Shot In His Leg By Mower

Vesuvius man can give a first-hand report on what it feels like to be struck by a cannon ball. Harry Van Dack was taking it easy in his orchard one day last week when a four-inch rock was lifted by a rotary mower in the hands of his son, Gary. The rock was catapulted some three feet before hitting Mr. Van Dack's leg. The rock tore its way through the flesh next to the shin bone, leaving a gaping hole. He was rushed to Lady Minto Hospital and after being patched up by Dr. Stoller he was kept overnight. Mr. Van Dack is not only an authority on cannon balls. He is also very acutely aware of the danger of rotary mowers.

Every winner of a trophy at every fall fair is a proud winner. Mayne Island Fall Fair proved no exception and this trophy is being examined with pride and interest. Island Centennial Fall Fair was held on August 12 at Miners Bay.

WHARF TO BE UNDER REPAIR

Pender Islanders will have to watch the ferry schedule for the next week or so or they will never make the ferry. While repairs are being undertaken at Otter Bay the Mayne Queen will call on a temporary schedule utilizing the facilities at Port Washington. The change in call will result in a change of times as the Port Washington call is further from the direct route of the Mayne Queen. Exact schedules are published elsewhere in this paper.

LOSE HOME IN FIRE

Islanders Rally To Help

Bennett Bay home of John MacSween, on Mayne Island was razed on Saturday afternoon. Mr. MacSween, a bachelor who has newly made his permanent home on the island, lost everything he possessed in the fire.

Fire truck and road crew answered the alarm, but they were unable to save the small home. Estimate of loss was not available but the house was not insured, Driftwood was told. People of Mayne Island were prompt to come to his aid. Old-fashioned box supper will be staged in the Agricultural

It Was No Boost He Avers

When Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce last week deplored the increase in wharfage fees at Ganges, they were jumping the gun, stated a reader this week.

The fees were boosted at Ganges from 1 1/2 cents per foot to two cents, agreed Maurice Atkins. This is not a boost in fees, however, he asserts. In the past the Ganges wharfinger has been using the winter rate of 1 1/2 cents, said the boat operator. He recently learned that he must charge the two-cent rate. Chamber interpreted the change as a boost by the government. It was merely correcting a mistake, reported Mr. Atkins.

NEW PUPILS TO REGISTER ON FRIDAY, SEPT. 2

Students not yet registered for Salt Spring elementary school or the Gulf Islands Secondary school should register on Friday, next week. The secondary school at Ganges will be open for the purpose from 10 am until 12 noon on Friday, Sept. 1.

Long Swim To Island

Hubert de Burgh entertained an unexpected visitor recently at Prevost Island. The visitor explained that he was from Salt Spring, having swum across from Scott Point. Mr. de Burgh was curious and expressed surprise that a man could swim a considerable distance in very cold water and survive without getting wet. The swimmer further explained that he carried his clothes in a plastic bag, towed behind him. When a water taxi arrived to provide transportation for the visitor, the questions appeared to be settled. The swimmer was from Nanaimo and had apparently swum from Scott Point.

BREAKING INTO HOME INVESTIGATED

Hayward summer home on Mayne Island has been entered during past months, according to a report made by the owner last week. RCMP Detachment at Ganges is carrying out an investigation.

DINGHIES MISSING

It was national dinghy week among the Gulf Islands last week. Everyone was losing dinghies. A seven-foot Sporyak, moulded plastic boat, light green and dark green, named Lollypop was lost from a cruiser in the East Point area.

John Harkema reported the loss of a blue, eight-foot dinghy from Ganges Boat Basin.

A seven-foot white plywood dinghy has been lost from a cruiser in Trincomalee Channel.

To go with the dinghies a pair of blue oars are reported lost in Miners Bay.

On the credit side of the lost and found ledger is the discovery of a cigarette lighter on the public beach at Vesuvius.

FULFORD COUPLE OFF TO EXPO

Bon Voyage to the Bastedos--they are off to Expo, starting Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Bastedo and Louise are going.

Matron Needed Here

Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital is in need of a matron. Call has gone out for a new matron at Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital. Former matron, Miss J. Ferguson, has resigned and left.

Board is seeking a qualified nurse with the necessary experience to superintend the nursing staff.

NAMED TO HOSPITAL BOARD AT GANGES

Mrs. Ethel French of Fulford Harbour was appointed to represent the Provincial Government on the Board of the Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital for a term of two years. She fills the office held by the late Joseph Bate.

DORMITORY AGREEMENT DISCUSSED

No Room At Ganges For Outer-Island Students

— ORIGINAL PLAN UNACCEPTABLE

Dormitory at Ganges may not be available for outer island students when school starts on September 5. Trustees of the Gulf Islands School District learned of a setback in negotiations when they met on Tuesday of last week.

At the school board meeting held on Saturna Island, August 15, trustees faced the possibility that the district may have to operate without a dormitory for the coming year. Owner of the building has changed his mind about the agreed lease-purchase plan, reported buildings and grounds committee chairman, George Heinekey.

Original agreement stipulated that option to purchase would be continued, and that rental charge would apply to purchase price.

The owner is now asking $1,000 option fee in lieu of purchase and straight annual rental of $4200, with a one year lease only. The matter was left to Mr. Heinekey and his committee to negotiate.

The board's secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J.R. Sturdy, presented a working plan for the school buildings referenda to be held at the end of the year. The paper shows the breakdown of an estimated total of $266,100 for the three referenda, to cover industrial education building and classrooms for the secondary school; dormitory purchase and extension; and teacherage for Pender Island.

Trustees endorsed the plan in principle, and backed James Campbell's motion that the paper be presented through community groups to the public, for consideration and possible changes before the final draft is made.

CENTRALIZED AT SIDNEY

Credit Union Office To Be Closed At Ganges

Credit Union Office at Ganges is to be closed. Last transaction will be made in the local office on August 31. As from September 1 all business will be carried out from the head office in Sidney.

Decision to close the office on Salt Spring Island was prompted by a number of considerations reports the President of Saanich Peninsula Credit Union, Bud Nunn.

Islanders, in increasing num-

ERROR CREEPS IN

Typographical error crept into Driftwood last week when it was stated that moorage fees at Ganges had increased and that no fees were levied at Ganges. It is at Fulford that no fees are imposed.

FLAG ROPE DESTROYED

Rope was removed last week from the flag pole at St. George's Church in Ganges. The rope was then cut into small pieces and discarded.

"Let us ask the public for their thinking on the matter," advised Mr. Campbell.

First presentation of the plan will be made to Mayne Island Ratepayers' Association who have requested a speaker from the board to discuss school operating costs. Other community groups will be asked to study the paper and express an opinion.

Plea by Mayne Island trustee, Mrs. James Ross, for some relaxation of dormitory smoking rules

COUGAR REPORTED IN VICINITY OF GANGES VILLAGE

Reports of a cougar on Salt Spring Island are being followed up by a search of the area.

Predator was reported in the vicinity of Lower Ganges Road on the morning of August 19. Ted Akerman and his hounds are on the scent.

CHANNEL MUST BE CLEAR FOR LARGE VESSELS

Problem of passage through Active Pass is still causing acute concern to the skippers and crews of the larger vessels.

Large numbers of small boats congregate in the Pass, where fishing is always promising.

RCMP have cautioned small boat operators that a clear navigable channel must be available upon the approach of any vessel.

bers, have shown a preference for dealing directly with Sidney, reports Mr. Nunn. This movement of business to the head office has not only encouraged the Credit Union to make this move, but it has also slowed business down for the Ganges office.

The Pender Island Credit Union joined the Saanich Peninsula group and members transferred their accounts to Sidney.

Not only has the result been satisfactory to island members, but there has been an ensuing increase in membership, reported Mr. Nunn.

The head office is operating at a level considerably below its capacity, explained the president. Volume of business can increase tremendously in Sidney without requiring an increase in staff.

The Sidney office is open five days a week and transactions may be carried out by mail or by making a personal call, members have been told. Prepaid envelopes will be available for this purpose.

Passenger boarded an Air Canada flight at London Airport. He took his allotted seat next to a young lady. They fell into a desultory conversation.

Ashley Maude asked his traveling companion where she came from. She was from London and travelling to Vancouver, she replied. Which was her home? he enquired.

"I come from Salt Spring Island," replied Gill Scott.

The two islanders then enjoyed the flight which had thrown them together. Gill, the daughter of columnist Jack Scott, was on her way to attend Simon Fraser.

Ashley was on his way to Patricia Bay, where he is stationed with Air Canada. Gill was not accompanied by her father. Ashley was with his son.

Soaring prices have two sides to their devalued coin. When a visitor fell for Salt Spring Island recently and bought a waterfront lot, there were many to express surprise that the property had commanded so high a price. They were shot down sharply when the proud new owner expressed surprise that such an attractive property should have remained unsold for so long.

Victoria Summer School of Music presented its concert at Ganges on Friday evening. Many Islanders listened contentedly to the presentation. They saw the young musicians tuning up and playing in unison. But they did not see everything.

The audience did not see the young player who must memorize

END OF FLAG STORY

When a naval detachment marched smartly on to the Centennial Park at Ganges the few persons around at the late hour of the evening took little notice.

The squad halted smartly and stood to attention. The flags were ceremoniously lowered and carefully folded.

Observers concluded, as they were expected to conclude, that the ceremony was a naval formality.

Next day confusion reigned when flags were all missing.

The RCMP patrol boat, Sidney, was called in to help and she flagged down the naval vessels at sea. The commanding officer co-operated in carrying out an immediate search of the ships and the missing flags were discovered.

RCMP withheld action when the Royal Canadian Navy wrathfully announced that disciplinary action would be taken forthwith against the offending cadets.

Flags have been returned and a formal apology is to be made to the merchants whose flags were taken.

every note and every nuance, for she is blind. They did not see the violinist who must hold his eye within inches of the sheet music in face of his five per cent vision.

Neither did they watch the two together threading their way through the people at Harbour House after the concert. Those who take a delight in music must feel humble in the presence of the two young players who live by their hearing and yet strive to share their enjoyment.

Clayton Hare and his charming wife who direct the school of music, sharply changed roles after the concert. As soon as the young

CEREMONY AT GANGES CHURCH MARKS CHANGE

New Catholic pastor on the islands was formally installed on Sunday afternoon in a brief ceremony at the Church of Our Lady of Grace.

Rev. Leonard Schmidt was installed by his predecessor, Monsignor M. T. O'Connell. The outgoing priest expressed his pleasant memories of the islands and particularly of the ministers of the various churches on Salt Spring Island.

Monsignor O'Connell has been appointed pastor of the Cathedral parish in Victoria. His former assistant, Rev. W. Caldwell, is now pastor of St. Joseph's, on Burnside Road.

Both priests were presented with a purse and enjoyed the opportunity of saying farewell to parishioners in the church hall following the ceremony.

students entered Harbour House two of them sat at the piano and commenced to play. After weeks of egging the students on to play, Mrs. Hare went into reverse and begged them to desist. It was too big a noise for the size of the room she explained.

Fish are unpredictable. The ambitious fisherman who was up with the lark on Sunday and fishing out in the distant reaches came home in the afternoon, skunked. There were lots of littler fish nearer home and it was a day of quite small catches.

Irving Sinclair, visiting Salt Spring Island for inspiration last week, was living out the old joke. He was talking of acquiring a cigar holder after the doctor had told him to keep away from cigars for a time.

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED AT SALT SPRING

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Archer, Ganges, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Linda Edith, to Gordon Thomas Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Simpson, West Vancouver.

The wedding will take place Saturday, Sept. 23, 2 pm at the United Church, Ganges. Rev. E. W. MacQuarrie will officiate.

Miss Archer has chosen her attendants Miss Elspeth Evans, Richmond, as maid of honor, Miss Ainslee MacQuarrie and Miss Carol Simpson as bridesmaids and the junior bridesmaid will be her sister, Patricia Archer.

LAST RITES FOR MRS. JOSEPH BELL WEDNESDAY

Last rites were observed on Wednesday last week for Mrs. Dorothy Jean Elizabeth Bell, of Parminster Point Road, Ganges, who passed away at home on August 13.

Mrs. Bell was a native of Victoria and had resided on the Island for the past 18 months.

She leaves her husband, Joseph, at home and a brother, E. F. Key, at Vancouver.

Funeral services were conducted by Archdeacon G. H. Holmes. Cremation followed at Royal Oak Burial Park, Victoria.

Many old German mining terms originating in Saxony have been adopted in other languages.

In case you have ever wondered why spiders are not caught in their own webs, here is the answer:

Spiders legs are coated with a natural oil that prevents them from sticking to the strands they spin. If spiders are given a wash with Chloroform, the oil is removed and they cannot walk on their own webs.

GOLFERS ARE BUSY CONTESTING CUPS AT SALT SPRING

The monthly two ball four-some competition held at the Salt Spring Island Golf and Country Club Saturday, Aug. 19 saw 32 players taking part in spite of the very warm day.

Top honors were tied between Kay Booth and Ted Parsons and Jean Vodden and Laurence Firmin. Winner of the longest drive on the sixth hole was Donna Ross, Les Ramsey was the winner of the longest drive on the seventh hole.

A pleasant evening followed when 80 members and golfers gathered at the Club House at 5.30 for cocktails and a buffet supper.

Senior players, over 70, played for the Jensen Cup on August 12. End was a tie between Brian W. Narkham and L. H. Phinney.

Subsequent play-off was over nine holes. It was won by Mr. Markham, who won the cup.

Schwenger Cup will be played off on August 27, and 18-hole, medal play handicap low net.

LESSON 4
RESPONSES TO OPENING BIDS
ONE IN A SUIT
 When partner opens One in a suit it is ambiguous and the hand may hold from 13 to over 20 points (including distribution). A response should be made with as little as six points (including distribution) if the bid can be made at the One level. With no suit bid over partner's suit, a bid of One No-trump may be made with six to nine h.c. points. This may seem very little support but always remember you are playing with 26 cards and the opener may have a large hand and one bid is all he is waiting for to proceed to game.

Should there be an overcall after opener has bid, the requirements for a response are a few points more. As the lessons are at an early stage the practice hands will not contain overcalls which one is apt to get when hands are dealt at random. As Goren opens 4-card Majors the requirements for supporting a suit are three cards headed by an honour or four spot cards. To make a response at the two level one must have 10 points in high cards or eleven or more points including distribution. The partner may be the first to realize there is game in the combined hands in which case forcing responses must be made until game contract is reached. Bids forcing for one round are: bids in new suits; a 2-no-trump bid and a jump in partner's bid suit. With a square hand and 13-15 points bid 2-no-trump and with 16-18 points bid three no-trump. These bids show the opener the size of your hand. To make a jump-shift which is a game-forcing bid and suggests slam, the hand must contain 18 or more points.

With 10 or more points try and make two forward-going bids. With less than 10 points and five cards in support of partner's major opening; a quick trick and a singleton or doubleton, bid game, i.e. 4 spades or 4 hearts. This is a weak bid and one of the few "shut-out bids".
 The count of responder is the same as for an opening bid except when raising partner's bid suit. "Dummy" count is increased if responder holds four cards or more in that suit. If headed by an honour and the count is not already four points, i.e. an ace or KQ or KJ the honor is promoted one point. Distribution is also promoted, a void is raised from three to five points; singleton from two to three points. Doubleton remains the same.
 One point should be deducted for 4-3-3-3 distribution.
 Next week: REBIDS BY OPENER
 What are the responses in the following hands? The beginner should be able to make a correct opening bid and first response. Complete bidding will be shown with the answers so play of the hand may be practiced.

COSTS OF OPERATION MINIMAL ASSERTS SPOKESMAN FOR SOCIETY

Only eight cents in each dollar received is used for administration costs of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society. This was one of the points made last week by Mrs. Eileen Goldberg when she spoke at Driftwood on her way through the Islands.

Mrs. Goldberg is the society's spokesman from Vancouver. A South African who has come to live in Canada, Mrs. Goldberg is very conscious of the unsettled state of her homeland. Her husband was a member of parliament in the last government.

During her visit she gained the support of various islanders for the fund drive to be launched by the society.

Sir Philip Livingston, at Fulford, an honorary director of the Vancouver Island branch of the society.

The visiting representative of the society showed the allocation of funds collected by CARS. Of each dollar, 78¢ is spent in patient care; seven cents on research; six cents on education; one cent in the campaign expenses and eight cents on administration costs.

Revenues of the Society are derived as follows; donations, 49¢; government grants, 28¢; treatment fees, 22¢; and other sources, one cent.

Names of campaign directors and participants will be announced shortly.

The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society plays an effective role in the specialized field of arthritis. Almost 40,000 treatments were given to patients by C.A.R.S. in their B.C. treatment centres last year.

HE WAS LUCKY IT WAS NOT GRAVER CHARGE

Car driven by John McSwayne Mayne Island, failed to negotiate a curve, left the road and sideswiped a power pole on Friday evening, Aug. 11, Magistrate's Court at Ganges was told on Friday.

Driver was lucky, observed Magistrate M.F. Peiler, not to have been charged with impaired driving.

McSwayne admitted to having taken a single drink with visiting relatives prior to the incident.

Offering a plea of not guilty, he was told that the court could adjourn for 30 minutes while two police witnesses could be called from the RCMP boat. He then changed his plea after Magistrate Peiler explained his privileges and responsibilities.

The accused driver explained that the incident had taken place but that he would welcome the opportunity to offer an explanation.

Court heard his statement that there was a curve while the sun shone in his eyes and the windshield was dusty.

He was fined $35 or seven days.

Also pleading guilty to a charge of driving without due care and attention was John W. Taylor, of Mayne Island.

Driver of a car which struck the mail boxes outside the Pioneer Village at Ganges on July 16, Taylor explained his reasons for not having reported the accident immediately.

There had been only one police officer on duty at the Ganges detachment, RCMP, he told the court and he had been unable to locate the officer.

Cpl. F. C. Rhodes, prosecuting, agreed that it had been difficult to make his report.

Car went out of control on the Lower Ganges Road hill, reported the driver, and damaged the boxes. Damage was estimated at $30.

Magistrate Peiler imposed a fine of $35 or seven days.

Two drivers were each fined $10 when they appeared on charges of parking a vehicle in such a position as to restrict free passage of other cars. They were Barry Strain of RCAF, Beaver Lake, Alta. and Wm. McClean, of Ganges.

HE RECALLED TRUMPETER OF BRIGADE CHARGE

Recent story in Driftwood, describing an early newspaper and its report of the Charge of the Light Brigade in the Crimean War brought back an early memory to Jesse Byron of north Salt Spring Island.

Mr. Byron was very interested in the report because he had a personal link with the incident.

Mr. Byron's family, many years ago, lived in a house at Bold Estate, Lancashire, previously occupied by Trumpet-Sgt. Crandell.

Sgt. Crandell sounded the call for the charge when the Light Brigade was decimated in its valiant attack written into the British army traditions.

Mr. Byron's father and Sgt. Crandell were friends.

The first wagon road through the Alps was begun in 1338 and led through the Septimer pass.

THE TIME TO ACT IS NOW!

There is a strange feature of Gulf Islands living. First characteristic of Gulf Islands residents and visitors is their enthusiasm for the beautiful islands and their pleasure in living or visiting here. Yet, throughout the group, there is not the slightest interest to be found in seeking to retain something of these features.

We have no control over land use here and we have little apparent concern over its lack. The islands are settled by two main groups. There are the pioneers who have lived here for many years and are thoroughly satisfied with what they have and there are the more recent comers who have fallen in love with the scenery and setting of the Gulf Islands and are eager to share it.

Both factions express their delight at what we have, yet neither has made the slightest effort to safeguard it. In developing communities, everywhere, there is a growing demand for planned development. The basic purpose of planning is to ensure that adequate sites are set aside for each community purpose and to avoid their clashing. Where industry and commerce are part of the community, zoning regulations allocate suitable property for these purposes, retaining residential property for dwellings.

The traveller who drives down to California is readily able to recognize those communities which have done nothing about regulation of development. They are a burden to the eye and a pain to the resident.

It is not easy to find a community so adaptable to planning as the islands. The various settled communities have been largely devoted to residential purposes, logging, farming and commerce. In these islands commerce must embrace the tourist resorts which are an important feature of the island's economy. All these functions are yet operating in harmony and regulation now would open up planning for the future without disrupting that harmony.

Vast tracts of land are idle. There is no regulation to localize the establishment of any industrial enterprise anywhere among the islands. If a planning area were established here among the Gulf Islands new industry and commerce would be required to set up in designated areas. By this means we could eliminate the very acute danger of ribbon commercial development and indiscriminate industrial movement.

Planning is not prohibition. Regulation of land use should not be considered as a tool of prohibition. It is a means of planning for the future.

Today, the Gulf Islands are in the early developmental stages of the greatest advance their population has ever known. Within decades the population of the islands is certain to increase astronomically. By the time it has increased substantially it will be too late to introduce regulation. The horse will have bolted and the stable door of zoning might then be left abandoned.

Haphazard development will ruin the Gulf Islands. We all must know that. Yet, not a voice among the islands has been raised to seek some regulatory measures. There has been no response from citizens' groups or chambers of commerce here to investigate the needs and measures already proposed in these columns.

If the Islanders sleep much longer they will wake up in the midst of a nightmare. Community Planning Areas can be set up with a minimum of effort and at virtually no cost. They can then be just as slack or as tight as the community might desire. But, once they are set up there is always a control on what operation is established where.

Community planning areas here can protect the community from despoliation. Unbridled development can ruin it.

Come on, Islanders! Wake up and look around you and do something about it!

Editor, Driftwood:
If your correspondent of August 4, leaves the Ganges area at 2 p.m. to catch the Fulford ferry at 2.30, in summer time, she deserves to lose the ferry. She should use the 12.30 ferry, at noon, which is usually more or less empty, even on Sundays, in summertime.

What is the matter with Victoria? Is it not good enough to spend the week-end in? Perhaps the rat race which is becoming more evident annually between the Gulf Islands and Vancouver Island, and from the mainland, would be expedited by a ferry to Isabella Point, to help those Victorians, who are in a hurry, to get nowhere.

The cost of this ferry would not matter. We then could have high-rises, tier upon tier all the way up Mounts Bruce, Tuam, and Maxwell, and a fair imitation of the poverty-stricken islands of the Mediterranean, including these mud flats, where the well advertised gondolas of Venice wend their slow way, on the Adriatic shores. Victoria is now short of water, but Ganges and Salt Spring generally, is much shorter. We want the few sources of this commodity on the island, to remain pure, without pollution of streams or well supplies, or from lakes.

A better scheme would be for the provincial government to declare the Gulf Islands, a Closed Area, reserved for retired people. As such the islands would be ideal, as a resort for all overage Canadians, who must otherwise go to Western Europe, or the British Isles to find the same temperatures and to avoid the rigors of the Continental North American climate.

In this closed area, taxation would be solved automatically. Young people would be in those areas where there is employment, and that is where good schools and the amenities of city life are to be found.

We oldsters have some rights as well as the untried and inexperienced youngsters who are telling us how business methods should be applied to the art of living.

ANOTHER VIEW

Editor, Driftwood:

I have noted with interest and concern the summary of objections voiced to the school building referenda, which will once again be presented to the voters for their thoughtful consideration. As a school trustee I do not claim to represent the School Board in this letter. As a taxpayer (waterfront at that) I feel the same concern for the increasing tax rate, but I realize that we must face facts.

The suggestion that the present Board should resign would be more worthy of consideration if some of our anonymous experts would make themselves available for nomination as replacements. I for one would welcome a real election, with willing candidates representing each shade of opinion facing the voters in a democratic way. This isn't easy when so many authorities remain in self-imposed obscurity!

There is a serious misunderstanding on the part of many voters concerning referenda. If an authorized referendum for necessary buildings is rejected, this by no means ends the matter. The need remains and grows greater with the passage of time. The Board may be forced to provide the space by leasing "temporary" buildings. No referendum is required to do this, nor does the Provincial Government contribute toward the payments for the makeshift accommodation, where they would share about half of referenda construction costs. One such room is already under construction at the Senior Secondary School, and if the referendum fails again, more will have to be provided. These "temporary" buildings will be with us for many years as a shabby monument to our short sightedness. After five years they become available cheaply enough to ensure that no Board could have them removed. The Board recommends the buildings described in the referenda as being better value for money.

There are no tax havens in B.C. The Provincial Government shares a bit less than half of the costs of education with the Boards, but does so in a manner that tends to equalize the school tax rate. We can pay for our own schools or assist other school districts to build theirs!

I'm sure all Board members would welcome a tax-payers meeting to discuss issues, if the general public would only turn out. Any suggestions in this regard should bear in mind the need to overcome a great deal of inertia!

Finally, the matter of school buildings should be kept in a proper perspective. Less than a fifth of our school taxes are used for them. Remember, too, that the students of today will be tomorrow's taxpayers. Not only will they contribute to the present school buildings, but also to the funds allotted to pensions to us old timers to be! If they are poorly educated their pay and taxes will be reduced. Don't saw off the branch on which we're sitting by selling out our children.

ANSWER IS SIMPLE!

Editor, Driftwood,
Re all the hubbub about ferry service and your editorial in the week's paper.

After many years of Island fe troubles: many years of Salt Spring (shall we say, to be kind opposition and indifference, no one even mentions today the i convenience, injustice and also the outrageous position of the Pender Islands' having no connection at all with Ganges; Gange that was for so long supposed to be the centre of the Gulf Island

We help to pay for Ganges school; for Ganges Hospital (wh we cannot use or visit). But wh cares?

As for the hourly ferry servic that Ganges must have. The answer is so simple, one could laugh.

The ferry people at a cost of approximately $1,000,000 build a new road on Pender and a new wharf, entirely of their own doing and suggestion. Short sea transportation has always been the cry of the ferry authority. So there's your answer!

A new road and Isabella Point wharf. Easily an hour's service and, with increase of traffic, a bigger boat.

For what it's worth.

G. Pearson,
Pender Island,
August 18, 1967

P.S. Methinks it's past time Salt Spring residents gave some thought to the position of the Penders as outlined above.

IT IS ONE MEANS

Editor, Driftwood,

I have only cordial goodwill toward the trustees of the school district covering these Gulf Islands.

My only motive in reluctantly writing this letter is to suggest a solution to their present difficult situation. A third defeat of their referenda on school construction would inflict a paralyzing blow on educational progress here; but there seems to be little evidence of changed attitude by those who cast adverse ballots. What can be done to alter this situation?

I think a partial remedy lies in the hands of the trustees themselves, by reversing forthwith a vote of this spring by which they provided themselves with a salary of $300 per annum, so as to induce a "climate" of more confidence in their decisions.

At its last session, the B.C. Legislature passed an act enabling certain graded payments to elected members of municipal council and school boards. Without loss of time our school trustees voted themselves payments of $300 ea per annum, plus necessary expenses.

Having voted in favor of all their money ballots during the 11 years, as an owner elector, I am not actuated by carping motives.

In Ontario I served gratis as a public school trustee, and for si

CLEANING HAZARDS

Never attempt to mix dry-cleaning fluids in the home. Although the final result may not be inflammable, some of the ingredients may explode on contact with others, before they are sufficiently diluted. Also, the toxic fumes emanating from the mixture could cause serious harm to a person mixing and using these fluids.

FERNWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Tamboline and two sons, Trevor and Grant, of Ladner, are spending three weeks at the home of Mrs. Tamboline's mother, Mrs. Edith Cantrill.

Lin Sayer and three children have arrived to spend their holidays with Mr. Sayer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Sayer.

As holidays come to an end for many people and others leave the island for other places our population will gradually decrease for the time being at least.

The pigeon is still with us. After leaving for a week he returned with an unbanded friend, probably a girl-friend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Finken, of Kirkland, Wash., their daughter, Margaret and son, Tom, have returned home after spending a happy holiday with Mrs. S.A. Thompson.

Several of the neighbors have a good crop of King figs on their trees, so California and Saanich are not the only places where figs mature to table and cooking quality.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill DeLong have had many relatives visiting them over the past month. Bill's brother, Glen with his wife and three children are here for three weeks. They took a short trip to Spokane with Doris and Bill and came back to Fernwood with Mr.

and Mrs. Kris Sande. Mrs. Sande is Mrs. DeLong's sister.

Week-end visitors were Gordon DeLong with his wife, from North Vancouver and a cousin, Leonard DeLong, from Tucson, Arizona.

DON'T KICK THE CARBURETOR IF OIL AND SOOT OFFEND YOU!

BY FRANCES SAVILLE

This being August, the 11th month, the burning orb of the sun has all the ferocity of a lion's cage.

Having just had a birthday consider myself entitled to a wish. I should like to be an animate object, which could command and receive obedience, pampering, service and T.L. from all subservient humans and need them.

September soon, have to lift up the stoves and incinerator etc., you never know what October will bring. I support a nign-looking oil-heater in the manner to which it is accustomed but it has just presented me with a seeping slush of messy, smelly oil, just to let me know that their neglect will really get you out cold.

It wants technical attention. It gets it, but the chap is one of those adventurous types who goes out for what he can get and doesn't know his job.

Failing to line the old girl, he gives the carburetor a head kick, just to show that it should never have tangled with him, and goes home to forget his troubles.

A little bit of luck brings the second technician, and this one is no boasting saphead, he turns my heater upside down, scrapes her soot on to the floor and the oil-clogged incrustation on top of that.

For me, in the days to come, I humbly take my place beside the daily mop and pail, and holystone the deck with everything I've got, ending with Epsom Salts.

A week later, back comes a capable chap, and expresses satisfaction with my humble efforts.

Here's a new carburetor, she'll be fine now!

And a tip! If you see any carbon incrustation or soot in the pot of your heater, tell it to open wide and pop a moth ball into its maw.

If you don't see it, like me, you can give the silly inanimate object one mothball every for night, and don't kick the carburetor!

CLEANING HAZARDS

Carbon tetrachloride is sometimes found in commercial solvents, and some people attempt to use it for difficult cleaning jobs. This is a most dangerous substance which should never be kept or used within the home. It is four times as poisonous as carbon monoxide, and when absorbed into the body by inhalation or absorption through the skin it causes permanent liver and kidney damage. If a person is sensitive, or has absorbed alcohol even a small quantity could terms as a councillor in an industrial town (including one year as deputy mayor during a royal visit) I know some of the trials of public office, embracing among other things reconciling differences, etc. These are part and parcel of democracy.

These Gulf Islands have a total population of less than 5,000, sparsely spread for the most part. In my opinion the many facets of community service, embracing most of our adults in volunteer labors and thousands of dollars voluntarily contributed, has up to now rested on effort and money freely given. To attempt to list these individuals and organizations is not my purpose here; every reader can at once think of many such.

With the exception of necessary secretarial labor in some cases, and statutory legal and auditing expenses, my conclusion is that all public, semi-private and community endeavors should continue in these Gulf Islands as they have done in the past, on unpaid voluntary basis, for some time to come. Then we may live together without rancors and animosities, and enjoy the good life, reconciling our slight differences.

Ed. Stephenson,
Ganges, B.C.,

ADMIRAL SIR GEORGE HENRY RICHARDS

Admiral Sir George Henry Richards spent barely more than six years in British Columbia and Vancouver Island waters - but his works here are recalled in a host of islands, harbours, bays and channels which he named while engaged in coastal surveys. Ganges, Fulford, Brockton, Pender, Vesuvius, Mayne, Trincomali, Active, Moresby, Knapp, Piers, Thetis, Kuper - the list goes on and on.

The son of a navy captain he was born and raised in England and given to the navy in 1832 when he was only 12 years of age. He served first in the West Indies then in survey ships, and later warships in Chinese waters. By 1842 he was a Lieutenant. He did surveys in the Falklands and saw war service again in South America.

Richards was made Rear Admiral in 1870, four years later he was placed on the retired list. In 1877 he became a Vice Admiral, retired and was knighted; in 1884, full Admiral, though retired. While in retirement he was associated with Telegraph Construction and Maintenance Company laying submarine cables. He died at age 76 in November 1896.

SATURNA

SEEN BY PAPAJOHN

It is happening all the time and we take it for granted, the down to earth HOSPITALITY of the Gulf Islander. Friday night three adults and two children got off at Sturdies Bay instead of Village Bay and anywhere else would have been in the soup but not on Galiano, where the real Gulf Islander, the Allen Clarkes of Galiano Lodge put them up overnight in the lounge and got them down to the ferry in the A.M. and at a very minimum charge. The ferry crew, who are on summer schedule and do not go into Village Bay on that trip, nevertheless dropped them off at Village Bay on Saturday morning and they got to Saturna at noon. These HAPPENINGS happen all summer and we should all say a little prayer on this Sunday morning for the people and the ferry crews who make our Gulf Islands what they are. Amen!

An old Gulf Islander Jack Ruck and his family on holidays from Pachend Lighthouse are busy fishin and visiting this week. The Jack Rush family are busy building. The Bill Johnstone family of Vancouver are up and slaving away on their Lyall Hill plantation.

At East Point this week-end: The Don Jamiesons are fishin with Don's friend, Kilgour Shives. Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Clark, from Scotland enjoying our tranquil way of life with the Beach family. On Friday night everyone at East Point had an unusual sight. About 40 killer whales or Moby Doll's cavorting around in Tumbo Channel.

A welcome addition to our Island are the Michael Von Hausmann family who are building on the new subdivision on the East Side. They are an interesting family as after living in Cairo for years, then Brussels, then Vancouver, are now going to be Saturnaites.

The C.C.C.C. group had a pot luck supper in the Hall on Saturday night and a folk dance afterwards. They are real excited as they leave in a couple of weeks. The teenagers must have been tired as they really slugged it out breaking up rocks and clearing the space for OUR Centennial Project behind the Hall, which has been lost sight of in the cross Canada effort. Once we get this little park finished we will all breathe a sigh of relief because we have been going from one huge project to another all summer.

At the B. Crooks Lyall Hill cottage this week-end are the Bucky Crooks family with Gramma Tim along to look after the wee one. Guests of the McMahan's were Roger and Sheila Millard and family with Marie Baynes who is supposed to know the difference between Sturdies Bay and Village Bay. Over for a few days are Bob and Betty Pedersen with their family. The kids, Gordon, Danny and Lora are in the process of being respoiled by Grandma Louisa Gal and "the kids can do no wrong" Jim Money. Also helping along the confusion in the Money household are son Johnny, wife Shirley and of course the heir to the Money millions Jim jr.

SATURNA'S LOIS McDONALD TAKES TOP PENDER SPOT

On Sunday Aug. 20, at Hamilton Beach, a large turn-out of spectators and fishermen watched the weigh-in of approximately 30 fish.

Under the watchful eye of Ralph Smith, secretary of Pender Island Rod and Gun Club who sponsored the day, the prizes were as follows:

LARGEST SPRING SALMON OF THE DAY was 2 lbs. 12 oz., that's right, 2 lbs. 12 oz! The prize of a reel went to Lois McDonald, Saturna Is.

Largest coho weighed in at 9 lbs. and won Miss Betty Underhill a hamper of groceries. Largest humpback weighed in at 9 lbs. 2 oz. and a fishing net went to Laurie Auchterlonie. Ladies' largest coho, again Lois McDonald, and set of tumblers was the prize.

Prizes for Hidden Weights were as follows: cake, Lois McDonald, Saturna; refreshment, J.B. Bridge; electric shoe kit, Percy Grimmer; ice cream, Diana Begon; cake, Jock Craddock; cushion, Lois McDonald, Saturna; set of tumblers, Mr. Kynaston; cod jig, Ken Walters; cod jig, Bert Fichtle.

The draw prize was a lovely transistor radio, and this was won by G. Muskour, of Saturna Island.

All in all a lot of fun, and a special thanks to all donors of prizes. - F.S.

HALIBUT

Very few Canadians realize that the important Halibut fish, caught for the West Coast was responsible for our final break from the Colonial office in London.

Prior to 1924 all of the foreign affairs and state documents with foreign countries were handled by the London Colonial Office. In 1924 with the completion of the Halibut Conservation Act, Prime Minister MacKenzie King decided that Canada would sign the Act herself and so completed negotiations with the United States Government.

From this day on Canada looked after her own international affairs.

Pender

BY FRANCES SAVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hartnett from Los Altos, Calif., have been staying with Mrs. V.M. Georgeson. They left for a trip to Alaska.

How many Penderites would be interested in getting a group together for practice in conversational French, come Fall? Est-ce que nous faire des progres, mes amis? Allez-vous en! Mrs. N. Haslam would like to know. She is from Sherbrooke, Que., where the quints first saw the light of day. They are building a cottage opposite the England's, with the most marvellous view. Thanks to Mr. Haslam, I now know why it has always been impossible to clean my windows on the one side. They had evidently been left standing, or piled, in the sun, says Mr. Haslam, and they got sun-burned.

Mrs. Georgeson also has Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sidwell with her for two weeks, from California.

The Ladies Guild of St. Peter's Church, Port Washington, held a tea at the home of Mrs. P.H. Grimmer to honour three long-standing members who are leaving Pender Island to reside in Victoria.

Mrs. R.G. Straker, Mrs. J. Wilson, and Mrs. Sally Kirk will be very much missed in the community, and as a remembrance, each lady was presented with a small gift. Bishop M. Coleman spoke to the group, and expressed his feelings at the loss of three such good church workers, and hoped that they would be happy in their new homes.

Mrs. R. Beech, Mrs. J. Bridge Mrs. M. Coleman, Mrs. N.H. Grimmer, and Mrs. Stephen King assisted Mrs. P.H. Grimmer with the tea.

Down at the J.B. Bridges', Ronnie and Gerry Underhill have gone to camp Dekka for two weeks, but there will be comings and goings in the family there next week.

Miss Debbie Dugan, from West Vancouver, with Miss Colleen Jarvis, have come to spend a few days on Pender, soaking up the sun.

Mrs. N. Haslam had Kevin Hope, from Vancouver, as her house-guest, with his fellow teeny bopper, Gregory Hormek from Edmonton, for a fortnight. They helped with the building of the new Haslam home. Four extra legs and arms!

Mrs. Lorne Scott from Malton, Ontario, has been spending a month at the Gifford Hobdays (at the Jabberwocky shop). Their baby daughter, Tamara, has them right under her thumb.

Brs. Betty Stoddart, resident of Saturna, joined the family circle there. Saturna is home, but why not leave the chores and come to Pender.

Mr. Baird, who stays with Miss Merly Tolputt, is interested in singing. Any more? Singing group might fill up one winter evening a week, perhaps.

Don't forget to put Sun Tan Lotion on your glass windows, if they are stacked in the sun unused. They cannot do it for themselves, and if you don't wait on them, they will be full of squirming ir-redescence when you finally use them. You'll be sorry!

GALIANO VISITOR

Bishop M.E. Coleman visited Galiano Island on Wednesday spending the day with Capt. and Mrs. P.A.T. Ellis and their son-in-law and daughter the Rev. and Mrs. K.M. Collison.

Miss Jennifer Underhill, who normally resides in Vancouver with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Underhill, has just returned to the happy family group on Pender, having spent two weeks at Thetis Island all on her own. So's the young bird will learn to fly!

Mrs. Maude Adams had her brother, Roy Dickinson, from Vancouver, with her for a week, and they enjoyed doing things together, but he has now gone back to the bright lights, and Maude is left to enjoy her peaceful progress towards complete recovery from her past illness. Only two more months, and sh'll be 100% again. Cheers!

Mr. and Mrs. George Grimmer who were owners of Lisson Grove, on Pender, but now live in Calgary came back to take part in the big family reunion. It was marked, at St. Peter's Church, by Bishop M.E. Coleman, with a service to commemorate all that the pioneers did in those early adventurous days, and a pew was dedicated, at St. Peter's, where our debt to them for their bravery and enterprise will never be forgotten. Since electricity dug us out of the dark, we late-comers are only amateur pioneers. Mrs. George Grimmer is enjoying the friendly hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. George Logan---well, no one could ask for better than that.

Miss Norah Hawkins, from Vancouver, with her brother, Rodney, from Langley (etc.), came to spend the week-end at Wild-

Acres. I went up to see them but they were out.

Mrs. E.D. Casseday and her daughter Madge are at their Armadale home so that Madge can forget all about schools and kids--Gosh, I don't know how teachers can do it. I can teach a pup, but children are beyond me.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bannister with Sheila and Kathie and their brother are guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. Grimmer.

SOUTH PENDER

Jack Orton, at South Pender, is one of those citizens who takes an interest in the welfare of his neighbours, the community, and the beauty and richness of the Island where they live.

He asks if those persons who are responsible for dumping garbage on the Canal Road will kindly make the effort to dispose of it in some more hygienic manner.

They can't burn it in the bush Granted!

They can, of course, remain anonymous until the rats and seagulls get to work on it.

They could, if they had what it takes, get a price-list of available incinerators. I got one, a very solid double-duty mammoth, for $85. Then I crawled around in the bush and dis-interred a few old, discarded stove-lids, some stones, and (piece de resistance) a galvanized bath, four feet by three feet.

Put down the stove-lids, crown them with the inverted bath. Add other stones to taste. Heave

RUMMAGE SALE

A very successful Rummage Sale was held at the Hall in Port Washington on Saturday, August 20, but there is still some more clearing up to do.

Figures are not all in yet, but sum of around $200 realized. Pretty good, covers upkeep and gives us all a chance to tidy up the cupboards!

your incinerator on top. Paint her with aluminum paint, so she will shine like a morning-star, and won't disintegrate so quickly.

Then, you make your choice. Either get a lid of some sort to cap your beauty, or else spend your winter nights out there holding an umbrella over it. I chose a lid, so she can just sit there until Spring, reminding me, every time I pass that she is my superior, I need her more than she needs me.

I should point out that if you have garbage which must be consumed before wet and cold takes over, you must rise at six a.m., whilst it is still cool, and start it gently. Don't fan it, or kick it. Assume a kneeling position, with the palms of your hands flat on the ground, and if you feel the slightest heat pour water on it. At least, your conscience should be pretty clear, and you can make yourself a cuppa tea around 8 a.m., and start on your regular chores.

Miss Marjory Bailey, from Vancouver, B.C., has brought a friend with her to be her house-guest at Ill-a-hee.

Miss Sybil Conery, at Little Splash, is entertaining Mrs. George Stegan, with her three children, who has come from Winnipeg, where her husband is rector of St. George's Church.

Mrs. H.A. Spalding spent four days on Galiano with her brother, Mr. L.T. Bellhouse, and Mrs. Bellhouse, and their four children.

South has a good Diamond suit but hand is not strong enough to show at 2 level. The 1 N.T. bid does not mean you want to play there but shows 6-9 points and keeps bidding open.

With 10 h.c. points S. could bid at the two level. When H's were rebid, showing 5 or more with at least two honours, 3 spot cards are sufficient support and with 10 or more points a second bid should be made.

Response of 3H shows hand is equivalent to an opening bid with support for Hearts. This is forcing for one round. Opener may explore further if a hand has extra values. At least game must be bid.

Readers who have followed these lessons, and continue to do so should be ready for the "Advanced Beginners" class which no doubt will be repeated this coming season - a social evening of Bridge with tuition and supervision.

MAYNE ISLAND FALL FAIR

When Mayne Island staged its Fall Fair a week ago prominent attraction was the centennial visit of the three navy vessels, HMCS Porte de La Reine, Cowichan and Porte Quebec.

The ships came in overnight to tie up in Miners Bay. They remained until Monday, when they sailed to Ganges Harbour and tied up there for the night.

The ship's companies were kept busy. During the fair a detachment of ratings attended the presentation of plaques by the ship's commanders to the island. There was a dance in the evening, as well as a fire-works display with most of the island in attendance.

On Sunday morning the sailors attended a church parade. Church of St. Mary Magdalene was full. Ships were open to the public most of the afternoon and evening with a picnic and baseball game at the same time.

The displays in and around the hall were still of interest to the residents of Mayne Island and the list of prize winners will be read with interest. The list follows:

High Level Of Success At Local High School

Twenty grade 12 students at Gulf Islands Secondary School were successful in passing government examinations held in June. There were altogether 24 students enrolled for the academic program.

Principal D.L. Hartwig, in a report to the school board, stated that 90 per cent of all courses at the school requiring government examinations were passed successfully. Students who had shown in daily work a sufficient knowledge in a particular subject, were recommended for credit; others were required to write final examination.

The successful students have fulfilled entrance requirements for either university or an institute of technology, depending on their particular program.

Major changes regarding examinations were introduced this year by Department of Education, said Mr. Hartwig. Teachers were asked to provide an assessment of the pupils' work for the year. This represents one half of a pupil's final mark, government examinations make up the other half.

"Examinations were very difficult this year," commented Mr. Hartwig.

Gulf Islands Secondary School is an accredited school, which means that teachers are allowed to recommend that students be passed without writing examinations, explained Mr. Hartwig.

Six students at the school wrote for scholarships. All were successful and five will qualify for payment of part of their tuition. Students aiming at scholarship standing are required to write examinations in two subjects of their choice. This means writing the regular government examination in the two courses; also special scholarship examinations in the same two courses. Writing for a scholarship entails a risk, said Mr. Hartwig. If a recommended student writes a

The fire in the garbage dump flared up again last week-end and gave folks another scare, but matters were under control in short order.

The general forest closure went into effect when local nerves were just about frazzled worrying about scholarship test and fails, he does not pass.

Department of Education pays three-quarters; one-half, or one-third of a student's tuition, depending on the level of the average mark obtained from government and scholarship examinations. The department has not yet announced what portion of fees will be received by local scholarship winners.

ISLAND TRAVELLER GOES FAR FROM HOME ON HOLIDAY

Mrs. R.T. Cook, of Vesuvius Bay is a long way from home.

The Salt Spring Islander left home on July 2, by car. She stayed briefly in Vancouver before going on to Calgary for the Stampede.

Mrs. Cook drove through Regina and Winnipeg before crossing into the United States to drive through Minnesota and Wisconsin to Joliet, Illinois.

She is staying in the Illinois city with her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. E.W. Kreutzen.

While in Illinois, Mrs. Cook is travelling with her relatives to Expo at Montreal.

Before coming home she will travel on to the Maritimes and Newfoundland the extreme fire hazard conditions, but we still felt sorry for the many people who were evicted from the Montague Marine Park.

On orders from the Forest Service, Park custodian Tommy Carolan gave them the bad news on Friday morning and the general exodus of campers and trailers began.

By nightfall the place was empty and he placed a barricade across the entrance to remain there until the ban is lifted. This may take a while, unless we have something better to show than the showers on Sunday night which only laid the dust.

An interesting anecdote here, relative to the Park closing: a couple from Alberta had only moved in their camper on Thursday afternoon for a three days stay. They came especially to see the place where their son had had such a good time last year. The son was one of the Alberta crew of "The Voyageurs" who in their big canoes stayed overnight in Montague Park.

The parents had never been on the island before and, like their son, were enchanted with the place. When they had to leave the Park next day due to the closure, they found a place to stay on a new-found friend's property near the Gulf shore.

They were enchanted with this place too, and before returning to Edmonton on Sunday morning they bought it, lock, stock and barrel, so they would have a place of their own to come back to, soon.

Some more interesting visitors: Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Singer here at Galiano Lodge on their annual vacation. Jacques is the well-known conductor of the Portland Symphony Orchestra, and for many years a property owner on Galiano. This year he announced his plans to build a summer home on his lot up on the Gulf shore.

Mrs. Jack Bickerton, visiting here from Texas, entertained a number of Island friends at afternoon tea at the Lodge last Wednesday in honour of her mother-in-law Mrs. Bickerton Sr. and friend, Mrs. Mott.

Prof. and Mrs. John Robinson and family from London, Ontario, arrived on Saturday for a holiday with Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson Sr. at Benroy.

Mr. and Mrs. George Patmore have had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Patmore and Mrs. J. Diffner and Anne, from Vancouver.

Mrs. Margaret Bruce of Vancouver, was over on the week-end working on her lot at Georgeson Bay. Next door, the Bert Peakalls were moving their furniture into their nice new home.

Here on holidays: the Nigel Morgans of Vancouver and the Reg Cornwell family of Edmonton. Mrs. Edna Coe has her daughter, Mrs. Holden, with her from Calgary; and the Channing Hawkins family is over from Burnaby on vacation. The Bill Kolosoffs have their daughter and family visiting them from Portland, Oregon.

The Vincent Russells were over from Vancouver to spend the week-end with Ole Isebakke.

Hugh Horne has been recuperating at Cliff House from painful injuries to his shoulder sustained on a recent fishing trip up north. Deepest sympathy is extended by their many friends to the Kieran sisters on the loss of their sister this week, and to Mrs. Rennie Weatherell (Miriam) on the sudden death of her father, Sammy Fleck.

The Blomley family is all home from fishing in northern waters, and with them are Jimmie and June Graham and family from Powell River.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Hume on the week-end were Stephen and Max Enke. The latter is a well known Galiano old-timer who once owned the valley farm and the Bluffs property which he later sold to the residents of the Island for a token sum in order to preserve it as a public park.

Youngsters swimming on the sandbar at Sturdies Bay on the week-end got their hair full of paint which wafted down from where the Dept. of Highways contractor is busily spraying the railings of the wharf. Certain irate parents are looking around for somebody to give an earful to after a painful session trying to remove blue paint from their moppet's heads.

Somebody must have been in an awful hurry the other night on Burrill Road along the straight stretch by Day's field. A pair of twin fawns chose the wrong time to cross over to the field just at dusk. The vehicle plowed into them and left them both, mangled and dying, in the middle of the road! No comment!

STORY SKIPPED GENERATION

Driftwood's story on old cars last week skipped a generation.

It was stated that the old Franklin car on the island was purchased by Alan Blackburn who farmed the Conery property.

Mr. Blackburn purchased his land from the late S.T. Conery. Mr. Conery's son is still living here on Salt Spring Island.

Jesse Bond, who was depicted at the wheel of an early Ford, also volunteered the information that a Reo came to the Island before the Franklin, but went back to Victoria after failing to find a purchaser here.

was rejected. Her fellow trustees held firmly to the board's "no smoking" rule placed on the books nine years ago. Students are not allowed to smoke while under school care, i.e., from time of leaving home for school until their return.

Dormitory students are school board responsibility from Sunday afternoon until return home on Friday.

Mrs. Ross argued that students whose parents allow smoking should be permitted to smoke while at the dormitory.

She maintained that students returning to the dormitory from school should have the same freedom as other students returning to their homes. She also contended that the school principal should set smoking rules, not the board.

James Campbell replied that the board's policy is simple. A student may not have tobacco in his possession from the time of leaving home until his return home.

"This policy is part of dormitory rules," he declared. "If parents do not choose to accept it they are free to place their children elsewhere."

George Heinekey pointed to the considerable number of students who do not smoke, either from choice or because of parental disapproval. Marshall Sharp asserted that relaxation of the smoking rule would mean yielding to the lowest common denominator.

"Where do we stop?" he asked. Mr. Campbell thought it noteworthy that not once during the years has the smoking rule been questioned by any significant group of parents.

Strong opposition to a motion requiring students taking correspondence courses to pay for them, with reimbursement by the board on completion of the course, was made by Mr. Campbell.

Principal D.L. Hartwig stated correspondence courses, costing $10 each, are provided for students needing the instruction, but that some of the young people do not work at them. He felt some pressure should be placed on the student and suggested that the course be paid for by the board only when completed.

Mr. Campbell contended it is the responsibility of the board to provide the courses and pay for them. The motion passed, but Mr. Campbell asked the board to reconsider the matter at the next meeting.

Trustees took no action on Mr. Hartwig's request for immediate provision of two more portable classrooms to relieve serious overcrowding at the secondary school. He stated that three more classrooms are needed, even with the extra room provided by the new industrial education building, and still using the old I.E. room and gymnasium stage.

In reply to Mr. Sharp's question as to why three more rooms are needed for 28 extra students, Mr. Hartwig said the school is offering courses not given before.

Asked by Trustee G.S. Humphreys if the school could manage with present conditions until after the referenda are placed, Mr. Hartwig said it would be possible, but difficult.

New 30-passenger school bus costing an estimated $7,000 will be purchased by the board for Galiano Island. Tenders will be called. Disposal of two old buses was left to the transportation chairman Robert Patterson and his committee.

Letters of thanks will be sent to Department of Highways; to Harvey Reynolds, and to the Waterworks Department, for donation of time, machinery and water to put the school playing ground into proper shape.

"We now have a first class field, thanks to these men," said George Heinekey.

Mrs. Anne Ridley, of Vancouver, has been appointed dormitory matron, replacing Miss Eileen Green, who resigned in June. Mrs. Ridley will leave her position as psychiatric nurse at Woodlands Hospital to come to Salt Spring.

Trustees refused a request by Mr. Simmons for permission to use Mahon Hall for one or two nights a week, to show motion pictures as a commercial enterprise. Trustees agreed the hall should be kept free for school use and not tied to regular outside commitments.

NORTH GALIANO

BY DEVINA BAINES

Salishan guests this week are Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Pinkerton and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Robinson and family of Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. Sladen and daughters, of Vernon, B.C.

Valhalla Court Campsite has been a busy place the past week with the tight forest closure on.

Mrs. Joy McLeod and children, of Ladysmith, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thompson and family of Nanaimo and Dennis, Christine and Kerry Keeping, of Ganges, have all been guests at the Baines, also down visiting their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Silvey and family of Powell River.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hellem, of Port Alberni, were guests this week of Dr. and Mrs. H. Scarrow at Retreat Cove.

No rain fell on North Galiano on Sunday night, although I'm sure everyone was hoping for a downpour. The grass and grounds are tinder dry.

Earl Kaye, of Ganges, was on the Island distributing forest closure signs to the various wardens.

Our sincerest sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Rennie Weatherell, of South Galiano on the passing of Miriam's father, Sam Fleck, who passed away suddenly of a heart attack while he was fishing in northern waters.

SAMUEL FLECK DIES SUDDENLY ABOARD HIS BOAT

Former operator of Mayne Island Sawmill, Samuel Wilfred Fleck was found dead on his fishboat at Gillen Harbort, Ocean Falls, on August 17. Death was attributed to a heart attack. He leaves his daughter, Mrs. R. (Miriam) Weatherell, Galiano; a brother, John, Vancouver; three sisters, Mrs. Evelyn Rosenmeyer, Sask., Mrs. Lillian

There's No Saving In Saying "No"

BY ELSIE WORTHINGTON

Question and answer period, held before the school board meeting on Saturna Island on Tuesday last week, brought out discussion on school building referenda, past and future.

One resident, referring to the failure of the referenda, stated he believes lack of communication and information of the right type was responsible.

"Information as to cost of building is more important than emphasizing need," he declared.

Trustee Marshall Sharp thinks there is need to slow the cost of defeating the referenda, resulting in the necessity to provide more costly temporary accommodation.

Trustee James Campbell said it is a mistake to think that defeating the referenda will keep taxes down.

"It means the board cannot borrow money, which is the cheapest way to build," he stated.

"No one should get the idea that rejection of referenda means no buildings are provided."

Cost of temporary buildings must come out of operating costs, Mr. Campbell pointed out. The district gets only 10 per cent of operating costs from the government, but can obtain full 50 per cent share on borrowed money.

Marshall Sharp, commenting on the statement that this school district is one of three in British Columbia with the lowest mill rate, said it is only part of the picture.

"Rigid economy only results in the government reducing its share. The more we save, the less we get," he declared. "Borrowing is the cheapest way of spending the taxpayers' money."

Coaching for dormitory students was suggested by a lady resident.

"Could there not be a properly organized study class, in French, for instance, held once a week for these students?" she asked.

The question was passed to principal Donald Hartwig. He explained there is a regular study period, supervised by teachers, held for one and one-half hours each evening except Friday. Students are free to ask questions on any subject, he said.

"I think that coaching would be excellent if a teacher can be provided," said Mr. Hartwig. He suggested that an approach be made to the board.

THE ABC OF FIRST AID IS FIRST AID TO INJURED

Children on vacation from school may forget their ABC's. But no one is too old or too young to forget their ABC's of first aid. In all kinds of emergencies or disasters, when people are hurt, they need first aid.

The ABC's of first aid are:

"A" -- air. Keep the air passage clear and allow for proper breathing.

"B" -- stop bleeding by direct pressure.

"C" -- use care and caution in moving the victim. Move only if necessary.

An open airway allows the air to reach the lungs, and, with adequate blood circulation, oxygen can get to the tissues. This prevents damage to the brain and other vital organs.

To ensure the victim has a good airway, support the nape of the neck and press the top of the head backwards. With the neck extended and the angle of the jaw pressed forward the victim's tongue is clear of the airway. If necessary, start artificial respiration.

Special prizes, unworked driftwood, Bill Evans; miniature garden, Jennifer Crane; Dodds cup for most points in section, Jennifer Crane.
