MAINLAND PURCHASE

He Lost His Money

Island resident recently ordered a prefabricated building from the mainland. He paid a deposit with the order and waited impatiently for delivery. It never came.

By the time he had investigated and discovered that the supply company had changed hands he had lost his down payment.

Islanders buying from the mainland would do well to make arrangements for payment through a lawyer or third party, he suggests. The payment was a big one and he is feeling the pinch.

SKAGIT WILL BE FLOODED

There is no longer a Skagit problem, NDP Leader T. C. Douglas told a Salt Spring Island audience on Monday evening. The flooding project will go ahead and Canadian protests are to be ignored.

Mr. Douglas told the dinner meeting at the Golf Club that Mitchell Sharp, on the last day of the session, when debate was no longer possible, tabled an agreement referring the Skagit problem to the International Joint Commission.

The catch is, cautioned Mr. Douglas, that the governments of the U.S. and Canada have now agreed to abide by the decision of the Commission providing that the recommendations are not inconsistent with two previous agreements. Now, what are these previous agreements? he asked.

The first is the agreement of 1942, which is the approval of the International Joint Commission that the Skagit should be flooded. Second is the agreement of 1967 between the government of B.C. and the Seattle Light and Power Co. which permits the flooding of the Skagit

In other words, the Skagit will be flooded, he told his audience.

All the International Joint Commission can do is to minimize the effects of such flooding.

"We've thrown away our birthright," he charged, "The mess of pottage is $35,000 per year."

The decision whether to flood Canadian land now rests in American hands. Mr. Douglas urged Islanders to write to Mr. Sharp and give him their opinion about his action.

CONVENTION

Leos Are Coming Friday

Leos are coming to Salt Spring Island. This is the week of the third annual convention of the Lions-sponsored youth organization. It is the first such convention to be held on Salt Spring Island.

Leos from British Columbia and Washington will gather in the United Church Hall at Ganges during the week end.

Discussions will be carried on throughout Saturday and part of Sunday.

Formal convention dinner will be held in the Secondary School auditorium on Saturday evening with Jack Tang as guest speaker.

Breakfast on Saturday and Sunday will be served by the Salt Spring Lions Club.

Nominations Still Invited

Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce is still asking for recommendations for the Citizen-of-the-Year for 1971.

Any islander may nominate a candidate. The candidate must be a resident of Salt Spring Island and the sponsor must summarize the reasons for making the nomination.

The candidate chosen will be guest of honor at the chamber's annual meeting in May.

All Set For Lions Party

There will be a strong Australian influence when the Salt Spring Island Lions stage their wine and cheese tasting party on April 30.

Making the arrangements for the event is Walter Mailey, who is still patently Australian despite half a lifetime in Canada. Guest of honor will be John Chapman, Australian Trade Commissioner in Vancouver. Mr. Chapman will be accompanied by Mrs. Chapman and members of his staff.

The visitors will not be the only evidence of Australia. Majority of wines served will be imported as well as some of the cheese.

The event will commence at 8 pm on Friday, April 30.

Mr. Chapman will introduce various wines with an explanation of their function and origin. Something of the traditional history of the vintner will be included in the tasting.

Following the festival there will be a dance, with the orchestra from Nanaimo.

THEY'RE OFF! WALKERS SET OUT ON SATURDAY FROM GANGES

Arnold leads The Way

Road runner from way back, Bill Arnold made the Lions Walkathon course of slightly more than eight miles in slightly less than 50 minutes.

Arnold headed out in front of the pack as they headed up Ganges Hill at the 1 pm signal. Maintaining a steady pace throughout the course, he loped home at the Centennial Park with a time of 49 minutes.

Bitter, rainy day dissuaded many walkers and the packed starting line was short of a number of ardent competitors in previous events.

Even the coffee suffered and the Legion Ladies serving it put a heavy overcoat on the urn to encourage it to heat up.

Oldest competitor was a veteran Lions walker, Fulford's John French, 77 years of age. The winners of the family group were also familiar Lions walkers, - they were the Dixon Family, headed for the eight-mile course by Mrs. E.R. Dixon. Even after two members dropping out en route, the rest of the family still qualified.

Group of Vancouver youngsters from Rainbow Beach took part. First of the group to reach the finishing line showed no fatigue. He booked in and promptly ran to the fence and leaped over it.

Other winners were: first male 17-20 years, Dan Bedford; first female over 21 Molly Akerman; first female 17-20, Marg Hanna; first married couple, Peter and Freddie Cartwright; family/organization group - the Dixons; first male 13-16, David Hawksworth; first male 10-12, Arthur Buitenwerf; first male nine and under, Kirk Arnold; first female 13-16, Janet Lacy; first female, 10-12, Mary Jane Olsen; first female 9 and under, Margaret Prest; oldest competitor, Mr. J. French, 77 years; youngest competitor, Leanne Bradley, 6 years 4 days. Original costume, Barbara Withrow, surprise costume, Glenda Woodley.

The Walkathon Trophy will be awarded when Bob Lawson and his helpers have deciphered all the pledges.

Winner of the trophy and cash prize for the entrant with the greatest amount of money pledged will be calculated and announced later. Lions are still working hard to list each contribution or pledge.

OUTLINE AT GALIANO

SECONDARY SCHOOL PROBLEMS

On Friday night, between ferries from Salt Spring, parents and friends gathered at Galiano School to hear the principal of the secondary school at Ganges speak of the curriculum of the coming term.

D.L. Hartwig was accompanied by school counsellor Miss Margaret Sitton, Board Chairman Mrs. L. Guthrie and secretary-treasurer Mrs. J.R. Sturdy. They were welcomed by Galiano principal, Basil Bengier. He also welcomed the teacher from Saturna, Mrs. Taimi Hindmarch, with three of her pupils and Galiano trustee on the school board, Mrs. Elizabeth Beach.

Mr. Hartwig said that he has always been concerned about students coming to Salt Spring school from the Outer Islands. They have to make two major adjustments; they have to live away from their homes and they must accustom themselves to a different school curriculum.

At the end of grade 8, secondary school students stream into either academic or non-academic courses, explained the principal. It is a world of specialization, and the world is demanding specialized people.

Discussion ensued on the school dormitory and manner in which it is run. The guests had to leave on the late ferry but the evening carried on with showing of a film.

There was an expression of thanks to members of the community who have participated in lessons every Friday afternoon, teaching children practical subjects.

Mrs. G.H. Snell gave sewing lessons; Kenneth Sater taught woodworking; Mrs. Ford Bond, music, and Earl Young, familiarization and handling of firearms.

Mary Backlund's picture below shows Janice Wilson modelling blouse she has made in school.

TO FORM CLUB ON SALT SPRING

A meeting was held at Dick Toynbee's on March 23 to consider formation of a sailing club with the object of encouraging sailing, both racing and cruising in the Gulf Islands.

There are now about 20 larger and 15 smaller sailing craft around Salt Spring and a club could do a great deal to encourage sailing both for experienced boatmen and beginners.

It was agreed that the new group should be known as the Salt Spring Island Sailing Club.

A cruise to Montague Harbour is proposed for May 2 to allow all interested to get together.

Islanders who wish to know more, or are interested, may contact Marshall Sharp.

BY W.M. NEW

I taught at North Vesuvius School, Fernwood, from 1931 to 1934. One October I arranged with a Galiano neighbor to come over from Montague Harbour there and pick me up at Fernwood wharf and ferry me home for Thanksgiving weekend. But the wind blew, and after starting out and going a short distance, he decided he shouldn't attempt the trip.

I scurried around by phone trying to find some intrepid seaman at my end who would go. At last I found Earl Howard who had been a pupil of mine in a previous school a number of years before, and he, with a friend, agreed to venture. The three of us set out in Earl's boat, open except for the roofing protecting the engine. There was no rain, but gum boots, raincoats, or oil skins, and sou'westers, were very necessary. We danced over the waves, getting quite wet, and the spray tasting salt on our lips. It felt like galloping on horseback over the springy turf on the Okanagan hillside where I had taught before. And we reached Montague Harbour safely.

What finally cured me of enjoying storms was a trip from Galiano to Vancouver, at the end of one summer holidays, on the last sailing for the season of the ferry Motor Princess. I forget the year. She carried passengers above and cars below. Where the cars entered, the boat had what I heard a very small boy describe as 'a hole in its nose'. She was not considered safe for winter weather, which might be stormy. This particular crossing proved it.

When we were in the middle of the Gulf the storm broke. As the boat keeled over first to one side and then to the other, we passengers wondered if she really would right herself again. We were in the saloon above with doors closing us in, as the waves washed the decks. I was sitting between one silent man who seemed to ignore these dips, and continued to read his book undisturbed, and another man who was fully occupied in calming his wife, who was seated on his other side. So I had to suffer in silence.

What a relief when we rounded Point Atkinson into the calmer waters of Burrard Inlet! As I thankfully walked along the gang plank to the Vancouver dock, I overheard one girl say to another, "You know those people who said they weren't scared? I'll bet they were scared stiff like every one else."

I have been tossed a bit on the water since then, but never from my own seeking, and never have I considered it fun!

SHE DIED BEFORE SHE COULD COME BACK TO RETIRE

After an illness of over three months, death came Saturday, April 3 in Vancouver, to Miss Violet Robertson, descendant of two pioneer families of the islands.

Miss Robertson was a granddaughter of the late Captain and Mrs. Horatio George Robertson, who in the 1887-1908 era, owned Moresby Island, going there after a life in China.

About the same time, her maternal grandparents, Captain and Mrs. William Edward McCoskrie--descendants of United Empire Loyalists--acquired property from a Mr. Weston, at Retreat Cove, Galiano. There, Captain McCoskrie hewed fir trees for a house which still stands on the property.

His son Billy McCoskrie, "McC" farmed the property which was later bought by four of his nieces and nephews--sons and daughters of Anne Melissa McCoskrie and Raish Robertson.

There it was that Miss Violet Robertson had planned to retire, and where last year she built a small log house. Death came a few years before retirement, so that she did not live to enjoy leisure on the land she loved, on which she had laboured, and that had been in the family for over 80 years.

Surviving members of the immediate family are Mrs. A. C. Lambe (Biddy), Mrs. Donald Stewart (Win), Miss Dorothy Anne Robertson, Darwin H. Robertson and William Edward Robertson, and six nieces and nephews.

THAT'S ENGLISH!

We'll begin with a box - the plural is boxes
But the plural of ox is oxen, not oxes;
Then one fowl is a goose but two are called geese,
Yet the plural of moose should never be meese.

You may find a lone mouse, or a whole set of mice,
Yet the plural of house is houses, not hices.
If the plural of man is always called men,
Why shouldn't the plural of pan be called pen?

If I speak of a foot you show me your feet,
And I give you a boot - would a pair be called beer?
If one is a tooth and a whole set is called teeth,
Why should not the plural of booth be called beeth?

We speak of a brother, and also of brethren,
But though we say mother, we never say methren.
Then the masculine pronouns are he, his, and him,
But imagine the feminine - she, shis, and shim!

So English, I fancy, you all will agree
Is the funniest language you ever did see!

In this age of functional education I only hope that my own earning ability is not a sign of my true worth.

Charlie Archer drove half-way round the Walkathon course on Saturday and parked his car. He trotted to the Legion Auxiliary, where his gratified wife held out a drink for him. He then trotted back to his car and drove on.

Very youthful resident of Vesuvius Hotel, now the island stronghold of X-Kalay, was impressed with his new home. He stood at the Vesuvius ferry wharf and begged everyone to "come and see our Lodge!"

To smile at her I would not venture were I without my upper denture.

Came across an interesting industrial report. Seems the B.C. Hydro was spending money on lots of soft drinks to clean out the boilers. Regular practice, apparently to use pop in boilers because it will dissolve almost anything. Unfortunately the internationally-popular pop was too effective and the pipes melted away inside the boilers. After replacing the tubes at some considerable cost the Hydro switched, says the report, to a pop without a cola content. Presumably Dr. Shrum now charges into the office of Premier Bennett, rudely interrupts him and says, "Look, Cec, no cavities!"

Thinking of television I'm particularly hostile to the man who sells a headache drug with the warning that it is particularly dangerous. "Treat this with respect!" he thunders. In a drug-oriented society the advertisement shows appalling taste.

FERNWOOD

BY JESSIE SAYER

As usual the ferries were fully loaded with Easter holiday visitors bringing joy and excitement to many homes.

Mrs. Lin Sayer with Leanne Jamie and Kenton spent several days at the Sayer and Kennett homes. The three grandchildren took part in the Lions Walkathon.

Mrs. A. Thompson returned home from Lady Minto hospital to enjoy Easter with some members of her family. Susan and David Conway of Duncan who also walked the distance in the walkathon, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Thompson and four children of Murrayville enjoyed the change of scenery.

Mrs. Ted Adam's Easter guests were her brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. T. Smith of Calgary, Alberta.

Weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. Petapiece of North Beach Road was Mrs. Tom Gordon of New Westminster. Later guests were daughter Helen and husband, Keith Scott, of Prince George.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waterfall travelled to North Vancouver to spend Easter with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Waterfall.

The brant are gathering in large numbers in Trincomali Channel in preparation for their migration north.

The other TV commercial that sickens me is the child brought into hospital with a restriction in the windpipe. While the child suffers, the announcer sells insurance. Who cares whether the kid dies as long as you buy a policy?

Nicholas Humphreys is home from his studies in Vancouver. Why not cancel out the long summer vacation, he was asked, attend classes throughout those months and graduate that much sooner in view of the lack of work for students? He jeered at the suggestion. "And be unemployed that much sooner?" he asked.

Easter Bunny bring lots of candy? Got a good slogan for the people who make Easter candies, "The teeny-weeny candy in the great big box!" And any of the manufacturers are welcome to use it without a credit line.

The gardeners of Fulford expressed regret at the disappearance of two hawthorn trees near the ferry wharf. When I was in school we called the same tree "Bread-and-cheese" and on the way to and from school we ate handfuls of the leaves. It never tasted like bread or cheese but it never killed us either.

Peter Cartwright was up in arms against the rain last week. As a spokesman for two water districts, he should be the last man to knock a few rainclouds. Trouble is that when they moved the Salt Spring Lands office building they tried to knock the waterworks office off the back end. The office stayed, but the effect was to let the rain in. Now Peter and his staff feel about the rain much as some rate-payers feel about St. Mary Lake water. Neither is overly popular when it gets too far away from its proper place.

ADVERTISING

British Columbia has taken a firm stand on liquor and tobacco advertising. Both are out in the province. Restriction on advertising the commodities is vaunted as a means of reducing their consumption.

In the light of recent years' investigations, it would be difficult to argue that either is likely to make a material contribution to mankind. The only legitimate criticism seems to be that if the government is honest in its opposition to their use, the mere restriction on advertising, with no effort to restrict its use lacks courage.

DRIFTWOOD is not directly affected by the ban. Neither commodity has been advertised in this newspaper for a number of years.

The danger of this new legislation may be in terms of its application to publications from outside the province.

The British Columbia government would be following separatist policy if this legislation were intended to restrict the sale of extra-provincial literature. As British Columbians we have the privilege of commending or condemning the party that has imposed this restriction. As Canadians, we must be entitled to the publications from other parts of Canada and the provincial government should make its stand clear on this point.

There has been much comment from the various advertising media on the subject of the advertising ban. There has been some reaction from the general public. Majority of the silent province has said nothing.

They have no views on the consumption of booze: they only holler when it costs them a dollar.

Letters to the Editor

THAT IS THE POINT!

Editor, Driftwood,
The time and effort spent by Mrs. Javorski in making known her observations on the aims and endeavours of the Planning Association are exactly what that body is trying to encourage amongst all Islanders.

We wish that everyone share her belief that more people should attend its meetings. Further, there is good sense in her cautioning that one may get what one asks for. It can also be added that, through apathy, one may get what one neither asks for, nor wants.

Ecotastrophes, for example, are not planned. One does not ask for them, but one has the right to ask that they be averted. It seems to me that people who have moved here "to be left alone" have a right to ask that thought be given to maintaining this environmental privacy and serenity they presently enjoy. They have a right to request conservation of the natural assets which attracted them to the island. They have a right to encourage all efforts that will keep disruption of their natural environment to a minimum. Houses, stores, schools, churches, hospitals, billboards, signs, blacktop, polluted shores, foul air, scarred hillsides are a few of the ways we disrupt our environment. Some of these are essential disruptions but, still thoughtful attention can be given to blending or harmonizing them with the landscape or sea view.

The Planning Association is not a legislative body, nor does it seek to usurp the prerogatives of the individual. It does hope, through defined studies, to provide guidelines and solutions that will be of use to the community, individually and collectively.

LAKE RESTRICTIONS

Editor, Driftwood,
I believe there is to be a public discussion of possible controls of lake use on Salt Spring Island, to be held on May 3.

It is possible that a letter of mine to the Parks and Recreation Committee of the Salt Spring Island Planning Association, written some weeks ago, may be mentioned at this meeting. I would like other Islanders to be aware of the contents of my letter in advance of the meeting, in case they wish to comment on the ideas put forward.

Here is the text of my letter to the Planning Association.

Gentlemen:
Could I please clarify my position on the proposed control of power boats on Salt Spring Island lakes.

Firstly, I would like to say that my contention that power boats should be banned on St. Mary Lake is in no way due to objections to the boats now in use by several friends and neighbors, either in terms of noise, pollution or safety of operation. The few dangerously handled boats I have encountered have been on the lake during the summer months, and evidently handled by visitors unfamiliar with our shoreline.

Secondly, my fear is for the future of St. Mary Lake, rather than the present. It seems to me that fifteen or twenty high powered boats would crowd the lake to the point of frustration and danger. Both life around the lake, and swimming or small-boating on the lake would become much less pleasant than now.

Thirdly, could I come forward with a positive suggestion? In my view St. Mary Lake would be ideal for the use of a large number of small sailboats. A Salt Spring Island Sailing Squadron (9ft up to at least a hundred vessels) could be handled on the lake without danger or frustration. It could be a major tourist attraction, fitting in nicely with the theme of "restful retreat" which is the only unusual attraction we could hope to offer.

If the present tourist facilities around the lake were involved in such a scheme they could benefit by a continual influx of desirable patrons through a large part of the year. Sailing could be virtually year-round.

A Commodore could coordinate the operation of a sailing squadron on a fulltime basis when the scheme became far enough advanced.

Fourthly: Should such a scheme become a reality it might be possible to induce one or several of the present powerboat operators to maintain their vessels as patrol or rescue vessels, so that in effect they would not be deprived of an activity which may well have been one of their reasons for locating on St. Mary Lake.

Fifthly It may be reasonable to introduce a limit rather than a ban on power. Small trolling motors for fishing would not hamper the operation of sailboats.

I hope these comments will be of interest to your committee.

The work you are doing is appreciated.

MYSTERY OF THE GONE BUNNIES

BY MARY BACKLUND

The case of the disappearing Easter Bunny.

Some families make Easter and all of the traditions fit all age groups. They not only hide eggs and other goodies for the children, but the children hide a huge bunny for the parents.

One family we know, who are scattered over the lower Mainland and Victoria, all gather at their home on Galiano for Easter. They still go through the tradition of hiding eggs for the younger ones.

This year, the children decided to make it a little easier for their elder relatives. They didn't hide the bunnies very well, so that they were clearly visible from the main highway near their Gulf Side home. So off they go to church, on this glorious Easter Sunday.

When they returned, the bunnies were gone!

It was disappointing and they felt very badly all around. Later they all went out again along the twisty road to downtown Galiano. The Easter bunnies had reappeared! There they were sitting right where they had been hidden. It later proved

DID YOU KNOW?

"The passion of the (North) American fathers and mothers is to lift children to higher opportunities than they themselves enjoyed. It burns like a flame in us as a people. Kindled in our country by its first pioneers, who came here to better the opportunities for their children rather than themselves, passed on from one generation to the next, it has never dimmed or died." *

Many parents who agree completely with such an opinion still regard the schools their children attend as almost perfect replicas of the schools they themselves attended. Like the customer in the store who requests a name product that he has used with satisfaction, some parents would like to see a familiar pattern of education continued. Changes in the pattern of teaching or revision of academic content must offer the parent something better for his child. Naturally! Everyone involved with changes in your school district - administrators, teachers, trustees, parent organizations - is anxious to inform you of changes in the educational programme. Progress stems from your understanding and knowledge of these matters.

Once again we welcome your questions on any school matter. Please, do not hesitate. Information is yours for the asking.

OVER 175 VISITORS

SHOW SHOWS AND SELLS

BY ELSIE BROWN

It wasn't the glow from the sun, since it was hiding behind a cloud, that created the warm atmosphere at the community hall on Saturday between the hours of 1:30 and 9 pm, it was the wonderful array of art work, oils, water colors and sketches which adorned the walls and screens.

The general concensus was that the show gave a very good sample of work being done by the Mayne Island Art Club. More than 20 paintings were sold and all the hasti-notes were gone by 4 pm, after which orders were taken.

Orders for oils and water colors are being placed and Mrs. Roy Betts is in charge of that.

Responsible for the whole venture is Mrs. Ron Mitchell who has been conducting art classes on Mayne Island during the past two years.

More than 175 islanders and visitors saw the display during the day and were very impressed.

At the door were Mrs. Bruce Shuldes and Mrs. Johnnie DeRousie. Mrs. John Rainsford and Mrs. Stu Fry were in charge of hanging and arranging pictures; Mrs. Mitchell offering suggestions. In charge of hasti-notes was Mrs. Vic Haggart.

All members of the group contributed a scene, flower design, or Mayne Island historical site sketch to the collection of notes.

Mrs. Roy Crispin was recovering from the flu so lost out on an assignment for the day and with Mrs. John Dought, assisted in hostess duties.

In charge of the tea or coffee were Mrs. Grace Evans, assisted by daughter Heather and Mrs. Hugh Campkin. It was a chance to meet the summer people and be brought up-to-date on the latest happenings, as well as to discuss the merits of the work on display.

Assisting the members of the group were husbands, John Rainsford, Ron Mitchell and Vic Haggart who made the screens and helped with heavier work which was very much appreciated.

DOUGLAS TO SPEAK

T. C. Douglas, MP for Nanaimo and the Islands, will be guest speaker at the annual dinner of Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce on May 7.

The local member of parliament and leader of the New Democratic Party will speak of matters of close concern to islanders.

Salt Spring Lands Ltd., has moved its home. For many years the office was located between the Bank of Montreal and Mouat's. Last week the building was moved across the road to the property by the barber shop.

Ganges contractor Nels Volden undertook the move and the building crossed the road at night to avoid traffic problems.

TO MAYNE ISLAND
Ferries Full For Easter

BY ELSIE BROWN

It would be impossible to assess the number of islanders and visitors who came and went via B.C. Ferries over the Easter weekend. It must have been a good number.

Ferry personnel, Tommy Burgess, Ron Cunningham, and Ron Mitchell were busy as beavers at their various posts dealing with both cars and foot passengers, and we hear it has been almost as busy all winter. Where do they all go after they disembark? They seem to melt into the scenery.

Coming events for the rest of April include the following:
 Saturday, April 17, Spring Flower Show, United Church Hall, Ganges, Salt Spring Island 2-4:30 pm sponsored by Salt Spring Island Garden Club. All persons wishing to attend, phone Marjorie Haggart or Grace Evans for details. Ferry leaves Mayne Island at 11 am (Sechelt Queen).
 Saturday, April 24, Flower Show, Community Hall, 1:30 pm sponsored by Agricultural Society convener, Marjorie Haggart; judges: Mr. and Mrs. P.G. James Tea will be served.

Mrs. Alex Mussick was admitted to Lady Minto Hospital last Wednesday. We understand she is making satisfactory progress.

Miss Pat James who was discharged from hospital after receiving treatment for complications due to flu is recuperating in Vancouver. Substituting in her absence from the school has been Mrs. Meg Drummond.

The Spring Cleaning Brigade met at the church last Wednesday and gave it a good going over. Window washers outside were John Rainsford and daughter, Maggie. Dealing with cobwebs, dirty windows and manipulating vacuum cleaners indoors were Nancy Rainsford, Ivy Slinn, Clara James and Elsie Brown. Assorted stepladders were supplied by Jesse Brown. Tea, as it should be, was served by Wynne Minty, a welcome break. (Higher stepladders and taller men are required to reach the ceiling). Don Vigurs was busy building a bookcase and counter in the vestry, a much needed facility.

Water color paintings of the church have been done by Kathleen Dought and they are very attractive. The St. Mary Magdalene church must be the most photographed point of interest on the island.

It would be impossible to list the week enders visiting their summer homes over the past Easter week end but among them were the John Benistons with their visitors, Oyster Bay; Bayview Drive, the John Mundies, the Jeffries, the Jack Murdocks, the Alan Cheeks; Mt. Parke Estates, the Vince Bilstons, Heinz Ehligs, the George HARRISES, Ted Moultons, Roy McLeods, Campbell Bay, the Nigel Phillips, the Lockies; Bennett Bay, the Dr. Hankinsons; Horton Bay, Alan Thackrays, John Rolfes.

Spending the Easter holiday at their trailer at Village Bay are Mrs. G.E. Bradley with daughter, Jayne. With them was Jayne's friend Kelly Emson of Vancouver. Mr. Bradley returned to Vancouver on Sunday.

Visiting the Jack Murdocks, Bayview Drive, were Mrs. Murdock's brother and sister-in-law and family, Mr. and Mrs. P.G. Martin of Tacoma. Greg Martin went in swimming on Good Friday; he reported it was warmer than the water down in the USA. His sisters didn't attempt the cool plunge. Hope they make a return visit when it is warmer.

Visiting the Vic Haggarts we were daughter and son-in-law, Linda and Alex Carey and daughter, Deanne of Burnaby. Deanne was looking forward to an Easter Egg Hunt she planned to attend on the mainland.

Visiting the Jesse Browns, Cherry Tree Bay were sister-in-law, Mrs. Art Brown and daughter Laurel of Coquitlam formerly of New Westminster and sister Miss Irene Coates of Vancouver. Also visiting were Surrey friends Maurice and Etta Reitz, recent property owners and daughter and son-in-law "Scottie" and Marietta Ashton, Surrey. Niece Laurel had to do a three-minute-mile down the causeway after letting mother and aunt off at the terminal. Has lots of practice racing down the aisle looking after passengers for Air Canada.

A guest of the Ron Mitchells, Gallagher Bay, was Joyce's mother, Mrs. B. Johnson of Victoria. Also home for the holiday were Andy, Bruce and Laurie.

PENDER INSTITUTE MAKES PREPARATION FOR FLOWER SHOW

Regular monthly meeting of the Pender Island Women's Institute was held in the Community Hall at Port Washington, with 17 members and three visitors present. Mrs. A.A. Grimes, the president was in the chair.

Mrs. Grimes introduced two visitors Mrs. Isaacs and Mrs. Delves from Vancouver.

A letter was read from the secretary, Miss Marion McKechnie who is on her way to England with a two-week stay in Ontario before leaving on the Empress of Canada from Montreal.

Mrs. Jean Russell, Agriculture convener, discussed the coming Flower Show on April 24. The convener reported that the school children were to make posters to be judged and prizes to be given. It was planned to ask Mrs. Murray of Port Washington to judge the posters.

Mrs. H. Grimmer moved that the suggestion of Mrs. Claxton that the prize of a book on B.C. Wild Flowers be given to each winner in the senior and junior rooms.

Mrs. Murray of Port Washington assisted by her friend Mrs. Morrison of Vancouver gave a fascinating and most helpful demonstration of flower arranging.

Two pieced quilts, two baby quilts, a beautifully dressed doll and many smaller articles were shown by the sewing convener for the Fall Bazaar.

A man's beautiful sweater was given for raffle at the Flower Show.

THEY SEEK NO WORK

X-Kalay Explains Its Plans at Open House on Saturday

X-Kalay employs no staff and its members seek no employment in the community.

On Saturday evening founder of the X-Kalay organization outlined the operation to a score or so of Salt Spring Island residents who had attended the first open house offered on Salt Spring Island by the new rehabilitation group.

Speaking for X-Kalay was Dave Berner co-founder and a diligent worker for the past four years.

The members are their own staff, he explained and they work for the foundation.

Before Mr. Berner spoke, the visitors were given a brief outline of the activities of X-Kalay.

Three men started the foundation. They were Mr. Berner and two native Indians, the audience was told. They rented a house in the Point Grey area of Vancouver and within days the house was full. From the rental of that home and a bank balance of $160, the foundation has grown into a national operation with resources of thousands of dollars. In the Vancouver area X-Kalay has a residence, a service station, a beauty salon and a pen advertising company.

"We still have a sense of humour," commented Mr. Berner, "the company's name is the B. C. Pen."

Revenues from these activities with gifts and grants enable the foundation to find opportunity for its 85 members.

Last week the Manitoba government made a grant of $7,000 to X-Kalay to enable it to open a new branch in Winnipeg.

The foundation has acquired Vesuvius Hotel on lease with the option to purchase, stated the speaker.

He had seen the advertisement for the hotel on the mainland and had promptly negotiated for it.

What would the foundation do with it, he was asked.

He suggested that John Smith, of Vancouver, could have a summer home on Salt Spring Island. The hotel is Mr. X-Kalay's island home, he said. It is intended for a quiet escape from the city and will also bring in revenue.

Group of social workers are planning a convention at the hotel next month. The coffee shop is very much an afterthought. The first day they opened the hotel there were so many asking for coffee they set up the coffee shop and earned $10, he reported.

Few of the visitors were critical and the majority appeared to be interested in the function of the foundation.

Staffers and visitors sat around in small groups after the address.

...Over the years... Salt Spring Islanders, amongst others from all over the province, have walked around in good sturdy work boots purchased at from $1.50 a pair to $3.50 (extra sturdy men's work boots) from the T. Eaton Co. Ltd. Even $1.25 would buy men's 'favorite working boots'.

Good, heavy cowhide leather and Dongola leather - today men's footwear would range anywhere from $13.50 to $24.50, and probably be nowhere near as durable.

But in 1901, prices were unbelievable. Ladies' shoes ranged from $1.20 to $2 per pair; high button boots went as high as $4. Even $1, would purchase a good pair of boots for man, woman or child in 1901 and thereabouts.

With the price of one pair of men's pants today, a man could have outfitted himself in a suit, shirt, hat (fedora), in fact, all he needed, say for $10, $12 or $15, and have change left over!

Let's see, a Navy blue, all-wool serge suit $3.50; wool cashmere sweater 75¢; fedora felt hat $1; shirt, white, 50¢; tie 12¢; throw in a bathing suit?

O.K....25¢; handkerchiefs, cheaper by the dozen, 8 for 25¢ fine wool summer underwear, so help me, $1.50 each;

Men's cashmere socks were 50¢ a pair; white kid gloves, for 50¢ no kidding! fancy a top hat? cost you $4, and silk at that. An umbrella cost about 50¢, maybe 75¢. All for a little over $10.

Today pay some $18 for a pair of pants, more if you are fussy, less if you like, but not much less.

Ladies had much the same fun with a $10 bill but their dresses ran a little higher - about $7.50 to $10 for French print or organdy fancy afternoon dresses; $15 more or less, for street dresses; $3.50 for a cape; hats, $2, $5 and $10, some for $1.50. Straight front, steel filled corsets, $1 (about the cheapest of women's unmentionables). Petticoats $1.70 up. Lots of frills, tucks and lace.

We'll skip the rest, but the woman was the more costly to clothe.

Did you ever have the fun of going to a 15¢ store with a dollar or even less? You could buy enough nice gifts to go around the family and have a few cents left over for a treat. The dollar has gone far out of sight in value and today's financier talks in the realms of millions and billions. No paltry hundreds for him - that too, seems almost a thing of the past.

But back at Eaton's in the early 1900's, people were having a field-day, buying all they needed for what seems today like a few pennies.

Candies could be bought at from 5¢ to 15¢ per pound. Chocolates 30¢ a pound.

And if you had horses, and most people did in the early 1900's, you could buy a saddle for $1.85 to $5. Cuspids ranged from 50¢ to 75¢. Men's hockey sticks were 20¢ each, maybe 35¢.

Kitchen ranges, looking like beautiful furniture with all the fancy deco, ranged from $21.50 to $37.50. A Sterling silver tea set, teapot, jug and sugar basin, in case, $40; without case, $36.50. The price on furniture was out of this world!

This is just to show what one could do today if one managed to get into a store with 1901 prices.

If T. Eaton Co. put on a sale for just half a day, cutting their prices on everything back to the 1901 standard, they would have a sell-out; probably would go broke on such a venture but think what fun the people could have! But with the bad shopping manners of today, there would most likely be a riot and the store would be wrecked.

A pity - we might have talked Eaton's into it as a Centennial '71 project.

LEGISLATURE

The legislature passed bills to ensure pollution controls for new industries establishing in the province, to protect rare and endangered species of wildlife, to set up ecological reserves in areas where rare animals, plants or geological formations are found, to restrict hunting from all-terrain vehicles, to accelerate park development, to restrict further pollution from automobiles and ensure that British Columbia's water resource and prime land does not fall into foreign control.

The House unanimously passed a motion against the proposal to ship crude oil from Alaska to Washington state by oil tanker.

The government brought down legislation to set up a perpetual fund of $25 million out of provincial surplus for a program of education, rehabilitation and prevention in the fields of drug addiction, alcoholism and smoking.

It followed this up towards the end of the session with companion legislation to ban all advertising of liquor and tobacco in the province.

This legislation would for the first time make illegal the advertising of liquor, including beer and wine, in newspapers. It has been banned by any other medium since 1953. Advertising in all media of cigarettes, cigars and other tobacco products will be banned from September 1.

Other legislative measures passed this session included regulations for compulsory examination and treatment of communicable diseases in British Columbia.

The government may now set patient rates charged by private hospitals and nursing homes.

Manufacture, sale and advertisement of synthetic food products will be controlled. It will prevent the advertising of synthetic foods by using words, or diagrams which indicate the product is a natural one.

The budget also imposed a five per cent hotel and motel room tax.

The Premier pledged while announcing the tax changes, the creation of 25,000 new jobs in British Columbia by October 1, and announced the creation or increasing of funds to aid this objective.

An extra $20 million will be taken from provincial surplus to replenish the provincial home acquisition grant fund which provides grants and mortgages for those buying homes for the first time. Legislation was introduced later in the session to continue the $500 grant or $2,500 second mortgage provided by the British Columbia government for purchase of older or existing homes--a program which was to have expired March 31.

Another diversion of surplus was for a $5 million increase to the crop insurance stabilization fund to help farmers suffering from crop failures. The government also set aside another $7 million for civil service salary increases in the coming year.

For municipalities the session saw a drop in the local government's share of the social assistance bill from 20 per cent to 15 per cent.

Changes in municipal legislation during the session provided that a standard housing by-law shall be applied to all municipalities in the province, that local governments in remote areas may operate cable television stations, that requirements for passage of local by-laws and for a successful vote on amalgamation by two municipalities shall be easier, and that zoning regulations shall be simplified to allow councils to approve large over-all development plans with specific provision for public land.

DOUGLAS AT X-KALAY

On Monday afternoon T. C. Douglas, M.P., paid a visit to X-Kalay at Vesuvius.

He met the executive secretary, Dave Berner, the local director, Luis Melina, and many of the residents over coffee.

He was impressed with their program and aspirations, said the NDP leader.

MUCH TO BE UNDERTAKEN

By SPECtator

The new Salt Spring Island SPEC executive met on Tuesday and the talk was fast and furious. There is so much to be done.

Immediate projects include the testing of the shellfish on the shores of the island, the study of the eutrophication of the island lakes, the establishment of an island conservation reference library, pesticide and herbicide pick-up program, and a study of the feasibility of a garbage recycling.

For May 1, on the Saturday morning, SPEC is planning a Spring Clean-up in the Ganges area. SPEC members will be on hand, of course, but we'd surely like help from everyone who can spare a Saturday morning. You will be hearing more about this next week.

Many other matters were discussed:

How to establish closer links with the SPEC or Community groups on Pender, Mayne, Galiano and Saturna...together we stand firmer;

How to spread news of SPEC activities in the rest of B.C. so that SPEC members here can give their support in province-wide environmental issues;

How to get more facts about the Crofton pollution problem - just how serious is it?

In connection with the Pesticide Pickup, we'll be printing a list of dangerous chemicals and Les Ramsey at the Ganges Pharmacy will receive them for disposal. If you've got poison in the potting shed, we'll be glad to get rid of it before it gets rid of you. Sometime near the end of April, P. G. James will address an open meeting on the subject of Pesticides and Herbicides, under the sponsorship of Adult Education, the date and place to be announced in DRIFTWOOD soon. And speaking of herbicides, we were delighted to learn that the Department of Highways is no longer spraying the road verges with weed-killer.

The meeting went beyond the talk of garbage, sewage and contamination to talk more cheerfully of converting fat to soap as a home industry, and grinding bones to meal which our island soils need. And, of course, we discussed the elementary conservation measures which apply to all of us: walk... turn off the lights... don't waste water... write to your M.L.A... go to Planning Committee meeting... clean up a park... learn the facts about pollution... don't buy it... use it again... make compost... shop with a string bag... use linen napkins... JOIN SPEC. To join SPEC send $6 - single membership or $8 - family membership, to Mike Larmour, Ganges, and phone or mail your SPECial ideas to us.

Go ahead and buy that new home you've always wanted.

We'll be glad to help with a $1000 Home Acquisition Grant or $5000 Second Mortgage Loan.

Go ahead and look around. We can make it easier for you to buy a new home of your choice or build one by providing an outright $1000 Home Acquisition Grant or a $5000 Second Mortgage Loan that may be used as part or all of your down payment.

To qualify: You must be the first occupant of the new home and must have lived in British Columbia for 12 months immediately preceding the date of purchase or completion of construction.

The Loan can equal but cannot exceed the difference between the cost of the property and the first mortgage. Previous British Columbia Government Annual Home-owner Grants will be deducted from the $1000 Grant, but not if you choose a Second Mortgage Loan.

Interest lower than on Federal N.H.A. first mortgages

If payments are made promptly there will be an annual refund of up to 10%, reducing the effective interest rate on a 25-year Second Mortgage Loan to 7½%. For example, the monthly payment on a $5000, 25-year Second Mortgage Loan is $41.00 but the 10% refund would in effect reduce this to $36.90.

All mortgages Fully Insured—without extra charge

If the borrower who is the principal supporter of the family dies, the Government of British Columbia will forgive the remaining debt. There is no charge for this insurance—nor are there any application, legal or registration fees or charges.

Annual Home-owner Grants reduce your property taxes

Once you have purchased your new home you become eligible for the British Columbia Government Home-owner Grant of up to $170 annually—an important factor in helping to reduce the amount of your property taxes.

SAILING REGATTA IS PLANNED

Students on Salt Spring Island, under the enthusiastic direction of their instructor, Laurie Neish are busy putting the finishing touches to their sabot sailing dinghies.

The feverish activity is prompted by the planned sailing regatta to be held in Ganges Harbour May 24 holiday week-end.

Laurie hopes to have at least 15 boats in the water and ready for racing by this date. The students will be competing for prizes and the "Warren Hastings Trophy" which will be awarded annually for student racing-sailing competition. The boats are being built by the students during their school term.

FULFORD

BY BEA HAMILTON

I hope everyone had a Happy Easter week even if the weather didn't. A little snow, a little frost, little sunshine and a glorious Monday anyway! I celebrated by ousting a pair of starlings (I hope) from the swallow's birdhouse. The starling found it could just squeeze through the entrance so I hammered a board across to leave the swallows room and hope things will work out. I'm not a good carpenter but didn't dare call a carpenter at the risk of being laughed at. Besides, my work was cheaper. It looks it. I hope the swallows don't mind.

Mrs. Simons says they are going to meet again at the Children's Park on Sunday at 1 p.m. to get into action on the grounds.

It would be nice and helpful if many able-bodied people could turn up again with tools of their trade (don't ask me to do any carpentering - my thumb's still sore from the last project bird-house mentioned above). Summer should be here by July 31 and everything has to be in ship-shape order before that date, so if you can come to the tidy-up, please do. The Centennial work committee will be grateful, and the children will love you. Sunday next at 1 p.m.

We noticed many people in their summer cottages over the holiday, - Mr. and Mrs. Harold Page and family from Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Constable from Vancouver way. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson and family, Mrs. Muriel Archer came to visit her father, Mr. Hugh Smith, all along the Isabella Point road. Mr. and Mrs. Ken McLean were over to visit Mrs. McLean's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Slingby, for the Easter holidays.

Mr. Paul Horsdal of Ottawa, is spending a few days at the Horsdal residence at Weston Lake.

Mrs. B. Dibb and daughter, Julie, from Surrey are on the Island for a visit in the Beaver Point district.

The bark Delaware made a "fast" trip from San Francisco to Victoria in November, 1865. The journey took eight days, averaging 100 miles a day.

FLU HITS AT EASTER SERVICES

The church was shining to match the faces of those who attended the Easter Service conducted by Rev. O. Foster, Sunday afternoon at St. Mary Magdalene church on Mayne.

Spring flowers from Mayne Island gardens were arranged on the altar and window sills by members of the Altar Guild, who had spent the previous Wednesday with scrub brush, broom and window cleaner in preparation for the Easter Day.

The lovely spring weather brought out many weekenders but the flu laid low many regular attendants. Mrs. Nancy Jones who hadn't missed one service during the winter, was among the missing.

Mr. Foster gave a short message of welcome and his Easter message was followed with traditional Easter hymns.

Following the service a photo was taken of the congregation. It will be adding to the historical booklet on Mayne Island.

Galiano

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Denroche are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a granddaughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Robin Denroche, in Calgary, - Tania Lee, on March 31. She weighed 6 lbs. 12 oz. All are doing well, says Grandma, including grandparents and Great-Grandma, Mrs. M.D. Brawn, who lives near the Denroches.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gillmar have arrived back at their Valley home after spending the winter months in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Hume are home again after being in Victoria where Mr. Hume spent 2 months in veteran's hospital, and 2 months recuperating at their son's home - Mr. and Mrs. Rich Hume.

Mr. and Mrs. C.O. Twiss spent several days in Victoria having just returned from a trip south for two months, both looking well and happy. We are sorry to note that many of our friends have been ill with the flu bug during the past weeks; Earl Young has been ill also both Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lee and Maury Lupton.

Easter services at St. Margaret of Scotland were attended by a record crowd, the church decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. Foster played the organ and instead of a sermon, Mr. Foster greeted the people with wishes for a "most blessed Eastertime".

Galiano Lodge was full to overflowing for the week end. Among their guests for Easter, were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Easter with their two children, from Vancouver. Charlie lived on Galiano several years ago, and they visited many friends on the Island. Guests enjoyed coloring eggs, and searching for goodies, all over the lodge grounds, and a hunt was held inside the dining room for the grownups.

SUNDAY MAGAZINE

Sunday Magazine, heard Sundays at 9:03 a.m. EST, is one of CBC Radio's top-rated programs. Now in its tenth year, this weekly news documentary has been termed one of "the most outstanding series of broadcast journalism on radio today". Hosted by Jim Chorley and Bruce Rogers (shown above), Sunday Magazine is an outstanding example of the immediacy that only radio can bring to news reportage. Its incisive reports on the world behind the headlines, coupled with actuality segments provide listeners with a fast-moving and accurate picture of the events that make history.

There were two dances for the crowds of people to go to, one at the Galiano Hall, at the south end and another at North Galiano hall, both enjoyed by many people.

On Wednesday morning, a bake sale will be held at Zala's Corner Store proceeds to go to the Altar Guild of the church of St. Margaret of Scotland.

On Thursday evening, a film night will be offered at Galiano Hall and on Saturday, the annual rummage sale will take place for the Ladies' Service Guild.

CENTENNIAL MEMO -- Dr. Robert W.W. Carrall, active supporter of British Columbia's entry into Confederation, was born in Woodstock, Ontario.

EWE LAMB IN THE SNOW

Stagger swollen as the world, ewe that swallowed the moon, blind as the night mother.

Who cries?

And the soft wool comes, comes down shy into the earth's mild ear, into the huge hug of its silence: The soft wool torn from the first lamb of last winter, from the cloudy breath of birth's flesh; torn as the mother's eyes were:

Night's flint, the raven's black beak, a flash struck off the steel wind.

Who cries?

And the soft wool comes, comes down to mingle with the milk missed by the early blossom of late winter: the lamb's hunger, that wobbly body's pink rose of grape.

Who cries?

It is the wound and her lamb left on the sky's steep thorns:

Coat of milk rich soft wool that comes, comes down over her to keep all flesh away from dawn's blood-taloned wind

Stagger swollen as the world, ewe that swallowed the moon, blind as the night mother.

-Todd Carney.

People have been accusing me of not liking long hair. I actually like it on ladies or as a beard and am jealous of the ones who have it but we sure like to see it CLEAN and COMBED. Over a trillion compound aspirin tablets have been sold over the years but now, just in case the dodo birds might be affected, they have cut out one of the ingredients. Some joker looking for a bit of notoriety now says aspirin itself is very dangerous but not to whom, maybe the passenger pigeons? Also if you "LAUGH" too much you might get a heart attack. Cheer up folks, you can still drink water or can you?

There once was a politician so hale,
Who got caught in the mouth of a whale.

He looked all about
Crying, "Frank, cut it out
Or there'll be no more ads in your mail!"

From the ridiculous to the sublime. Our wee kirk was beautifully decorated this Easter Sunday. Mim Marj. Blaine had done the job all by herself as the rest of the ladies were busy selling at the bake sale. With armful of daffs and wild red currant bushes sprigs it was a work of taste and elegance.

CENTENNIAL MEMO -- David Douglas, whose name was given to the Douglas Fir, died at the age of 35 when he fell into a wild cattle pit in Honolulu and was gored to death.

GARDEN CLUB

BY PETE MOSS

With planting time coming toward us gardeners with seven-league boots, the Garden Club program for April 21 meeting should prove timely.

Four well-known gardeners will form a panel to share their experiences with the rest of us. They will each speak briefly on a specific subject and then answer questions from the floor.

Mrs. Mary Mollet will share her knowledge of summer vegetables; Marc Holmes will speak on winter vegetables. Mrs. Ruby Alton's subject is small fruits. Jack James will share his extensive experience in growing tomatoes and onions. Mrs. Elsie Macdonald will act as moderator.

Meeting will take place April 21 at 8 p.m. in the United Church upper hall. Visitors are welcome.

TOMMY DOUGLAS AT SALT SPRING

RETIRING IS LIKE YOUR OWN FUNERAL

Tesimonial dinner for T. C. Douglas was held on Monday evening at the Salt Spring Island Golf Club. Gulf Islands NDP Club arranged the dinner for the member of Parliament for Nanaimo and the Islands. Mr. Douglas is the retiring party leader.

At the head table were Mr. Douglas, Ray Vickery, local president; Lannie Howard, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Howard; Rev. Fred Anderson, who said the blessing, and Mrs. Anderson.

Mr. Vickery introduced Mr. Douglas.

The guest of honor who has been entertained and feted from coast to coast in recent months, said that retiring is like attending one's own funeral.

He spoke at length on the problems of pollution, making particular reference to the supertanker route from Alaska. He suggested that local citizens must act by pressuring the government to amend the Canada Shipping Act. Declaration of a 100-mile Pollution Control Zone along the Pacific and Atlantic coasts is the answer. Canada established that zone last year in the Arctic, he recalled.

No ships carrying pollutants should be allowed in unless the ship had first passed regulations with respect to navigational aids filing of route and other details.

Precedent exists for unilateral action, asserted the speaker. This is shown by Peru, Chile and the United States, he added.

DANCING WILL FOLLOW

It was a sop to conservationists, charged the NDP leader of the recent Ottawa statements about the Skagit Valley flooding.

The Criminal Code must be amended to make polluting the air, water or soil a criminal offence and punishable as such.

"We are facing critical times," Mr. Douglas said. "A severe economic recession exists. There are three-quarters of a million unemployed.

"It is remarkable that West Germany, which we helped to defeat, 25 years ago, has one per cent unemployment and will this year be giving work to thousands of Canadian youths."

A vigorous question period followed, during which education, prison reform, hospitals, and constitutional revision were discussed.

Invasion of privacy demanded by the 1971 census provisions, and the War Measures Act came up for discussion.

Mrs. Rita Dods was thanked for her smorgasbord.

END OF PROGRAM FOR FIREMEN AND CHILDREN

Mayne Island Volunteer Fire Department wound up its winter fire department program at a party for the school children at the firehall on April 9. Parents were included in the invitation.

This program was conducted by Neil Imrie, with lectures, movies and drills on fire prevention.

The children of the school also participated in a poster contest on fire prevention, the winning posters to be entered in a national contest. The posters were judged by Mrs. Joyce Mitchell and Gordon Ducklow.

Winners were: senior, 1, David Smith; 2, Jennifer Meldrum; 3, Linda Lane; junior, 1, Robert Shortreed; 2, Gordon Whittner.

Over 25 children attended the party at the fire hall, where games were enjoyed by the children under the direction of Neil Imrie. Included was an Easter Egg hunt. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ken Halvorson, who was responsible for a monster Easter cake. Mrs. Jack Ruck also assisted by was unable to be present due to illness, of daughter Joy.

Fire Chief Jim Ross reported that it was a most enjoyable evening and was a fitting end to a successful season for the series of lectures on fire prevention.

PUNCTUATED TO DEATH

Report from Mayne Island last week was fatally punctuated.

Due to the conglomeration of commas and semi-colons in the Arts and Crafts account some of the workers got put in the wrong places.

Grace Evans and Elsie Brown were in charge of the Fish-Pond and made $6. They didn't help Effie Piggott with the raffles at all. Effie made almost $60

There's a difference. Gordie Whittner was the best customer.

Sophie Betts and Barbara McFarlane are now referred as Mayne Island's White Elephants Sorry about that! -E.B.

THE LIGHT TOUCH By H.J. CARLIN

To add a personal touch to her Easter cards, a friend of ours decided to have the local cards delivered by hand. She told her son he would get two cents for each card delivered. Later the boy returned. "Some people said they had enough Easter cards," he said. "Others paid two cents, and Mrs. Jones only had a nickel."

Overheard after the Walkathon: "Old age is creaking up on me"

Bartender: "Have you tried our new cocktail, Old Factory Whistle?" Customer: "Yeah, one blast and you are through the day." CALL:
