NO REFERENDUM

Shift system may be in operation by next fall in Salt Spring Island schools, commented George Heinekey, chairman of Gulf Islands School District on Tuesday evening. Mr. Heinekey was speaking of the ban announced by the provincial government on school referenda in the province. Province announced that no school referendum will be permitted on December 6 at municipal elections. The action has been taken in an effort to combat inflation.

Mr. Heinekey explained that he could make no firm commitment until the board had met.

New elementary school for Salt Spring Island was planned for next year, with the referendum being presented in December. The provincial government will accept school building as a requirement needed in emergency.

Ask For Softening

ISLAND DEVELOPERS HIT HARD

Land developers hit heavily by the current ban on subdivision of Gulf Island properties are asking for relief.

The ban prohibits registration of subdivisions of lot size under 10 acres.

Further voice was added to the pleas of developers last week when the Gulf Islands Joint Council approved a resolution from Galiano asking for a schedule of closure and an indication of what may be expected in the near future.

The Joint Council also asked that islanders be given a voice when community plans are prepared for the islands.

In its resolution to the minister the council refers to the unemployment which has resulted from subdivision restrictions, as well as the hardship suffered by local residents who have invested heavily in construction equipment left idle.

Last week John Tisdalle, MLA for the Islands told DRIFTWOOD that he was receiving pleas for help from islanders whose families were thrown out of work.

Mr. Tisdalle explained that he was not in sympathy with the minister's action and that land development could have been a lucrative business among the islands for many years had no restrictions been imposed.

Biggest sufferer here is the developer. Many land developers have invested borrowed money in subdivision projects. They have borrowed for short terms at high rates of interest. The current restriction has been imposed for a period of one year, but the introduction of community planning on the islands, with outlined plans for development could terminate the 12-month stay.

Investors whose projects have already received governmental approval may proceed to sell their lots. Those developers whose plans have not been app-proved by the department of lands are held up.

First check of the lists of affected operators shows about 25 firms caught by the ban. There could be others and probably are. Some of the developments are new and others are continuing. Some of projects already approved and sold.

Unemployment is a problem more directly facing the operators of land-clearing machinery. A steady increase in the number of machines on the islands has taken place in recent years. Much of the equipment is engaged in clearing land for subdivisions.

One operator among the islands was running a heavy bulldozer and had ordered a second for delivery in November when the ban was announced.

STOP ROAD WORK

Delay in the $585,000 road building program on Salt Spring Island has been imposed by the approaching winter.

First half of the road hardsurfacing has already been undertaken. Vesuvius Bay Road, Upper Ganges Road, Robinson Road, Lower Ganges Road and Fulford-Ganges Road have all been subjected to the asphalt paving machine.

Burgoyne Valley has seen the cloud of smoke arising from the asphalt plant on Isabella Road and island roads have been punctuated by heavy trucks hauling blacktop to the site.

At the week end the barge with its 18 railway cars was towed away from Ganges and is not scheduled to return until March, when the remainder of the road job will be completed.

Still progressing is the cutting of ditches and roadside along the route of Fulford-Ganges Road.

Two sections of the road will remain unfinished until spring. These are the sites of the humps at Garner Road and at Church Road in Ganges.

In both cases a sharp rise has been skimmed off the surface of the road to provide for greater visibility. In both cases the level has been raised in part by dumping fill. The fill must have time to settle under the pounding wheels of traffic before its final surface can be added.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Gilman who live on the corner of Church Road and Lower Ganges Road, have been sharply critical of the repairs to the road outside their home. After 10 months of school building they have been subjected to the noise and discomfort of road clearing and blasting, Mrs. Gilman told DRIFTWOOD.

The couple both feel that the project should better have been left until spring. Condition of the section of road between Robinson Road and Mahon Hall is likely to remain muddy and hazardous through the winter, Mrs. Gilman stated.

Ganges railway siding has gone. Picture was taken when the railway cars were unloading at the Salt Spring Island port. Railway barge was towed away at the week end.

PREACHER MAY SEEK ELECTION TO SCHOOL BOARD

Change in the Schools Act provides for the election of a clergyman to a school board. In past years members of the clergy have not been eligible.

The change affects some ministers among the islands, notably those who have retired a candidate must own property in the district.

A TREE GROWS ON PENDER

A tree lives on Pender. It is the Pearson Care Tree and it is lighted each year by George Pearson in token of donations made to him on behalf of CARE.

On December 15 the lights will go on and the Care Tree will shine across the Gulf waters in a salute to those who have made life a degree more pleasant for the needy.

Last week Mr. Pearson was sending out his letters. Every contributor from past years is urged to keep up his Christmas giving.

The tree is illuminated by lamp bulbs, each bulb representing one gift. "I am lighting our CARE Tree once again on December 15 to show the world that we do care," writes Mr. Pearson. Each dollar received purchases 27 pounds of food for some person or family in need.

Every dollar sent to the Pearson CARE fund is devoted entirely to the CARE. No deductions are made by Mr. Pearson.

In 1960, when the campaign first started, Mr. Pearson collected $102.50 to provide a total of 2,244 pounds of food. By Christmas, 1968 the donations amounted to $1,080 and purchased 29,160 pounds of needed food.

Donations may be made to George Pearson, Pender Island Post Office, B. C. A receipt will be sent to each donor.

Last year a total of 187 lights burned on the tree. Mr. Pearson hopes to make it more this year. Every Islander can help.

POPPY DAY RECORD

Poppy Day on Galiano Island brought in the grand total of $142, says organizer Mrs. J. P. Hume.

As Mrs. Hume was away, Mrs. D. A. New took over collecting from the ladies who sold poppies. They were Mrs. H. Baines, Sr., Miss C. Bennett, Mrs. R. Brackett, Misses K. Johnson and I. McKerihan, Mrs. G. Newton, Mrs. R. Parminter, Mrs. D. Tothill, Mrs. G. Steward, and Mrs. W. Maier.

Mrs. Hume expressed her gratitude to the canvassers who collected the record sum.

$1,000 GOES ON NIGHT SCHOOL

THERE'S NO PROFIT

There's no profit in educating adults.

Last week trustees of Gulf Islands School District learned that the adult education program or night school classes, is $750 in the red and will be about $1,000 on the wrong side of the ledger by the end of the year.

Question posed to trustees was simple: "Do we continue with adult education?"

Feeling of the trustees in September was that the project should carry itself, recalled Chairman G.M. Heinekey. It had not lived up to expectations. In previous years the salary of the night school director has been charged to salaries. This year the department of education has ruled that it may not be included in that category.

Mrs. Barbara Toyne suggested that where an instructor served without pay no fee was charged to the student. Yet the costs of operation were still to be met.

She felt that a fee should be levied irrespective of the remuneration paid to instructors.

Special meeting of the adult education committee will discuss the future of night school in the island schools.

COUPLE SELL RESORT

Galiano Lodge has been sold. Mr. and Mrs. Barry Smith, new proprietors, have now moved from Winnipeg, with their three-month-old son, Douglas, and two purebred Samoyed dogs, Tab and Rega.

They purchased the Lodge from Mr. and Mrs. James Deas, who are now in Vancouver, and commute over to the Island on weekends.

Barry has been with International Business Machines in Winnipeg, - came over to Galiano in August of this year, and liked it so much that he and his wife decided to move here and become owners.

They have many plans, including some expansion in the near future. They will keep the Lodge and restaurant open for guests during the whole winter.

This is a new service for Galiano, as there has been no restaurant available on the island in the off-season.

SAILOR FAMILY TO SET SAIL FOR NEW ZEALAND

When Gus Nitsch spent a holiday in California recently, he met a Salt Spring Island sailor. In fact, he met a whole family of Salt Spring Island sailors.

In San Diego Mr. Nitsch found Ernie Haigh and family. Mr. and Mrs. Haigh and their children are making a slow journey around the world aboard the trimaran built at Southey Point.

The holidaymaker reports that the family of sailors is planning a trip to New Zealand after a lengthy call in Mexico.

OPEN HOUSE FOR PENSIONERS

The Open House of Old Age Pensioners Organization was well attended on November 12. Cards and games played until 3:30 when tea was served by Mrs. J. Hayward and her committee.

Mrs. Hadfield took over to sing two beautiful songs and give recitations.

Mrs. Horton was at the piano. Community singing ended a pleasant afternoon.

Books Gain Boost

Allocation of funds for the library at Gulf Islands Secondary School was given two boosts in quick succession last week.

J.M. Campbell noted that the new budget allowed $6,000 for library costs. Last year's budget had allowed $6,000 and actual cost had risen to $6,500, he noted.

He promptly proposed that the allocation be increased to $7,000.

Books are the essence of learning, he pointed out. Although the islands secondary school has as good a library as any school in the province, it still lags far behind those in Ontario, he commented.

After a brief discussion Mr. Campbell enquired whether the school librarian had made any recommendation for this year's budget. Librarian Chiddell had asked for $7,800, trustees were told. Campbell promptly asked for an allocation of $8,000. It was approved.

"Books are an intimate part of education," commented the Saturna educationalist, "and we chisel on them."

Ganges

Mrs. Donald D. Love returned Thursday to her home in Riverside, Connecticut, after spending the past week with her mother, Mrs. F.I. Atkins, Scott Road.

Visiting Capt. and Mrs. V.C. Best, The Alders, for a week, were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Best.

Mrs. R. Wiebe and young daughters Sarah and Leah, Powell River, spent last week with Mrs. Wiebe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bradley, Baker Road.

Visiting Mrs. Cecil Springford last week end was her eldest granddaughter, Miss Jane Springford, Vancouver, and John Sheppard, West Vancouver.

Mrs. T.W. Mouat, Welbury Bay, has had as her guest for several days her brother-in-law H. H. Smith, Victoria, also spending last week end with Mrs. Mouat and Miss Olive Mouat.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Trelford, Vancouver, were over from Vancouver last week end visiting Alan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Trelford, Tripp Road.

Shane Heinekey, Vancouver spent last week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Heinekey, Vesuvius Bay.

Bob Morris, Ashcroft, was a week end visitor of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morris.

Number of Salt Spring Island families have been collecting used postage stamps on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. V.W. Menzies, of Pender. The Pender Island couple send on their stamps to the Leprosy Mission in Toronto. They are subsequently sold to raise funds for the mission.

The Toronto mission office has reported receipt of 3 1/2 tons of stamps which were sold for $3,600.

CBC IS IN DEBT

But She Can't Get Reply

Salt Spring Island radio fan is hopping mad.

In good faith she subscribed to CBC Times. Her subscription fee was posted off at about the same time as the CBC announced the curtailment of the CBC Times.

The would-be subscriber sat and waited for the return of her fee. She is still waiting.

She waited for a reply from CBC to her letter. She is still waiting.

Who does she turn to now?

The islander is convinced that the CBC has retained her money under false pretences. No one at CBC is remotely interested.

Does she write off the paltry sum as a loss to a defaulting Crown corporation. Or whom should she sue?

CBC has been deaf to her pleas and letters. She is by no means dumb.

is now standing idle or moved away from the islands.

Immediate rise in prices of properties among the islands was anticipated by many observers when the new regulation came into force. The rise has not yet shown itself, DRIFTWOOD learned this week. First reaction was a busy sale of lots already available. Real estate sales have been heavier this year at this time than is usual.

This week the report of the Capital Region Planning Board is expected. The board has been carrying out a survey of the Gulf Islands in terms of community planning.

The report will bring forward the preliminary proposals for a system of land use control aimed to preserving the distinctive nature of the Gulf Islands.

Public hearing will follow among the islands, when islanders will enjoy the opportunity of expressing an opinion. No community plan may be imposed without a public hearing.

In the meantime the Gulf Islands are officially designated Community Planning Area No. 24. The planning function of the islands will pass into the hands of the Capital Regional District as soon as the regional district gains authority from the province to engage in community planning.

On Salt Spring Island delegates from various community organizations will be invited to express an opinion on the future development and needs of the island when the planning committee is launched by the Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce.

Delegates will meet in the Legion Hall at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 26.

RESOLUTIONS

WHEREAS the Gulf Islands Joint Council approves in principle the intention of the government to institute an overall plan for the development of the Gulf Islands area; and

WHEREAS the residents and property-owners of this area are deeply concerned with the preservation of its natural beauty, and rightfully feel that they are personally affected by any such planning.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED to request that the Minister of

ANGLICAN CHURCH WOMEN SET PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS

Anglican Church Women held their monthly meeting at the Rectory on November 14, with 12 members present.

The nomination of officers for the following year took place. The president of the A.C.W. Mrs. S. Bannister was in the chair.

Plans were completed for the annual Christmas Bazaar which will take place in St. George's Hall December 6.

Various attractive stalls are planned: Mrs. V.L. Jackson will be in charge of sewing; Mrs. J. Byron, holly and vegetables; Mrs. G.H. Holmes and Mrs. W. H. Saunders, Christmas decorations, and Mrs. W. Norton and Mrs. Ledger, the Christmas tree. Mrs. Bannister and Mrs. E. Barber will be tea hostesses.

The evening branch of the A.C.W. will have the home cooking and the candy stalls.

Mrs. L. Horrocks will be at the door.

Municipal Affairs include representatives of property owners and residents within the Gulf Islands in any such body as may be set up to study and present a plan, and to hear recommendations from such property-owners and organizations who are intimately concerned by this new regulation;

AND FURTHER, in view of the unemployment which has resulted from the moratorium on legitimate development, together with the financial hardship being experienced by local residents who had invested heavily in construction equipment which now lies idle, this Joint Council requests that the Hon. Minister publish directives and information which could be of assistance and guidance to those persons so affected, advising how long the present closure will last, and indicating what can be expected for the near future, so that development firms now operating within government regulations can schedule their employment needs accordingly, and so alleviate this unexpected and severe economic set-back to this area.

MAYNE FIRE HALL OPENED

BY ELSIE BROWN

Mayne Island's new Fire Hall was officially opened on Saturday, Nov. 15.

In the absence of John Rainsford, Improvement District Chairman, Trustee, Fred Greenslade welcomed the gathering.

He paid tribute to the Mayne Island Volunteer Fire Department for their untiring efforts on behalf of the community. They are on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week with no remuneration to compensate them for their time, he observed.

Mr. Greenslade thanked Mr. and Mrs. Bert Girardi, Mayne Centre Store, and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Pugh, Miners Bay Trading Post, for assuming the responsibility of turning in the alarms from their places of business.

Building contractor, Bert Girardi and his assistants were commended for the standard of workmanship on the hall.

Lt. Robert Mortimer of the Saanich Fire Department spoke on behalf of volunteer firemen. They are often called upon to render service to the community which is taken for granted, he suggested.

Audrey Aitken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Aitken, cut the ribbon which officially opened the building and the visitors were treated to a tour of inspection of the interior.

At present there are two fire trucks, 1,000 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose, 1,400 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose, two portable pumps and a Scott airpacs. More equipment will be added as time goes on.

There are three bays, making room for one more truck.

The hall is located on Felix Jack Road, named after the late Felix Jack, former well-known resident of Mayne Island and Audrey Aitken's grandfather.

Following the inspection, the firemen's wives served refreshments in the lounge, or the common room, which is gradually being furnished by the firemen. They are entirely responsible for furnishings, kitchen equipment and supplies.

Distinguished guests included Mr. and Mrs. Tom Druce of Victoria, and Lt. Robert Mortimer, both representatives of Saanich Fire Department.

Fire chief Bob Sauerberg and Assistant Fire chief George Douglas were on hand to welcome the many guests who came and went during the afternoon. Mrs. Betty Douglas, Mrs. Grace Evans, Mrs. Joyce Mitchell, Mrs. Sophie Betts and Mrs. Mildred Paton were responsible for refreshments served to guests during the afternoon.

We might have more news if we could drive around our pot holes with any degree of safety and speed.

The TV character called the Galloping Gourmet amazes me in more ways than one. Freshly ground rock salt he uses?? In over 50 years in a drug store that was the cheap salt we sold for commercial uses.

Our sad news this week is not so sad. Laura Coombs is home. Ambling Andy Ritchie is home. Freda Hall is home. Granmarie McMahon is home. Louisa Gal Money will be home in a few days and so will gaudy Georgie Campbell. All the ladies mentioned above want to thank their friends for all the cards, letters and presents they received (yo are more than welcome, ladies).

Our Padre, Rev. J. Dangerfield had a christening last Sunday for Mary-Ann Sinclair and Jeannie Morgan had a tea afterwards. It was a happy occasion and the tea was scrumptious, Jeannie.

CHURCH WOMEN PLAN BAZAAR NOVEMBER 27

Regular meeting of the Mizpah Unit of the United Church Women was held on November 13, with 15 members and one guest in attendance, the president, Mrs. Cora Leggett in the chair.

The meeting opened with the singing of a hymn and the repeating of the Lord's Prayer. This was followed by a thought-provoking devotional period led by Mrs. S. Claibourne.

The short business session consisted mainly of checking plans for the bazaar which will be held on November 27.

Two good friends who are unable to attend meetings had sent an assortment of treasures, cuddly rabbits, dolls, Christmas doilies, knitted table mats, pot holders, and many other attractive articles admired by all.

Regular members also have been working hard for the bazaar. On sale will be aprons, novelties, stationery, knitted articles, pillow slips, produce, home cooking, and candy. Tea will be served.

IS IT INFLEXIBLE?

Planning, in the vocabulary of the provincial legislature means an expression of policy for any use or uses of land, including surfaces of water or the pattern of subdivision of land.

Planning has been sought by residents of the Gulf Islands for many months. The machinery was already in motion to bring it into force. Capital Region Planning Board has carried out a survey of the islands and its report will be submitted this week to the regional district.

The minister of municipal affairs anticipated the report by a month when he invoked a provincial law of long standing. Even without his ban on subdivision, planning was merely weeks away.

Supporters of the minister's policies contend that no one has the right to do as he will with land in the community, without prior approval of the community. Opponents of community planning will always contend that the owner of the land must be able to do with it as he pleases.

On the islands there are many individuals and associations whose occupation has been land developer. Some are establishing subdivisions on their own property while others are acquiring land for the same purpose. Planning will exert a tight control on subdivision and each such development will be required to conform to the overall picture.

Many engaged in land development at the present time are faced with a serious financial problem. They have purchased land on credit at high interest rates. The moratorium on subdivisions has left them owing large sums of money and without means of raising the funds they had expected from the sale of building lots.

The minister has been urged to make some retroactive provision for such cases. The plea is not without justice. It may be argued that some were less than wise in going ahead while aware of the concern of islanders for planning. Nevertheless, they went into the project when neither community regulation nor provincial law prohibited it. It is a harsh regulation that cuts off a legitimate endeavour without warning. It is a harsher one that cannot be modified.

Let us have controls. Let us plan our communities, but let us not model our community on the ruins of another man's dream.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

KANAKA ROAD

Editor, Driftwood,
I was very sorry and somewhat surprised to note that apparently the trustees of Gulf Islands School District are again urging the closing of Kanaka Road. I was certainly under the belief that interested officials of the Highways Department had definitely decided against taking such action which would close a vital and important access link. Such a move would not only prove an inconvenience to nearby residents but would in addition cause a bottleneck and congestion on Church Road.

There does not appear to be any good or valid reason for closing this road when it is realized that practically all those students in elementary and secondary classes come through Mahon Hall grounds when going to or coming from the business centre in Ganges. I would hope that the present situation, which in my opinion is quite satisfactory, should remain in effect and that we may leave well alone.

-W.M. Mouat, Ganges,
November 17, 1969.

FOR A SEASON?

Editor, Driftwood,
There is an old proverb "God will not enquire of thy birth, nor will He ask thy creed. Al-one He will ask: "What hast thou done with the land I loaned thee for a season?"

Now is the time to take stock and consider carefully the land "loaned to us for a season".

Matter may be considered indestructible but our natural resources cannot by any reasoning be considered inexhaustible. Wise planning can prevent a tragedy such as that of three thousand years ago when King Solomon sent 80,000 hewers of wood into the mountains for logs. Promoters said the cedars of Lebanon would last forever. There was nothing to fear by cutting freely. Recent estimates place the remaining trees of that highly-prized species at about 400, these mostly above the 6,000-foot level of the Lebanon Mountains.

Nations, now wiser and poorer see the errors in reckless and wasteful use - too late!

People of modern times appear to have little better conscience toward resources. Man gives respectability to such exploits by calling it development. Conservationists are looked upon with a jaundiced eye. Conservation is largely a matter of morals. A man who deliberately causes human hardship and poverty for sake of gain is called a knave and a sinner. Is man any less a knave and a sinner if by greed or carelessness he risks depriving succeeding generations of their rightful heritage?

An aged Indian is reported to have said when white men rushed to stake uranium claims in his part of the country: "White man come long ago and take all the beaver furs and other furs; come back and build sawmill and take all the big trees; come back still later and build a pulp mill and take all the small trees; now he comes back again to take the rocks".

Achievement in rapid development in North America resources would appear to be a high price in waste.

History may have very harsh words about the present generation. Prospects for our grandchildren and great grandchildren are by no means certain. Managing resources so they will continue to support the human family should be truly cultivated. This in contrast to exploitation merely for the sake of becoming rich quickly. We should recognize our responsibilities to the generations yet unborn.

Man is so very egocentric "he wants what he wants when he wants it". People with foresight it is to be hoped, will demand the "renewing of the renewables" for when a man destroys his land he begins to destroy himself.

-Ada Ryan, Ganges,
November 9, 1969.

HE WORKED FOR GANGES

Editor, Driftwood,
I believe in the individual septic tank system as the most satisfactory where suitable soil conditions exist. Ganges won't make it unfortunately. Let's be more realistic about the community of Ganges than to criticize Charlie Horel for doing his best to encourage installing an acceptable 2 stage sewage disposal.

Why septic tanks have failed in Ganges? In many cases there is no percolation, or even flooding of septic tank fields. Lots are too small, inadequate systems to start with in an area of older homes and tiny lots. Mr. Horel deserves a medal for recognizing the healthy needs of the community and for his campaign for sewage disposal for Ganges. Though he did not succeed, it was a good effort.

If there was a more positive approach to basic problems everyone would benefit.

Criticism is fine in its place, but to be qualified, should be constructive and helpful.

PRESS CLUB

Editor, Driftwood,
The newly-formed Duncan Press Club is interested in gaining new members. An invitation is extended to all persons who earn the major portion of their income through writing, broadcasting or photography for the news media.

Associate membership is offered to those persons who derive a portion of their earnings from such pursuits as well as authors, printers and advertising personnel involved in the printed or broadcast word.

Since the Gulf Islands have many writers and persons interested in that field, it was resolved by the club that members and associate members be sought from there.

The club meets every second Tuesday of the month at noon in Duncan to discuss problems and topics of mutual interest. Voting members may attend. Social activities are planned for all members including literary evenings with special speakers from the literary and journalism field.

Interested persons should contact the secretary, Duncan Press Club, 262 Station Street, Duncan, B. C.

TIME CHANGE

SPECIAL FRIDAY SERVICE

Dangerous cargo trip of the Vesuvius Queen on Fridays is to be changed. As of Friday, Dec 5, the little ship will carry a dangerous cargo on the 8:30 am sailing out of Crofton, instead of the 7:30.

The 7:30 sailing has proved a restriction to travellers from Vancouver Island seeking to reach Salt Spring Island in order to go to work.

The dangerous cargo carried on Fridays is propane gas and passengers are not permitted to travel aboard a ferry carrying gas or gasoline.

Regulation is not established by B.C. Ferries. It is a federal law.

MAYNE ISLANDERS OFFER SUPPORT

Large number of Mayne islanders and commuters turned out to a public meeting last Wednesday evening at the hall when Rev. Jack Kent, representative of SPEC, Society for Pollution and Environmental Control, gave a talk and showed film, "Rape of Santa Barbara".

Bill Wilks took charge of the meeting, assisted by his son, Barry. Mr. Kent spoke of the many aspects of pollution threatening every country today. He cited conditions already known to islanders and referred to the indifference they have aroused.

After the film was shown a question period and discussion followed.

A resolution called for the support of the meeting for SPEC and its aims.

All organizations on the island endorsed the resolution and delegates authorized to speak for their sponsors gave approval to island participation.

Oil drilling in the Gulf of Georgia was the prime reason for the meeting. Every aspect of pollution was discussed.

MORE BOOKS IN LIBRARY HERE

BY LIBRARIAN

Within recent weeks an unusually numerous and wide range of books has been added to the library, which now has a stock approaching 10,000 volumes, a vast increase over the 1,300 which started the collection in 1958.

For the do-it-yourself enthusiast and hobbyist there is a 22-volume Practical Handyman's Encyclopedia, embracing a wide variety of projects, also books on house construction, house wiring, wood carving, the wood turning lathe, and clocks.

Arts and crafts include instructive volumes on country crafts, the techniques of landscape, seascapes, pastel, oil, figure and tree painting.

Those interested in antiques will find books on glass, china, furniture, fairy lamps, church memorial brasses, heraldry and a genealogist's encyclopedia.

There are also a number of books on herbs, both culinary and medicinal, and several on the occult.

Among the fiction will be found three more humorous volumes by the zany authors of "1066 and all that", also the popular Once Upon an Island (a second copy), and The Pathless Way. No, we do not have Bea Hamilton's book yet!

There are also bound volumes of the Hudson's Bay Company magazine, The Beaver, covering 24 years, and a Centennial Library series on various aspects of Canadian life and times.

One dollar per year is still the price of membership, or five dollars a year as a sustaining member. No inflation here!

The lower hall of the United Church had turned into a luxurious drawing room. Carpets, drapes, comfortable chairs, tables with lamps, books held by rooster book-ends, clever arrangements of glorious chrysanthemums in autumn colors, tapers, everything all waiting for the hostess and her guests. Mrs. Charles Baseley welcomed us, the audience, and introduced the hostess, Mrs. Philip Sawford, a new-comer to Salt Spring, welcoming new friends. Mrs. Sawford seated herself comfortably so that she could comment, explain, and generally help her guests to please us, and help us to appreciate them and their attire.

Fashion Show

The first to come in were two little girls, eyes sparkling, curls bobbing. They were Loretta Dodds and Lynn Palmer dressed in two-piece slim suits, red vest and trousers bright against white blouse with queen-sized bow, and brown trousers with white sweater and big, attractive print tie.

Hand-in-hand, they bravely walked the aisle to show visitors what the "well-dressed young lady" could be wearing today on Salt Spring Island.

Lynn and Loretta were followed by Nicola Toynbee. (Not a dull moment, not a hesitation throughout the whole display). Nicola wore brown and orange plaid bell bottoms topped by a gay orange mini dress, -the belt collar, cuffs, and pocket tabs of which were the same brown and orange plaid. Becoming and so practical!

In came Marnie Jarman, resplendent in a white sports coat by Nicoline of Montreal over a red two-piece slim set. The sports coat had smart roomy front pockets, full belt, red buttons, and red lining. When Marnie slipped the jacket off, she let us see that the top of the red slim suit was trimmed with a deep V of knitted red and olive-green stripes, most attractive and becoming to a tall, slender girl.

Mrs. David Chase was the next guest. She was ready for a game of golf, clad in a checked vest and pleated checked skirt, orange long-sleeved pullover to match one color of the check, navy knee-high socks to match the other color, and comfortable orange hush puppies to complete the outfit. This pure wool golf ensemble was styled by Highland Queen.

Ready for work, guests, or a trip to Europe, Mrs. Fred Anderson entered, clad in a becoming three-piece suit of forest green. The pullover, with high neckline and long sleeves, and matching slims made a versatile and fashionable outfit. The hostess informed us that the slims, sweater, and matching skirt can be bought separately.

Straight from Paris, Montreal, or Mouat's came the outfit worn by Mrs. Spencer Marr. Her three-quarter length coat of fun-fur long-hair silver-grey Borg worn over a green slim suit was very effective. When she took off the coat, the audience could admire the straight-cut slims, turtle neck pullover, and striped vest.

The final model in this group of practical and high-style outfits was Mrs. L.A. Summers. Her three-piece ensemble of fortrel and wool, rich red with gold buttons, long tunic jacket and straight skirt, very smart and yet able to take hard wear, made the audience wonder where its wearer planned to travel, Norway and Scotland, perhaps? Over her arm Mrs. Summers carried slims, straight-cut to give the effect of bell bottom which could be worn instead of the skirt.

During the evening the models appeared in a variety of dresses for many occasions. This fashion show had been planned by Mrs. Dick Toynbee of Mouat's and the Norahlite Unit of the United Church Women under the convener'ship of Mrs. Charles Baseley. The flowers were the gift of Gulf Island Florists, the model's hair stylings were by Mrs. Noren of the Rainbow Beauty Shop; soft music was provided by Douglas and Steven Anderson; and the public address system was loaned and serviced by David Parsons.

SERVICE AT LYCH GATE

DATING BACK TO DEDICATION CEREMONY IN 1931

For the "Old Sweat"... "Bow and Arrow Soldier", I believe, to our younger "Old Sweats", this was the 51st time we had gone back in our mind's eye to the "Cease Fire", and the appalling silence that followed it.

The noise of the coal box, minnie and MG would become a memory; no more that head-first dive into the first available shell hole to dodge the scrap iron from a bursting nine-two.

A phase in our lives was over, a phase which so many of our comrades finished before that eleventh hour. We must remember them.

So many had hid down their lives that we survivors might live to carry on the conflict. All had died for others, that the way of life we held dear might survive.

Such were the thoughts of members of branch 84, as they paraded at the Lych Gate at St. Mary Magdalen's Church, where President Jack Hayhurst laid a wreath in the name of the branch, and in honor of the fallen from the Gulf Islands, and later, at the Saturna Island hall for our annual Church Parade.

There was a rather better than usual turn-out this year. The parade service at Saturna was conducted by Rev. J. Dangerfield M.B.E., one of our branch Chaplains, who, in his short address once more reminded us that the basis of these wars had been the service on behalf of others, and that the need for this type of service still remained to be done to make our world a better place in which to live, and this type of service the veteran could give in many cases far better than others, for he was only too well acquainted with the horror and rawness of modern warfare.

Following the parade service, Past President's medals were presented to C.M. Barron, and Hugh MacFarlane, by Larry Fieldhouse, himself a Past Zone and Branch President.

The rest of the day was devoted to a sing-song and talks amongst ourselves. The songs were mostly of an older vintage, the marching songs of the first war, and the talk, so little of it concerning wars.

Once again we must thank the ladies of Saturna for their cook-house fatigue, and Mrs. W. Warlow for her untiring work at the piano, particularly as neither of her usual reliefs were able to be with us this year.

Finally, a word about the Lych Gate, which the writer has even heard called "The Lynch Gate". Both words have reference to death, but in widely different connotations.

Originally, the Lych Gate (or Lykegate) was the place where the body of the deceased was received before being taken into the church for Requiem Mass. Hence it is peculiarly appropriate as a war memorial.

The prime mover in its construction was the late Paul Scoones, who took the design from an old Lych Gate of an English parish church.

The lettering was done by the late Comrade Holgate, and the Memorial was dedicated in 1931.

It is in honor of all the fallen of the First War from the four Gulf Islands, for at that time Pender Island was an integral part of the area of Branch 84. Later, by resolution, its scope was extended to include those who were killed in the Second War.

almost no knowledge of English. They have become thoroughly familiar with colloquial English during their long stay among the islands.

Danger with the modern youthful culture is that many a head may end up a deadhead.

It's a long way to old Quebec, but the more they press for separation the more convinced we become, in the west, that it might be a good idea.

Traffic toll of Patricia Bay Highway, running from Swartz Bay ferry into Victoria, has been high. Last month, according to the Sidney Review, the toll amounted to two dead, 11 injured and nine wrecks. Now the highway has been reconstructed with the dangerous three-lane pattern we should see some action... one way or another.

WINTER CHANGES SLIGHT

Winter schedule of the Queen of the Islands will do a double-shunt to Tsawwassen again.

Mayne and Galiano week end visitors setting out for the mainland will arrive home a little earlier.

The schedule will provide for the 4:40 sailing from Long Harbour to Tsawwassen stopping at only Otter Bay and Village Bay, to serve Pender and Mayne Islands, respectively. It will not call at Sturdies Bay on the outward trip.

Returning from Tsawwassen at 7:30 p.m., the vessel will return to Mayne and Galiano, there picking up mainland traffic and returning to Tsawwassen. Last trip out of Tsawwassen will be made at 10:15 p.m., to arrive in Long Harbour at 12:15 a.m.

Changes are included in the new winter schedule to be effective from December 2 until Easter.

LIBRARY TO OPEN SHORTLY AT GALIANO

Monthly meeting of the Galiano Ladies Service Club was conducted by president Mrs. I.A. Murphy, and dealt mostly with final plans for the Christmas bazaar.

Sick visitor Mrs. L. Robinson said she has visited during the past month Mrs. C.O. Twiss, Mrs. Flo Bellhouse, and Mrs. Hibbs.

The library cards and envelopes are now almost finished being put into the library books, thanks to several members helping Mrs. Murphy, and the opening of the library will be announced soon.

Rev. Benjamin Fream will open the bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 22, at 2:30 p.m.

During the coming week members will be busy making candy, cookies, cakes and aprons and unearthing treasures from corners to be sold at the white elephant stall.

BY MARY BACKLUND

Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Hume have returned from Victoria, where Mr. Hume was delighted to hear that he didn't have to undergo an eye operation, - he was fitted with new glasses, and feels just fine, thank you!

Mr. and Mrs. F.E. Robson are away on a hunting trip to the Interior. They will visit daughter Carol and family in Kamloops, - Carol's husband Al Wilson is still in hospital there, and getting along quite well.

We are pleased to see Mrs. Bellhouse and Mrs. C.O. Twiss now feeling better, also Mrs. W.J. Kolossoff, who was recently ill.

William Smith, from Toronto, has arrived to spend some time with son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Smith. This is the first time that Mr. Smith, Sr., has been to Galiano, and he has not been to Vancouver for more than 25 years. He is retired from the department of highways in Ontario.

GOLFERS HIT INTERNATIONAL JACKPOT

Mr. and Mrs. John Rees have returned from Las Vegas, Nevada, where they met Mr. and Mrs. C.D.A. Tweedale.

Mr. Rees and Mr. Tweedale competed in an interesting invitational golf match. Members from Vancouver, Prince George, Penticton, and Kelowna areas were invited to play at the Paradise Valley Golf and Country Club and the Bonanza Golf and Country Club.

The tournament lasted three days, and on the final day, they won their flight.

Mr. Rees and Mr. Tweedale were both presented with $100 and a matched set of "His and Hers" baggage.

Mr. and Mrs. Tweedale have returned to their home on the Island now, after some time spent touring in the United States. While he was playing golf, his wife, when she was not caddying for him, did a lot of painting.

PEACE AND BEAVERS

BY MARY BACKLUND

The peace of Peaceful Valley has been interrupted, not by human hands, but by industrious beavers.

A Beaver came to live on the Rees farm, down near the old Zala place, three years ago, and although Mr. and Mrs. John Rees were not very pleased about his being there, he seemed to be happy in that corner of the field.

Last week, Mr. Beaver decided to change his abode, maybe because he now has a mate, or maybe just because that is his nature. First thing they knew trees were cut down, and there was a huge dam, right in the middle of the main stream of what is known as Donald New's creek.

The creek meanders down the big mountain, through Mr. New's property, thence across the road, and through the big field, on the western side of the farm. At least it always did.

Even though Mr. Rees had a machine clean out the creek and the dam, now, this weekend, there are more dams, and we all know that beavers will keep on building, and building, and building.

One alder tree that has been cut down, is at least two feet through, and several more are quite large.

How long will the patient Rees family tolerate the engineering of their beavers?

27 Hours On Water In Small Boat

Fishing party from Salt Spring Island came home recently without any fish. They were lucky to get home at all.

The fishing jaunt was planned for a few hours. It ended 27 hours after they set out and many miles down the coast.

The fish weren't biting that day. The fishermen sat back to shelter from the cold breeze while eating a small snack. It was their last meal for many hours. Content to drift while they ate, they cut the motor.

Come time to start, the motor was reluctant. The battery was flat before the fishermen were convinced. None was a mechanic and the mysteries of the internal combustion engine remained unknown.

Two batteries were exhausted before it became evident that the motor was not destined to start. Darkness was approaching and the little boat was steadily floating along with the current. Without food or shelter, the would-be-fishermen were in a dangerous plight.

All night long they drifted until the following day they attracted the attention of a United States freighter bound for San Francisco. The ship had cleared customs and could not put into port. Nevertheless, the skipper towed the small vessel towards Sidney and attracted the attention of another small boat. Later they arrived at Swartz Bay, cold, hungry and desperate.

It had been a 27-hour ordeal and they hadn't even brought home a fish to mark the trip.

Trouble proved to be moisture. The motor was wet.

dents how to look after a hotel room. Students made the bed and clean the bath, he stated.

"It makes your hair curl," he suggested.

Additional provision for the industrial education room were approved. They will provide a covered area and a dust extractor among other items.

LITERARY GRANT

BUDGET IS PARED

Gulf Islands schools budget was discussed in open board meeting on Wednesday evening last week while a number of islanders sat in to hear the debate.

Budget had already been tentatively prepared and the meeting merely gave approval or called for change of specific items in the lists.

First to go was $500 for landscaping at the courtyard of the high school at Ganges. The ground is completely natural and it would be undesirable to add or to remove anything from it, trustees agreed.

When an allocation of $750 was listed towards the services of psychiatrists, psychologist and psychometrist, R.M. Patterson enquired whether this was not an expense more properly to be met by the parents.

The superintendent, R.S. Price agreed. There are occasions when "you have to move pretty fast," he noted. Sometimes the parents can't afford it because a patient cannot be referred to such specialists, he explained.

Is an overhead projector necessary in the smaller outer island schools?

The budget listed one for each. It still does.

The use of an overhead projector would probably work nearly as well as a direct lesson from the teacher, suggested J.M. Campbell.

He pointed out that an overhead projector enables the teacher to project pictures and other material on to the wall behind him in order that he may face the class while teaching. In a full-sized classroom it is a valuable aid to teaching, agreed Mr. Campbell. In a classroom with 13 students, ranging from grade one to grade eight, its value is open to some question, pursued the speaker, because the method of teaching in such cases is to move from one group of two or three to another of the same size. The overhead projector would only be of value when the whole room is studying the same subject, he asserted.

Mr. Campbell proposed a resolution reducing the number of overhead projectors to one. He gained no seconder. C.W. Hatch then moved that no projectors be purchased at all. The motion was defeated.

There was a suggestion that an old projector is in storage at Mayne Island school but no one knew for sure.

Automatic washer and drier for the home economics room was quickly scotched. Saturna's Jim Campbell jumped on the item. An expenditure of $600 to teach children to press buttons is out of reason, he argued.

Mr. Campbell, who has toured the North American continent on several occasions to speak on education administration, reported that at Terrace the high school is provided with a $10,000 motel room in order to teach stu-

DEATH CLAIMS EDGAR MONK IN NEW WESTMINSTER

Death claimed a former Salt Spring Island resident of New Westminster last week.

He was Edgar Joseph Monk, who passed away in Royal Columbian Hospital on November 5. He was 80 years of age.

Mr. Monk at one time lived on Monk Island before coming to Ganges. He served with the armed forces in the First World War and was with the reserve forces in World War Two.

Mr. Monk had been in poor health for a number of years.

He leaves his wife, Fern, New Westminster and a daughter, Lillian, of Vancouver, as well as brothers and sisters in England and one sister in California.

Interment was in the family plot in New Westminster.

DOGS AND CARS

Dog was killed on Beddis Road on November 10, when it was struck by a passing car.

Letter to DRIFTWOOD from Mrs. Dorothy Elliott, of Vancouver, this week asserts that the driver of the car was aware of having hit the animal and drove on, accelerating hard.

The car was a light-colored American compact, she states.

Mrs. Elliott expressed her disgust with the driver who leaves a stricken animal on the road. It was the owner's second animal to be killed in like circumstances in two months.

There are a number of drivers DRIFTWOOD was told this week who practice the habit of driving down a dog or cat to leave it to die.

PINOCCHIO AT SCHOOL NEXT WEEK

Live theatre is coming to Salt Spring Island.

On Wednesday, Nov. 26, Bastion Theatre will give a performance of 200 Years of Musical Satire. The presentation will be in Gulf Islands Secondary School at Ganges.

The musical theatre, according to the school magazine, Salt Shaker, has long provided satire in a popular form. Notable among the satirical musical comedies of the 300 years is the Beggar's Opera, the reader is told.

Wednesday's program will include scenes from the Beggar's Opera, written in 1728.

The program will cover a wide range of such works and it will offer them to both students and adults. The program will be open to adults, who will pay a little more than the students are required to pay for admission.

The touring Bastion Theatre from Victoria, B.C. will present a performance of Marge Adelberg's musical "Pinocchio" next Wednesday morning at 11:00 am for the Salt Spring Elementary School. The performance will last one hour and will give the pupils an opportunity to see a live theatre performance of a time-honored fairy tale.

The company is putting on the play for the elementary children prior to a two o'clock show for secondary school pupils.

ROTARIANS SPONSOR PURCHASE OF HEART MONITORING DEVICE FOR LADY MINTO

Salt Spring Island Rotary Club has sponsored the acquisition of a heart monitoring device for the Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital. The machine records the heart action of the patient and sounds an alarm if the patient undergoes a variation in the heart beat which calls for emergency action.

The heart monitor beats in harmony with the heart. It also records the action of the heart whenever an emergency arises.

The choice of equipment will probably be made this week according to Hospital Administrator Harold Hoffman. A number of machines will be at the hospital for demonstration purposes this week.

The hospital officials have discussed the need for a heart monitoring unit for many months. Essentially for cases of coronary attack, the monitor provides a greater degree of care for the stricken.

"If we admit patients suffering from coronary attacks we should choose. With local news you're on your toes, in your pastoral, pensive, prose. "A rose is a rose is a rose"? No overtones of Gertrude Stein, but breezy as an East Point pine, with flavor of a good port wine.

Frequent and friendly fun you poke, with jestful jaspery and joke, at all your fine Saturna folk! You can mix wisdom, wit and corn, as if to the McMahonner born. One recognizes savoir-faire, lurking behind the nom de guerre. No gloom nor doom; your wit may zoom, high flying, with a nom de plume.

Our copy, us guys, have to sift good, before sending it to DRIFTWOOD. One can hope there'll be no schism, due to a McMahonnerism, that elates some; some underrate; causing the nerve-ends to vibrate, of the irate sophisticate; but pleases the alliterate!

Qua kind Kate and nicest Nellie, - no need there, for Keats or Shelley. Just to report their comment sage, would brighten any printed page.

For C.C., you waved the banner, in your generous McMahonner - but too much kindness might unMAN her!

Before this rhyme gets more unruly, I am, your truly, Cultus Coulee.

be equipped to offer the best possible care," explained the administrator.

The service club is staging a stag party for the Grey Cup game as its first campaign to raise funds for the machine.

To the uninitiated, the heart monitor is a familiar sight in television scenes of operating rooms. The viewer's attention is regularly drawn to the dial with its pulsating light and faint beep in harmony with the heart beat.

When the patient is connected up with the machine it calls for help at any sharp irregularity of the heart and automatically records the pulse pattern at such times.

DIVISION SIX

Salt Spring Lions, 1 - Greenhaven, 0.

The Lions had most of the play but were unable to score until near the end of the game. A strong wind made ball control difficult and an excellent performance by the Greenhaven goal keeper kept the Salt Spring boys scoreless until Sidney Jones shot the ball home through a crowd of players.

DIVISION EIGHT

Salt Spring Islanders 0, Powells, 2.

This game produced lots of action as the cool weather kept the boys moving. The Islanders defence came through with a very good effort with no one player more outstanding than another. The Duncan visitors got their first goal from close range after a period of constant pressure early in the game, and their second counter came from a penalty kick.
