SHE DESERVES A MEDAL

There is an un-litterbug in Ganges.

Mrs. T. McDonald reports seeing a young lady slowly walking along Lower Ganges Road filling a plastic bag with the wrappers and scraps of paper lying on the roadside.

"You deserve a medal," called Mrs. McDonald, of HMS Ganges Apartments.

The un-litterbug thanked her without identifying herself.

TO PREPARE FOR SHOW

The Salt Spring Island Garden Club is meeting on September 2, in the United Church Hall at 8 p.m. Final arrangements will be made for the September 12 Fall Flower Show.

Hints on showing will be discussed and demonstrated.

When Salt Spring Island Queen Maureen Gurney and her two princesses, Betsy Elliott and Darcy Saunders went off to the PNE on Friday, they were accompanied by a small contingent of islanders. In the picture above are also Mrs. P.H. Knowles, Alfred Temmell and Cam Cartwright. Mrs. Knowles set up the preparations; Mr. Temmell decorated the car, only one with a green motif in the parade, and Mr. Cartwright drove his car in the parade. On the right is Queen Maureen with a familiar cartoon character.

Pictures by Jill Richards and June Knowles.

Pioneer Citizens

* * *

Call For Early B.C. Residents

Pioneer citizens of British Columbia are urgently needed.

Special awards are planned during 1971 for pioneer residents of the province. The awards can only be made to people who have made themselves known to the centennial committee.

Medallions will be given to pioneers who were born in Canada or resident in Canada prior to January 1, 1897 and are now residents of British Columbia.

A special award will be made to any resident of British Columbia who attains his 100th birthday by or during 1971.

Pioneers who will be eligible for medallions or centenarian awards should get in touch with the chairman of the centennial committee of each island.

Centennial committees would also welcome names of island pioneers who lived on the islands or who were born on the islands before 1897 and who no longer live in British Columbia and also those former islanders who have moved elsewhere in the province.

Pioneers or their families, or their friends are urged to send their names to the chairman of the centennial committee of each island:

Salt Spring Island: Rev. Fred Anderson, Ganges.

Mayne Island: Victor Haggart, Mayne Island.

Saturna Island: Rev. John Dangerfield, Saturna.

Galiano: Tom Carolan, Bluff Road, Galiano.

Pender: Miss Joan Purchase, Port Washington.

ROTARY CLUB HEARS OF MUSEUM

At the weekly Salt Spring Rotary Club luncheon meeting of August 25 at Harbour House, guest speakers Ed and Dave Williams gave local Rotarians an outline of plans for establishing a museum for Salt Spring Island.

Father and son team represented the Lions and Leos respectively. It was felt that an effort by service clubs should get this project well under way.

Aides For Island School

Teachers' aides are coming to Salt Spring Island.

Acting on a survey and report prepared by the Parent Education Committee on Salt Spring Island, Trustees of the Gulf Islands School District have decided to institute the use of volunteer aides in the kindergarten at the Salt Spring elementary school.

School volunteer programs are now widely in use in the public schools of Canada and the United States. New project will start here in September.

Principal Donald Hartwig will be pleased to hear from any interested persons regarding this volunteer type of service. He can be reached at the Gulf Islands Secondary School, 537-2213, or the Salt Spring Elementary School, 537-5434, until September 4 between 9 a.m. and approximately 3 p.m.

COVERS EVERY LAND USE

Interim Zoning By-Law

Zoning is almost here. Interim Zoning By-law (Salt Spring Island), 1970, has been born.

And every current land use on the island is included in the by-law.

Board of the Capital Regional District was presented with the recommended by-law last week. It is being further discussed at a meeting on Wednesday this week.

The island is divided into 16 zones. Every land use here falls into one of those classifications.

The categories are zoned to provide for the following purposes.

RURAL

Agriculture, horticulture, silviculture (growing trees), poultry farming, animal and stock-raising and beekeeping;

Forestry and logging, but no processing is permitted, hospitals and veterinary clinics; single-family and two-family dwellings; schools, churches, hospitals, community halls and libraries;

Seasonal cottages; parks, golf courses and similar outdoor recreations; home occupations subject to specific regulations.

All land on the master zoning map which is not designated for any other specified use is zoned rural.

MULTIPLE DWELLING

Multiple family dwellings are apartments and units larger than duplexes. Zones permitting multiple dwelling will also permit home occupations as in the case of single dwellings. Multiple dwelling zones may not be used for other purposes.

COMMERCIAL

Commerce covers a wide range of uses. There are seven different commercial zones each catering to a limited range of activities.

Commercial 1 provides for retail stores, commercial or business offices, including medical or dental clinics; banks, barber shops, beauty parlours, shoe repair shops, electric and electronic repair shops, laundrettes, laundry and dry cleaning shops, printers and publishers, restaurants and places of indoor recreation, such as billiard or bowling establishments.

Commercial 2 restricts the land use to business or professional offices, barber shops and beauty parlours.

Commercial 3 includes retail stores, service stations and restaurants.

Commercial 4 permits hotels, motels and other tourist accommodations, excepting mobile homes; campsites, restaurants, marinas, boat ramps and rentals and a retail use in connection with these uses. Boat building is not permitted.

In Commercial 5 places of indoor recreation are the only permitted commercial use. These would provide for bowling alleys, billiard parlours and similar businesses.

Undertakers are restricted to Commercial 6 zoning.

Commercial 7 is allocated to the use of mobile homes, where more than two such homes occupies one parcel.

INDUSTRIAL

Industrial 1 may be used for boat building and repairs as well as marinas for the accommodation, servicing and maintenance of boats.

Industrial 2 covers warehouses, storage yards, contractors' yards and contractors' workshops.

Industrial 3 permits the sale, rental and repair of automobiles, rental and repair and sale of

BOARD TO BE NAMED

Board of variance will be appointed for Salt Spring Island as soon as the interim zoning by-law is put into operation.

The board of variance provides an appeal against the interpretation of the by-law by an employee of the Capital Regional District or against the technical requirements of the by-law in connection with building.

Board will consist of three members, one appointed by the regional board, one appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council and a third appointed by the two so named. Three members then name their own chairman.

In past years the board of variance was known as the zoning board of appeal.

FULFORD DERBY

Biggest Fish Smallest Yet

BY BEA HAMILTON

A good crowd was on hand to see the weigh in at Patterson's Store on Sunday at 5 p.m. when the somewhat discouraged fishermen returned from a dawn to late afternoon fishing spree with little luck.

"It was a perfect day out there," said A. V. Hunter of Ganges, who came in with the biggest catch of the day - a 4 lb. salmon. "Last week I caught five larger than this one," Mr. Hunter said, but he was happy to win the Langley Cup for a year, plus a sleeping bag to keep.

Capt. Edward Lacy announced the winners and welcomed all the people.

Clinic at Mayne

A well baby clinic will be held on Thursday, Sept. 3 in the new doctor's office at Miners Bay.

Public Health Nurse Jean Mitchell will be in charge of the clinic which will begin at 11:30 a.m.

Mayne Island parents should phone Mrs. Val Shuldes at 539-5764 for appointments.

Cougar On Salt Spring

BY BEA HAMILTON

It takes the visitor to spot a wild cat.
A lady from Reno, Nevada, Mrs. Joy Tate, cousin of Mrs. Ted Hamer, of R-Bar-T Ranch in the Cranberry, was walking along the Maxwell Park Road when she saw what looked like "a very large streamlined cat" stalking along in front of her. She recognized it as a cougar. She reported this unwelcome visitor as soon as she reached the Ranch.

The sheepmen on the Island have been on the alert for signs of a wild cat for some time as evidence of a number of lambs and deer killed on Mt. Bruce was indication of a lurking predator.

However, the huntsmen and hounds need a "hot scent" to be able to track down a cougar, especially in this dry weather.

Bob Akerman asks anyone who sees fresh signs of a cougar, to let him know immediately. Then hunter and hound can tally ho in to the bush and nab the predator before he can make further kills.

We can't help but ask ourselves a few questions about these stray cougars that seem so bent on a killing spree when they come across the Narrows to Salt Spring - usually quite young cougars up to now.

If they took a reasonable quota of deer for food and let it go at that, there would be no need to exterminate the beastie, would there? But these strays seem to crave Salt Spring Lamb. Their taste is commendable but their behavior leaves much to be desired. Whilst on the bloodthirsty spree, they never stop killing lambs - and deer, thereby writing their own penalty.

A pity, as they are magnificent animals and belong to their own wild habitat.

All the same, that was quite a welcoming reception for our visitor! Must have given Mrs. Tate a bit of a turn.

PNE

BY DORIS ANDREWS

Hundreds of visitors, many for the first time, saw the Gulf Islands on opening day at the PNE.

In a clear, bright summer scene depicted on the backdrop of the demonstration booth, they saw white puffs of cloud on blue sky and white wisps of sail on blue water drifting serenely over and around hills and islets. They saw, springing from deep, green cedar-lined buckets on the floor, or pushing through perky picket fences, a profusion of flowers. Albeit symbolic, the flowers revealed on printed centres, a pot pourri of island activities.

They saw, in the setting, a Scot Clarke water color: one of his soft, Attic invitations to a placid island garden. They saw early island industry in samples of wool and natural dyes processed by Mrs. R. Alton. They saw Bea Hamilton books, a Mrs. Miles-Pickup shell picture, a sheepskin, a Harcus map, and they saw Jim Southern - potter.

This artist at his work was the centre of interested audiences throughout the day. Young and old forgot the turmoil of the world, caught up in the spin of clay and the kick of wheel. Soft sounds came from throats as the hands of the potter rode smoothly up and fell deftly away from the whirling shape of a beautifully-formed vase or jar.

Then would come the questions. Aided by the excellent detail in the Harcus map the islands were introduced to the people. And we know, that to all who were there "The Gulf Islands" mean, in addition to the obvious pleasures of sun and sea... places of peace and of beauty... of books, painting, shells, quiet sheep, and perhaps for them too, places of refreshing

WOMEN'S SOFTBALL CLOSES SEASON WITH CHALLENGE

The woman's regular league season came to a close with Mike's Maidens taking the league honors and a combined team of Don's Dreamers and Wayne's Go-Getters taking the play-off title.

The grandfathers have issued a challenge to the ladies for a soft ball game. Last Sunday a group of lively grandfathers played a practice game against a number of the ladies and again this Sunday at 7 the two teams will meet in what should provide an interesting and entertaining ball game.

Mike's Maidens went through the regular season without suffering a loss. Wayne's Go-Getters came second and Don's Dreamers placed third.

In the play-offs Don's Dreamers and Wayne's Go-Getters played to a 14-14 tie. It was decided to combine the two teams to play Mike's Maidens for the Play-Off Championship.

In the championship game the combined team proved too strong for Mike's Maidens as they won by a score of 22-10. The combined team scored 11 runs in the first inning and played consistently in the field to preserve their lead and earn the victory. Members of the winning team were Linda Reynolds, Marcelle Marcotte, Linda O'Conner, Pat Taylor, Paulette Girard, Andrea Harkema, Ellen Harkema and Laura and Janelle Rozzano.

to be frank

By Richards

Salt Spring Island visitor was rejoicing over a theft the other week. She explained that she was on her way to her physician on the mainland. The good doctor had specified the need for a specimen. Having no other convenient vessel, she transported the specimen in a whisky bottle. En route to the doctor's office she parked her car outside a grocery store. When she came back the car had been opened and half a bottle of whisky had gone. At least, it said "whisky" on the label.

Remember when you could buy real cream in British Columbia?

Mrs. Warren Hastings is back from a holiday in England. What was it like? Among her reminiscences was the constant supply of real cream. They still have it in England.

It makes you think. Are British Columbia cows at fault? Do they withhold the cream of the crop? Or is it controlled by the British Columbia government? The department of agriculture and the Liquor Control Board may have got together.

Who decides how much water to put in the cream?

You go to a grocery store and you buy a carton of coffee cream. It's just a nice name for thick milk. If you want something better you buy whipping cream. If you have an electric mixer you can whip it until it looks almost like real cream.

Remember the days when you could buy coffee cream and table cream and whipping cream and clotted cream?

The just don't make cows the way they used to.

Who decides how much butter fat I am to be allowed to drink? Is it an agreement among farmers? Or vendors? Or does the paternal government decide that I am fat enough and must not be permitted to drink rich cream or strong drink?

The only way to really remember what good food was like is to get out of the country for a holiday and enjoy the quality they serve in other countries. Or is it?

Fraser Canyon, a few weeks ago, was heavy with smoke as the strong smell of burning wood hung over Lytton.

We drove past the smoke into a large group of workers equipped with bulldozers and other equipment. Their presence stirred a closer look and we could see flames in the forest above the highway.

Later we learned that the fire had destroyed three houses.

At 100-Mile House, a week or so later, we drove through the town and out on the wide highway. A mile from the town there was a small copse blazing. We turned around in the highway, contrary to highway regulations and stopped to alert a nearby house. The house was empty. We then drove back into the town where we had seen firemen and equipment working.

They were already aware of the fire, but it was outside their territorial limits, explained the firemen, and the forestry department had been notified.

For a half-hour we watched the flames slowly gain a stronger hold as the heat dried out the recent rainfall.

A forestry plane flew back and forth over the fire, presumably assessing its potential. Finally we drove on, wondering whether the passing motorist is wasting his time in reporting such trifles.

Oil painters get preference, charged a water colorist last week at Galiano. The anonymous painter suggested to Dave Anderson, artist and judge, that main awards in a mixed exhibit went to oils. They stood out more clearly, admitted the Sidney artist, but there was no prejudice, he pleaded.

Ted and Daisy Gear were joining the steady movement to Prince George last week. They had deserted Ted's Salt Spring Queen and were setting out in the Sechelt Queen. Already they were thinking ahead. "Might get up through the Canyon before stopping for the night," suggested Ted. They don't often use the Sechelt Queen.

Traffic at Swartz Bay was about 99.99% heading for the mainland on Sunday evening. Lane 10 was devoted to mainland traffic and Lane 11 was allocated to Salt Spring Island. A car in Lane 10 resisted starting and Tom Pappenberger, alongside in Lane 11, offered the use of his battery and jumper leads. The errant car sprang into life and drove off to the ship. "Give that man his Boy Scout badge," quipped a terminal official.

It was not always funny. On another occasion a voice came over the public address system, "Mr. X, answer your telephone." Commented a patient passenger, "That's a senior official speaking, he doesn't have to say please."

Every by-law lists the penalty facing the man who contravenes it. New Salt Spring Island Interim Zoning By-law is no exception.

Any person who violates the provisions of this by-law, states document, is liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding $500 and costs or imprisonment for a period not exceeding 60 days. Each day during, which such violation continues, states the by-law, shall be deemed to constitute a new and separate offence.

The unfortunate felon who disregards the terms of the by-law faces a condign punishment, if the judge should happen to share the regional district's opinion of the enormity of the offence.

If an islander causes, suffers or permits any building or structure to be constructed, reconstructed, altered, moved, extended, occupied or used, or any land to be occupied or used so as to contravene or fail to comply with the by-law, and then refuses to change for 150 days, and if the judge feels that the fullest extent of the law must be exercised to punish him, the unfortunate villain could even die in jail. Maximum penalty for the offence, 150 times over, would represent 60 days by 150, or some 25 years. It sounds more like a welfare decision.

WHERE HAVE THE FISH ALL GONE?

There was a fairy tale.
"Fishy, fishy in the sea...Hither quickly come to me..."
Today it is no fairy tale. It is the truth.
The fishy is been and gone. And that is the truth.
Fishing lines and fishing lures are hanging disconsolately on the basement wall. The once happy faces of eager sports fishermen are long and drawn.
There are no fish. And we mean it. THERE ARE NO FISH.
In various fishing derbies we saw catches ranging from seven pounds, down. They were a pound or two heavier last year. But not much.
We know there is no real pollution here. The forestry industry tells us. The provincial government has never mentioned it.
Some blame the amateur canneries which operate from the United States. They cite the big sports fishing craft which come into local waters, fish, clean, can and export in one sporting operation. Others blame the commercial fisherman.
We figure they're all wrong.
We figure that the fish are dead. We figure that the cost of prosperity has been paid by the unfortunate salmon.
We could be wrong.
But if we are wrong, then let's have it straight from the shoulder from the federal department of fisheries. Or the minister. Mr. Davis has shown a keen interest in the island welfare.
Will he tell us, please.
Are they gone for ever? So soon? So quickly?

Lacrosse is a team game and in recognition of this, awards will not be made to individual players. Crests will be provided for each player and the presentations will be made at a date to be announced later.

Each player who has come out to practice and has helped to make the short season a success will be awarded the crest.

Salt Spring players made a good showing in the George Parkes Arena in a practice exhibition game with members of Saanich teams.

The score was 11-15.

Fourteen of our people showed up, which was a good turn-out, and everyone got a chance to play.

Players and coaches were allowed to stay and watch Saanich Junior B team win the championship in a well-played contest.

Saanich Minor Lacrosse League has given our new organization quite a bit of encouragement and direction. We are on our own but they have made their facilities available to us and the results have been great.

There will be a few more practices this summer so long as people keep coming out and want to play.

There is still opportunity for new try-outs in our smaller group and equipment available for them to use.

DIVER THROWS LINE AROUND BOAT SUNK IN ACTIVE PASS

For countless years, travellers of Active Pass have had great respect for the swift waters.

Last week another man nearly lost his life, while on a salvage mission beneath those fast waters.

Mel Smith of F. R. Smith Towing, out of Vancouver, has spent the past several years in these waters.

He was diving to secure lines around a sunken gillnet-troller one day last week. He was down 35 to 50 feet, and had trouble reaching the sunken craft. Tides were strong, and the gillnet had unwound from the drum underwater. The net tangled in his diving gear and he had to cut his way out of the net. He remarked later on the strong tides, and the difficulty of releasing himself. His father's tugboat, "Standon" and B.C. Salvor were just above him, while he was diving.

The troller he was working on went ashore just below Point Comfort, on Mayne Island, and opposite Sturdies Bay. The diver finally secured lines to lift it from the bottom and then it was towed to Vancouver for repairs.

GOLD MEDAL WINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Sater have their grand-niece, Miss Rhonda McClure from New Westminster staying with them for several weeks. Rhonda's grandmother, Mrs. Esther Hofseth, is Ken's sister.

In the Festival of Sports at Richmond this year, 14-year-old Rhonda took a Gold Medal for the mile, and a Silver Medal for the 800 metres, in the grades seven and eight events.

TALE OF TWO ISLANDS

BY CULTUS COULEE

Claude and Leah Conery came to Ganges, last year, in time for their 51st anniversary.

From 1922 they had lived on the Penders. For Claude, it was coming home. His father, Socrates Tobias Conery, and mother, Sybil Ellen, came from their farm at Grande Isle, Lake Champlain, Vermont, via Victoria, to Salt Spring, in the late 1880's.

Mr. Conery bought 460 acres at Conery's Lake, now Blackburn Lake. Claude was born on the island.

"Such a little chap, Claude was, with long, golden curls!" Myrtle Beddis Roe says. "My folks, from The Wilderness, were visiting Conerys, one rainy day, and Claude came in, quite wet, and crawled under the stove to dry!" The curls had to be cut when he and Myrtle Beddis began a school - a long walk to The Divide, and the popular Galway teacher, Albert Cooke.

With farm and orchard going well, Conery's house burned down, leaving nothing but the chimney. His wife died soon after, and Mr. Conery, with Claude and Bud, (Socrates Tobias 2nd), went to Richmond, Virginia, to begin farming all over again.

"It was there, in 1911, that I read of the IROQUOIS sinking off Sidney. A tiny item in a Richmond paper," says Claude. "I'd seen her at Ganges, on her first run, about 1902. A lot of people were down at the wharf to look at her. I went through the Canal on her, twice!" That was the thing. Where a bridge joins the Penders now, you could lean over the rail and nearly touch the bank.

In 1915, the brothers came back from Virginia, to join up, going overseas with the Western Scots. Claude, wounded and gassed in France, was in Carlisle military hospital, Cumberland.

Nursing there, was Leah McFarlane. "There were 650 beds" she says. Claude was one of her patients. They were married July 8, 1918, in Ballysillan Presbyterian church, outside Belfast, where Leah's parents, the John McFarlanes, lived.

Claude returned to Victoria for discharge. Leah followed in a ship of warbrides. Crossing the North Channel to England had been her greatest journey. Now she was embarked on the Atlantic, and headed for Canada's west coast.

Maybe she thought of lines in "Ireland" - "I have left you behind In the path of the past, With the white breath of flowers" But then came the joy of arrival in Victoria, and "lots and lots of flowers." Also her waiting husband.

In 1922, after a few years in Victoria, Claude, who loved the islands, moved to Shingle Bay, Pender; and later to Port Washington.

Claude logged on South Pender with Herbert Spalding. Herbert's sister, Helen, was Mrs. Tommy Walker, and when the Walkers went to Lulu Island, in 1930, the Conerys took over their place in the valley.

About 1932, pioneer Gerald Richardson died. His farm and (Turn to Page Five) orchard needed a friend, and the Richardson sisters in England, were glad when Tommy Walker, back from the mainland, suggested Claude Conery. So the Conerys left the valley, for a house on a bluff, at the entrance to Bedwell Harbour, overlooking Swanson Channel, Turn Point Light, and Wallace Point, to the Olympics.

In 1937, Claude helped the building committee choose a site for the Church of the Good Shepherd, donated by the Richardson sisters.

The wedding of his daughter, Sybil, to Commander Bill Willson, May 3, 1969, was the third in the church.

The Roll of Honour lists Fred Conery, killed in action, 1944, aged 19.

When Mrs. Arthur Spalding, postmistress from 1900, retired in 1943, Claude Conery took over; resigning the job to John Freeman in 1947.

Like his father, Claude was a school trustee.

June 1896, in "Parish and Home Magazine" Rev. E.F. Willson, Anglican rector of Salt Spring Island, records plans for a school on The Divide. Trustees, Ed Walter, A. Cartwright and S. Conery.

"I was appointed trustee when I was over on the north side, hunting for my cow" Claude says. "I came back to find they'd put me in!"

In 1948 Conery bought 63 acres on Plumper Sound where he built; and began an orchard. Wherever Claude lived, there were apple trees.

In December 1959, he sold to Salt Spring Lands and moved to 37 acres on North Pender. In April, 1969, he sold, again to Salt Spring Lands, and moved to Ganges.

The journey had come full circle. And where better to settle, than on your childhood island? To "...walk among long, dappled grass, And pluck til time and times are done The silver apples of the moon, the golden apples of the sun."

ROUTE TO THE ISLANDS

postmaster in his Port Washington store; 30 minutes for sorting and grocery orders; then whirls two miles to Hope Bay to postmaster Ralph Smith in his store. Ralph succeeded Percy Corbett, March 30, 1961.

R.S.W. Corbett opened a small store at Hope Bay, January, 1905. The post office was moved into the store, with Mr. Corbett as postmaster until December 9, 1930. Son S. Percy Corbett took over 29th February, 1932. Father and son covered 56 years.

The ferry churns across Trincomali Channel docking at Montague Harbour before 10.45, where Bill transfers bags to Steve Riddell. Steve whips 4 1/2 miles across Galiano to Sturdies Bay, Active Pass, where he's been postmaster for 10 years. Wife Sally does the 32-mile rural route circuit, to Porlier Pass at the north end. Donald New, postmaster 1928-1960, and carrier for over 10 years, does R.R. deliveries on the south end.

The ferry backtracks, heading east for Village Bay before 11.15. Mary Kline grabs the swag and wheels two miles to Miners Bay. The Mayne P.O. is in her house "Built about 1900 as a store, by Commander Eustace Maude." Mary took over from George Maynard, 1959.

Now down Navy Channel to Saturna by 11.50. Jeanie Morgan lugs the sacks up a steep hill to Morgan's Store, where her P.O. has a spot of space. She took over in August, 1969, when Bertha Sylvester died.

At 12.05 the QUEEN is off and pounding west up Navy Channel, round the Stanley Point turn, Port Wash on her port beam. By 12.55 she's struck Otter Bay a glancing blow for a quick pick-up; and into the home stretch. Bill is at the Sidney P.O. by 2 p.m. counts his returns, and is home free.

In 1941, Bill's father came from St. Peter's, N.S. to Victoria, to the shipyards. Bill came with his parents. Then on destroyer St. Clair and corvette Lethbridge, on local convoys out of Halifax to England.

The Langleys have property where the V & S once ran. Bill's hobby being gardening, he digs up egg stones, spikes and other artifacts. He also gets exercise walking to the Sidney Library.

"The radio is always on. We get Bellingham FM good music on Sunday night."

As long as he can see Prairie Hill from his garden, he knows that Saturna is there still, and he'll be in business in the morning.

MAYNE

BY ELSIE BROWN

After bragging to tourists from Des Moines, Iowa, that we NEVER have thunder storms in British Columbia, if we didn't have a dilly during the night. Mostly noise with no damage as reported in other areas and disappointed the rainfall was so scanty. Even those on holiday say we need the rain.

Those who have been missing the news items will have to blame the Fall Fair. Thought just about everybody had their name mentioned in last week's copy. Neglected to mention the fish used for the "guess the weight" contest, was donated by Dick and Sallie Pugh of Miners Bay Trading Post.

Visiting Ina Trudgeon at her summer home on Arbutus Drive, Bennett Bay was her aunt from New York, Mrs. John Boulter. She plans to visit another niece in Vancouver before returning home. Ina's mother has also been visiting from Vancouver.

The Harold Houghtons have been spending their annual holiday at their summer home, at Bennett Bay. Gladys is still under the doctor's care after her battle with a falling tree on their property last spring. She is wearing a neck brace which restricts her activities considerably.

Glad to hear Gwen Hayball is back at home at Horton Bay after a week in Lady Minto Hospital. She was treated for injuries sustained in a fall from a step ladder. We wish her a speedy recovery.

The John Benistons have been making periodic trips over to their camp at Oyster Bay via their racing sloop from Port Coquitlam. John was just arriving the day of the freighter-ferry collision. It will, no doubt, be recorded in his log book.

Staying at the Laidlaw residence was neighbor of the Benistons, Mrs. C. Hattie of Port Coquitlam with grandsons, Raymond and Allan Thomas of North Vancouver.

The Dave Laidlaws of Vancouver are spending their holidays at their summer home on Bayview Drive. Young son Gordie is proud of his ribbon received when his dog won a prize at the pet show.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Wahl of White Rock over for the weekend were guests of the Jack Evans. They are property owners on Bayview Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Geoff Storey are spending the summer at their home on Fernhill Road. Visiting them recently were Mr. and Mrs. M. Towne of Vancouver.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Les Moffat, Gallagher Bay, are their daughter and grandchildren, Mrs. Alice Friedman, Laura and Karen of Miami Beach, Florida.

Also visiting during the summer have been grandchildren from Anchorage, Alaska, Carlotta and Joe Donisi, and Julie and Allison

FORMAL ADDRESS

Communications for the commission should be addressed to the secretary, Salt Spring Island Advisory Commission, Box 621, Ganges.

Browne of North Burnaby. Congratulations to Laura who won the Nail Driving contest at the Fair!

Visiting the Jim Ross' has been their niece, Debbie Morson of North Vancouver. Won lots of prizes at the Fair but was sick in bed the day of the Fair - sorry about that, Debbie!

George and Ivy Slinn, Sunshine Cove, have returned to the island after a 6,000 mile journey which took them to Fairbanks, Alaska. They made the trip there and back by camper, staying at government camps along the way. Ivy said the only drawback was that it rained a lot. At least there was no dust. During their absence son and daughter-in-law and family, the Don Slinns stayed at the Slinn residence on Mayne.

Visiting on the island from Seattle, Wash., were Clifford and Lottie Bell with Stephen, Sean and Ryan. The Bells were guests of Jim and Betty Ross. They are former Mayne Islanders.

Jack and Cecilia Nightingale, Laura Point Road, have returned after a month spent touring Canada by car. They visited son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Nightingale at Thunder Bay and Mr. and Mrs. Davies at St. Thomas. Other stops included Niagara Falls and points of interest in Southern Ontario. On the return trip they visited relatives in Winnipeg and Humboldt, Saskatchewan. While there they drove down through the Qu'Appelle Valley. Asked about the weather, Cecilia said, it was hot!

Visiting the Norman Georgesons, Fernhill Road, last weekend were Amelia's nephews, John Jack of Kamloops and Jackie Jack of Duncan.

THE LIGHT TOUCH By H.J.CARLIN

The man of the house was reading a magazine article very intently. Presently, he remarked to his wife: "Do you know, dear, I think there is something in what this article says, that the cleverness of the father often proves a stumbling block to the son." "Well, thank goodness," said his wife, "Our Johnny won't have anything to fall over." *****

One night at 2 a.m. the phone rang in a gentleman's apartment. An angry woman was on the phone and, after introducing herself, said, "Your dog is barking and keeping me awake." The gentleman thanked her and hung up. The following night at 3 a.m. the woman's phone rang, "Madam," the voice said, "I have no dog." *****

The lawyer informed his client, "I have arranged a settlement with your husband that is fair to both of you." "Fair to both!" she stormed. "Why do you think I hired you? I could have done that myself." *****

FESTIVAL OF SPORTS

All Set For New Season

Province-wide competition which will determine leading choirs and bands, both junior and senior, in all sections of British Columbia with finals at the University of British Columbia next spring was announced in Victoria this week by the Speaker of the Legislature, Hon. W. H. Murray of Prince Rupert.

The musical competition is under the aegis of the British Columbia Cultural Fund.

Associated with Mr. Murray's bands and choirs committee are leading figures in educational and other fields, including Dr. J.F.K. English, former deputy minister of education; L. J. Wallace, deputy provincial secretary; and others. The committee is working very closely with Music Festivals in all areas of the province. All Festival competitions will be completed by May 4 next and band and choir championships are scheduled for the second week of that month in the U.B.C. auditorium.

Highly qualified adjudicators will select junior and senior choirs and bands and community choirs and bands as the winners in each of 12 different areas of the province. These zone finalists will then be transported to Vancouver for the provincial competitions. Close liaison with all school districts in British Columbia will be maintained by the committee.

Bands and choirs in six different categories will be welcomed in the competition. They will fall into the following classifications: Junior Bands (students up to and inclusive of Grade X); Junior Choirs (students up to and inclusive of Grade X); Senior Choirs (students up to and inclusive of Grade XII); Community Bands and Community Choirs. It is felt that the widest spectrum of musical talent all over the province may be discovered in this manner.

Mr. Murray made it clear that the government-directed musical competitions will take place in the spring of every year. "We are confident that these provincial championships will encourage amateur musicians in every section of British Columbia, adding materially to the cultural wealth of this province," commented Mr. Murray.

Following are the 12 different zones in which annual competitions will be staged. North Coast, Regional finals to be held at Terrace; Northern Interior at Prince George; East Kootenays, at Cranbrook; West Kootenays at Trail; Okanagan at Vernon; Mainline-Cariboo, Kamloops, Fraser Valley, at Chilliwack; Metropolitan, at Port Coquitlam; Vancouver, at

STUDENT COMES BACK FROM TRIP TO JAPAN AND WORLD FAIR

BY CULTUS COULEE

At Windsong, on Pender, back from Expo, is Christopher Coleman, one of 100 students on his plane, from four schools; 15 from St. George's, Vancouver, which he attends. French teacher, Collin Dutton, and his wife, were among the 10 counsellors.

Although he enjoyed Osaka,
Chris found other places of more interest. Montreal's Expo was too clear in memory. "It was thought by most people I talked to, that Canada had the best pavilion; but I also liked Britain and B. C. Languages? Mainly Japanese, but also a lot of English."

Three hours in Tokyo; then in 3 hours, to Osaka by Bullet. "The fastest train in the world, at 200 m.p.h.; but it averaged between 100 and 150."

At Kobe, 10 miles from Osaka for a week. After 4 1/2 days at Expo; one day at Kyoto; one at Nara; and a day at Japan's major pearl factory, outside Kobe.
Mikimoto, now dead, was the man who started pearl culture.

"We left Kobe on a boat, advertised as a liner; about half the size of the Cy Peck. We were second class passengers and slept in the windowless hold,
with blankets, but no mattresses!
We hit the tail end of a typhoon.
Huge waves. The captain had tried to steer a course to avoid it."

From Kobe to Pusan, a major Korean port, of three million people. The group of 100 split into three; Chris to Seoul for two days, guest in a low class hotel. "But it seemed great, after the ship. They even had mattresses on the beds!"

Next, Chung Ju, Central Korea, 600,000 people. "The only province without a midnight

ART EXHIBITION AT GALIANO

Galiano art show on Saturday drew warm commendation not only from Galiano Islanders themselves, but from many visitors to the island.

Large group of Mayne Islanders came over to find out how the Galiano group had won so many awards at the previous week's Mayne Fair.

From Sidney came Mrs. J. W. Hinchcliffe, president of the Saanich Peninsula Art Centre's 200 artists and David Anderson, who founded it.

Another art teacher, Maj. Gordon Matthews, showed up from Salt Spring Island to find out how some of his former pupils were progressing. Mrs. Irving Sinclair was up from California for the event.

The well-lighted hall had been prepared by Mrs. Dorothy Lupton with a new layout offering maximum light for the large display. Mrs. Lupton also showed a number of her own paintings.

There were tickets on a draw for works of art donated for the event.

Visitor met with his first encounter outside the hall. At the entrance was the welded Anatomy of a Cow that more nearly resembled a goat. The cow bell left no doubt of its species. Despite the verse which went with it, the animal showed little concern with hay.

The entire animal was held together with welded joints and consisted of parts from the Robson barn. It was suffering from a mild attack of rust.

Within the hall there was a fair variety. Majority of island artists are painters. Majority of painters prefer oils. So it appeared.

Allan Clarke was there with his marionettes while he and his wife explained the problems of making puppets do as they are told.

On show were finished characters, all strung and dressed, as well as partly completed puppets left uncovered to reveal the intricate joints used to control the movements. The Clarks were all set for a show on Saturday.

Carving, polished and treated driftwood and other handicrafts were on show.

Margaret Steward, who exhibited various paintings was particularly eager to display her home-made lampshade. The shade was of the style used in a hallway and the glass was multi-colored. It consisted of glass collected off the beach, although the author admitted, under pressure, that she had been obliged to look further afield for one or two special colors. The effect was striking.

Music was provided by one handicraft.

Art Fletcher offered a series of airs on the instruments he was displaying. Mr. Fletcher had a number of flutes he had made by burning as well as three dulcimers. The latter instruments were made by Al McNaught, of Galiano. Not unlike a guitar with a full-length soundbox, the dulcimer consists of three or four strings and may be played with a hammer or the fingers.

It is an instrument which was in wide use several hundred years ago.

It was another Galiano Art Show. Another pleasing exhibition of island work in very pleasant surroundings. And that is the Galiano Show.

HE LOST BOTH LEGS BUT HE IS STILL ACTIVE

Man who lost both legs at the age of 21 was a visitor to Ganges last week. He is Ralph Veady of Bellflower, California.

Mr. Veady has been featured on many shows in the United States.

He was on Salt Spring Island in his mobile home, complete with his own mini-motor-cycle. Although in possession of artificial legs, Mr. Veady walks around without them. His legs have been amputated above the knees.

The visitor is a jeweller and operates a successful business. He has engaged in horse-riding, cycling, skating and swimming, as well as a variety of sports and athletics.

Looking back on many years of a disability surmounted, Mr. Veady feels that his own experience of progress from despair to success may be an inspiration to others suffering a severe physical disability.

Legs? He doesn't need them!

The average man will never admit it.
