PLANNING COMMITTEE

No Chairman Named Yet

—AWAIT TERMS OF REFERENCE

No chairman was named on Monday evening at a special directors' meeting of the Salt Spring Island Advisory Planning Committee.

The committee asked the Advisory Planning Commission to bring in a tentative terms of reference for the committee. Members felt that a clearly defined function was essential in future. As the committee will work in close collaboration with the commission, the meeting agreed that the commission would be well able to prepare a plan of action.

Robert Holloman served as chairman.

Former chairman of the planning committee, Henry Schubart resigned at the last meeting.

No member would accept the chair. Nominated were A. E. Pike, A. W. Wolfe-Milner and Gilbert Kennedy. All declined. Mr. Holloman was asked to serve and replied that he would be too restricted as chairman. The chairman "is somewhat handicapped", he suggested, particularly in face of a dispute.

The meeting agreed to await the report from the Advisory Planning Commission before seeking a chairman. Mr. Holloman undertook to take the chair again at the next meeting.

The committee has no legal standing and was formed last year at a public meeting in Ganges at the call of the chamber of commerce. It was then established to investigate the public needs and wishes in terms of planning.

Subsequently the Capital Regional District looked to the island. (Turn to Page Four)

MOTION REFUSED MONDAY

—COMMITTEE STAYS

Salt Spring Island Advisory Planning Committee is here to stay.

On Monday evening Gordon Matthews offered a resolution that the committee be disbanded. The chairman, Robert Holloman, refused to accept it.

"I cannot present your motion," stated the chairman, "Sole purpose of this meeting was to elect a chairman."

Secretary Mrs. A. M. Brown reported that she had sent out letters, earlier, to islanders inviting donations to the planning committee. She had already received more than $300.

"Many of those replies have expressed a very warm regard for this committee and its work in the community," she added.

Norman McConnell and Gilbert Kennedy agreed that they would not want the committee eliminated.

"The committee won't die easy," warned Mr. McConnell. "I am not here to preside over the death of this committee," stated the chairman, flatly.

The committee remains.

SHEEP TRIALS WET

WEATHER CLAMPS DOWN

Sheep dog trials at Fulford on Saturday drew a small crowd as weather exerted a dampening influence on the day's program.

Field Day called by the Salt Spring Island Sheepbreeders' Association was the first for several years to be washed out.

Morning program of aid to farmers was not pursued and the

TO SHOOT ON SUNDAY FOR TWO PARKS

A benefit shoot will be held next Sunday, August 2 at Salt Spring Island Rod and Gun Club house.

Trap, rifle and pistol program will start at 10 a.m.

Proceeds will go to Fulford Park and centennial park facilities.

lamb sale, which was a new feature this year, drew poor bidding from a small group of visitors.

Only four or five lambs were sold, although prices ranged around $25.

The dog trials were staged in the afternoon, with five contestants.

Trials for the trained sheep dogs were once a major attraction among the islands and other sheep-raising centres. On Salt Spring Island in recent years the most active dog trainer was the late Bill Evans.

An island sheep farmer explained on Saturday that the younger farmers use different methods of controlling sheep and that the call for sheep dogs is falling off. As a result, he explained, most sheep dogs are trained and handled by older men. There will be none to take their place in the future, he forecast, gloomily.

National Building Code does not require extra high standards, Building Inspector Emil Lachmuth told DRIFTWOOD on Tuesday. The code calls for a minimum safe, sound pattern of building, he said.

The inspector was emphasizing the benefits of controls and inspection.

"Building on the islands will always come up to those basic standards," said Mr. Lachmuth.

INSPECTORS EXPLAIN

Building Permits Now

All building on the Gulf Islands must in future conform to the standards of the National Building Code. Property owners planning to build will be required to take out a building permit,

New islands building inspectors, Charles Harris and Emil Lachmuth.

FOR THIRD YEAR

DELTA BAND COMING

Band is coming back. On Sunday, Aug. 16, the Delta Community Band will sail from Tsawwassen aboard the Sechelt Queen to spend the afternoon at Ganges.

Band members will enjoy a picnic in the Centennial Park and play for a concert during the afternoon.

The Delta Band is one of the topmost community bands in the province. It has visited Salt Spring Island for the past two years during the summer.

A former member of the band Don Luke, of Ganges will work with Salt Spring Island Lions Club in presenting the concert.

TOILETS GO AHEAD AT GANGES

Toilets in Centennial Park at Ganges are under way this week.

President of Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce, Gavin Reynolds told the directors' meeting last week that he had already received a grant from the provincial department of recreation and conservation.

Work was recommenced last week and facilities will soon be ready for use, according to Mr. Reynolds.

SALMON DERBY

Fulford Salmon Derby Committee has announced the date of the salmon derby. The annual fishing event at the south end of Salt Spring Island will take place on Sunday, Aug. 15.

No Boats On Lakes Please

ISLANDERS' CALL

Elimination of power boats from Salt Spring Island lakes is being sought by two island organizations. All lakes, with the exception of St. Mary Lake, will be included.

Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce and the Salt Spring Island Rod and Gun Club are both pressing for the prohibition.

Plea has been made to Dr. J. Hatter, of the Canadian Federation and will be passed on to Ottawa for governmental approval.

Request arises from recent incidents on Cusheon Lake when a power boat has been used to chase and kill mallards nesting on the shoreline.

Most lakes on the island are too small for power boats, protest islanders and, in addition, many are sources of domestic water.

Chamber of Commerce has also asked that any wildfowl or game preserve established anywhere remain as such until the majority of the public ask for a change. Cancellation of a reserve should not be made without a properly advertised intention, said the chamber's letter.

SWIFT, SUDDEN AND SO VERY BRIEF A STOP

Closure of island parks was sudden, swift and so very brief.

Within hours of the provincial government's announcement of the closing of Mount Maxwell Park and a number of others, there was a downpour of rain and the dangerous fire conditions were corrected.

Building inspectors have been named to the islands and a regular office procedure has been adopted.

No construction may be undertaken in future without the necessary permits.

Every property owner seeking to build, or to alter a home must take out a permit and every aspect of his work must conform to the standards of the National Building Code. The building inspectors of the Capital Regional District will then inspect each major phase of the project.

Inspection service is instituted to maintain a minimum standard of construction on the islands.

National code calls for the use of lumber of dimensions adequate to carry the load to which it will be subjected.

The dimensions of floor joists, studs, ceiling joists and rafters are all specified according to the load or the span.

Property owner planning to build must in future gain a permit from the department of highways for access to his property.

The department, DRIFTWOOD was told last week, will direct where his driveway must be located. He must then present his access permit to the Capital Regional District in order to be issued with a building permit. A separate permit is required for plumbing. As in the past, the owner must, first of all, have a percolation test. A further permit is required for the electrical work.

Building inspectors will later also require that new structures conform to the requirements of any zoning by-law which may set out the limits of distance between buildings or between buildings and lot lines.

In addition to the various initial permits and provisions, the property owner must provide duplicate plans of the intended structure with details of construction and including a plan of the new building in relation to the lot plan.

Two offices will be available to islanders seeking building permits.

Application forms are available from the Provincial Assessor's office at the Court House in Ganges during office hours.

The forms are also available from the building inspectors' office at Goldstream, about 10 miles north of Victoria near the Trans-Canada Highway.

Information is available at all times from the Goldstream office and from Ganges two days each week. On Tuesdays and Wednesdays a building inspector will be in Room 210 at the Court House from 11 am until 2 pm.

The inspector will also be in Harbour House Hotel on Tuesday evenings and can be reached there by property owners, or contractors, with building problems.

FULFORD

BY BEA HAMILTON

Along the roadside in front of Dromore the poppies grow with a mixture of various other garden flowers, all planted carefully by brother Claude Hamilton who likes to give passing friends and strangers the pleasure of seeing the colorful flowers clustering here, sprawling there and all scattered until they pop up in the most unexpected places. It is a good kind of garden; the poppies will re-seed themselves and all being well, with no poison sprays (are you listening, ye who spray?) these flowers should give pleasure for many a year. Certainly they have been very lovely this summer and many a delighted child has gathered a nosegay from Claude's Garden. Claude gets a little anxious when he sees someone pulling up whole plants but he is pleased to see a handful of poppies delighting some child or mother. Unfortunately, the poppy is not the best flower to cut - they drop so quickly which is a pity. Think how pretty our highways could be in everyone scattered flower seeds along the way. Well, why not? What a blooming idea!

Wonder what we would do if we didn't have the B. C. Tel service to grumble about? Ho hum, wouldn't life be dull? What gets me is the blatant roar that amounts almost to a shout when the line you dial onto is busy. It is most effective in getting me off the line at least so does do some good. I can take the hum but the busy signal, wow! that's something different.

FERNWOOD

BY JESSIE SAYER
Miss Sheryl Kennett, of Whitewood, Sask., has arrived to spend a month's holiday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Max McCowan have returned from a very enjoyable three-week trip by plane to Edmonton and way points.

George DeLong went by air to Thunder Bay, Ont., where he visited friends and relations.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barker and family spent several days at the W. Blackstock's cottage, followed by Mr. and Mrs. Blackstock and family.

Alan Waterfall and wife, Helena of Vancouver and friends, Fred and Diane Sekora of North Vancouver visited the Frank Waterfalls at the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jefferson of Victoria with children Donna and David were at their cottage on North Beach Road.

A large white rabbit is loose around Fernwood. Is it yours?

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Howell of North Beach Road were Mrs. Kenneth Alendal of Chilliwack with Jimmie and Kelly, and also her sister Mrs. Tom Light of Williams Lake with Greg and Deana.

Mrs. Bob Graham with children Mark and Dawn and Mrs. Grace Henry and Michelle, all of Surrey were guests of the Sayers. Master Bob Sayer is on an extended holiday.

WATSON'S BRIEF IN PLANNING NEEDS HERE

Residents and organizations were invited to present briefs to the Salt Spring Island Advisory Planning Committee several weeks ago. Among those offered was a summary from Ernest Watson, long an advocate of community planning for the island.

Mr. Watson's views are published verbatim.

In presenting my views on planning for our island and home, I must admit that I have strong feelings. Planning must be more than the mechanics of who can build and where they can build.

To me, a community must have room to live in, love in, earn in, learn in, play in and sleep in.

I look at Salt Spring Island and I see all this available to us at this time.

One of the advantages of the development to this date is that the rich and poor live side by side and actually talk to each other, in their own way even respect each other. There are few places in the world today where this is commonplace.

Planners must take care not to destroy this, our most precious commodity, the friendship of association by being an islander, people who still care for each other.

If the price of planning is to rule non-conforming over 50% of the businesses on our island, and eventually to destroy them; realizing that they are all small-owner-operated businesses; that men, women and children are our own Salt Spring Island family, then I believe the price of planning is too high.

If, with your knowledge and wisdom, you can develop a community with the heart and soul our island has today and show the world that people can live together in peace and harmony and with tolerance and respect then our island will be a better place.

Garden Club

BY YELLOW THUMB

The Garden Club thoroughly enjoyed a picnic supper at the home of Club President, Capt. and Mrs. Walter Luth last Monday, July 20.

This was a gala affair. The host greeted us on horseback; and after dismounting, showed us around his heavily wooded grounds, through which many trails have been cut.

We wound up at the paddock, where we were enchanted with the beauty of a tiny colt and its mother. We then returned to the pool at the foot of the garden.

The water was clean and clear reflecting perfectly the gay variety of colors of the guests' clothing. Supper was then served, food was delicious, and the plates just weren't big enough to sample the many varieties of food spread out on the table. It was evident that our Garden Club has many good cooks, as well as good gardeners.

We ate on the large porch, overlooking the garden and the pool. The affair was well attended, there being some 75 or 80 members, their friends and guests. After supper, Capt. Luth entertained us with his excellent organ playing.

We enjoyed the delightful informality of the occasion, the fun of seeing so many friends and acquaintances, and best of all, the wonderful hospitality of our hosts. Thank you, Capt. and Mrs. Luth, for a most enjoyable get-together.

SHE LAMENTS THE CHANGE

BY CULTUS COULEE

A front page editorial in the Gulf Islander of March 25, 1960, asked IS THIS PROGRESS? Editor was Ed Ketcham who wrote, "Many of us on the Gulf Islands chose our homes here to get away from the hurly-burly and congestion of the mainland cities and communities into the peaceful tempo offered by these islands. But we wanted even more than that; we wanted, too, the beauty of Nature, - the beauty of flowers, the exotic greens of the scrubby, swaying trees and the ever-changing sea... Have we the moral right to destroy beauty and living necessities under the banner of 'Progress'? We welcome new families to our islands; we still have plenty of room and the influx of new faces and ideas enhance our island society. But shouldn't we offer them the same beauty of surroundings that mean so much to us? We are busily subdividing to make room for these new neighbors but do we have to destroy and mutilate our natural beauty in so doing? If we have a lovely tree have we the moral right to sacrifice it to some promotion scheme - for 'only God can make a tree.' Wouldn't it be more attractive to let the prospective buyer do his own landscaping?... And why log off trees along-side our lovely shaded highways and trails to offend the eyes of our residents, guests or tourists alike? And are we overcutting our timber to the extent that we are imperiling our water supply... The denuded hillside should have no place in 'our island way of life'. Let us cherish our natural heritage and perpetuate our sylvan loveliness for coming generations. Let us not make a mockery of 'PROGRESS'."

In the Seattle Times, March 16, 1970, on his page of PRATT-LINGS, cartoonist Alan Pratt has BIRDS TO WATCH. "There are plenty of birds around here to keep Audobon folks and other bird-watchers well-occupied. Recently some odd new species have appeared, having characteristics which bode no good for our environment, and bear watching very closely... THE SHORT SIGHTED ROADRUNNER (OR HAIRY-CHESTED BULLDOZER). MASCOT OF HIGHWAY ENGINEERS, THIS BIRD CUTS THROUGH PARKS, WILDLIFE HABITAT, AND DISRUPTS WHOLE COMMUNITIES WITH ITS RAUCOUS CRY, 'PROGRESS'".

New Islands Business

There's something about a gravel pit that attracts taxi drivers.

On Monday morning there were two men working at Reynolds Construction gravel pit. They were the operator Chester Reynolds and his cohort, Jack Smith.

Both men operated taxi services in Ganges at one time.

The newest venture is far removed from taxi service. Gravel is washed and screened at the plant to be stored in bunkers according to grade. While Jack Smith kept the gravel flowing into the receiving bunker, Ches Reynolds was watching the delivery end.

Gravel is fed into a revolving drum and sprayed with water. The sand comes out first, with progressively larger sizes being rejected by the screens further along. It is a standard form of gravel unit. Only distinctive feature is that it has been assembled and set up almost entirely by Chester Reynolds.

Plant is situated in the Burgoyne Valley, a mile or so off Fulford-Ganges Road.

Nothing is wasted. The water from the plant is run on a gentle downgrade, where it deposits the remaining fine sand before seeping back into the gravelly soil.

VICTORIA SCHOOL OF MUSIC....

Will present a concert at Gulf Islands School in Ganges on FRIDAY, AUGUST 31st.

SORRY! BUT YOU FRIGHTEN US!

Day after day, week in, week out, the small boats come. Brightly painted, brightly lighted, some in sail and most under power, they visit the islands all through the summer.

Many are Canadian vessels, but boats and boating are popular in the United States, too. They come to Ganges for supplies and to look the place over, but most of all, they come to replenish their cellars. The boat ties up and the crew head out to the Government Liquor Store. And off they go again!

Most of the sailors aboard these vacation vessels are good-natured, breezy and warm. Some few are impatient and surly, but they are the exception.

We welcome them, by and large, the cruisers and the yachts and the coastal craft add a touch of color to the summer.

We have but one criticism to offer.

Courteous ashore, and patient with islanders, some sailors change their colors the moment they set out to sea. Then they become the masters of their ships and captains of their souls and every soul aboard.

Many, many sea-going landlubbers have omitted to learn the rudimentary rules of the sea. When they fish in the Pass, they ignore moving traffic. When they run full bore through the Gulf, they forget that there are other boats afloat. When they approach, many an island boatman's heart drops.

There are ever more mariners sailing the island seas. Let us hope they read their manuals with increasing care and attention. Then we can all live longer!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

HAZARDOUS JOURNEY

Editor, Driftwood,
My home is situated about 3/4 mile from the Centennial Park, on Lower Ganges Road and it is delightful to take a morning walk, when the weather is right.

The lovely paved road, (but as I have no car) I am compelled to walk on from 3 to 6 ft. wide gravel, to get there in one piece.

The Pioneer Village, with its 24 elderly citizens, also many more unfortunates, risk their lives daily on this walk downtown.

Today, July 24, I passed two old gentlemen on the road (on the wrong side) walking down; myself I had to step in front of cars at one point, near Church Road, where the gravel is so narrow, or plunge down into the deep.

Next year is a Centennial. How about a paved sidewalk from Ganges to the hospital, for a project; it's impossible to keep off the road, because there is no other place to walk.

If I offend, I am very sorry, but it's about time we prevented "An accident looking for a place to happen". What can I do next?

Let's try to keep the elderly with us a little longer.

LOOKING AT PLANNING

Editor, Driftwood,
May 1, through your columns, make some observations and ask some important questions about planning.

May 7 write up in Driftwood: a notice that Mr. Jack Russell was nominated or elected by Chamber of Commerce to planning committee for liaison.

Where did that liaison end and why, because we certainly did not receive any notice of actions. What is the reason Mr. A. Wolfe-Milner resigned as chairman of committee? Who elected Mr. Schubart as temporary chairman?

As far as the interim zoning by-law idea, the committee decided at that time and passed a resolution in favor. Was not the public to be informed and given a chance to approve or disapprove of any real decisions made?

April 2nd issue of Driftwood (our local paper). No changes may be made in the zoning of properties until they have been investigated by the Island Commission. Its findings will then go to the Regional District which will in normal circumstances be guided by the commission's recommendations.

Marriage will take place on Sunday, Aug. 22 of Charmayne Rolph, daughter of Mrs. Hilda Rolph, Nanaimo and Douglas Rolph, Vancouver and David B. Conover, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Conover, Wallace Island. Ceremony will be in Hope Lutheran Church and Rev. Mr. Carlson will officiate.

A public hearing is required before any such application can be approved or denied. By this means Islanders are able to make public their views on any proposed change.

Why were we not given that chance?

Why are we not given a chance to ask questions and receive answers. We all realize that a lack of communication was responsible for the contentious happenings, so why are we still denied this communication?

I understand that quite a number of members on this committee were not notified before the meeting of Monday, June 15, held at the school board office, at which time the committee voted on the proposed by-law and the map present at that meeting which only included a minimum amount of businesses operating at that time. I would like to know why this was done and on whose recommendation. These questions are not asked with malicious intention, but only for answers to our questions and we have a right to know and then we should be able to understand what has happened. It is with regret that I have to address this committee at this time to get answers to these pertinent questions, unless I receive answers I do not feel totally satisfied that we are being represented fairly on issues which concern all of us.

Mr. Pike, I believe, has brought forward No. 4 objective of Planning on the Island and also No. 7. Have you at this time, Sir, received clarification of these two objectives?

Who prepared them and their meaning, if you know?

No. 4 - Objective: To maximize recreational opportunities for residents of the Georgia Basin? What has the Georgia basin to do with people and places on the Island?

Objective - To establish a method of integrating the management of the Canadian Gulf Islands with that of the United States San Juan Islands. What has the American San Juan Islands to do with us? Certainly they are our neighbors but we do not tell them what to do and certainly they do not intend to tell us what to do!

Why is not the public allowed to get answers to questions we are asking? Or has anyone got answers we are told by Victoria that the work and decisions are made upon the recommendations of our committee and yet here we are told that their recommendations do not amount to anything, that Victoria does what they please?

Where can the actual truth lie? Who are we to believe sincerely, if it is Victoria's doing, then we must tell Victoria, they are wrong and that this is not what we want.

It is as simple as that, and if need be get the help we are paying for and it is available through the deputy minister of municipal affairs, Mr. Baird. I'm certain that he would be too willing to give us any help we need.

If we were to write and ask any questions pertinent to Capital District or Regional District or planning committee he would see that we receive the answers necessary to clarify where their duties start and end and what major role we, the voice of the islands, have in deciding what is best for us.

I understand Driftwood will have copies on sale of the Gulf Islands Study in the near future.

It is not my wish to criticize any particular persons on the committee but in all fairness and the answers to our questions would help reaffirm contact with members serving on this committee. After all we all learn something by our mistakes! I would like to see (as I'm certain the rest of us are also) unity in this work, but most of all Christianity in making serious decisions regarding any issues discussed or presented for completion. It is no more than all our brother's deserve.

Thank you,
Y. Valcourt,
Ganges,
July 28, 1970.

PLANNING

ands and introduced a formal planning program. The advisory committee was retained to work with the Regional District, Community arm of the regional district is the Salt Spring Island Advisory Planning Commission.

Its four members are a legally constituted function of planning and no planning change can be contemplated on the island without that commission's report.

The commission is a legal entity. The committee is a volunteer group.

Committee, under Mr. Wolfe-Milner, produced the questionnaire which was circulated among islanders to ascertain popular preferences. Mr. Schubart was the spark behind the questionnaire.

When planning was formally assumed by the regional district, in April, the Advisory Planning Commission was formed of two members of the local committee, Mrs. G.M. Baker and Mr. Wolfe-Milner, with Denis Seward and Director Marc Holmes. Mr. Schubart took over the chairmanship of the committee in May.

Community was in violent dispute for several weeks over the plan of the regional district to zone commercial only the downtown areas of Ganges and Fulford, with a small area at Vesuvius.

Since the resignation of the chairman, the committee has been dormant.

Dr. S. Wood summed up the feeling of many committee members.

"We should stand as a group ready to help members of the Advisory Planning Commission," he urged, "This would eliminate the need for a chairman. No matter what we do, someone will be stepped on... someone will be hurt. Every member of the group is putting himself in the position of being ridiculed until he is forced to retire just as Mr. Schubart did. If we work under the commission, then any criticism should be directed to the regional district."

John Stepaniuk wondered where "this delinquent child" had gone wrong. The child was the committee. Mr. Wolfe-Milner suggested that there had been a lack of communication and a lack of awareness on the part of the public of the aims of the planners.

Bob McWhirter recalled that there are five sub-committees, all active and none yet heard. He reminded members that at recent meetings committee reports were never heard. If each sub-committee were given one evening to present its report, there would be five monthly meetings taken up with those reports and nothing else, he reminded his colleagues.

Meeting closed with a warm expression of appreciation to Mr. Schubart for his contribution to planning on Salt Spring Island.

that because of the increased enrolment anticipated this year the Board has found it necessary to rent two portable classrooms? These are to be placed at the Kanaka Road end of the Elementary School, and will be the circular shaped type. The referendum which had been prepared for presentation was not approved by the Department of Education last fall because of the tight money situation, making the use of portable rooms the only alternative.

DID YOU KNOW...

that the basis on which portable classrooms are used is that they are rented on usually a two year basis, with the understanding that they can be removed by the company which rents them to Boards, or they can be purchased for approximately 10% of the purchase price at the end of the rental term.

THE MOTTO

(Think Noble Thoughts)

My life was changed by quirk of fate,
When someone wrote across a slate
A motto terse, but very wise,
And hung it there before my eyes.
No longer do I moan my lot -
For now I THINK A NOBLE THOUGHT.

I'd dip the dishes in the suds,
Or peel a pan of dirty spuds,
While in my mind I'd mutely ask
Why I was burdened with each task,
But what a change this motto wrought -
For now I THINK A NOBLE THOUGHT.

I need no tranquillizer pills
To cure me of my aches and ills.
Serene, I race through dishes now
No bitter thoughts to mar my brow,
No longer are my nerves so taut -
For now I THINK A NOBLE THOUGHT.
- Grace A. Wright.

MIKE'S MAIDENS ARE TOPS AFTER FOUR SOFTBALL GAMES

BY PITCHER

Mike's Maidens have scored their fourth consecutive victory of the season, defeating Wayne's Go-Getters 21-17.

The Go Getters took the early lead in the game by a score of 15-12. In the fourth inning Mike's Maidens scored nine big runs and moved out in front 21-16. In their final at bat the Go Getters could manage only one run and Mike's Maidens continued the winning streak and took a firm grip on first place.

Louise Donaghy and Lyn Carlson were the leading hitters for the victorious Maidens while Janelle Rozzano, Laura Rozzano and Linda Reynolds were the leading hitters for the Go Getters. Hitting home runs were Lyn Carlson of the Maidens and Linda Reynolds of the Go Getters.

Monday's game between Wayne's Go Getters and Don's Dreamers was called on account of wet field conditions. Tonight action resumes with Mike's Maidens taking on Don's Dreamers. On Monday next Wayne's Go Getters tangle with Mike's Maidens in what should be an entertaining game. All games start at 7 p.m. sharp.

W. N. McDermott; also visiting last week end were her two daughters, Mrs. W. Marks, Port Alberni and Mrs. R.M. Kirkham of Vancouver.

FIREMEN CLEAN INSIDE OF NEW SALT SPRING ISLAND MUSEUM BUILDING AS CONTRIBUTION

BY ANTIQUE

We would like to thank Fire Chief Dave Smith and his new recruits who turned out and washed down the inside of the building to be used as our museum. It brought back memories to David Beech. This saved hours of work. The Leo Club sent out work parties also.

Thanks to Mr. Toynbee of Mouat's Trading Co. for donations of numerous items, such as show cases, glass and paint.

We would like it known that this is not a private museum, but will be made a public organization when it is operating properly. (This is to ensure that it won't be just abandoned like the last museum Salt Spring Island never got). Any items may be either loaned or donated.

For any information about our hopes and expectations phone Dave Winter at 537-5146 or Ed Williams at 537-2273.

Automation has not really done away with red tape. It's merely faded and perforated it.

HE WANTS HIS BOTTLE BACK

Waving a glass bottle in front of a dairy farmer is like waving a red flag at a bull. Particularly when the dairy farmer is Roger Hughes of Burgoyne Dairy. Roger is short of bottles.

Time was when milk came in glass bottles all the time. Glass has given place to card and the treated carton is standard practice.

Except for some. The Hughes operation is one of about half a dozen in British Columbia to retail milk direct to the customer. And he sells it in bottles. And he's short of bottles.

When every glass of milk came in a bottle it was duck soup to get hold of bottles, recalls the island farmer. But when less and less dairies used bottles the makers gradually went out of the business. Dominion Glass, once the main source of bottles, no longer makes any.

Roger has a collection of dairy cows all devoted to filling bottles. They were brought up to fill milk bottles and cartons are out of the question. Besides, cartons need special machinery. The machine that feeds milk into bottles won't fill cartons.

And that's the crux of the matter. The Fulford farmer wants bottles and he wants them badly. He has urged islanders to look into the cupboards and cellars and closets where they might have left empty milk bottles.

Sale of milk direct to islanders will last as long as the bottles last. When there are no bottles, there will be no milk. Burgoyne Dairy customers will keep a firm upper lip and hunt for bottles. Bring back your bottles and Roger Hughes' cows will keep them filled.

to be frank

By Richards

Tourists have been less numerous this year than in the past. Some places are busy, anyway. Like one day last week, the Ship's Anchor was so busy even Bob Marshall was working.

Windsor Utley has a small leg. For weeks he was walking around in a cast and making the best of a bad job. Now he has lost the cast and is back to almost normal he is finding difficulty in getting used to a normal leg.

Haven't seen Charlie Harris in years. Last week he turned up in Ganges as one of the building inspectors for the area. I knew him in Central Saanich as a successful plumbing and heating man when I was an unsuccessful newspaperman. He was always getting into something, even then. First time I met him he was taking part in the affairs of the water district there. Then he was a big noise in the chamber of commerce, and the agricultural society and the Rotary Club... and so it goes on. Inspectors are like auditors, you have to have them. But it's always better when the inspector or auditor turns up with a long record of working for the community and you can figure he plans on following the same pattern.

Marshall Sharp is ashore. After sailing up to the northern end of Vancouver Island, he and Nora came back. Marshall explained that the weather was misty and the mornings were moist and that the lure of the more southern areas drew him back. He sailed into the less known communities of the islands and thoroughly enjoyed the experience. I'm quite sure he would be prepared to sail the Styx in the hereafter as long as he could take his own boat. Marshall reports having met the Hiders, formerly of Salt Spring Island who, themselves sailed away in a Cal 25 and have readily adapted to the life afloat.

Ken Butterfield reported a strange sight on Friday. He and Mrs. Butterfield were standing behind the Bank of Montreal. He observed a heron landing near the roof of the building when there was a report and feathers came flying. The bird had apparently landed on the power lines serving the bank. Its wings shorted the wires and it was electrocuted. The sudden death of a large bird drew a crowd of sightseers from among the tourists.

Walter Mailey has improved with hospitalization. He walked into hospital and limped out. Back home and starting where he left off, Walter has been undergoing repairs to his knee, injured during the Second World War.

June Knowles went to the sunburned campus of Notre Dame at Nelson to learn all about batik. She may not have learned all about it, but she learned enough. She's probably learned enough about it to take up knitting, instead.

Alec Wears came to Ganges to meet Marshall Sharp. En route to the island he lost the patch he normally wears over one eye. "I'm looking for a miracle," he told the young lady at Ganges Pharmacy. The miracle came only in flesh color which he abhors. In no time at all the patch was darkened and in place. He found his miracle.

Toronto reader of DRIFTWOOD came into the office briefly. She was only here for a week this year, explained Mrs. C. S. Hawley. She is always eager to get DRIFTWOOD, she said, and gives it precedence over the Toronto Star. Funny! So do we!

Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Prior, on Beddis Road, have a problem. Many travellers and island residents set out for the Beddis Beach during the summer. Large proportion either never get there or will not believe they are on the right road. Of the drop-outs from swimming, some end up at the foot of Douglas Road, eagerly, and vainly, looking for the beach. All it needs is a sign at Beddis and Douglas showing the distance and direction to Beddis Beach, says Mr. Prior. It would save his breath telling them.

It may not be the biggest and it may not be the newest and it may not be the oldest, but Ganges Post Office may be the only post office in Canada with carpet on the steps out to the street.

Prairie farmers are beefing about lack of trains and rolling stock to carry the wheat crop. If they were to pile up the wheat and then give the mountain to an American Corporation for selling to Japan, odds are they'd

Night School Program

Change has been made in night school administration for the Gulf Islands.

Supervisor for the coming year will be Mrs. Olive Layard. Her appointment was announced recently by the board of trustees of Gulf Islands School District.

Mrs. Layard succeeds Mrs. A. M. Brown, who retired from the responsibilities last year.

Wife of Don Layard, the new supervisor has presented a number of innovations in the program. Biggest change is the presentation of a number of week-end workshops. These will run through Saturday and Sunday for maximum information in the shortest possible time.

Already established for this coming night school year is a week-end workshop on Tree Fruit Care and Pruning in Spring. A similar course in pesticides is planned and a third is so far under discussion but may not be put into operation. It is a course on the use of fibreglass.

Mrs. Layard is the wife of Don Layard, a member of the crew of Sechelt Queen.

ZONE TONE

A goose that's cooked and never eaten
Ain't no use for propagatin'
But, alive, with 'propaganda'
Golden eggs she'll give to squanda.
Act with wits alive and active
Avoid issues mere distractive.
Zoning wrongly means frustra-tion
For the future generation.
Take your time and do it rightly

FALL FAIR AT MAYNE

BY ELSIE BROWN

Preparations are underway for Mayne Island Annual Fall Fair and committees are busy with their various projects. Date is set for August 15, at 1:30 p.m.

Directors are: livestock, produce, fruits and vegetables, Mr. and Mrs. John Dought and Mrs. Henry Reagh; honey, get all the trains they wanted.

***

Don't know what all the talk is about. I can see mini good reasons for short skirts.

Another brevity, Tempest Brewing, from A. M. Spencer: I wonder what the World would be

If it were left to you and me
When we even disagree
On how to brew a pot of tea?

Ever figure out the work that goes into finding new names for new products? Like gasoline and subdivisions. A fellow opens up a new subdivision. He doesn't call it Charley's Fields or Art's Acres like he was plumbing. He gets names out of the hat. Glorious Meadows or Rolling Range Subdivision. It gives it something. Same with the gasoline companies. Nobody puts a new additive into gasoline without calculating the name for months ahead. You don't buy Zed gasoline with black lead added. Zed gasoline now has X24yop 15. I reckon it's the same firm invents all these names. But they're in trouble now. SPEC and the department of consumers' affairs are finding reasons why the additives should be withdrawn even before they have a name. And subdivisions might slip right back to simply Art's 10 Acres or Harry's Huge Lots, or simply Dan's Dens.

George Payne; floral, Mrs. H. Drummond and Mrs. Fred Paton; domestic science, baking and canning, Mrs. W. Morson and Mrs. A. Brau; domestic science, needlework, embroidery and crochet, Mrs. J. Hayhurst and Mrs. R. Jarvis; crafts, Mrs. Vic Haggart; fine arts, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Mitchell; photography, Mrs. Bill Piggott; school children, Mrs. Jim Ross; midway, ex-air force, convener, Miss Foy Miles; tea'cup readers, Gwen Hayball and Mrs. Roy Betts.

Special events - pet show, mail driving contest and rolling pin throwing for women, hot dog stand, soft drinks, tea and refreshments.

The Fair will be officially opened by George Wainborn, of Vancouver.

Entry forms and books will be available at both stores. For further information readers may call Mrs. Jack Evans, at 539-2392.

The Stu Frys of Coquitlam are over to their summer home at Cherry Tree Bay for their annual holiday. Stu has been lucky on some of his fishing jaunts. With them, from Pitt Meadows is grandson, Ronnie Gray.

Gus Gastafson, Campbell Bay Road is home again after a trip to Sweden, where he visited relatives and friends. He flew view Pacific Western to Oslo, Norway and took the train from there to Delarne.

H. Hudson, Bayview Drive is recovering satisfactorily after treatment at Vancouver General Hospital. Mrs. Hudson has been commuting and son Don makes his regular trips to the island on his days off.

Visiting their summer homes down Bayview Drive have been the Don Forsythes and family, the John Mundies, the Jeffries, the Don Gladmans and the Hugo Schimmelbuschs.

Canon and Mrs. Hunt and family of Williams Lake are spending their holidays at their summer home at Gallagher Bay.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Simcox, Laura Point Road are their daughter and son-in-law, Cpl. and Mrs. Roger Dumas, recently of Lahr, Germany. They are now stationed at the Air Force base at Comox. Prior to their return to Canada the Dumas' motored through France and Spain. After visits to many resort areas they are very pleased with our local beaches. We welcome them back to Canada and Mayne Island in particular.

Visiting the Harvey Drumm - onds, Fernhill Road, have been Meg's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carpenter of San Francisco.

Week end guests of the Jesse Browns, Cherry Tree Bay, were niece and nephew and family, Barbara and Ken Nault with Gregory, Brian and Dougie of Winnipeg, Man. Also visiting were sister-in-law, Mrs. Art Brown and daughter Laurel, of New Westminster. The children were pleased to try out the B. C. ferries, the Big One, the Middle-sized One and the Little One.

Recent flu victims have been Mrs. Evelyn Ducklow, Mayne Inn, Mrs. Jennie Botterill and Wynn Minty.

Roy Betts was over to the mainland for a check up after his recent heart attack and has received a satisfactory report.

CONCERT AT GANGES

Victoria School of Music will present a concert in Ganges on Friday evening. The Victoria group will be here at the invitation of Salt Spring Island Rotary Club.

The school of music has been to Ganges on several occasions in the past.

Director of the summer school is Clayton Hare, of the University of Maine. Distinguished musician and concertmaster, Mr. Hare has directed the summer school of music each summer for many years.

CLAYTON HARE

He will be accompanied by his wife, Dorothy Swetnam, herself a concert pianist.

The concert will feature students at the school from many parts of the western continent.

Concert will commence at 7.30 pm in the gymnasium of the Gulf Islands Secondary School. Proceeds will be devoted by the Rotary Club to local charities.

You are an adolescent when you have developed to the point where you could dress yourself if only you could remember where you dropped your clothes.

ROD AND GUN CLUB

BY DORMIN

Salt Spring Island Rod and Gun Club's Hard Times Dance held July 17 was a roaring success.

Three prizes were given for best costumes; the judges, who were from Vancouver, did not have an easy task. As always those who were there are now talking about next year - hoping to be there.

A very successful shooting weekend with social evening on Saturday evening July 25 was enjoyed at the Rod and Gun Club when they hosted Campbell River, Cumberland, Nanaimo, Cowichan Lake, Victoria Rangers, Victoria Gun Club, and others. Let's hope they, their families, and friends will be back again!

A benefit shoot will be held next Sunday Aug. 2 at the club house. Trap, rifle and pistol shoot will start at 10 a.m. Proceeds are to go to Fulford Park and Centennial Park facilities. This shoot is open to non-members as well as members. Give this very worthwhile endeavour your full support. Refreshments will be available.

Community planner engaged in a planning project is paid in the vicinity of $200 per day, Adrian Wolfe-Milner told a planning committee meeting on Monday.

Henry Schubart had not been paid during his service to the committee and the committee could not afford to approach the value of his services, said Mr. Wolfe-Milner.

INSPECTIONS

Access permit is obtainable from the foreman of the highways department on each island. Building permit is obtained from the building inspectors and electrical permit comes from the electrical inspector. On Salt Spring Island the provincial assessor's office also handles applications for electrical permits.

There is no fee for an access permit and for an average dwelling the building permit costs about $50.

Building inspectors engaged by the Capital Regional District are Glen Cunningham, Emil Lachmuth and Charles Harris.

They will be busy travellers. The inspectors will leave Swartz Bay on Tuesday morning to reach their Ganges office. One will remain in the office and the other will tour the islands. They plan to use both ferries and water taxi in order to offer the most efficient possible service to all islanders.

Structures already started will not require a permit for completion. If any property owner would like a check on the standards of his work the building inspectors will be happy to go over any work.

Where a building has been started and plumbing has not been installed a permit will be required for this aspect of the project, said Mr. Harris on Tuesday.

Mr. Cunningham is the former provincial government building inspector for the Langford area. When the area became part of the planning area of the Regional District he switched from the government to the district.

Mr. Lachmuth is a former contractor and Mr. Harris was established as a plumbing and heating contractor for many years in the Brentwood area of Saanich Peninsula. Latterly he has been working in Gold River as school district maintenance supervisor.

COMPLIMENTS -

Are flying thick and fast from satisfied customers for the expert Propane Gas service being provided to residents of the Islands by Gulf Islands Propane Gas.

Because of this excellent service, the safe, clean efficient use of cheap gas fuel is being provided to more and more people daily.

Our business of Selling and Installing Propane Gas equipment for homes is going on at an ever increasing pace, but we can handle a lot more.

We have recently installed new furnaces, hot-water tanks, ranges and lighting in homes and have orders for refrigerators and gas-fired Propane combustion toilets.
