COMMITTEE ON PROPOSED VILLAGE TO CONDUCT HEAD COUNT

The Committee formed to investigate the feasibility of an organized village for the Ganges area has made plans to conduct a head count in the boundaries of the proposed area in order to add to information already at hand on the proposal.

The Committee at its meeting held last week read and discussed four letters from organized villages of similar sizes. The letters were responses to queries sent out by the local committee setting out certain questions regarding financial and administration aspects of a village of this size.

A careful study of the budgets of these villages of similar size indicates that a reasonable level of administration, road maintenance and snow removal could be carried out in our proposed village area at a cost that would still leave a reasonable margin of eight to nine thousand dollars per year for further capital improvements such as roads and sidewalks. Or possibly some other improvements with total annual expenditures staying within present tax limits.

Another communication from the Department of Highways stated that the Fulford Ganges Road, the Ganges Vesuvius Road, and the road to Mouat Point would be fully maintained at the expense of the Department since these roads would be considered arterial roads. Secondary roads receiving partial maintenance by the highways department include Beddis Road, Rainbow Road, and Seaview Avenue. All roads mentioned are those portions lying within the proposed village boundaries.

A tax study report received from the Department of Municipal Affairs indicates the organized village would take over the existing monies from the present 10 mill provincial tax levy and this would provide some $9900.

This figure would be augmented by a special grant in lieu of taxes to be received from the provincial and federal governments making a total of some $10,000.00, plus, without any increase in present taxes.

In addition to this revenue there is a provincial grant to organized villages of $24 per capita. In order to ascertain specific potential revenue from this source, the committee is presently conducting a head count.

The result of this will enable further studies to be made including a sample budget. This will give residents an authentic picture of what a village would mean in taxes and improvements.

BERNARD KREBS

LARGE COD OUTWEIGHS SALMON IN ANNUAL LEGION FISHING DERBY

by Doreen Morris

The Royal Canadian Legion (Branch 92) annual Fishing Derby held Sunday, Aug. 7th, weighed in over 40 fish.

Winner of 1st prize for men was Ronnie Lee with an 8 lb. 9 oz. salmon. Keeping it in the family, ladies 1st was won by his wife, Evelyn Lee with a 6 lb. 13 oz. salmon. Junior's 1st. prize of a rod and reel was won by Bruce Baker with a 4 lb. 12 oz. salmon. Other

When Scott Road was twisting, bumpy, dusty, and charming; in the morning when dew marked the pot-holes and beaded rose, broom and honeysuckle, we would hear the rattle of a push-bike. And we would say, "There goes Krebs."

He was always "Krebs" to Scott Road. He needed no other name to command love and respect. He was an institution.

A small man of unbelievable ruggedness and strength, yet he handled seeding plants with motherly tenderness; at log work he was a perfectionist; he guided a cross-cut with easy rhythm; his broadaxe left a beam, like him, true and strong.

No hot day of work ever left him too weary to stop on the way home and do chores for a cripple, to listen to the troubles of children, to tolerate the complaints of their elders. I do not think it ever crossed his mind that he was "doing good." It was just the natural thing to do.

He was the most observant man I ever met. From the circling eagle to the green beetle on the cedar log, he read a story. His curiosity was never satisfied.

I shall remember him sitting with us in the glow of a sunset sipping his drink and, maybe, hearing the call of The Red Gods. For he talked of his trapping days, of The Finlay, The Parsnip, and The Peace.

It was one of the rewarding things of life to be his friend.

Six men paddle the 26-foot canoes, with two "spares" in reserve.

VOYAGUERS' CANOES DUE AT MONTAGUE HARBOUR SATURDAY

A British Columbia Centennial event catching the imagination of the nation is the daring canoe race down the Fraser River for the British Columbia Centennial trophy, starting at Fort St. James August 6 and ending at Victoria August 15.

The Voyageurs' route from Vancouver is as follows: they will leave Kitsilano Beach at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, August 13th, and cross Georgia Strait to Porlier Pass. They will then paddle down Trincomali Channel to Montague Marine Park, scheduled to arrive in the Harbour at Montague at 4 p.m. They will be camping near the old orchard on the south beach of the Park near the government pleasure boat anchorage.

On Sunday morning an interdenominational church service will be conducted for voyageurs and visitors at the campsite at 10 a.m. by Chaplain Ferriday, before the canoes depart for Sidney enroute to Victoria.

Ten canoes manned by paddlers from eight provinces, the Yukon and Northwest Territories are challenging the twists, turns, rapids and canyons of the fast-flowing river in a tribute to the voyageurs and explorers who opened up the province a century and more ago.

The race is part of celebrations marking the 100th anniversary of the union of the crown colonies on Vancouver Island and the mainland. The starting gun at Fort St. James will be fired by the general chairman of the British Columbia Centennial Committee, L. J. Wallace.

BRIDE-TO-BE HONOURED

Miss Diane Kyler was very surprised last Wednesday evening when she walked into Mrs. Mike Byron's home to find many of her friends gathered there in her honour. Diane opened many shower gifts which she will find useful in her new home. The bride's mother, Mrs. H.K. Kyler, pinned a lovely pink corsage on Diane; and Mrs. Kyler and Mrs. Coutts, Diane's future mother-in-law, also received corsages. Refreshments and coffee were served and the bride-to-be and guests spent an enjoyable evening. We all wish her happiness in her forthcoming marriage to Mr. Ronald Coutts.

There is no lie that many men will not believe; there is no man who does not believe many lies; and there is no man who believes only lies.

EDITORIAL PAGE

A rare thing to hear a man sincerely express his personal sense of loss in the death of a close friend.

We were privileged last week to be on the listening end of a quite impromptu statement of this kind. In the telling we were once again aware of our shyness in such things.

In the "long" history of this observer's past, I remember a statement made by one of my colleagues to the effect that big boys never cry. In the discussion at that time we were really trying to say that it is one of our social taboos that males rarely express real affection for another. They have a hundred different ways of commending their fellows for what they do but mostly always in very indirect ways. Quite often the approbation even takes the form of negative or humorous joke. Anything to avoid expressing real feeling.

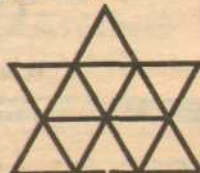

It is strange that such expressions are somehow interpreted as a form of behaviour unseemly to the male animal and denotes some kind of weakness of personality. Used in the way we have seen, nothing could be more in error.

Such an experience also underlines how poverty stricken our society really is when we are so often unable to say the word of praise to another which means so much to both parties.

If we were half as prone to publicly pronounce these kinds of appreciations as we are to condemn and censure, this old world would be far less violent.

Thank you, friend, for making our week a bit brighter.

Centennial Report

1867 | 1967

by JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

I mentioned the old French Fortress of Louisbourg, in my last report, among places to visit during Centennial Year.

Built by the French, at a cost of ten million dollars during the reign of Louis XV, the Fortress of Louisbourg on Cape Breton Island passed back and forth between French and British hands, underwent two sieges and finally was blown up by British demolition troops in 1760.

Developments in the 18th century which, in the long run, resulted in Canada eventually becoming one country, have connections with Louisbourg. The federal government, therefore, through the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources, is restoring a large part of the fortress, now a national historic park.

At the Centennial Commission we think of the restoration as a Centennial project although perhaps we can't argue it is such on the basis of technicalities because it was started in 1961 and will continue until the early 1970's, at a cost over the years of at least $12,000,000.

The old city and a large part of the battle ground outside the ruined walls were set aside by the government as a national historic site in 1928. During 1935-36 a museum was built facing the site of the citadel and it contains mementoes presented by citizens and relics which have been unearthed in the ruins of the fortress. The site was made a national historic park in 1940 and thousands of visitors see it every year.

The new project for restoration of the fortress will reconstruct the main features of fortifications, the Château St-Louis, a representative selection of smaller buildings, homes and harbor works. Some outlying features such as siege works also are to be restored.

As well as Canada, the New England states of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Maine have strong historical connections with Louisbourg. Four thousand New Englanders were involved in the first siege and conquest of the fortress in 1744. (Britain handed Louisbourg back to the French in a 1748 treaty but again conducted a siege and conquered it in 1758. British demolition troops blew up the fortifications in 1760.)

Louisbourg was a key factor in North American defence and trade for almost half a century. The study of that era can be a fascinating pastime for laymen and the restoration of the old fortress and buildings will give us new insight into the history of our country and an understanding of life in those times. For professional historians and archaeologists the activities on Cape Breton island provide more and more information.

The Louisbourg project is just one of the many which, during Centennial Year, will draw the attention of Canadians, and of friends abroad, to our interesting heritage.

A daughter was born August 3rd. at Campbell River to Mr. and Mrs. Don Reynolds. The baby is great granddaughter to Mrs. Edith Barber and granddaughter to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Barber and Mr. and Mrs. Gavin Reynolds.

The C.W.L. draw on a bird feeder was won by Miss B. Wilson, Ganges. Mr. Stan Wagg made the draw.

John Bennett checked our arithmetic last week. 1927 was Canada's Diamond anniversary (60 years). John remembers a similar plaque being presented to Old Divide School where he was a pupil.

Grandson of Mr. L. Lloyd-Walters, Fulford Harbour, Johep Llewellyn Hutchinson was married July 30th to Miss Evelyn Teresa Hansen in Fort Smith, N.W.T. Mr. Hutchinson is the 4th generation working at Hudson's Bay Co. outposts.

The logic of pre-schoolers came through last week when we were working after dinner. The heat forced us to leave the door open so we put up a sign saying "Closed." A bit later a small voice said, "Mommy, how come if they are closed they leave the door open?"

A farewell party in honour of Miss J. Kerrigan who is returning shortly to England after a years visit with her cousin Mrs. L. J. Moutat was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Foubister, Southey Point. The guest of honour was given a set of TV tables and some Rhodonite jewellery from her friends. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. E. ## SALT SPRING TAKES SECOND MATCH IN INTER-ISLAND GOLF

Carl Simpson's team from the Salt Spring Island Golf Club beat out Chuck Webb's Galiano team in the second round of the annual inter-island tournament on Sunday.

Teams from Salt Spring, Pender and Galiano Islands are competing for the coveted Bambrick Trophy, and the first round was won by S.S.I. on the Pender course several weeks ago.

Sunday's match ended with scores of 16 1/2 points for S.S.I., 16 for Galiano and 15 1/2 for Pender's team under captain Bert Fichtl. The weather was perfect, the course in excellent shape, and all the men played their best, as witnessed by the fine scores turned in.

The final round will be played on the Salt Spring course later this month.

The team line-ups were as follows: S.S.I.: Carl Simpson, Mark Crofton, Doug Parsons, Dermott Crofton, Mac Moutat, Hart Bradley, Buzz Brown and Chuck Harrison. Pender: Ted Bowerman, Max Allan, Les Bowerman, Don Grimmer, Elmer Bowerman, Percy Grimmer, Ken Watters, and Bert Fichtl. Galiano: Chuck Webb, Dudley Tweedale, John Rees, Bill Cottrell, Mel Spouse, Jack Howard, Archie Georgeson and Dr. H. D. Barner.

Hosts for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aston, owner-managers of the Galiano Golf and Country Club, assisted by a committee of ladies who served cake, coffee, and apple pie to the enthusiastic players during the afternoon.

Some people never seem satisfied unless they have troubles that drive them to drink.

BONAR-WATERHOUSE WEDDING

Arrangements of white and yellow gladioli at the altar of St. Patrick's Church, Oak Bay, provided a lovely setting for the double ring ceremony uniting Miss Edith Elaine Waterhouse and Mr. Ronald James Bonar.

Rev. A. E. Leonard conducted the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Waterhouse, 2507 Epworth St. and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bonar of Ganges, Salt Spring Island.

The radiant bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs W. Gill.

A gown of white organza over satin fashioned on empire lines, was worn by the bride. The floor-length skirt was A-line and the bodice featured lily-point sleeves. Her veil misted to shoulder-length from a floral organza head-piece, trimmed with accents of rhinestones and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and gypsophila. Her only jewellery was the groom's gift of a gold cross and she carried a pure silk handkerchief, "something borrowed," from her grandmother, Mrs. T. Waterhouse.

Miss Joan Waterhouse was maid of honour for her sister, in a gown of blue organza over silk crepe, styled with Swiss lace sleeves to the elbow. Her headpiece was a garland of white carnations, trimmed with net, and she carried carnations and gypsophila in her bouquet.

A similar outfit in pink tones was worn by bridesmaid, Miss Marion Johnston. Michael and Gerard Bonar were best men for their brother and the cousins of the principals, Don Waterhouse and Don Claybo of Vancouver were ushers.

The bride's mother made the three-tier wedding cake for the reception which followed in the Tally-Ho Travelodge. J. Chapman proposed the toast to the bride.

For travelling on her honeymoon the bride chose a suit of blue and white which she topped with a three-quarter length coat. She accented the outfit with white accessories.

ONE SHOT DELIA

by Bea Hamilton

There was a bit of excitement on the South western slopes of Mt. Bruce on Thursday night when a cougar hunt was on. It was all a little unusual. Red, the year-old cougar hound, who had never met or seen a wild cat before, chased the cougar up a tree and Miss Delia Luton shot the wild cat with a 30-30 rifle and so has the honour of being the first lady cougar hunter (as far as is known,) on the Island.

It was all more involved than that however; the cougar had been bothering sheep on the Steven's property and had killed a lamb in Gavin Reynolds's barnyard. For over a month, the predator had been causing trouble.

On Thursday afternoon, Bob Akerman and his boys found sheep wildly disturbed and one badly mauled, which suggested it to be the work of an inexperienced wild cat.

Later when Bob, Ted and Delia went up the mountain with Red, the hound, they went a mile along a logging road, and found another dead sheep which was still warm.

However, the cougar jumped out of the bush and the hound gave chase, his baying voice sent the cougar leaping for the first tree.

That was when Miss Luton went into action and the cougar's career was ended. The animal was a 6 ft. 6 in. male, and was back of the Lookout Station on Mt. Bruce, where the trail ended at 8 p.m.

"A few days will tell us if there is another cougar on the Island," says Bob Akerman.

The Akerman men have had quite a lot of experience in predator hunting, having learned what Bob calls 'a few tricks' from such veteran hunters as the late Jimmy Dewar, and Skate Hames and other predator hunters who have helped to hunt down cougars on the Island in the past.

Red, the new cougar hound, is a beautiful chestnut red, and is a Redbone pure-bred hound, coming from the Frank Richter stock at Kamloops, where Mr. Richter is Chief Game warden.

As for Miss Luton, she takes her unusual marksmen's honours very calmly. Office work must seem tame after the

FULFORD NEWS

Bea Hamilton

News of Mr. Hugh Smith is good and comes from his daughter, Mrs. Muriel Archer. Hugh is doing very well after an operation in the Royal Jubilee Hospital and should be home in a week. He will stay with his daughter in Vancouver for a while. He has many friends in these parts and this news is passed only by his neighbours, the W. E. Taylors.

Mrs. Isabel McLeod of Burnaby, and Mr. Fred Spain, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Taylor.

Mrs. Langley and her daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Havbo, were guests of Captain and Mrs. G. Maude for a few days.

Two bits of news from the Ruckle family this time-- first, Miss Mary Mathews of N. Vancouver was over on a visit. She is a niece of Mrs. G. Ruckle. Next, Mr. G. Henry Ruckle has left for Ramstein, Germany, to teach at the Department of National Defence for two years. He will be teaching Canadian children.

Mr. and Mrs. Freethy of Victoria, with their daughter and a friend, are staying in Mrs. Kelly's cottage at Dromore.

The Maurice McTighe's packed up and left for home at Dawson Creek on Sunday... It was good to have them back on the Island again for a visit.

The Fulford Salmon Derby comes on Sunday, Aug. 14th, same day as the Legion Breakfast. The fishermen will be ready for a good breakfast after being up at dawn.... Better keep fingers crossed and lines straight for a good salmon run on Sunday.
