SATURNA LAMB BARBECUE DRAWS BIGGEST CROWD EVER

For the second time in a quarter-century Saturna Lamb Barbecue ran short of lamb before I reached the serving table. The last time there was a shortage was the first time it was staged.

That was the only similarity.

Twenty-five years ago holidaymakers used to travel to Saturna in their hundreds, mostly in cruisers from the surrounding islands and the mainland.

On Sunday they came in cruisers, charter vessels, ferries, ships and planes from everywhere. Half way through the day Cliff Sacker reported 300 small boats in the bay.

Weather was brilliant for most of the day and the familiar sight of lambs in front of the open fire, Union Jack and small boat harbour was slightly modified by the hordes of people milling about the field.

Walter Bavis was selling tickets at probably an unprecedented rate and James Campbell, two of them, were sharpening knives, supervising the cooking and overseeing the carving and distribution. Jim and Louisa Money were never still and Doug Collins, back in Vancouver after a stint in the east, was busier than a Toronto hound dog slinging beer.

It was a good day, a long day and a pleasant day, but more lambs will be sacrificed to the event another year if the crowds keep up. -F. G. R.

Local and provincial dignitaries were invited to carve at Sunday's Saturna Lamb Barbecue. It was a first for Lieut.-Governor Walter Owen.

DOUBLE ACCIDENT

On Monday night, July 2, a car failed to stop at the scene of an accident on Lower Ganges Road at Canal Road and was later damaged when it failed to negotiate the corner at St. Mark's Church on North End Road and struck a power pole.

Name was withheld while RCMP at Ganges investigate the incident.

SCHOOL BOARD ON TOUR

The Gulf Islands School Board will hold the next regular meeting on Galiano Island. The meeting will be at the Galiano School, commencing at 1:30 pm on Monday, July 9. It will be open to the public.

All interested persons are invited to attend. There will be a question and answer period.

The August regular meeting is planned for Mayne Island. Details will be announced later.

SCOTTISH DANCING AND LOG ROLLING

Scottish dancing will be among the highlights of the Drummond Park Clambake on Saturday, July 7.

Fulford is a busy place as the community sets the pattern for the third annual clambake in the harbour children's playground.

It will be a day of sea food, games and entertainment. In addition to the Scottish traditional dancing there will be a repeat performance of parachute jumping and log rolling.

As logging comes into its own again on Salt Spring Island loggers will enjoy the chance to compete on the waters of Fulford Harbour.

The day's program starts at 1 pm on Saturday.

STUDENTS TAKE PART IN ROTARY CLUB'S CEREMONIES FRIDAY

Quiet Week End For July 1

Quiet, reported RCMP. And that's what it was over the week end.

Rowdiness and near-riot had characterized the last two long week ends on Salt Spring Island and other islands. Augmented police and additional parks branch personnel were not called on to maintain order in parks and other public places.

POLICE BOAT RESCUE

RCMP boat from Ganges skippered by Sgt. George Lewis came to the rescue when a fibreglass boat was sinking off Montague Harbour, on Sunday.

Paul Yaeger, of Ladner, struck a floating object in the water and pierced the hull. When the MP 53 found him, he and his crew were bailing a losing battle as the small vessel steadily filled.

Police towed the small boat into Montague Harbour and went on their way.

FIRE AT GALIANO BOMBED

— TWO OUTBREAKS

Water bombers doused a fire on Galiano with water when firemen were unable to reach it from the road.

Fire was in the deep woods at the head of Georgeson Bay on Friday evening. The heavy bomber was accompanied by a smaller plane carrying a public address system. The smaller plane warned people on the ground to get out of the way of the water bomber.

It took five passes and the fire was out.

The fire was one of two on Galiano during the holiday week end. Both were attributed by firemen to carelessness in the woods.

Early Monday morning a group of young people went down to the beach at Georgeson Bay and set a beach fire going. Fire was too close to the bank and 30 volunteers were kept busy bringing it under control.

Islanders have been particularly fearful of fire in face of large numbers of island visitors during the long holiday week-ends.

SCHOOL JOB

HIGH COST OF ROCK IS LOWER

High cost of getting rid of rock are lower than they were. Chairman Charles Baltzer of the board of trustees of Gulf Islands School District has announced the conclusion of lengthy negotiations on the completion of agreement with contractors building the new school facilities at Ganges.

Chairman has prepared a statement on the subject of rock blasting and hauling. His full statement follows:

The school board is aware that there has been some recent concern in the community over rumours of large additional costs in the current building project for extra rock removal.

No statement could be made by the board before this time because the board did not have the full facts before it.

The matter is now settled, so it is appropriate that the board set the record straight.

As the excavation work on the new school construction project was underway it was discovered that the quantity of rock exceeded the amount that had been estimated by our architects and their consulting engineers. The board has held discussion on this matter and on other details that remained to be settled in the contract with the architects and the contractor.

SIDESWIPE COSTS $400 DAMAGE

Damage was estimated at between $300 and $400 when two cars sideswiped at Vesuvius on Saturday.

George Smith, driving a 1964 Valiant, sideswiped the 1973 Ford pick up driven by Marvin Bergstrom while rounding the corner from Bayview onto Goodrich.

New Operators Of Hotel

New operators are taking over the Condor Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Jan-Harry Haugan, from Richmond, will assume operation of the Salt Spring Island hotel about the middle of July. It has been operated by Walter Herzog for the last several years.

With the destruction of the ancient building by fire last year the final days were marked of the old hotel. New residential and dining wing is under construction.

It was rebuilt by Condor Construction, Walter Herzog's own company.

Jan Haugan is a hotelier from way back. He set out in the business in his native Norway and has managed hotels across the world.

Besides having been hotel

manager, he has worked as chef, maitre d'hotel and chief steward aboard ship. In Canada he went through various positions in different cities to familiarize himself with the hotel business in this country.

Before going to Richmond, he was at the Banff Springs Hotel and also the Banff Centre.

Mrs. Haugan is an Englishwoman who has worked in the hotel business in Norway, and Canada. They will share the burden of the Ganges hotel.

Date of completion of the new structure has not been firmed up, but it will be in full operation later in the summer.

Hotel will provide for a dining room with a capacity of 125 and a banquet room seating 65. The two rooms can be switched, explained Contractor Herzog.

There will also be 21 units in the hotel.

With the change in administration, Walter Herzog is planning a vacation. He is planning to return to his native Russia, he explained, to re-visit once-familiar places.

Summer Plans Made By Pensioners

BY PENSIONER

Branch 32 of the Old Age Pensioners Organization held the final meeting of the season on June 28 in St. George's Hall. Mrs. E. Thacker was in the chair.

The members heard a full report of the recent convention held in Penticton in June. It was attended by Mrs. Thacker, Mrs. J. Hayward and Mrs. M. Clark. Mrs. Clark received a hearty vote of thanks for her excellent detailed report.

Arrangements were made to hold a picnic on July 11 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Skuce, on Cranberry Road.

The bus will leave the taxi office at 1.30 and pick up members. For transportation phone 537-2059 or 537-5317. Mrs. Thacker has arranged for Christmas in July, so there will be lots of fun for the oldies.

August 1 was chosen for the annual picnic for members to Englishman's River. The bus will leave at 9.30 am from the taxi office.

For more details call Mrs. Thacker or Mrs. Clark.

Mrs. Thacker pointed out that these entertainments and little extras are due to the donation from the Recreation Commission and we are all very grateful to them.

Mrs. S. Kitchener and Mrs. Waddell served tea. Mrs. Griffin received a hearty vote of thanks for her excellent report on the hospital and those needing care in the hospital.

F. Bostock was at the piano.

Picnic Rounds Out Season

The Salt Spring Island Riding Club met on Friday night for an enjoyable family picnic. The picnic was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Blackett on Beddis Road. Almost 50 people met for a buffet supper, followed by an evening of games.

As the games progressed it was evident that the so-called generation gap wasn't there. The sounds of laughter came equally from parents and children.

Everyone tried their hand at log sawing, nail pounding and various other contests. Club members ate their fill of water melon and roasted marshmallows in front of a large beach bonfire. A surprise of fresh crabs from Dave Pallot finished off the picnic.

The picnic was the final spring activity of the riding club. The next club-sponsored activity will be a September Trail Ride.

Everyone Welcome

to be frank

By Richards

Four mounties and no radar! What a waste, commented a Salt Spring Island wag. With those Mounties and a radar, they could have picked up a couple thousand points over the week end.

Had a call on Saturday from Los Angeles. Caller remarked that there was a second-stage alert in force in the California city and parents were urged to keep children indoors and quiet because of the poisonous smog outside. Too much activity means too great demand for oxygen already scarce in the atmosphere.

Los Angeles call contrasted sharply with Friday's visit from Frank Schwagly's sister, Mrs. Van der Veeke, whose home is in Rotterdam, in Holland. The island air is so clean, commented the Hollander. In Holland it is dirty, she said and pinched her nose to prove it.

Number of would-be travellers got up early on Tuesday to catch the 6.30 ferry to Tsawwassen. They were indignant at being told that no cars could board unless they had made reservations. According to those who went aboard with proper reservations, the ship was still only partially filled when it arrived at the mainland port. Looks like islanders will have to make a reservation on the Tsawwassen-Long Harbour run whatever day or trip it might be.

When Mouat's downstairs store was changed they went around looking for the joists in the floor joists. They never did find them. The joists in the old Ganges store are 2x10 and run 40 feet without a break.

There are some fish around.

Farmers' Market opened at Ganges on Saturday with a fair showing of produce and customers. This picture by David Cheekley shows part of the crowd of customers.

Market is intended to provide island growers with a direct outlet to the consumer.

It was open all morning and will continue every Saturday morning for the summer months

Danny Akerman will probably tell you they're mostly cod, but that's because he's better at catching cod than salmon. Even Fred Morris has been catching some lately. Nothing like Al Brau at Mayne, but, still salmon.

On & Off The Island

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Richardson, Scott Point, is Mr. Richardson's father, Mr. B. B. Richardson of Woodstock, Ont. Mrs. Barrie Jones has returned to Wales after a holiday with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richards. She will enjoy the colder climate of Wales, with its attractive urban centres.

Miss Maureen Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Thomas, Ganges, has graduated from St. Paul's School of Nursing, Vancouver. The ceremonies took place at the Queen Elizabeth Theatre in Vancouver on Sunday, June 24. Miss Thomas will take up nursing duties in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug MacPhail of Vancouver were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Thomas and attended the Rotary dance with them on Friday.

Catherine Donnelly, a resident of Salt Spring for a year returned to England recently, to visit her parents and travel extensively in Europe.

Miss Bep Tenholter, Mrs. Frank Schwagly's sister, returns to Rotterdam, Holland, this week after a visit of three months on Salt Spring Island. Miss Tenholter has made many friends during her stay. On her return to Europe Miss Tenholter is making a visit to Lourdes in France.

Bob Blundell of Harbour Grocery is a patient in Lady Minto Hospital, where he will undergo a major operation on Friday

Visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Macy, Quebec Drive, this week were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Macy from Hays, Kansas in the United States. It was their first visit to the country and they were warmly impressed. They could see why their son had chosen to live here, commented Mr. Macy. Family with two centuries of American living behind it, the Macy's left Britain in the 18th century, he added. Mr. Macy is a school teacher.

WIDE, WIDE THOROUGHFARES

When the delegation from the Capital Regional District attended upon the legislative committee on municipal affairs earlier this year some discussion ensued on road clearing.

Spokesmen for the district explained that Island residents do not take kindly to the clearing of a grey swath through what was previously a leafy lane.

Mr. James Lorimer expressed sympathy and told the district spokesmen that he was convinced that something could be done to modify the scorched earth policy.

Nothing was done and island residents are disturbed at the conversion of island roads from attractive thoroughfares to regimented, grey, dusty military routes.

The highways department is aiming at moving traffic and the residents are seeking to retain some of the aesthetic values of rural living.

There must be a compromise somewhere behind the minister's half-promise.

SYMBOLS AND WATERGATE

It was July 1, once known as Dominion Day, now the second-Sunday-after-Father's-Day-in-Fly-the-Flag-Week. Islanders basked in the sun and waited for the rain which held off.

In eastern Canada the Queen and Prince Philip visited various communities during a fast tour.

Radio and television stations in the United States were entertaining audiences with the American national theatre show, the Watergate Follies.

And a few sluggish island royalists were left to wonder whether Queen Elizabeth is the barrier between Ottawa and Watergate. Mr. John Diefenbaker would not entertain any question in the matter. But Mr. Diefenbaker has made his views clear on many occasions.

The government has not. In general, the Canadian people have not.

It is, perhaps, time we all paid a little thought to the symbols of the Dominion of Canada. Canada is unchanged, but many of the symbols have changed beyond recognition. To what end?

Letters To The Editor

AN IMMIGRANT

Editor, Driftwood,
As an immigrant, this recent holiday weekend has held some special significance for me which I would like to share.

In 1970, after much soul-searching, I decided to leave my country, my friends and my family and immigrate to Canada. Concurrently, I decided to leave a mental health practice in which I was earning $1,500 a month (and more meaningfully) in which I enjoyed the professional respect of the community.

During a nine-month period, I proceeded through the various application and interview processes required for immigration, finally entering Canada in January, 1971.

In the interior of B. C., I assumed a position as Executive Director of a social agency and taught at a local college. I subsequently resigned those two positions, purchased a home on Salt Spring Island and relocated, in order to participate in a federally-funded educational program designed to train B. C. people in drug-abuse work.

In the past eight months, a local talk-show immoderator has repeatedly criticized me, by name and by inference for working on this "granted project." While refusing to communicate with me directly in any form, he has publicly referred to me as a "radical American hippie who slipped across the border to loaf on Canadian money". He has added "cheat", "rip-off" and sundry other epithets to his radio analyses of my character.

I would like to take this opportunity to respond to the only allegation that has any substance; and that is I was technically an American citizen, then employed on government monies.

First of all, as a mental health professional, there is almost no agency in Canada for which I could work that is not supported by public funds, i.e. mental hospitals, clinics, universities, etc.

As to related issues, it seems to me that inequities in immigration policies should be corrected by legislation. Abuses of land, resources, and commercial assets should also be handled by legislation curtailing "foreign" controls.

However, to attack legal immigrants working in government programs (which do serve the Canadian public) seems to be a destructive attitude for the country's human growth.

Until such time as I am legally able to acquire my Canadian citizenship, I would still like to believe that I can make a personal and professional contribution to my chosen country. I do not consider myself "an American" but rather as a "Canadian immigrant" who is able to take an active and responsible role in the future of this nation.

I would hope to be so regarded by the Canadian people, native and naturalized.

Sharon McCollough,

DEAR REVEREND

Editor, Driftwood,

With regards to the abolishment of the death penalty in our civilized and compassionate society, perhaps you overlooked some relevant scriptural quotes.

Perhaps you recall the first commandment "thou shalt not kill! Perhaps you recall Jesus saying "let he without sin cast the first stone". Perhaps you recall Jesus saying "do unto others as you would have them do unto you".

Perhaps you recall a man being judged a criminal and sentenced to suffer the death penalty upon the cross.

And perhaps you recall that essential man of love, Jesus Christ, saying "father forgive them for they know not what they do."

Sincerely, Bob Walker,
Fulford,
July 3, 1973.

THAT COUGAR AGAIN

Editor, Driftwood,

This week a cougar brushed by two tots in the Campbell River area and snatched up their pet pup. The cat was shot dead shortly after and it was found that it had been wounded badly about a month ago by someone's rifle.

Now the only reason that animal came near those kids and the dog was because it was hungry--a direct result of being injured the previous month, enough so that it couldn't hunt to eat.

Now if you do some checking around Salt Spring you'll find there's a farmer in the Fulford Valley whose current project is a cougar hunt--dogs, a posse and all the high-powered hardware. Find him and ask him if it is his sheep who are left to roam at will--browsing everything so that even the deer have a tough time finding food.

Ask this man if it is his sheep whose life and health is threatened more by the fact they have untreated worms, foot rot, other parasites--and have up to four years fleece on them. Then tell this fellow he can do more for his livestock by caring for them properly at home than he can by heading out for cougar blood, possibly leaving one injured to repeat an incident such as happened up-Island--only with tots bearing the brunt.

And ask any true wildlife expert --he'll tell you he's lucky if he sees one cougar in his lifetime in his normal field work.

Richard Oyenden,
View Royal, B. C.,

CHAMBER OF COURAGE

Editor, Driftwood,

I believe that the chamber of commerce has been courageous and sensible in coming out in favour of Cudmore's airstrip, even though this has raised the wrath of those who oppose.

What is significant is the larger number of people who feel that the airstrip is a good thing.

Flying is an enjoyable recreation and hobby which is now available to island residents. This is borne out by the number of people who are taking flying lessons and the large number who signed petitions in favor of the private strip.

It can surely do no harm, but can do good, as opportunities for youth. A more sensible pastime than tearing around in cars destructively and endangering others on the roads.

As an example - several of my friends who went to school here have learned to fly and this has opened up wonderful careers in commercial aviation for them. On the other hand flight training teachers, coordination, good judgment, discipline and systematic approach to problems - all useful things to learn.

It is strange that there is such hysteria in Fulford, while in Ganges we have a commercial sea landing strip here for years and regular flights six times a day of beaver aircraft. People here aren't afraid of the planes and nobody seems to mind, at least I don't and I haven't heard of anyone else complaining.

QUAINT DREAMERS

Editor, Driftwood,

All those quaint dreamers who are attempting to convert Salt Spring Island into a phony state of contrived backwardness are pursuing an elusive goal. How can one ignore technological progress and expect total tranquility when one chooses to live on the threshold of three metropolitan areas? And how, I am asking, can one be so inconsistent as to condemn airplanes that are audible for only a minute at a time when one has no scruples about firing up a chainsaw at seven o'clock on Sunday morning, letting it roar and grind away at one's neighbours' nerves for hours on end?

Has it ever occurred to all these self-styled environmentalists that a small aircraft engine burns only half as much fuel as the average North-American car that you are driving? And that the future mode of travel will be flying exclusively, utilizing three dimensions instead of a fraction of two?

Bear in mind, too, that not everybody here is old and retired, and that most of us are working hard during the day, and therefore are entitled to

EXTRAORDINARY STAND

Editor, Driftwood,

I do not know whether you would wish the Driftwood to be compared with the Washington-Post-Dispatch, but when you report that the local Chamber of Commerce wish to set themselves above the law and deny the right of the Capital Regional Board to appeal a decision in law regarding our famous air-strip, it invites comparison: An extraordinary position for its members to take, when they have been most vocal regarding the sacred rights of appeal.

Their assumption that the majority of islanders are in favour of this development may be based on "national security" but is more likely "self interest".

The goals of the Salt Spring Island Community Plan, agreed to by almost 100% of the people who expressed their opinions, state plainly that the emphasis shall be on maintaining the rural and unspoiled character of the island. Not once while this plan was being formulated did any person or group write to, or come to, the Planning Association to argue for the establishment of an air-strip. A curious omission in the face of such overwhelming popularity.

The owner of the strip, by keeping a discreet silence, is keeping all his options open, but with the kind of supporters he has, he doesn't need any enemies.

David Lott,
Box 417,

THAT IS MY GOD

Editor, Driftwood,
I'll have to say the way I see it.

To those who do not believe in God, God is an impossibility. To me, God has a toughness, a justice, a realism which commands my respect and obedience.

This is Mildred Norton saying what she thinks,
Ganges,

TO BURN WITCHES

Editor, Driftwood,

Dr. William Neil's book "The Plain Man Looks at the Bible" has something to say which might be of interest to readers of Rev. Low's columns and resulting correspondence.

Having established the historical and geographical background of the Hebrew writers, he goes on to say:

"The things that happened to them as a nation and as individuals crystallized their ideas, and through the pressure of these events their thoughts were moulded. That is why we cannot regard Old and New Testaments as being on the same level. The religious faith of the New Testament rests upon the developing insight of which

SQUEALS COST POINTS WHEN DRIVERS STOPPED

Squealing tires in Ganges cost three young drivers deduction of points from their licenses when they were given traffic violation reports. They were Ronald Pauls, Robby Wood and Steve Jonson.

Peter E. Holt was charged with disobeying a traffic control. He was also given a traffic violation report by RCMP at Ganges.

we have the record in the pages of the Old Testament.

In the early days views were held of God and man which were later discarded. The moral standards and religious insights of these barbaric tribes who swept through Palestine before making it their own, were on a different level from those of their descendants after the prophets had shown them more of the nature of God and His purpose for man. Later on, the teaching of Jesus was to transform their ideas still further. We must expect to find, therefore, primitive beliefs and low moral standards within the covers of the Bible, because it is the record of how people slowly came to learn the truth about God and about themselves. The early stages of that process are not glossed over but faithfully recorded.

It is an excellent thing that we should find side by side in the Bible superstitious credulity and genuine faith, vindictive cruelty and unselfish altruism. All are represented in society as we know it today and each one of us reproduces a mixture of them in himself. An intelligent reading of the Bible enables us to discern true from false higher from lower. An unintelligent reading of the Bible on the other hand can do more harm than good. It is grotesque to base the argument for capital punishment on the Old Testament dictum: "life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot". (Deut. 19, 21) If we do that we ought also to resume the burning of witches (Ex. 22, 18) and stoning to death for adultery. (Deut. 22, 22) The Old Testament -- like our own society and like ourselves -- must always be judged in the light of what we know of the mind of Jesus.

AIRSTRIP

Editor, Driftwood,

Isn't it strange how some people who have only lived on this Island a few years have the gall to tell us, who were either born here or lived here for a good many years, seem to think they have the right to tell us, what we should do with the land which over the years we have worked hard to maintain.

We have seen great changes over the years and all must know that it's inevitable, the world cannot stand still nor the people on it!

Those who think it's quite OK for them to buy here and then turn around and try to stop progress and we owners from selling some of our property for others to enjoy are mighty selfish people - who are we to say that only a few should be allowed to live here to enjoy

LAST TRIBUTE TO MINISTER

Memorial service for the Rev. M. V. G. Gilpin was held at the Community Gospel Chapel on Thursday, June 28 at 2:30 pm in which the family congregation, fellow ministers, friends and neighbors gathered to pay a last tribute.

Rev. Fred Anderson read the this lovely island.

Those who want to have their acres and live to themselves should have bought a small island where they could live free from callers seeking donations for various projects in the community, no neighbours to bother them or air strip with plane going over keeping them awake.

What a blessing we have the Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, etc, etc, all of which are run by dedicated and community minded people, which goes to make life that much happier for lots of people, with out such dedicated people I feel it sure would be a poor life. I have lived on this farm for 44 years and have had the experience on two occasions of the most wonderful response from the people on this island when was in dire need of help. I say God Bless them all.

I cannot speak for the people but I believe that most would agree that our air strip is an essential part of life these days. Lots of young people will be wanting to learn to fly and where better than Gudmore air strip. I congratulate him on what he has done and for his success in life. He was born in Fulford and went to the valley school with my son Jolir and Rosemary in the thirties.

It's a great life if we look for the good, but a bad one otherwise.

SATURNA BY PAPAJOHN

Being as tomorrow is July 1st and our annual Barbecue Day, we are getting this feeble column out on Saturday morning. When the noon ferry disgorges its passengers we will have son John and his wife, Barbara, grandsons John, Todd and Scot with Barbara's sister Susy and husband, Les so even the bathroom will not be private. But we love it. Besides, I have always kept the outside one-holer ready for emergencies.

Another year has ended at our Saturna School and although Taimi Hindmarch was away in Finland her capable substitute, Mellonie Gines handled things in her own sparkling and efficient way. The IODE Awards went to Elizabeth Scruggs and Shelley Crooks of Grade 1. In Grade 4 were Mary Jane Davidson, Sandra Crooks and Shilanne Johnson. In Grade 5 were Roger Johnson, Oolyah Bissett and Stevie Lawson. In Grade 6 Jennifer Davidson and in Grade 7 was Dolores Scruggs. Our thanks should go out again to the IODE for these generous awards each year.

The Saturna Island Women's Service Club Cup award went to Dolores Scruggs for Scholarship, Citizenship and Leadership. The attendance award went to one of my gal friends next door, Shelley Crooks and that made the third year in a row that Shelley has won this award.

The music for this occasion was provided by Clarice Warlow and Donna Begon. The poems recited were by Elizabeth Scruggs and Shelley Crooks. It is hard to put into words what one feels at these award days but it sure leaves you with a feeling that after looking at the clean faces of these children you go home with a cleaner look on life. No money in the world can buy that feeling.

Home from Libya, North Africa, is Don Cunningham to join his wife Lil and family. He is as brown as can be and not an ounce of fat on him. He hopes to absorb a wee bit of moisture while home. Their guests are Lil's brother Frank Juricic and wife Nanna from Indiana and we won't see much of Don and Frank as they are fishin' addicts.

MONTREAL TRUST

New Real Estate Operation Here

Montreal Trust has opened its Gulf Islands real estate division, with a new office in Ganges. Although the company has not previously operated an office in Ganges, it is an extension of the service they have maintained here for the past several years, explained Victoria area manager, David Baird.

The real estate division of the company has been operating on Salt Spring Island through its resident salesman, Ernie Watson.

This week Montreal Trust is moving into the refurbished offices it has acquired from Cam Bastedo Agencies Ltd.

The new office will be launched with two salesmen, Mr. Watson, the branch manager and Jim Leake who has also gained a branch manager's license.

The office is a real estate office and will offer no other services at the present time. Mr. Baird was emphatic on the status of the new operation.

Mr. Watson was a successful Salt Spring Island building contractor for many years. He came to the island in the 50's to manage Ganges Boat Yard. He left the boat yard to become an organizer for the Liberal Party. When he returned to the island he started as a contractor.

Mr. Leake has been engaged in real estate on Salt Spring Island for several years.

Both men went back to school in May when they sat their examinations for branch managers' licenses. They took the examination in the Gulf Islands Secondary school. It was held under the auspices of the department of commerce and business administration of the University of British Columbia. Both were successful.

Cam Bastedo has been on Salt Spring Island for the past decade. Originally he operated a real estate office in Fulford and moved to Ganges about 10 years ago. A Second War veteran, Cam has taken part in many island activities, including Legion and Chamber of Commerce. He is currently serving as second vice-president of Salt Spring Island Rotary Club.

With his wife, Lorraine, he has been a familiar figure in the Ganges business community. He hopes to become a familiar figure among travellers in future.

Massacre On July 4, 1860

EIGHT MEN DEAD

More police were needed at Ganges, the provincial government was told, and on July 4 the Ganges Indian fighting proved the need.

It was July 4, 1860, and the death of eight Bella Bella Indians in a battle on Ganges beach brought government action.

More than 100 years later the people of Salt Spring Island were again destined to appeal to Victoria for greater protection from marauding bands coming into the island from outside and threatening the peace and harmony of the island community.

In the Ganges massacre a George Macaulay came to Salt Spring Island in a canoe paddled by Bella Bella Indians. There were 13 of the native people in his canoe. This was very significant at the time, because the Bella Bellas and the Cowichans were enemies.

They were so hostile that when the Bella Bella canoe came in to tie up at Fernwood, Macaulay was dismayed by the evident hostility and made no attempt to stop. Instead, he went on to the second island settlement at Ganges.

Macaulay was well-versed in the ways of the Indian people, but he goes down in history as utterly callous and indifferent to their well-being. He was, himself, disliked by the Cowichans, who claimed they had been swindled by him on an earlier occasion.

At 2 pm on July 4, 1860, the Bella Bella canoe came into Ganges Harbour and Macaulay went ashore. They encountered a group of Cowichan Indians and he paused to assure this group that the Bella Bella were good people. He gained the assurance of the Cowichans that they had no intention of molesting the Bella Bellas. He then went on his way to visit the home of Thomas Lineker, leaving his Indian crew on the beach.

That he was already distrusted by the Cowichans; that they held blankets around themselves in a patent attempt to hide their weapons and that he had brought the Bella Bellas to this place appeared to afford Macaulay no concern. He was later criticized by Governor James Douglas for this action.

Almost as soon as he had left the beach, there were shots fired. Half-an-hour later the Bella Bellas had taken to their canoe after three of their number had been killed.

"It was evident to me," Macaulay wrote, "that the Bella Bella would be defeated, as the Cowichans numbered between 50 and 60 and opposed to them were only nine of the Bella Bellas."

MAYNE DERBY YIELDS 30 lb FISH

BY ELSIE BROWN

More than 50 boats sailed out of Miners Bay on Sunday, July 1st to try for the "Big One" to win prizes provided by Mayne Island Lions Club. The day was ideal for onlookers and we assume it was the same for the fishermen.

Al Brau, of Mayne, was the big winner catching a 29 lb. 5 oz. salmon taking the first prize of $250.

Don Turberfield was second, with 17 lbs. even, winning $100. Mrs. Mitzi Saito's 10 lb. 1 oz. catch took third, winning $50. Roy Crispin won the hidden weight prize. His 6 lbs. 7 oz. fish won him a Polaroid camera.

Among the Gulf Island winners were Jean Little, Pender Island; Mary Backlund, Galiano; Mrs. Evelyn Angus, Vic Haggart, Al Baldwin, and Pete Higginbottom, Mayne Island.

Five fish and other items were auctioned under the capable hands of Tommy Carolan, of Galiano, raising more than $200.

Fred Flick, president, welcomed the large gathering and thanked them for their support.

Harvey Hampshire, proprietor of Miners Bay Trading Post was chairman of the Derby and acted as M.C. during the awarding of the prizes.

Wives manning the refreshment stand at Miners Bay were Mrs. Doreen Ferguson, Mrs. Nita Flick, Mrs. Edona Medcalf and Mrs. Grace Evans.

The Lions are to be congratulated on their fine efforts on behalf of the community of Mayne Island.

P.S. Vic Haggart won the case of liquid refreshment which he donated back and was included among the items auctioned off.

Following donors made the prizes available: Polaroid camera, Mayne Inn; tackle box, Wilson and Lenfesti; transistor radio, Hudson's Bay Co.; tumblers with tray, North West Creamery; stepladder, Hickman Tye; electric popcorn machine, Mayne Island Centre Store; hot tray, Blue Vista Motel; Horse (ornament), Buckerfields; sleeping bag and water jug, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Flick; three sets of glasses, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hampshire; ladies luggage, Miners Bay Trading Post; carving set, Mayne Island Sand and Gravel; golf bag, in-

MAYNE SCHOOL

BY ELSIE BROWN

Students, teachers and parents at Mayne Island celebrated the end of the school year at a picnic held at the school grounds the latter part of June.

After a strenuous afternoon of games, including baseball, in which many of the parents participated; Pearl Brau was catcher and has bruises to prove it; they were ready for the pot luck supper, consisting of hamburgers cooked on the barbecue and salads.

Even a few fathers turned out and enjoyed themselves, remembering their own school days.

In charge of the proceedings were school principal, Miss Pat James assisted by teacher, Miss Frances Thompson.

They all returned home tired but happy after a successful year and ready to enjoy their summer holidays.

Congratulations to Wanda Paton who graduated from Gulf Islands Secondary School, Salt Spring Island. She was Valedictorian for her class and won a scholarship for Citizenship. Wanda is presently employed at the Bank of Montreal at Ganges.

Congratulations also to Maggie Rainsford who graduated from Queen Margaret School at Duncan. A trip to England is in the offing for Maggie. More about that later.

Students passing into Gulf Island Secondary school from Mayne are Linda Lane and Bobby Halvorson. Congratulations to them also!

ANIMAL SLEEPERS

Are you a sound sleeper? Researchers on sleeping times of animals find that rabbits usually have about 16 regularly spaced naps during the day. Some birds are light sleepers, exploding from their nest at the first sign of danger; others like the Australian frogmouth, sleep so soundly that they may be lifted from their perches without waking. So much for research.

Although old age comes to all trees, some species like Poplar or White Birch normally have a short life span compared to others like White Pine or Douglas Fir.

N GANGES BATTLE

The victims of the massacre, having no desire to be slaughtered in the vicinity of where the Harbour House Hotel would one day stand, were paddling down the harbour in desperation. They threw overboard their skins in the hope of distracting their pursuers. The Cowichans had even made allowances for such an eventuality and there were boys in small canoes all prepared to collect the booty from the water.

The Bella Bella Indians once again headed inshore as the Cowichans gained on them. They landed to take a stand against the protection of the trees. Again, they were outnumbered and outmanoeuvred. The Cowichan group had a second party waiting for them on shore. One man escaped into the wood and two of the women and the boy were taken prisoner.

The wounded Bella Bella Indian paddler made his way to the Lineker home, where Macaulay was staying. Lineker had already sent his family away across the island.

The two whites bound the man's wounds and sped him on his way. That was the last they ever saw of him.

When the settlers wrote to the government in Victoria, they reported this incident and they referred to an earlier murder of two Cowichans by a party of Fort Rupert Indians. The two victims had taken to the white settlers' boat to get away from the armada of invading northmen. The Fort Ruperts had cut off their heads in the white man's boat.

The government, with its limited resources and its sole concern with the protection of the settlers, did not take part in tribal disputes of the Indian people and took no punitive measures unless white men's lives or property were threatened.

Capt. James C. Prevost, of HMS Satellite, investigated the massacre. He reported that the two communities on Admiral Island consisted of 25 souls in the Fernwood-Beggsville settlement and 26 at Ganges. They were linked by a trail to St. Mary Lake and a trail from the end of St. Mary Lake. A canoe was essential to the traveller between Fernwood and Ganges.

Each settler claimed 200 acres, reported Prevost, with some properties boasting of as much as a mile sea-frontage. It was impossible to defend such a settlement, he reported, particularly for the lack of any acknowledged head or leader.

The Satellite steamed to Cowichan Bay and presented an ultimatum to the Indians there. They must give up any attacks on other Indian bands. The assembled chiefs took his message at its face value. They would agree, they offered, as long as the government would guarantee them security from attack from other bands. The government could offer no such guarantee.

Today, 113 years later, Island trouble mostly comes from outside and Islanders are still appealing for help to Victoria.

TOGETHER IN DEATH AT PENDER

BY CULTUS COULEE

Remains of Mrs. Mary F. Clarke, who died in 1962, have been moved to Pender Cemetery to be alongside those of her husband.

South Pender lost a dedicated artist when James Clarke died in Victoria on March 15 this year.

On May 29, family and friends met at the Pender cemetery, where Rev. Oswald Foster performed rites re-uniting husband and wife. The marble slab, "Mary F. Clarke, 1887-1962" brought from White Rock is now beside that of "James R. Clarke, 1887-1973." Carnations were placed on the plots by daughter Joan and Stuart Ward.

The soaring four-trunk arbutus at the edge of the wood stands guard. Flowering plum and dogwood border the burial ground. For one who loved country churchyards it is "the spot for happy everaftering."

Daughter Betty Healey had framed and hung 14 of James Clarke's pictures, and there were folders of drawings, the resume of a happy life.

Mr. Clarke's mother, Fanny Jones, was born in Kempley. "In the Marshes on the border of England and Wales. A no-man's land," he had said.

"The parish church with Norman tower, dating from 1100, seated 40 or 50. In the chapel are frescoes 850 years old and the colors are still good."

James Reginald Clarke was born on a farm at Upleadon on the Leadon River, where "the parish church goes back over 900 years."

James Clarke married Mary Penwarden, whose family came from Cornwall. In 1911 they went to Kuroki near Saskatoon. Mary had a piano and James played the flute. Mary's sister had trained as a concert pianist and their brother, Kenner, had played the organ at St. Paul's in London; music was in their blood.

REPORT ON OFY SCHEME

SATURNA FARM PROJECT 1972

Last year an Opportunity for Youth project was carried out at Saturna through the summer months. It consisted of the operation of a farm on the island, raising produce for the benefit of welfare recipients and transients in Vancouver. Scheme was the Saturna Exchange Farm Project.

Seven young farmers were involved. They were Vancouver residents. In addition to their operation as a food-producing centre, they planned to bring young persons from the city to look over their operation.

Earlier this year a reader on Pender asked for a report on the venture. The report was obtained through the good offices of the Islands MP, T. C. Douglas.

The seven participants came together as a result of an intense interest in farming and in awareness of the pressing need for West End Vancouver youths to get out of a tense area and experience an alternative way of living, says the final report.

Main objectives were to employ the seven and to send food to Vancouver. Most of the food produced went to Gool Aid in Vancouver, according to the report.

The garden was a great success and at least one trip a week was made to Vancouver with produce, after August 1.

The sponsors complained that delay in advice from the offices of OFY left them in a state of uncertainty. The start was thus delayed and valuable growing time was lost. In addition, lack of early funding left them without seeds.

There was no central management and all problems were settled by group discussion and confrontation.

"We found this to be fairly successful."

Participants tried their best to create harmony with the local community and they received a favourable response from most of the people.

"A few of the older taxpayers were upset by the whole idea of grants and had been misinformed by the local newspaper as to the nature of our project."

The participants all felt that the idea was a workable one but that more money would be needed to obtain proper farming equipment and supplies and for irrigation materials.

"It would probably be impractical for OFY."

The group communication with OFY was distant and long-delayed.

BY

PASTOR DAVID G. LOW

I have mentioned in past columns, that in order to receive God's salvation that He has for us, that we must place our faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and in what He has done for us. A question has come to me, inquiring as to what my definition of faith is.

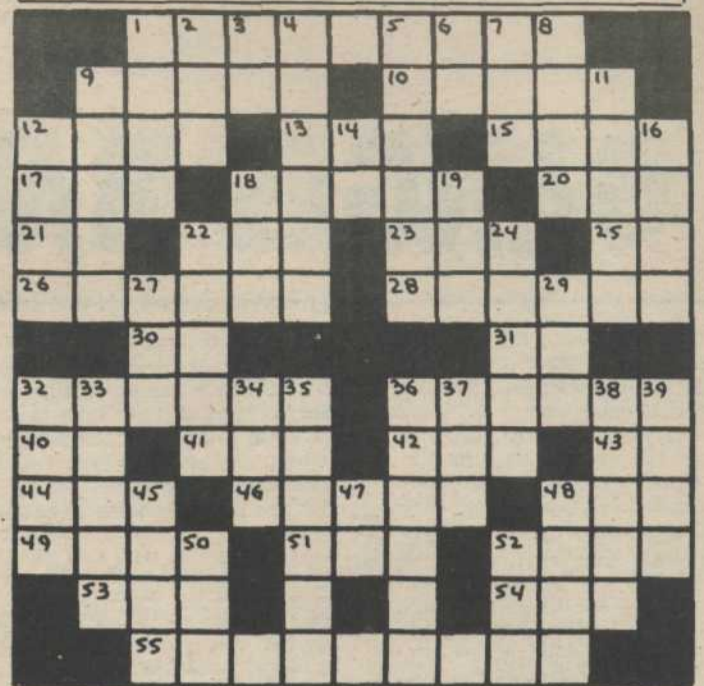

Faith is something we exhibit every day. When we sit down at the breakfast table we put our faith in the chair, that it will hold us. When we jump into the car, we have faith that it will get us to where we are going. This simple faith, that we put in materialistic things, is the same faith that we should direct towards our Lord Jesus.

Faith is non-questioning. It does not rely on human reasoning. The Bible does not set out to prove the existence of God, or to prove that Jesus was who He said He was. It simply states God and the mission of Jesus, and it's up to us to believe. When I come up to a chair or my car, I do not inquire as to the proof of its existence or the manufacturer or, if I put it to use will it work; I simply come up to it and sit in the chair or turn the car on.

This may sound very simplistic to you, but this is the way God planned it so that all men of all walks of life will be able to acquire God's salvation. In putting our faith in Jesus we are committing our lives to Him. In ourselves, we cannot come to God any other way than by the way He has made available for us. In other words, our church attendance or our good lives do not meet God's requirements for salvation. Our best is not good enough. Only when we tell the Lord that we want to commit our lives to Him and that we believe (or have faith) that He is God's Son sent down to earth to die for mankind and that through Him we have forgiveness of sin, then and only then will we receive God's salvation.

Please send all questions and comments to INQUEST, c/o Pastor David Low, Box 61, Ganges, B.C. All letters will be acknowledged.

GALIANO

BY MARY BACKLUND

To their summer home at Montague Harbour came the Les Brown family from Edmonton, Alberta for the coming months.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stallybrass came to visit dad, Bernard Stallybrass, for several days from Edmonton. They drove through Powell River, down on the ferry to Kelsey Bay, then down Vancouver Island, and to Galiano.

We stayed home at Peaceful Valley this year, and were happy to have guests, Mr. and Mrs. Don Berkey, and two children of North Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Des Harrison, and two children, of Richmond and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Marcotte, and son, of Surrey.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Morshead have arrived home, after going to Ottawa where Mrs. Morshead attended the Dominion Annual Anglican Conference for women. They went to Montreal and thence to Monton, N.B., for a new days at Cape Broule, from there to Halifax, Nova Scotia, back to Montreal, and from there by train back home to Galiano.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tully were pleased to have parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Tully to visit them from Chilliwack for a few days.

It's just tit-for-tat!

One day last year, I sold a ticket for a painting to Doreen Cowan, of Saturna. She won the painting.

About two months ago, she sold me a ticket on a fishing derby. It was my turn; I won a prize! Have to do that again!

ISLANDERS SING THROUGH JAILS

Five Salt Spring Islanders have been to jail for more than a month. And they are hoping to go again.

Tradition And Mouats

Mouat's is going back in time. While the Ganges department store brightens up with new lighting and a modern look the outside will revert to an older style.

Years ago the store was equipped with a metal canopy. The canopy is to come back, says Tom Toynbee. It will not run the length of the building opposite the post office, but will terminate at the entrance to the lower floor mall.

The effect will be much the same as when the post office was located in the rear of the store according to the store spokesman.

Canopy will be green and white.

FOUR FINED AFTER MAY 20 WEEKEND

Fine of $50 and six months probation were imposed on Donald E. Smith, of Victoria, when he appeared before Provincial Judge D. G. Ashby in Ganges Court on Wednesday.

Smith was charged with theft under $200 as a result of incidents in Ganges on the May 20 holiday week end.

Smith pleaded guilty to the charge.

Similar fine and probation were imposed on two youths from Richmond also arising from May 20 week end incidents. Charged with being minors in possession of liquor were Mark Doyle, and Harry Olafsen. Third Richmond youth, Kevin Williams, was fined $50 without the period of probation.

They are the five musicians from the island who have been working since Mid-May to bring music to the inmates of correctional centres and penitentiaries throughout the province. "Project Bastille" was conceived earlier in the year by Ken Gross, Paul Newman, Dan Harvey, Kathy Stack, and Bob Walshaw.

The group consulted the British Columbia Corrections Service and the Canadian Penitentiary Service before applying to Opportunities for Youth for a grant of $3,000.

The participants have produced their two-act show, consisting of a solo performance by Miss Stack, followed by the country and western quartet, "Sodbuster", at most of the provincial correctional centres in B. C. from Victoria to Prince George.

The group hopes to continue the project if funds can be arranged.

MINCOME LEADING TO MEANS TEST?

Provincial government wants more information than is necessary from recipients of "Mincome" pensions, charge a number of Salt Spring Island recipients.

For two periods, the provincial department of Human Resources has distributed forms demanding detailed information regarding property and revenues.

Many recipients feel that the questions are the forerunner of a means test. Recipients are required to disclose stocks, debentures, bonds, real estate, other than their homes, cash savings, bank account, trust account, cash surrender value of their life insurance and any other property. Each applicant is required to state his rental cost or mortgage payments, electricity bills, telephone bill, water charges, fuel costs, water bills property taxes, property insurance and repairs and maintenance.

The information must be certified but not sworn. The form will not affect the payment of mincome, applicant is assured. It is needed for federal-provincial negotiations each applicant is told.

HE'S A POET

Windson was buzzing and chirping with small fry when Michael Coleman, his wife Barbara, Charles and Teddy, were over from Duncan, visiting Mrs. Mary Coleman.

Klaus Muentner's article in the Victoria Colonist has told of Ivory and Coloured Glass, Michael's book of verse; of Bitter Sweet - A Memory, the short story that won its place in keen competition at the 1972 Duncan Easter Arts Fair.

Michael belongs to the Vancouver Poetry Society and the Canadian Authors' Association. His verse appears in Canada and the United States.

Since Muentner's article, Michael has won a prize at the Easter Fair, Cowichan Valley, for "Practicum."

"The story deals with aspects of learning by practice", he says. "Teachers usually have two weeks in which they put theory into practice when they teach in the classroom."

In spite of a busy law practice; activity in the Liberal party; working with Big Brothers, Michael Coleman can disappear into the bush and let thoughts of a new poem or short story take over.

On the edge of the Cowichan River, in sun patch or dappled maple shade, he finds "tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, Sermons in stones, and good in everything."

Another event taking place on the island over the week end was a "Festival" sponsored by the local young people held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Drummond, new owners of "Wathla" on the corner of Village Bay Road and Fernhill Road. Leather work, weaving, needlework and candles were on display. Organic foods, herbal tea, home-made bread and other bakery products were for sale. Leather work will be displayed and sold at Springwater Lodge this summer under the name of "Islandia Shop".

TAKE ALL-STARS 13-2 SUNDAY

Salties Still Unbeaten

BY ELLEN BENNETT

Salties Roller Hockey team retained their unbeaten streak with a big win over the All-Stars. They were at the winning end of a 13-2 score on Sunday at George Pearkes Arena in Victoria.

Salties goals were scored by Karl Kitchen (5), Danny Akerman (2), and Brian Lee (2). Assists by Paddy Akerman (5), Rick Kitchen (1), Karl Kitchen (1), Bernie Reynolds (1).

The first period started off with a fast goal by the Salties and tied right back by the All-Stars to end at 4-1.

In the second period the Salties went wild with eight to only one by the All-Stars. The third period only saw one goal scored by the Salties. The game was clean and fast, and I'm sure the Victoria team with their short roster, were a bunch of tired players when the game was over.

Next game is Sunday, July 8 at 4:30 pm at George Pearkes Arena and we hope to see you there.

Fernwood

BY JESSE SAYER

Fernwood dock is a great attraction at any time but especially during the holidays for visiting children and boaters from all areas.

Mr. and Mrs. Lars Ostby, of New Westminster, enjoyed a short visit to our island, dividing their time between visiting Mrs. E. A. Duke, of Vesuvius Bay, and the Sayers of Fernwood.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Tait, of Kelowna, enjoyed visiting with their cousin, Mrs. A. C. Forsythe and Mr. Forsythe of Fernwood Road.

The Edgewater-Fortune turned "sometime" cruise-ship arrived at Fernwood dock at noon on Sunday with a large crowd of adults and teenagers representing the New Westminster and district school and concert band. They brought lunch baskets and beach chairs and enjoyed the beach for a couple of hours. The ship took three hours to come from New Westminster and it was quite windy at times.

The unlucky but adventurous young man, Laing Smith spent a few hours at the dock launching his boat for his next adventure which was to start from Ganges down the coast to California.

Bill, Doris and George DeLong have moved into their lovely new home on Fernwood Road.

CENTRE CLOSES DOORS

Community Training Centre at Welbury Point closed its doors on Friday.

The drug education program was abandoned by the federal government as a result of an attack by Radioman Jack Webster.

The staff of the centre report that they received in June a reply to their letter of January. All other information had been passed on to the centre over the air.

Did you know that in the spring of 1963, more than 22,000 Douglas Firs were planted in Stanley Park? This was done to make up for the damage caused by Typhoon Frieda the previous fall. The Typhoon cut a swath through the park destroying more than 13,000 hemlocks and also crashing mature trees down on to the first generation of new trees planted by the foresters in the 1930's.

WHY NOT USE THE PENDER QUEEN?

Five Ferries And They Go For Two

Why don't they take the 9.30 ferry?
B. C. Ferry officials are frustrated every Monday morning. On Monday the 8.30 sailing from Fulford Harbour left seven cars behind. The overload waited for the 9.30 sailing of the Pender Queen. No other cars came for the Pender Queen.

When the Salt Spring Queen left at 10.30 it was forced to leave behind an overload.

BOWLERS OF THE WEEK

Top bowlers of the week at Leisure Lanes were Anne Jameski with 225, 210 and 206 for 641 and Flip Bedford, whose 234, 192 and 155 added up to 581.

Fun night's top scorers were Ed Miller, 260, 249 and 200 for 709, and Ruth Bedford, with 186, 268 and 210 for 664.

It is logical that travellers from off-island might have problems in finding the 9.30 sailing, but islanders should be aware of the additional boat, explained Terminal Agent R. R. Anderson this week.

On Saturday morning, Monday morning and Tuesday morning there is a ferry every hour from Fulford. There is no Pender Queen sailing on Wednesday or Thursday. On Fridays and Sundays the supplementary sailings are confined to the aft-noon.

Schedule of the Pender Queen is published on Page 16 of this issue of DRIFTWOOD. Salt Spring Island residents are urged to retain the schedule and keep it for future reference.

"Follow the Pender Queen schedule and you may have no wait at all getting to Victoria" urged Mr. Anderson.

GANGES FLOWER SHOP CHANGES HANDS

Ganges business has changed hands, but the personnel is almost unchanged.

Last week Gulf Islands Florist and handicrafts was taken over by David Hill of the Ganges Crest. He purchased the business from Mrs. Ellen Timbers who has operated since the retirement of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. D. Jones.

No changes in operation or staff are planned, said Mr. Hill. New proprietor came here several years ago to acquire the Ganges Crest from David Pauls. He and his wife, Sonja have settled into the island pattern of living.

About fourteen percent of Canada's harvested forests are regenerated by artificial methods and the balance by natural means.

Artcraft '73 was launched on Friday evening when the Gulf Islands Community Arts Council marked the informal opening of the exhibition.

On Saturday the two-month show was opened to the public and there was an immediate response from islanders and tourists.

The annual exhibition in Mahon Hall at Ganges presented paintings and other works of island artists and craftsmen for public viewing.

The artist may offer his work for sale at a nominal commission.

DELTA BAND COMING JULY 29

Open air concert is looming at Ganges for the end of the month.

On July 29 the Delta Community Band will come to Salt Spring Island again for the annual picnic.

For a number of years the community band from the mainland has played in Centennial Park for the entertainment of islanders, visitors and players.

The band is one of the few community bands on the coast and has won an impressive list of prizes.

The result is that the board has effected a settlement of the extra cost for rock removal and certain other adjustments for a net additional cost of $11,500. This amount is available within the contingency funds that are part of the referenda which cover the building project, so there will be no additional demand upon the ratepayers.

It might be pointed out that this additional cost is about 1% of the total cost of the buildings, and that it works out to about $5.50 per yard for the extra rock removed.
