ELECTION CALL FINDS THEM READY

Malcolm Anderson... Liberal

Hugh Curtis... Conservative

T. Foster Isherwood... Socred

Eric Sherwood... NDP

DON'T TURN ROUND THERE!

Police at Ganges are looking askance at motorists who make a U-turn in the commercial area of the village.

It is against the law to turn around on the street outside DRIFTWOOD or Harbour Grocery explained Cpl. D. E. Burke this week.

Vehicles seeking to turn round should drive behind Harbour Grocery, he suggested.

U-turn can only be made at an intersection in a commercial area, according to the Motor Vehicle Act, Chapter 159.

Four candidates have been named to contest the Saanich-Islands seat in the August 30 provincial general election. Each of the major parties in the province is represented.

Conservative banner is carried by Hugh Curtis, Mayor of Saanich and chairman of the Capital Regional Board.

Liberals have named Malcolm Anderson, brother of the provincial party leader and a Saanich stockbroker.

New Democrats will stand behind Eric Sherwood, air force veteran and electronics technician.

Social Credit candidate is T. Foster Isherwood, Victoria lawyer, who edged out the incumbent, John Tisdalle at the nomination convention.

Dead Cars Are Wanted

New offer of help with old cars has been made by a Sidney car crusher. If there is sufficient response a barge will come into Ganges within the next two weeks and haul away all old hulks on the island.

Cost to the owner is $3 a car.

Only snag is that the gas tank and upholstery must be out. Collectors will take the head car from the government wharf at Ganges and it is up to the owner to deliver it there.

Stewart Steele will make the collection with a barge and crane. There is one stipulation; in order to make this plan work there must be at least 250 cars.

Malcolm Anderson, Liberal candidate in the Saanich-Islands constituency, has arranged for the use of the Ganges wharf for the project.

Owners of cars which are an eyesore or a nuisance may call DRIFTWOOD to list their contributions.

The barge will also accept metal junk, such as old stoves or appliances.

Call DRIFTWOOD, at 537-2211.

If response is small, the project will not go through.

Region Foots The Bill

— SEWER SURVEY

Updating of the Ganges sewer appraisal has been undertaken by the Capital Regional District.

Feasibility study undertaken in 1965 by Ker, Priestman, Heenan and Associates was brought up to date in 1969, when Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce was taking a further look at the drainage problem at the head of Ganges Harbour.

With emphasis on Gulf Islands School District needs in Ganges, a number of property owners in Ganges have turned again to the question of a sanitary sewer system for the community.

Marc Holmes was asked last week for assistance in the matter. On Wednesday he gained the support of the regional district in undertaking the new $300 re-appraisal.

On Friday the Salt Spring Island Planning Association was invited to sponsor the program, but members decided that it was facing a major undertaking in looking for a plan for Salt Spring Island and rejected the recommendation made by Jim Wilkinson.

Committee is examining the needs and the costs of installing sewers to serve the centre of Ganges.

GANGES DRUG STORE VICTIM

Two Robberies In Two Weeks

Ganges Pharmacy was broken into on Thursday last week during the early hours of the morning.

It was the second time in two weeks.

Pattern was almost identical.

Entry was gained by forcing a window after the door had resisted efforts of cutting through with a brace and bit. The burglars apparently came prepared with an assortment of tools.

CABLEVISION CHANGES HANDS

Salt Spring Cablevision has been sold. Operator of the relay television service for several years, R. M. Brown has sold his company to John Harrison, Victoria cablevision technician.

The island operation will be managed by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koepfel, of Woodland Drive, in the Mobrae subdivision.

Mr. Harrison is still engaged as Chief Technician of the Victoria firm. There is no link between the two operations.

Mr. Koepfel is an electronics man who will be busy on the island system. Mrs. Koepfel is already busy with the administration of the island operation. Cablevision service covers Ganges and vicinity as well as many parts of the north island.

The thieves took drugs, watches and cigarettes to the value of about $400.

RCMP at Ganges are still investigating the incident.

Outer Islands Lead Building

Building permits issued during the month of June on Salt Spring Island included seven single-family dwellings and one duplex; one commercial structure and two minor projects completed the list of 22 permits during the month.

Earlier figures released by the Capital Regional District are now broken down.

Figure was higher on the Outer Islands. There were 22 permits for single-family dwellings issued for the other islands and four permits for smaller projects.

Value on Salt Spring Island was $286,241. Outer Islands figure stood at $406,916.

During the first six months of this year there have been 92 new homes and three duplexes started among the islands. Of these, 35 are on Salt Spring Island, as well as the duplexes and 57 are on the Outer Islands. New construction among the

GABRIOLA HAS LONG ECHOES

New Liaison Advisory Planning Commission for the Gulf Islands has been proposed by David Brousson, Liberal MLA for North Vancouver-Capilano

Presenting a brief for the Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell's hearing into the Gabriola Wildwood Estates application for a land-use permit the mainland speaker suggested that such a commission would present the opportunity to all interested to take an interest in the planning of all these beautiful islands.

Their boundaries cross Regional District boundaries and the council would bring them in together.

Mr. Brousson was speaking of all the islands between Vancouver Island and the main land, and not merely the original Gulf group.

"They have in common certain peculiar and special problems, because of their rare and fragile beauty," Mr. Brousson's brief continued "and are faced with the increasing pressures of development."

Gabriola Wildwood applied for a land-use contract and was turned down by the Regional District. Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell then authorized a new hearing at which he has been chairman for several weeks.

"It would be difficult to exaggerate the importance of this particular application for development and the manner in which it is dealt with," said the brief. "It has been stated that the decisions here will set a precedent for the future development of Gabriola Island."

"Far beyond this, a precedent will be set that will greatly affect the future of all the Gulf Islands, British Columbia's inestimable chain of island jewels, and indeed, the pattern of development of many parts of our beautiful province."

Developers, planners, land owners - all are watching to see what precedents are set, what guide lines developed, said the speaker.

"The decisions you make today will echo across the developing face of British Columbia for years to come."

METHODS

Artist P. K. Bhattacharjee will be demonstrating his painting methods this Thursday, July 27, at 1 pm at the Community Arts Council's Art-Craft '72 at Mahon Hall.

Scot Clarke's display on stage as Featured Artist of the Week, will be followed by the paintings of Pender Island artist Ora Symes.

FISH DERBY SATURDAY AT GALIANO

All members of the Galiano Rod and Gun Club are working this week to make the annual fishing derby a success.

Derby will be held on Saturday, July 29 and weigh-in is at Sturdies Bay from 10 am until 3 pm, when the prizes will be given out.

A children's derby will be held on the wharf, for children under 12 years old.

It will wind up at night with a gala dance in Galiano Hall, complete with a seafood dinner cooked by George Chapman.

Music will be provided by the Weaver brothers from Lake Cowichan. President Everett Whyte is hoping for a big crowd to take part.

DEER AND CARS DON'T MIX HERE

Deer on Salt Spring Island are not only menaced by dogs. In recent weeks a fair number have been killed by cars, DRIFTWOOD learns.

Drivers are urged to take care, particularly at night. The car that hits a deer usually ends up with damage from the impact.

ONE-WAY FLIGHT TO SOUTH

One-way ticket to Los Angeles brought a Salt Spring Island couple back home the longer way round.

When Jack and Kitty Lamb spent a short holiday in California they flew south. At Patricia Bay they took a flight to Seattle, where they transferred to a Portland flight.

For two days they stayed in the Oregon city where they were entertained by friends. It was hot and air conditioning made living easier.

From Portland they flew to San Francisco and again switched to a plane for Los Angeles.

An hour after they left San Francisco a plane was hijacked and two pirates and a Canadian passenger were shot dead.

Pasadena is a beautiful city, they agreed, with its avenues of palm trees.

They visited Disneyland, although it was impossible to see everything and they spent a day watching the shooting of a film at Universal Studios.

The island couple enjoyed the Huntington Art Gallery at Pasadena, the "original home" of Thomas Gainsborough's Blue Boy.

For a short stay they went to a beach home at San Clemente stopping off at the Capistrano Mission, beloved of swallows.

Back to San Francisco, they took to the air again, to spend two days in the older city.

When the cruise ship Princess Italia called in at San Francisco they boarded and enjoyed a three-day sea voyage home.

The island couple was accompanied by Mrs. Lamb's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. P. V. O'Gorman of Calgary.

Itinerary was arranged by travel agent W. Irwin, of Vestibular Bay.

ISLAND TUB DROPS SEVEN PLACES

This is the Nelson Marine bathtub. It was the local entry in the Nanaimo Bathtub Race on Sunday, and the driver was Johnny Marcotte. The tub was sponsored by Stonecutter's Point and G. A. Middleburg's cruiser accompanied the tub during the dash across the Strait. Nelson Marine came in 81st among a field of 223 entries. Last year they were 74th in a smaller field. "We were down in place, but up in percentage," explained Steve Nelson, afterwards. Water conditions were best of all three years they have competed said Steve. Also taking part in the project was Cam Cartwright.

to be frank

By Richards

It was a radio poll. The announcer was calling the election on Monday. Radio vote went 35 NDP, 15 Social Credit and five Liberal. "Nonsense!" said a listener, "The NDP are all out picketing, the Social Credit have everything so they don't need to go out and the Liberals are all out working for the election."

It was Ellen Harkema's birthday last week, as everyone knew. At least, all the pub knew and that is nearly everybody.

Island man with ornamental hair was in Vancouver during the wee hours of the morning. He arrived in the port city too late for the night ferry and too early for the morning ferry. He made his way to the bus depot to await the first bus to Tsawwassen. Two police officers arrived at the bus depot and accosted him. They emptied his baggage on the sidewalk, stripped him to his pants and with neither explanation nor apology returned to their car and drove away.

My status was high last week when a letter arrived addressed to the "Administrative Vice-President". I proudly opened the envelope only to find an invitation to learn how to write letters. If a man can't write his own letters, how come he

RECREATION COMMISSION ACTIVITIES

SALTIES

The team put it together last Sunday and beat the Victoria All-Stars 5-2. Another game is scheduled this Sunday.

LITTLE LEAGUE

The All-Star team lost their game last Tuesday to Campbell River by a score of 7-0. This was their second loss in the double-knockout District Tournament.

SWIMMING PROGRAM

The program is in its last week with testing to take place this Friday. Red Cross standards were used this year and hopefully a full program with Red Cross examiners coming from Victoria can be set up next year. The youngsters ranged in age from four to 16.

makes vice-president?

He must have been a wood pigeon when he spent the night in the beams. A banded pigeon took over the Jim Wilkinson house on Mobrae one evening last week. He dropped in and sat on the beams in the living room. He scorned his hosts' food but accepted their shelter. Next morning he flew out as he had flown in.

Danny Akerman went fishing last week. So did Barbara Byron and Ron and Jennifer Cudmore. The water was smooth and the evening clear. Then the motor failed. And the boat leaked. When the fishermen failed to return by dark the alarm was sounded. The Air-Sea Rescue Service was alerted. Finally, the sick ship came in to port in the early hours of the morning with a crew astonished that their lateness would have aroused comment.

ENKE PLAQUE TO BE DEDICATED

Regular meeting of the Galiano Club was held in the board room, with vice-president Jim Ripley in the chair.

September 1st is the day set for the dedication of the Enke memorial plaque on the Bluffs, and it is hoped that Dr. Stephen Enke will come from Washington, D. C., for the dedication.

About 25 members of the International Dancers in Vancouver came over on July 15 and put on a demonstration at the school grounds.

They provided their own music and asked members of the audience to join them in their intricate dances. More than 50 came to watch and some stayed to dance.

It was reported that donations will be received from the Galiano Chamber of Commerce and North Galiano Community Club to help pay for the new garbage dump.

A long discussion ensued about plans for the coming arts and crafts show. It was decided that there will be no admission fee, but a silver collection will be made. A sales commission will be charged, and refreshments sold. This affair will be held on August 5 and 6. A "People's Market" will be held in the hall on Sunday.

Up Above The Totems

HISTORY OF THE PROVINCE

BY BEA HAMILTON
In the British Columbia Provincial Museum lies the history of the province: high above the Totem poles and literally "out of this world", for you glide up two long escalators, greeted en route by wooden faces from bottom to top as the carved Indian history is portrayed the length of each Totem, the Alpha and Omega probably, of each chief who carved the work of art, and of the native history in general.

The museum was opened on July 7 by Premier W.A.C. Bennett. It is the long-awaited Project '70 of the B.C. Modern History. This project, called The Galleries, took two years of construction after one year of planning. Now ready for the public it displays the provincial history from the beginning to today.

It is a curious feeling one gets up in the museum. You go backwards in time to the 1740's the gold rush, and they even let you pan for gold in one section. Children love this.

You walk over cobblestone streets and wooden pavements; freight wagons that plied the Cariboo trail in the 1890's; firearms of the early days; and the start and finish of the B.C. Telephone.

You see the weird contraptions that the telephone operators had to use - one that may well have been the old black monstrosity that old Mr. Edwards used in his store in Burgoyne Valley around the early 1900's.

The fur trade of 1841 even the replica stern part of Captain Vancouver's HMS DISCOVERY (which looked like a closed-in, royal carriage) and the historic weapons - there is more, much more and it has to be seen to be understood. It is impossible to take it all in on a short visit and it is well worth the visit.

There is more to come over the years and the hope is, said Premier Bennett, that we can go on adding history for years to come.

This is exhibit Phase I, said Recreation Minister Kenneth Kiernan, and will be followed by others. These will relate visually to the people of British Columbia and our many visitors, stories of the province's natural history, cultural, ethnology, and marine life.

The whole idea is to plan and construct permanent exhibits reflecting British Columbia's native cultures and natural history.

The director, Bristol Foster, gave an amusing and interesting talk about the museum. With Mrs. Kenneth Luton and her son, Kevin, I watched the Premier cut the ribbon and then we all walked backwards in Time.

It would be better seen without a crowd so we escalated down to ground level to come back to earth with the next cup of tea served by a charming waitress in the museum tea room. Back on the ferry, we saw Premier and Mrs. Bennett, and the Premier autographed our invitation cards, to seal the historic journey with a modern flourish.

Any person who has an hour before bus time can skip across and take in the museum and galleries. It's worth a visit.

NOW'S THE TIME

Decks are cleared already among the islands for the next provincial general election, on Wednesday, Aug. 30.

Election fever is slow in fermenting and it is unlikely the islanders will be as excited over provincial affairs as they have been in respect of regional government.

It is, nevertheless, the time to assess the islands picture. Residents who have a plea for the provincial government's assistance in island matters will stand better chance of victory now than for at least another three years.

The campaign will concern itself more sharply with affairs centring on the provincial cities. It can still concern us if we press for it.

NOW---LET'S SEE!

SAM has proved a valuable source of comment and criticism. When a group of Salt Spring Island students made an appraisal of wrecked cars and hulks on Salt Spring Island they had little idea that they were to be in the centre of a community storm.

The Island Planning Association has expressed regret that there were no funds allotted to the arrival of SAM on the island to crush the unwanted debris of a prosperous society.

Regional Director Marc Holmes and his Capital Regional Board have shared islanders' regret that the crusher cannot serve the entire district this year.

It is now opportune for islanders to decide whether they are equally enthusiastic.

A privately operated car crusher has been constructed and used at Sidney. The operators are prepared to take out all the wrecks delivered to them at Ganges wharf for a flat $3 each. The contractor will load the hulks onto a scow and crush them if Salt Spring Islanders will undertake their delivery to the wharf.

The figure of 600 such hulks has been mentioned. The contractor wants 250 to make a load.

This is the end of the road. If islanders are eager to get rid of the wrecks, now is their chance. If the response does not merit the use of equipment to take them out, then there would appear to be no real interest outside the planning association and the chamber of commerce.

Any reader who wants to rid himself of last year's model may call DRIFTWOOD to confirm his interest and his preparedness to meet the cost of getting rid of it.

HELP! HELP!

Editor, Driftwood,
May we make an appeal to your readers for some missing documents?

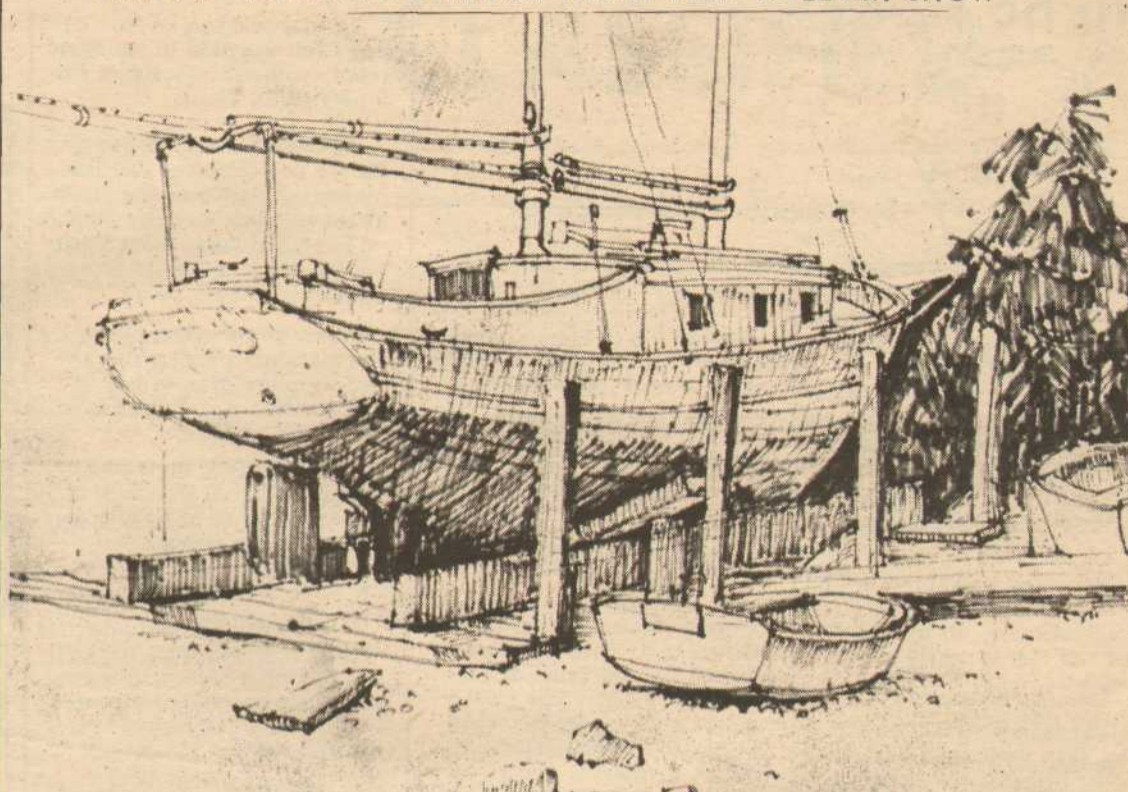

The Historical Branch of the City of Edmonton Parks and Recreation Department has been researching information about the Hudson's Bay Company Fort Edmonton as it was during the 1840's, in preparation for an authentic reconstruction of the post. Much of our knowledge of this fort in the 19th century is derived from Fort Edmonton Journals of Daily Occurrences which are now in the Hudson's Bay Company Archives. Unfortunately, all of the Journals between the years 1834 and 1854 are missing, but it is possible that they still exist somewhere, perhaps in a private collection.

If any readers have information concerning the whereabouts of these missing journals, we would sincerely appreciate hearing from them at:

EARLY ELECTION PICTURE

FOUR OF A KIND FOR RACE

BY FRANK RICHARDS

A full slate appeared for the forthcoming provincial election in Saanich and the Islands when Hugh Curtis was named last week.

Mayor of Saanich, chairman of the Capital Regional Board and a prominent British Columbia administrator, Mr. Curtis will carry the Progressive Conservative banner in the islands and Saanich.

Four candidates have now been named to the constituency. Eric Sherwood was first in the fight, when he was named several months ago by the New Democratic Party. Second in the running was Social Credit candidate Foster Isherwood, who nosed out incumbent John Tisdalle at the nomination convention. Liberal convention named Malcolm Anderson, brother of the party's provincial leader, David Anderson. Curtis will run for the Conservatives.

A fifth candidate has been mooted in John Tisdalle, but so far the incumbent has not confirmed his plans.

How are the four shaping up? Eric Sherwood, veteran of the RAF and the RCAF and an electronics technician will draw the considerable NDP vote in the islands. He will also draw a small part of the floating vote that looks to a Socialist candidate to steer the province into a new channel.

The dedicated Socialist and the convinced Socialist will vote for Sherwood. The free-enterprise and right-wing voter will be looking elsewhere.

Foster Isherwood follows a man who has held the seat for Social Credit for 20 years. His only problem is to ensure that the electorate makes no change in its voting habits. He is new to the constituency and must feel his way in a Social Credit niche. Sounds easy!

Liberal Malcolm Anderson is coming to the polls in his brother's name. Through the islands the name of David Anderson has been commended and condemned. He is the national Liberal figure of conserva-

ing, 10105 - 112 Street, EDMONTON, Alberta, T5G 0H1
Doug Babcock, Research Consultant, Historical Development and Archives Branch, City of Edmonton, Alta. July 17, 1972.

tionism. The voter who fears the unbridled future will rally to the Anderson banner. Besides die-hard Liberals the Anderson team is likely to draw voters from other groups to support a man who has long stood out for protection of the environment.

Newest entrant, Curtis meets a divided island electorate. To some the name of Curtis is synonymous with Capital Region District and restrictive ordinances. To others among the islands the name is scarcely known at all. Among the quite numerous Island Tories, the name is enhanced by the party. To many islanders Hugh Curtis has gained stature and proved his identity as Mayor of Saanich and Chairman of the Regional District.

Fifth man in the picture, is not in it yet. John Tisdalle could accomplish anything if he should decide to run. He might accomplish nothing. He is the dark horse in the election stakes.

Only one can win.

NDP Sherwood will win support among the islands, but his following in Saanich is not likely to be so high, although Saanich elected a Socialist the year before John Tisdalle was first elected.

Liberal Anderson will bask in the reflected fame of brother David and enjoy the accolade of constituency conservatism. Whether or not this support could carry him to the polls over the heads of Social Credit, who previously held the seat, or Socialist who traditionally run second, remains to be seen.

Socred Isherwood will run in the Saanich-Islands contest in the shadow of the 20-year member, John Tisdalle.

Was it the man or the shoes that held the seat for so long? Only the Day will firmly resolve the question.

Newest arrival in the race is Tory Curtis. He comes with a long record of public service and a long history of vote-collecting. He will collect support in the islands, although he is unlikely to head the islands polls. In Saanich he is widely known and in Saanich municipality has repeatedly gained support at the polls.

I wouldn't want to wager on any candidate, which is fortunate.

Enter Tisdalle; what then? There would be a Tisdalle-Isherwood see-saw. They would share the Socred vote and they would gain a few and lose a few, leaving the field open to the other three candidates.

The common broad-leaved plantain will make your stews and soups richer in vitamins and minerals.

Q. How can I clean rusty steelware?
A. Rub thoroughly with sweet oil, allowing the oil to remain on for sometime before doing your rubbing. My new household-hints book contains many other such tips on metal care and cleaning.
Q. How can I avoid shine on woolen materials when ironing them?
A. When pressing woolens with a damp cloth, don't iron until the fabric is completely dry, for this causes that shine. Press quickly, then allow the steam to rise.

HOW CAN I ???

By Anne Ashley

Q. What can I do when ink has been spilled on a furniture top?

A. Quickly blot up as much of the ink as you can, then apply a dampened cloth to the spot and press it down firmly. Turn the cloth to a clean place, and again press it against the stain, repeating as many times as may be necessary. Do not rub the ink in. Ink also washes off some surfaces easily.

Q. What can I do when I have inadvertently added too much salt to food while cooking?

A. Stretch a clean cloth tightly over the vessel and sprinkle a tablespoon of flour over the cloth. The flour will absorb the salt if allowed to steam for a few minutes.

Q. How can I clean the insides of glass drinking straws?

A. Just by running some of hubby's pipe cleaners through them.

Q. How can I remove old water paint from a concrete wall?

A. Dissolve a pound of trisodium phosphate in one gallon of hot water, and apply this solution very liberally, soaking the walls thoroughly. Then scrub with a stiff wire brush, removing all the paint from the crevices and cracks.

Q. I seldom get the use of more than about half of my tubes of household cement, because it hardens. How can I remedy this situation?

A. You can keep your tubes of household cement usable to the last drop if, after using them, you replace the cap carefully, then put the tube into a small screw-top jar, and close this tightly.

Q. How can I treat scratches on dark-colored furniture?

A. Try applying iodine, and when this has dried, rub over it with furniture polish — and usually the scratches will be almost invisible.

Q. How can I make sure of eradicating all perspiration odor when laundering sweaters or blouses?

A. By adding a little ammonia to your wash water. Other such laundering tips are given in my new household-hints manual.

Q. How can I remove varnish from furniture?

A. With equal quantities of ammonia and water.

ATTENDS SEAMAN'S PLAQUE CEREMONY IN VANCOUVER

Archie Georgeson went to Vancouver last week as guest of his niece and nephew, Frank and Helen Neale, to attend the ceremony at the Sea Festival for the unveiling of a plaque in memory of all seamen.

Four of Archie's brothers sailed out of Vancouver Port, three of whom are now gone. Two were British Columbia pilots, and brother John, now living in Langley, is a Captain.

Members of the Pioneers of the Canadian Merchant Service Guild dedicated the plaque at Brockton Point to old-time sailors and mariners.

Port Chaplain Rev. T. Dran read the dedication, and unveiling it was veteran Captain John Parks, who is 92 years old.

The memorial is the idea of Vancouver Sun columnist Charles Defieux, and was given by the Sun. A truly fitting memorial to these "Who go down to the Sea in Ships".

That road of much controversy has a coat of blacktopping from one end to the other. Jack Road is paved now and at last the sunny days allowed the paving to be done at Montague Park.

Speaking of the Park, the boat-launching ramp is now mended and looks like it is quite a good job, too. The road crews have been cutting down bushes and little trees, and piling them for burning, making the roads wider and safer to drive on.

Twenty years ago a vigorous grass-roots political movement began in this province...a movement born of disenchantment with old-line political machines...a movement that quickly gained support from ordinary, everyday people throughout British Columbia. Today, Social Credit is still a grass-roots people's movement... representing no special interest groups and dedicated to the welfare of the individual. With your support, we've made great strides in human and economic affairs. Now, we're faced with another challenge...another choice between the progressive policies of a true free enterprise party and the stifling policies of state socialism. Keep the good years coming by helping us wage a strong, successful election campaign.

RIGHTS TO TRUST SAYS ANDERSON

leader before the announcement of an election date.

Mr. Anderson had made the tentative arrangement to speak here long before he was named to lead the Liberal Party in British Columbia. He made one reference to party politics during the course of his address... he was asked to introduce his Liberal party candidate brother, Malcolm Anderson.

He was introduced by Mike Larmour, of Salt Spring Island SPEC, sponsors of the address. "I admire him for his efforts in the environmental field," said Mr. Larmour, "and I wish him well in his political career."

Anderson took the Esquimalt-Saanich federal seat from the Conservatives and went to Ottawa to become a national figure in the realm of protection of the environment. The Esquimalt-Saanich member had carried on a personal crusade against befouling the Gulf waters with oil.

The speaker remarked on the "tremendous support" he has received during the past six months, particularly, from the people of the islands.

It is the small communities which are most aware of the problems of the environment, he noted. They are the people closest to the area liable to be damaged first.

In terms of land use, he has been trying to get support for the past three years for a land trust, he reported.

"Land use is not a matter simply for the experts," he warned, "the use of land affects every one of us."

British Columbia must be particularly careful with the dissipation of its farm land said the conservationist. There is less than three per cent of all land in this province usable for agriculture.

He recalled that his mother told him that she knew Saanich Peninsula when there was nothing between Victoria and the north of the peninsula. It has changed in one lifetime.

"Can we afford to continue subdivisions... is it desirable to use up parkland for highways?" he asked, "I personally doubt it."

Parks, although needed, are not the answer, he explained. Something of the nature of the British National Trust is needed.

Under such a scheme the development rights of a parcel would be purchased by the land trust. The owner would retain all rights in his property except the right to develop it.

This pattern of protection could be covered by covenants, said Anderson, although covenants have a poor connotation in the minds of many.

The speaker answered a number of questions and spoke briefly on the present campaign to discourage the United States from jeopardizing local waters in its program of oil transportation from Alaska.

An equal mixture of basil, sweet marjoram, parsley, summer savory and chervil is excellent for beef.

A small, enthusiastic number of members under the leadership of Mrs. Irine Lee, is holding weekly meetings each Monday afternoon.

Summer activities such as visiting friends and vacations have made no inroads. Last month the Galiano group enjoyed meeting members of the Salt Spring T.O.P.S., who came over for a buffet luncheon held on the patio of Jean Lockwood's office on Madrona Drive, headquarters for the Galiano T.O.P.S.

It is hoped that the group will have many new members in the fall and anyone interested will be warmly welcomed and should contact Mrs. Lee or Mrs. Gene Garner.

Know Your Neighbour

Little Gnome Nursery And Pam Pendray

BY LILLIAN HORSDAL

If you haven't yet visited this one woman business out Isabella Point road you have missed a treat. I went out to interview Miss Pamela Pendray amid puppies and flowers. She is fond of both.

Miss Pendray came to Salt Spring in September 1969 for peace, privacy and quiet. Her nearest neighbour is a fair distance through the bush and further by road.

She came here also to start a nursery of plants, shrubs, vines and just anything that grows. If Pam Pendray hasn't what you want she'll get it if it grows.

At the present time she is living in the shed she had built for that purpose.

Her permanent house is being built now with a fantastic view out over Russell Island.

The first two of her three greenhouses are full of bedding plants both flowers and vegetables. She is growing Stonehead cabbages--these are excellent for cabbage salad.

And something rare even for Salt Spring Island are her fig trees. No, they are not for sale. Pam will use them for decorative conversation pieces in her new home. They are in enormous tubs and are bearing figs right now. They will be kept indoors during the winter months.

What fun it should be to pluck a fig whenever the spirit moves one and the snow is piling up outside.

Did you know the praying mantis is a hungry bug eater? I didn't. A firm in California sends ladybugs and praying mantis all over the world.

Never kill a snake either. They are a great help in the garden.

Slugs, those slimy arrangements, seem to do nothing better than eat and their taste is indiscriminate--they'll eat anything. You can keep them out of your garden by watering early in the morning so the sun dries the earth. Slugs like moist earth.

Power is a hazard out Isabella Point road if you are operating a nursery. If only the B.C. Hydro could warn residents! A warning could save many an angel cake to say nothing of tempers. To be forewarned that the power will be off would enable Pam to take the necessary precautions to prevent her greenhouses from getting chilled. At present she knows the power is off when the fan which keeps the air circulating stops. Suddenly no power! No fan, no light, nothing.

Miss Pendray uses no pesticides whatsoever in her 12 acres.

She'll help you plan your garden whether it is tiny or quite expansive. If heather won't grow for you don't keep trying, she says. Any plant that resists all your efforts to make it flourish, or even just grow, is making its will felt, so don't waste your time!

Nursery owners and operators can be fooled, too. At one time she bought blue lobelia seeds only to have them develop into white ones. Since there are about 100,000 seeds per package who can separate them?

The deer are quite troublesome. They not only devour the raspberry leaves, but smash the stalks as well. They go up one row and down the other, systematically. They clear them effectively.

Pam Pendray sells eggs too.

If you are planning a visit to the Little Gnome Nursery it is advisable to phone first. Since hers is a one-woman show there is no one to take over if Pam must be away.

OUTDOOR COOKING

BY BUTTERFINGERS

Barbecue time is here again and the smoke signals are going up from countless patios and back yards. It's fun to try some thing different and to experiment with new ideas. These different taste treats are all part of the fun of outdoor cooking, so try them out.

An easy and delicious way to cook a salmon on the grill is simply to lay it on a large piece of heavy duty foil, sprinkle sage in the cavity, pour half a bottle of French Dressing on top and seal the fish tightly in the foil. Place on the grill and leave till done. You can test for doneness by piercing with a fork.

If you wish to try something a little more ambitious with your salmon how about stuffed barbecued salmon? For this you sprinkle the cavity with salt and pepper and stuff with Garden Vegetable Stuffing:

- 2 cups dry bread cubes
- 1 cup coarsely grated raw carrots
- 1 cup finely chopped onion sauteed in butter
- 1 cup chopped raw mushrooms
- 1/2 cup chopped parsley
- 1 1/2 tsp. lemon juice
- 1 egg
- 1 clove garlic minced
- 2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. marjoram
- 1/4 tsp. pepper

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Fasten opening with skewers lace shut. You can use a wire basket on grill 4-5 inches from coals basting often with melted butter and lemon juice or wrap tightly in foil after smearing with butter.

A very good barbecue sauce for salmon is this one as it is easy to prepare and economical too:

- 1/4 cup of butter or margarine
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 cup ketchup
- 2 tbsp. mustard
- 4 tbsp. soy sauce
- dash of Worcestershire sauce
- pepper and 1 tbsp. of lemon juice.

Heat all ingredients together and pour over salmon when done or serve in sauce boat.

To go with your salmon cut potatoes in long strips, place in foil envelope making sure that the edges are well sealed, add 1/2 cup of butter, 2 tsp. of cream or evaporated milk and a small amount of grated cheese. Place envelope at back of grill for 34-40 minutes.

Now to round off this fine meal, how about some Peas Almondine? You can use fresh peas, (much nicer) or the frozen variety. Place peas on heavy duty aluminum foil, add 1/3 cup sliced or slivered almonds and 2 tsp. butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper, wrap securely in foil and cook for 30 or 35 minutes turning once. Just before serving add pimiento.

SOUND WAVES

BY MARY GARLAND COLEMAN

A yellow sea plane drones across the sky -- Drones and is gone, but still through all the air The humming lingers.

When can I say it's gone? Though from the eye It vanishes, faint sound throbs everywhere, Even in my fingers.

So when a friend has vanished out of sight The loved voice lingers through the darkest night.

COMMERCIAL CONTEST

Biggest Fish Is 55lb Cod

BY DEVINA BAINES

The day was bright and sunny but very stormy for the North Galiano Community Club's fishing derby held on Saturday, July 15. However, the contestants were all very enthusiastic.

The wharf at Porlier Pass Marina was crowded in the late afternoon as President Harold Wike, gave out the prizes.

The largest salmon, 30 3/4 pounds, was caught by Alice Loiselle, Thietis Island, who won the $50 prize. Peter Loiselle won a propane stove for the second largest.

Joe Boria, North Galiano, won a sleeping bag for third place, a 14 1/2 pound spring.

The only coho entered in the sports section won $25 for Alex James of North Galiano. The hidden weight, of 12 1/2 pounds was won by Joe Antala, a landing net.

In the children's section, Jeremy Hope won a sleeping bag for first rock cod; Rod Thompson, Nanaimo, rod and reel for second rock cod. For the most unusual fish, a red-banded rock bass, won a rod and reel for Devina Silvey of Powell River.

Jeremy Hope and Bob Lantinga of Montague Harbour, each won $1 for second and third unusual fish.

On the draw prize Terry Peterson received $25 and Frank Reader of Madrona Lodge, a case of oil.

The children's draw prize of $10 was won by George Cowell of Victoria, while sister Lynn won the second draw prize of a landing net.

An additional section was planned and donated by Porlier Pass Marina, Home Oil and Gundry-Bilmac for the commercial fishermen.

The largest cod, caught by Larry Newman, of Maple Bay, weighed 55 1/2 pounds and won for him a pair of binoculars and a boat lamp.

Second largest cod, 38 pounds, was caught by Tony Veyama of North Galiano, - prize a landing net. The third largest cod, 28 1/2 pounds, took the $10 voucher for gear, for Harry Baines, Sr.

Jeff Mayea won binoculars and a case of oil for largest salmon. Edmond Crocker came in second for a crab net and Kenny Silvey won a floater jacket for the only other coho, commercially caught.

Our thanks go out to all who donated prizes as well as Bob and Joyce Hope, Harold Wike and Bill Bamford who all worked so hard to make the derby a success.

The day finished up in a happy evening when the Hopes entertained a number of friends and neighbors.

VISITOR'S IMPRESSIONS OF A SALT SPRING ISLAND HOLIDAY

Our three day visit to Salt Spring Island was a joy and left us with wonderful memories of friendly, hospitable people. Beautiful scenery, breathtaking views of mountains and ocean and islands; green meadows with cattle grazing and, close by, a deer and two fawn; other meadows with sheep grazing and deer not far away, too. The morning we left on the ferry we saw two little spotted fawn on the beach. From the view point at the Long Harbour Ferry one gets such a beautiful view of ocean, mountains and islands. When we drove around in the evenings we saw so many deer, and the birds! The little hummingbirds, and two kingfishers. The kingfishers were upon the branch of a tree over the ocean, waiting to dive in for fish.

The crows get clams and drop them on the rocks to break the shells from a height so they can eat them. It was so peaceful and quiet there, we enjoyed every minute.

We went to the Art Gallery and to the little Lavender Shop to see all the handicrafts. Some interesting articles there, ceramics, carvings, leather work, bead work and many different types of handicrafts.

YOU HAVE A Reserved Seat TO A MURDER

Lucky you! Within the next few (very few) years, you'll be a witness to the murder of Canada's Pacific coastline. You'll be able to see, smell, touch and be smeared by the inevitable supertanker oil spill

WHICH WILL DESTROY YOUR JOB

if you work in fishing, lumber, tourism, hospitality or independent industry (which covers most business in B.C.).

YOUR HOME

its value will drop catastrophically since the entire area will be blighted.

YOUR RECREATION

boating, swimming, fishing, beachgoing will be destroyed, inland sports areas overwhelmed by the resulting population pressure.

YOUR LIFESTYLE

as you breathe the reek of crude oil and try to clean it from clothes, children, carpets and car, you'll envy the gracious living of a hillbilly sharecropper.

YOUR FUTURE

unless you enjoy working on a clean-up crew, or burning the rotting corpses of fish, seals, and birds, you won't have any future here—nobody will!

Sounds exaggerated? The recent Cherry Point oil spill which polluted over 20 miles of beaches involved about 1/1800 of 1 per cent of a tankerload!

What can you do to prevent this?

At present, only one thing. Support the Canadian Wildlife Federation and David Anderson in their legal battle in Washington, D.C. One victory has been won already . . . but more money is needed. Legal costs are high, and the companies are fighting every inch of the way. Five dollars won't even pay to have the oil cleaned from your coat . . . but it could stop it getting there! Send your contribution to:

We had a lovely dinner at Harbour House, a very interesting old hotel with a new building added, containing a new, modern cocktail bar. People are so friendly on the Island.

ies and most comfortable.

On another trip, a few years ago, we drove up to the top of Maxwell Mountain, where there is a most beautiful view of the Islands and the ocean for miles around.

New homes are going up all the time and new buildings of all kinds. Some of the roads at the moment are not the best, but there are improvements on the way.

The gardens and the foliage and the trees around Booth Bay where we stayed were luxuriant. The arbutus trees are very picturesque. Parts of the Island have more arbutus than others. It seems where there are arbutus trees it is difficult to locate water.

All the beauties of the Island and the peace and quiet are priceless.

At the cute little Post Office and What-Not Shop at Fulford Harbour, we met the postmaster and the post lady, who delivers the mail by car to the mail boxes along the road.

All in all it was a most enjoyable holiday, and to top it all off, I won second prize at the Fishing Derby. So it is a holiday we will long remember.

BY BEA HAMILTON

Mrs. C.L. Abbott has had a number of her family visiting her over the last weeks and enjoying the lovely summer weather. Among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Norrie Abbott, from Sherwood Park, Alta., accompanied by Brenda, Laurel and Jim; Mr. and Mrs. Vic Sallows, with Vicki and Debbie from Chilliwack; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Broadfoot, with Kirk, Susanne and Guy, Campbell River and, at the moment, her granddaughter, Linda Abbott from Calgary.

Next Saturday will see the Country Fair at the Secondary School July 29. This is the Anglican Annual garden fete usually held at Harbour House Hotel grounds, but times are changing like many other things on the Island.

Any gifts to the stalls would be appreciated, such as home baking, vegetables, fruit, flowers, good books (by "good" we mean with the beginning and ending all intact, - nothing more frustrating than to begin a story and find out that you can't find out the ending.

Anyway, Mrs. Norman Hind-Smith is convener and all members are working hard to see that visitors all have a good time and tea. Maj.-Gen. G.R. Pearkes, V.C., will be on hand to open the affair. Be great to see him again!

I met three bonny lassies from Scotland in the Dominion Hotel dining room last week, Florence Millie and Belle. We were going to have a meal. "I want something very light," said Florence. Same here, said the other two. They picked on a fruit salad. "Better order one salad and three plates," I suggested, half joking and yet seriously thinking it an unco'canny idea. I explained that a fruit salad would feed my family and the idea appealed to all three. The waitress blinked, gulped and said, "One fruit salad and three plates coming up, and, how many cups of coffee?" This time all wanted coffee so no complications in the beverage department. But the supper was a panic.

Millie divided the plate counting out everything. She might have been carving a turkey.

"My friends are just out from Scotland," I told the nearest lady. Now they understood. What have we started? My thrifty idea of 'three for one and one for all' may have repercussions far beyond imagination! Dare I ever return to the Dominion Hotel Restaurant?

Nothing can replace the Canadian dollar - and it practically has.

ISLANDERS TO TAKE PART IN CITY

About 24 Jehovah's Witnesses from the Salt Spring congregation will attend a district assembly in Victoria, July 27 to 30.

Dave Andrist, presiding minister of the congregation, in announcing plans of the local delegates, said that it has been necessary to cancel all local meetings from July 25 to July 30, due to many being away for the Christian assembly.

The convention, he said, will further the understanding among various nationalities and age groups of Jehovah's Witnesses and will also demonstrate to the residents of Victoria how the Bible message and Christian living can unite people from all walks of life, regardless of race or other backgrounds that tend to divide the world.

Most of those from the Salt Spring congregation will be staying in private homes in Victoria and nearby areas. Many hotel accommodations will be filled, according to the Watchtower rooming commit-

Too many people fail to realise that grass is a living plant. When they cut it, they take off "too much". The result is they destroy the leaf blade and can expose roots, particularly in summer, to the full strength of the sun.

DISTRACTIONS

BY CELIA REYNOLDS
I watered the garden in early morn to keep the soil from drying.
Hot sun and wind on tender plants are really very trying.
The spray from the nozzle feathered out to fall in a gentle shower.
To bring a drink, a rebirth of hope, to every shining flower The sun silvered the water, it shone like prisms of light; Then all at once, with never a sound, a hummingbird came in sight.
Straight into the water he flew in delight, balancing there in mid-air - Fluffing his feathers, then darting with joy 'twas plain that he liked being there.
He flew to the limb of an apple tree, rested briefly a while - Then back he came, again and again - I watched as he flew with a smile.
I nearly drowned the petunia bed as I watched this little fellow -
So later on, you'll understand, when my flowers all turn yellow.

SATURNA BY PAPAJOHN

Am sure I am in my second childhood because I haven't had summer complaint since I was a kid.

First week in July we had nine guests and two dogs. Son John with bewitching Barbara and grandsons, John, Todd and Scott with their dog, Muffi. Granmarie's niece, satiny Sandra, her husband David Obade and children Darren and dinging Dina with Pup. The weather was fine and everything went real well until the toilet quit on Wednesday, but I had 'em fooled because I had cleaned up and fixed up the old outside privy. The kids thought it was wonderful. The Obades are from California. While here David and son John, with Steve Maskow's help, cemented in my carport floor and a walkway to back door.

Got the plumbing in b-room fixed, thanks to Tom Harvey, who is a plumber by trade. It was my own plumbing that was haywire and Tom fixed it in about ten minutes. Will have to buy him a pill someday. Not "the pill" just "a pill".

Home from a trip to England are Jim and happy Hilda Yates. Hilda says now she will really have to go on a diet as they let themselves go and had a real holiday.

Also home from a trip to England is ecstatic Edie Whiting. Edie is really ecstatic about her trip but landed home with the flu. One guy who was glad to see her was George.

Our sad news is sad. Fey Flora (Daisy) Davis has been in and out of Lady Minto with a leg ailment which has incapacitated her from doing anything but keep off her feet. Fortunately their son Jim and jaunty Jody are over for their holidays so Walter was well looked after as well as Daisy. Jim and Jody had their family over as well. They are Tim, Shannon, Adam, Pamela and Jonathon. So grandma got a lot of attention.

Across the creek are Dave and listening Gwen Welch and family from Victoria. Dave has a new boat and comes over from Sidney in less than an hour but like all flandlubbers he has to watch his tide schedule.

The other day ye Mayne Queen, as happens despite the Captain's skills, slammed into one of the floating approaches to the wharf. Mike Stacey had just landed Dr. Dixon and remarked "Must have been my wash". Dr. Dixon's comment was that there was a lot of fireplace wood. These northern islanders do have a sense of humor??

Steve and mellow Myrt Maskow have a daughter who is a brain and lives in Ontario, where she makes a lot of mazumba. Multifarious Mae is out for her holidays and has very happy Steve up before breakfast each day and they go fishing. It is sure nice to see a father and daughter have so much fun together.

Staying at mischievous Marg Fry's and kalos Kay Cronin's cottages have been Mrs. Ray Sendall, from England, and neat Norah Sendall with daughter savoury Susan and Roger St. Cyr. Also two charming ladies from Holland, Margaretha Lukey and Othie Demeyer. Kalos Kay Cronin is over this weekend herself.

Drove out to East Point on Thursday and that road is so bad it shook the fillings out of my false teeth. Thanks to natty Nancy Harrower we got the following news. Rex and magnificent Marion Publicover, of Burnaby, slaving away at the cottage they have just bought out there. Over at their cottage are Mr. and Mrs. Walter MacKie with children Leslie and Blair.

Matt Jamieson has been batching it all week until parents,

Don and joyful Jean come for their holidays. Among a host of visitors Jack and delightful Devina Vincent had hearty Heather Vincent from Mt. Vernon and kute Katie Beem from Everett.

Bill and natty Nancy Harrower arrived for the summer and Nancy had a bout of flu, so we missed them both at the barbecue. They had as guests Mrs. Marge Hales and daughter kindling Kim, also heavenly Helen Friesal from Nelson.

Granma vibrating Vi Shinduke is having a real happy week, - son Jim, his wife heady Hope with the boss of the house, grandson Bill, are over a-visitin'. It will take 'lope weeks to gain control after a few days of grandparents spoilage. OK, Vi, it is one of the real pleasures in life for senior citizens!

There is a ray of super sunshine around the Boot Cove Road these days, - Granma melting Mary Dickey is over for her holidays. With her are jolting Joan Dickey and the bosses, the grandchildren. Over for the week end was meltin Mary's sister jolly Jean Grant. This is a happy family for Joan lets Granma get away with murder, up to a point.

Bob and kidding Kay Close were over for their holidays but as they had left their Rock Band home this time things seemed awful quiet over that side of the creek.

Across the creek, on Bonny

Bank Road, it looks like prosperity drive. At the top Bev Campbell has a new cabin cruiser boat. At the end of the road Cliff Sacker has a new simlir beauty. In between, Dave Wekt also has a new boat. Maybe we better move across the creek!

Thanks to Tom Gordon of ye Sidney Stationery Store we will be able to get this bit of news mailed in time.

Think ye Editor is a bit of a dreamer if EXPECTS his outer Island reporters to conform to that set of rules he printed in DRIFTWOOD and we don't think that bemusing Bea Hamilton will toe the line, either. Still, if anyone wants to start an argument, Frank, we will be right in there to tell them you're RIGHT!

MARC HOLMES REFUTES CHARGES

PERMIT DELAYED AFTER HOUSE FIRE

Fire victim was recently refused a building permit to reconstruct his Walker Hook home.

Reginald Walker applied for a building permit to raise a new home and was told that the Medical Officer of Health would not authorize a permit unless he consolidated at least two of his three lots.

It was subsequently charged in Ganges that the refusal was initiated by Regional Director Marc Holmes.

"The charge is completely false," Mr. Holmes told DRIFTWOOD. "I did not even hear of the case until July 16, by which time the health department had already acted."

Mr. Holmes was in Kimberley, attending a committee meeting of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at the time of the incident. Mr. Holmes has already been in touch with the prospective builder. He explained that consolidation of the lots is easy and can be done in a matter of a few days.

The Walker property is adjacent to the Dow-Bains property where the medical officer has refused septic permits on the grounds that the quarter-acre lots are too small.

Report that the property owner would have to apply for a further license was also refuted by the regional director.

"The charge that 'he must apply to the land's (sic) office for a land-use license, which could take six months or longer before he can even start construction on his home' must be sheer fabrication, because people knowledgeable in the field tell me they have never even heard of this procedure," stated Mr. Holmes this week.

In conversation with Mr. W Walker, the regional director had learned that the prospective builder had already planned to install a larger septic tank, before the matter was broached by the health department.

"Mr. Walker told me he realized building code regulations were necessary," commented Mr. Holmes. "Though he expressed disappointment at the delay."

TWO FAMILIAR GANGES FIGURES

Picture was taken by a visitor to the Anglican Garden Fete last year at Harbour House. Miss Helen Dean and Mrs. Lees represent the indomitable spirit of the islands, said the photographer.

SATURNA ISLANDER DROWNED

Ronald Brotten, 64, of Saturna Island was drowned off the United States coast on Wednesday last week.

With two companions, the Saturna Islander was fishing off Cape Flattery. Also drowned was Orville McManus, of Tonasket, Wash. Third occupant of the boat, Jack Stevens, of Tonasket, managed to reach shore.

Mr. Brotten was well known in Everett, Wash., where he was a carpenter, contractor and fishing guide.

Native of Minnesota, he came west when a young boy and attended school in Everett. He was engaged in building as a contractor for many years. He was a fishing guide in Puget Sound and around Cape Flattery. He was a flag officer of the Everett Yacht Club and has held a continuous membership.

During the Second World War he served with the U.S. Coast-guard Auxiliary.

In 1969 Mr. and Mrs. Brotten retired to Saturna.

He leaves his wife, Lucille, at home, four daughters and a number of grandchildren.

COUNTRY FAIR AT SCHOOL

Final preparations for the Salt Spring Anglican Country Fair on Saturday, July 29, are well under way, says convener Mrs. Norman Hind-Smith.

She is happy to report that the group of young musicians from the Victoria Summer

School of Music, under the direction of Clayton Hare, is definitely coming, due to the generosity of the members of the local Rotary Club, who are taking care of their expenses.

Another generous donation to the event is a lamb given by Mike Byron; estimating the weight of the lamb has always been one of the most popular competitions.

Meanwhile people are busily baking, selecting handsome garden produce, sorting out good clothing, jewellery and books, finishing needlework and a variety of handicrafts, and setting up the many entertainments. Don't forget -- the single performance of the puppet show "Pinocchio" starts at 2:30 p.m.

The Country Fair will be opened at 2 pm by Major-General George R. Parkes in the courtyard of the High School.

WILD HONEY COLLECTING BOX

1. Hollow some 4' logs, 8-12 inches in diameter, by splitting them in two, lengthwise and then tying the hollowed halves back together.

2. Fit blocks of wood into each end of the logs, putting a 1/2 inch diameter hole in each block.

3. Using vines or ropes hang the logs horizontally in trees.

4. In two months they will be full of honey.

5. Smoke the bees and lower the hollow log to the ground. Remove the honey.

6. Put up the log and it will be full of honey again in two months.
