two cougars which have been the object of a long frustrating search by a number of hunting parties in recent months, including the official cougar hunter using his trained dogs. The other animal, believed to be the mother of this one killed Saturday was found washed up on the shore of Sansum Narrows some time ago.

Having disposed of this one, it is believed that the Island is now free of cougars at least for the present.

The three lucky hunters have really hit the jackpot this year as the same trio went out on Sunday and bagged a beautiful buck to complete their quest. Bounty money, they say is to be used to finance an elk hunting expedition later on.

the school classrooms and dormitory. Painting of the school exterior and Mahon Hall was almost complete.

New speed limit signs have been posted opposite the school dormitory in view of the fact the building now houses the kindergarten. Brush has also been cut along the right of way at this point to provide safer traffic access to the dormitory grounds.

It was also reported by the building and grounds committee that the tennis (Cont'd. to P. 9, Col. 1)

OVER $900.00 RAISED AT HOSPITAL AUXILIARY SALE

A large crowd awaited the opening of the Lady Min-to Gulf Islands Hospital Women's Auxiliary Annual Sale of Bargains on Saturday morning at Mahon Hall. Doors opened at 10 a.m. and the place was flooded with eager bargain hunters.

Everything from proverbial soup to nuts, from candles to cradles, trunks, dishes and clothing were handily displayed and snapped up. The clothing section was manned by fitters and was even equipped with a dressing booth for checking the fit. As far as is known customers went away loaded with bargains and happy, and the sponsors were pleased with their annual effort.

Something over $900 was raised and the proceeds are to be used for general expenditures to provide a wide range of items needed in the hospital.

It was reported that one of the wives saw fit to hang a sign on her husband's back "NOT FOR SALE", just to avoid any misunderstanding.

Mrs. W.E. Dipple was general convener, assisted by Mrs. Douglas Wilson, Mrs. Maurice Atkins, and 35 volunteer saleswomen.

Patchwork quilt made by Mrs. Anna Thompson, Vesuvius Bay, was won by Del Van Buskirk. Mrs. Jack Nelson won an electric kettle.

was the scene of a pretty noon-day wedding when Lavinia Precella Allard exchanged vows with Leslie Frederick Wagg at a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Father Wm. Mudge. Parents of the bride and groom are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allard, Churchill Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Wagg, Ganges Hill.

Given in marriage by her father, the radiant bride wore a classic design floor-length gown of white organza over taffeta. Fitted bodice was fashioned with lace at the neckline, pointed sleeves and large bow at back waistline. The full skirt, en train, was worn over a hooped crinoline and featured lace-centred front panel. The bride's chapel veil of nylon net misted from a pearl filigree headdress. American Beauty roses and white carnations fringed her bouquet. She wore the groom's gift, a

Matron of honour, Mrs. Harold Leader, Shawnigan Lake, stepsister of the bride, wore turquoise silk brocade sheath with three-quarter sleeves and scoop neckline. Bridesmaids Miss Sally Barker and Miss Roberta Akerman were gowned alike in deep turquoise embroidered taffeta, fashioned with fitted cummerbund and soft wide inverted pleats which gave fullness to the ballerina length skirts. The attendants wore white whimsy veils and carried pink carnations.

Flower girl Kathleen Stewart, Cobble Hill, five-year old niece of the bride, was dressed in a white nylon frock with turquoise sash. She wore a circlet of flowers in her hair and carried a pink posy. Her seven-year old brother, Rodger Stewart, was ring bearer.

Mr. Frank DeJong was best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Max Allard, Ocean Falls, B.C. and the groom's brother, Douglas Wagg, Victoria. During signing of the register the bride's uncle, Mr. W.J.E. Brookbank, Squamish, B.C., sang "Ave Marie".

A reception followed in the Shamrock Room of Harbour House Hotel. Guests were received by the bride's mother attired in two-piece dress of robin egg blue crepe, worn with white hat and accessories and white corsage. The groom's mother chose a

BOATS-EYE VIEW OF SALTSPRING ISLAND

by Second Mate

(Continuing the cruise around Salt Spring with the Second Mate. This is a visit to Musgrave's Landing - ever romantic sounding to those of us who have not been able to visit it).

As we approach famous Cape Keppel (this named also by the indefatigable Captain Richards) six little white cruisers come streaming round the point, going hell-for-leather. All the shipping going up into Cowichan Bay take their bearings on Cape Keppel. We bear starboard and make for the Sansum Narrows. Round the Cape and dead ahead lies Separation Point guarding the entrance to Cowichan Bay. Far, far behind us stretches the blue waters of Brentwood Bay and across from it the cement-dust from Bamerton hangs like a low cloud in the still air above the Saanich Inlet.

As we steer toward Musgrave Point which is the entrance to the Sansum Narrows, we observe that the upper reaches of the Salt-spring mountain are scarred by the ugly aftermath of forest fire - a grim reminder to heed the prognostications of Smoky the Bear!

We turn abruptly round Musgrave Point and there behold the quiet beauty and cathedral-like stillness of the little bay at Musgrave's Landing. The tiny wharf is a regular government dock but practically unused now except for the occasional boat. According to some, the land here was originally owned by two English brothers, Pimbury by name, but certainly the settler Musgrave, whose name is perpetuated at the point, landing and small island, was the first to leave a lasting mark on it. He owned a mile of sea-coast, 300 acres of forest and 70 acres of farmland.

The first time I made acquaintance with this idyllic spot the Smeeton's were in residence. When we arrived they were down at the Landing aboard their beautiful yacht the "Tzung-Ho" which Miles Smeeton later made famous in his book, "Once is Enough". (Cont'd next week)

CONTRIBUTED

"IT'S BEEN NICE TO KNOW YOU"

The streets are empty and would be dead but for the flower boxes spilling over with merriment. Even their bright laughter is subdued, for September is here.

Our summer visitors are gone -- Gone are they, hatted, well-dressed or deliberately faded; We remain --

Bare-headed, shabby and happily bulging; girdles are for the catalogues.

Gone are their cars - clean and quiet, swooshy and worshipped;

Ours remain - dusty and rattle-dated, rough road injured and useful.

Silent is their greeting, "Here we are, you lucky people! We've come to add a little spice to your hum-drum lives and to have a look at you!"

Silent is our supplication, "Oh, Lord, how can I feed seven people on one tin of sardines, a green tomato and two eggs. How I wish the chickens had been more generous today - (She's dyed her hair and her eye-lashes are navy blue!)"

"Welcome to Salt Spring - How wonderful to see you!" (Oh, Lord, how long will they stay? Smile girl, smile - the crack in your lower plate only shows when you snarl).

Remembered are the clever rejoinders - and the ones we missed -

The joys of this Island we thought we'd forgot.

We give them a glimpse of grass-roots living and they give us a glance at city tension and rats racing . . .

They're nice, these tourists; and so are we.

We soften their brittle points of view,

They broaden our island smugness - even minds can be ferry-schedule bound.

Our need for each other is felt in retrospect.

Oh look back - we enjoyed them . . . and their money - by Pat McClean

EDITORIAL

It's better to be popular and go along with the modern pressure to conform than to think for yourself and form your own opinions.

This is the gist of a column written by a local writer for a weekly paper circulated around a small part of an island directly to the west of us. He comments on an editoria entitled "Beatlemania", which appeared in DRIFTWOOD a couple of weeks ago. Taking me to task for daring to speak out against the phenomena of the Beatles and their recent fiasco in Vancouver, he says, among other things, that I must feel pretty lonely out on my shaky limb since he hasn't read a writer who has denounced the Beatles.

No, I don't feel lonely. In the first place I wonder if this writer has been following the aftermath of comment in the Vancouver Sun. Irate correspondents to this paper who also feel the Beatles are just dandy, have blown up quite a storm about the so-called biased reporting of the event in all its shocking details. Jack Wasserman took a spanking on it as did several radio commentators. An editor and a columnist of the Victoria Colonist have also joined me on that limb. In the second place, from comment I've heard on "Beatlemania" there are a number of thinking people, including some young people right with me on the limb.

Who am I, says this writer, in effect, to criticize the Beatles when Lord Denning and the Duke of Edinburgh champion the Beatles and their noisy raucous beat? I'm not acquainted with the views of either of these gentlemen, but even if I were I don't think their rank or the color of their blood should necessarily convince me of the solidity of their views.

My critic also goes on to state that most reports on the Beatles are "written in high good humor and a kind of affable amazement at their incredible success and the sort of demonstrations they produce". This may well be true in large part. I should only like to say again that we live in a sick society. The day may yet come in our time when we parents and adults will realize we should have done far more than treat such alarming behaviour, concocted and brewed a la Madison Avenue techniques, with something a great deal more serious and effective than good humour and affable amazement.

"Incredible success"? What kind of rationale is this that holds up this super-Hollywood type goal of success for our kids to emulate? The Beatles themselves freely admit, in almost every answer to a question about their so-called success, that their sole aim is money. By going along with it, taking 'what the traffic will bear' because its show business, is a shocking reflection on the set of values we are disastrously promoting in our efforts to produce normal, natural, happy, well-adjusted kids.

The fact that 'kids are oblivious to what older people say about Ringo and company', is a further sign of our failure as adults. In this respect the columnist is perfectly correct that, I am an 'unhappy editor'. It is precisely my unhappiness about the problem that encourages me to speak regardless of who listens.

OLD SOL TURNED OUT TO JOIN THE OAPO TOUR
 Englishman River Falls was the site of a wonderful picnic September 1st for members and friends of OAPO, Branch 32. White rose-buds were presented to the oldest lady and gentleman present. A jolly youngster of 91, Mr. Daniels was the eldest. A shy smiling lassie declined to give her age but through the grapevine we knew, so she received her white rose bud.

 Music and singing filled the bus along the way. The sun provided a peaceful setting at the Park and all enjoyed their basket lunches, tea and coffee.
 The bus returned to Nanaimo where a delegate from the OAPO Branch 4 greeted us with tea, coffee, cookies and ice cream. After 2 hours of shopping all agreed it had been a day to remember.

 The OAPO sponsored bus trip to Alberni Sept. 29 is booked up and there will be so many disappointed folk who didn't make it.

POLICE NEWS

A report that some boys were climbing the microwave tower on Mount Bruce last Sunday was investigated by police. The group managed to evade police patrol. It was stated that, not only is this a highly dangerous form of stunt that could result in severe injury, but damage to the tower would put the system out of order and cause expensive repairs.

A ten ton truck belonging to Heaney's in Victoria finally did what many have claimed would happen. It ran over a Volkswagen on Scott Road last Saturday morning about 11 o'clock. The truck, returning from a delivery at the Pozzalan plant, stopped on the highway to retrieve a glove belonging to the driver. The Volkswagen pulled up behind it. The driver of the truck backed over the front end of the little car, not being aware of it. The vehicle, owned and driven by Delmar Nielson, Nanaimo, was damaged to the extent of about $450. There were no injuries involved.

The second accident the same day happened to Mr. James Archibald, 725 Park Avenue, Nanaimo, when he attempted a reverse turn on the Ganges road near the telephone office. He collided with another car driven by Bob Bidwell, Ganges, causing some $350 damage to both cars. A passenger in the Archibald car was slightly injured but no medical aid was required.

It was reported in last week's column that Edward Reynolds was charged with driving without due care and attention. We have been asked to make it clear that the person in question here was not George Edward Reynolds.

YOUR NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORY CLOSING SOON!

Are you only HALF there?

Deadline for the Ganges Telephone Directory is almost here. Are you adequately represented? Or are you, perhaps, only "half" there?

Any change you wish to make in your present directory listing or Yellow Pages advertising should be directed to your B.C. TEL Business office NOW.

Remember, too, inexpensive ADDITIONAL LISTINGS (business or residence) can help people find your number more easily.

BUSINESS SUBSCRIBERS cannot afford to be only "half there" when customers or prospects want to call them. List names, addresses and positions of key employees - list your firm's name in more than one way - list the companies your firm represents - list after-hours numbers of officials - list your firm in out-of-town directories.

RESIDENCE SUBSCRIBERS can also list additional members of the family for a very low monthly charge.

LOANS FOR STUDENTS

Guaranteed by the Government of Canada

Purpose: The purpose of the Canada Student Loans Act is to facilitate bank loans for students who need financial help to continue full-time studies beyond secondary school level at Universities and other educational institutions.

Who can apply: Any Canadian citizen, or anyone resident in Canada for one year who intends to live in Canada after completion of studies, may apply for a loan under the Act. An applicant must be enrolled or intend to enroll as a full-time student at an educational institution approved by provincial authorities, and must meet the standards of academic qualification and financial need established by the student loan authority in the Province in which he applies.

Amount of loans: Depending upon individual circumstances and financial need, loans up to $1,000 a year may be made, with a maximum of $5,000 during a student's academic career. The Provincial Authority receiving applications and determining eligibility will issue a certificate to each eligible student stating the maximum amount the student may borrow. This Certificate of Eligibility is required before a student can arrange a Government Guaranteed Student Loan with the bank of his choice.

Repayment: Interest-Free and Delayed Repayment Period
To assist students, the interest on loans during the period a student continues full-time studies, and for six months thereafter, will be paid by the Government of Canada. During this same period no repayment of principal is required, nor will any service charge or fee be payable by the student.

Method of Repayment
Borrowers will begin to pay interest and to repay loans six months after they cease to be full-time students. The current interest rate to students is 5 3/4% per annum. Normally the repayment period will be five to ten years. Borrowers have the right to repay loans in part or in full at any time without penalty.

Life Insured
In the event of the death of a borrower responsibility for repayment of the loans will be assumed by the Government of Canada.

Where to apply: Students resident in British Columbia, regardless of where they intend to study, should apply for a Certificate of Eligibility to:

British Columbia Student Aid Loan Committee,
c/o Department of Education,
Victoria, British Columbia.

The above notes are based upon the Canada Student Loans Act 1964 and are for reference only. All applications and loans are subject to the full terms and conditions of the Act.

FULFORD BELLES CAPTURE ROSE BOWL TROPHY

Except for the 1st & 6th innings, it was an even struggle between the Fulford and Ganges Ladies in their final softball meeting of the season for the Rose Bowl. The Ganges Ladies, missing two players for the start of the game, had a case of jitters in their first fielding effort and let too many runs in.

MRS. ENA McCABE to open Fall Flower Show

They were never able to catch up. Repeating the performance in the 6th, (they were tired) the score mounted to astronomical figures (I promised I wouldn't mention specifics).

One Fulford star insisted on hitting a round trip each time at bat.

The Rose Bowl, donated by Bob Akerman, was presented to Captain Horel of the Fulford team.

 Mr. & Mrs. Reg McLennan and family, Richmond, B.C. spent last weekend with Mr. & Mrs. C.W. Archer, Upper Ganges Rd.

Weekend visitors at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Fred Morris, Lower Ganges Rd., were Mr. Barry Crofton and Mr. Pat Crofton, both of Victoria.
