THERE'S ONLY ONE DOESN'T WANT YOUR VOTE

Ernie Knott, Don Taylor, Tom Toynbee, Tommy Douglas and Ray Kane in Ganges Sunday.

FOUR AT GANGES MEETING

Four candidates came to Salt Spring Island on Sunday evening to offer their programs and their reasons for calling for islanders' votes in the July 8 federal general election.

The candidates addressed a meeting of 75 people in the elementary school activity centre.

Meeting was called by the Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce and the chair was taken by Tom Toynbee, chamber president.

Speaking were Liberal Ray Kane; New Democrat Tommy Douglas; Tory Don Taylor and Communist Ernie Knott.

RAY KANE . . . LIBERAL

No one party and no one leader has the ready answer to inflation, Kane told the meeting. The nation must all work at it, but the cure will not be instantaneous, he cautioned.

Excess profits tax is the answer to combatting inflation, said the Liberal candidate, but production must also be stepped up. He urged an immediate entry into secondary industry with more goods being manufactured in Canada and less raw materials shipped out. "It would put us in a more favorable position in world trade," he told the audience.

The best way to curb inflation, he continued, is to refuse to buy.

Both old-line parties looked to their respective leaders.

"We can't do anything without a strong leader," stated Ray Kane, "to implement these things and to carry on in the years ahead."

Kane deplored the lack of close co-operation between different levels of government and the resultant delay in launching publicly-financed projects. He also recalled that the cost of government, in percentages, has fallen since the last Conservative government.

The Liberal, finally, presented a proposal for increased residential building land. The department of national defence has property all over the country which could more usefully be converted into homes for Canadians, he stated.

Where the defence department is holding land without using it, this land could be made available at a reasonable figure for home construction, he urged.

Keep the green belts and keep agricultural land for agriculture, he agreed. "But tell us what is residential and release it now," he challenged.

TOMMY DOUGLAS . . . N.D.P.

Tommy Douglas, former leader of the New Democratic Party and member for Nanaimo-Cowichan-the Islands in the last parliament spoke of the international park plan.

He is unalterably opposed to the proposal that the Gulf Islands be merged with the San Juan Islands in an international recreation area, stated Douglas.

He has asked Mitchell Sharp for an assurance that the Canadian delegation to the International Joint Commission will be instructed to oppose any such proposal, said the candidate. He could gain no such assurance. He has also asked that no action be taken until islanders have been invited to express an opinion. Sharp had agreed to this proposal.

He urged that Canada claim a 200-mile off-shore control and require that shipping remain outside this limit. If northern oil in the giant tankers were taken to California instead of Washington, Canada would continue to supply Washington with oil, he assured the meeting.

"There will be one serious wreck a year and the pollution when the giant tankers are sailing into these waters," warned the candidate.

He has been pressing in the House to raise the Old Age Pension to $200 a month, said Douglas, and the cost-of-living supplement, as well as a lowering of the age limit of a pensioner's wife to 60.

He also called for the extension of the Canada Pension Plan to the housewife on a voluntary basis.

It is true that inflation is world-wide, he agreed, but in Canada 70% of all goods consumed are home-grown. He would not accept a wage and price freeze when prices are at their highest level in history. What is needed, he urged, is a roll-back of prices.

DON TAYLOR . . . P.C.

Don Taylor is a Stanfield man. He left no doubt of his loyalty as he constantly referred to the Stanfield program. He also jumped into the question of inflation.

The Stanfield plan for wages and price controls is rapidly gaining support, he stated. Despite the charges that labor wouldn't accept the controls, it has been approved by the premiers of British Columbia, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, he told the audience.

His statement was later challenged by Tommy Douglas.

Taylor looked to a reduction of the wasteful pattern of LIP and OFY grants. The Liberal government has been unwilling to examine the problem to ensure that those who need help get that help quickly.

The Conservative candidate also took issue with the manner in which the Stanfield anti-inflation policy has been reported in the press. The wage and price control would apply to all forms of income.

ERNIE KNOTT . . . COMMUNIST

Ernest Knott explained that he had been asked what was the main issue in the election.

It depends on who is asking the question. The main issue for the pensioner is having enough money to buy food. The housewife.

TWO GOVERNMENTS CONCERNED AS

Ottawa delays park bid

Gulf Islands have not yet been offered up as a sacrifice to the water god in Point Roberts.

Plan of the Point Roberts international Board, submitted to the International Joint Commission called for the establishment of an international park to embrace the Gulf Islands, the San Juan Island and Point Roberts. The mainland colony would be the administration headquarters of the park and as a reward, Point Roberts would be supplied with Canadian domestic water.

Driftwood learned from Prime Minister Trudeau this week that the federal government asked the Commission to refrain from pursuing the broad concept proposed by the board.

Instead, the international Point Roberts Board was directed to study and report in more detail what government action would be required to eradicate or lessen the irritants to the residents of Point Roberts described in the reference from the governments.

This action was taken when the British Columbia government advised the government in Ottawa of the pending Gulf Islands Trust. It would have been premature for the Commission to consider inclusion of the Gulf Islands in the solution to the Point Roberts question while the establishment of the Gulf Islands Trust was in progress, reports the Prime Minister's office.

The Ottawa office also reports that when the International Joint Commission sat in Washington in April, there was a request from the Washington State Legislature to the Commission to defer consideration of the Point Roberts study and particularly the question of including the San Juan Islands in any solution. The State Legislature has appointed a select committee to study the implications, in the State of Washington, of the recommendations of the Point Roberts Board.

Both studies, that of the Commission into certain assumed population levels on Point Roberts, and the Washington State enquiry, are expected to be completed towards the end of the year.

Island residents and property owners have been hostile to the proposal of the Point Roberts Board. Their objections have been conveyed to the provincial and federal governments. Many across the line, in the State of Washington, have been equally incensed by the plan.

Two are drowned at lake

Two young men lost their lives on Monday while swimming in Cusheon Lake.

Dead are Brian Rush, 18, of Ganges and Vancouver and Michael Robert Zahorodny, of the Toronto area, who was 22 years of age.

Rush was the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Rush, who spend most of their holidays on Salt Spring Island on their property here.

He had graduated from high school in Vancouver this year and had this week secured employment on Salt Spring Island.

There will be no funeral ceremonies for the island boy. His body will be cremated and his ashes scattered at the camp he knew so well.

Third victim of the tragedy was taken from the water on Monday evening and rushed to Lady Minto Hospital.

He is still under treatment.

Taking part in the search were divers, Shane Heinekzy and Marvin Bergstrom.

CURTIS TO SWITCH?

* * * * *
ONE WAY TO DEFEAT BARRETT

Progressive Conservative member for Saanich and the Islands? That's what he was.

Hugh Curtis announced on Monday that he may be a candidate for a united opposition, or coalition right-wing party to defeat the New Democratic government of David Barrett.

Both Conservatives in the provincial legislature have now offered support for a unity party. It is the first time for two decades there has been a Tory sitting in the provincial legislature. Twenty years ago the Conservatives were absorbed into the Social Credit party after the then CCF failed to win the government by one seat.

Three right-wing parties cannot defeat the Socialists, Curtis stated on Monday.

Three paths lie ahead for the Islands MLA, he explained. He can join a new, unified party; join the Social Credit party or he can stay where he is.

Proponent of a unified party has been the leader of the two-man Tories, Dr. Scott Wallace

Saturna Barbecue Monday

Dominion Day is Monday is July 1 is Saturna Lamb Barbecue day.

On Monday the first sign of dawn will be the approach of squadrons of power boats towards Saturna Beach to take part in the annual barbecue.

The flames and smoke of the lamb fires will be a landmark throughout the morning.

Barbecue on the almost unreachable beach of Jim and Lorraine Campbell's property will attract visitors like it was on the King George Highway.

THEY MET TO RECALL ANOTHER WAR

They were mostly Old Sweats when the Royal Canadian Legion staged a luncheon part recently. The only young sweats were no longer young. They were the veterans of the Second World War and they were there to lay it all on for the veterans of the First World War.

Each guest was offered a drink before lunch and most took advantage of the offer. It helped oil the memory as each started back down the roads of time to some significant incident in the war of 1914-18.

They all had their own memories and almost all were looking back on different phases of a devastating war.

Paddy Kyle was examining a photograph. It showed three soldiers, himself and two other Scots. They were the only survivors of 55 men, he explained. The three men all wore brassards, or armbands. This indicated they were signallers, explained the veteran. The brassard was the passport to almost any door in the army. Gordon Matthews had a map. It was a map carefully prepared by an army headquarters and passed on to the junior officers as and when needed.

The dotted parts were barbed wire, he explained. It was on the wrong side of the trenches, I submitted. It was not, he replied, those were German trenches.

Was the map of any use, I enquired.

"Not a bit of use," he replied. He thrust it in his tunic pocket and carried out the operation entrusted to him. Later he found the map again and has carried it with him for the nearly 60 years since. That was when Capt. Gordon Matthews was serving with the Imperials in France.

Then we had lunch. I was not really entitled to lunch, but the Ladies' Auxiliary broke down and fed me in token of my thin and hungry look.

When I left, the Old Sweats were still discussing a war so long ago that was to end all wars. -FGR.

FERNWOOD

BY JESSIE SAYER

Mrs. Elizabeth Sampson of Fernwood Road is a patient in hospital in Victoria. She suffered a serious fall at her home recently while she was alone.

The Cannon children, of North Beach Road, are certainly proving they know plenty about sailing sabots. They will be well-trained by the time they graduate to larger yachts. Robbie won the trophy this past week.

Mrs. W. Petapiece of North Beach Road, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. T. Chester, of Brinkworthy Road recently returned from a trip to Britain and southern Ireland. They spent some time visiting relations and toured other places on their own. They especially enjoyed Cambridge, London and South Wales. Every place looked very green and beautiful, she reports. Prices were going up and Canadian money was more valuable than American. Sterling was worth $2.31. Unfortunately, the weather was cool and breezy.

Friends of John McAndless of Maliview, will be pleased to know he has returned home after a stay in a Victoria hospital and is feeling fine.

A number of skin divers had fun off the dock during the week end.

WITH EATON'S FOR 43 YEARS

At four o'clock on Sunday, June 23, with wife and daughter by his bed, Frank D. Artiss set out peacefully for his heavenly home.

Before retiring in 1967, Frank Artiss had been for 43 years a member of the staff of the T. Eaton Company in Winnipeg. Six years ago Mr. and Mrs. Artiss came to Salt Spring Island where they established a home in the Beddis Subdivision and joined the United Church.

Mr. Artiss was for five years, a member of Session and Mrs. Artiss this year's president of the Mizpah Group of the United Church Women.

Among other activities the Artisses were enthusiastic members of the Garden Club, their interest in this line extending to the lawn and shrubs that framed their home, the spring flowers that cheered the neighborhood, and the straw berries (generously shared) which were grown by Mr. Artiss in boxed-in terraces, and the excess preserved by his wife in the family freezer.

A year ago last Monday, in the company of 73 well-wishers who had gathered in honour of the event, Mr. and Mrs. Artiss celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Recently, his health failing, Mr. Artiss spent a short time in hospital in Ganges and Victoria and then four months at home, part of the time confined to a wheel chair and then to bed. On Saturday he was taken to Lady Minto Hospital, where he died.

Left behind are his loving wife Jean; daughter, Mrs. C. (mae) Prichard of Winnipeg; 12 grandchildren; and a brother, Norman, in Ontario.

Memorial service will be held on Thursday, June 27, at 1 p.m. in the Ganges United Church, F. W. Sibley officiating.

Flowers are gratefully declined. For anyone who so desired, a donation may be made to the B.C. Cancer Society.

to be frank

By Richards

Number Three is on its way. Talking to David Conover at the week end and he told me that his third book is now being re-written, ready for its final corrections. Number One was Once Upon an Island and became a world best-seller.

The election had been called and I wanted to write to the Prime Minister. It was not like that any more, the post office told me. I had to put a stamp on the letter. I have long rejoiced at being able to write to my betters without a stamp. But only while there is a parliament, said the post office. Once the election is called and parliament is dissolved all mail must bear a stamp. Clever thinking even though it's not logical! The Prime Minister is still the Prime Minister. Because an election is looming I must pay for the privilege of addressing him on any subject, whether in relation to his office as Prime Minister or not. Why?

Don't often get a chance to comment and don't often have occasion to, but the review of the elementary school play, written by Michael Doherty a few weeks ago was exceptional. Michael is a student at Gulf Islands Secondary School. He writes like a man who enjoys writing. Which means, very often, that he writes like the reader enjoys reading.

Ernie Knott is no newcomer to island politics. Candidate in the present election, he is running on the Communist ticket. He ran on the same ticket in 1953 and again, in Esquimalt-Saanich, in 1957. Incidentally, his wife, ex-school teacher, Freda, is his agent in the campaign. I recalled the last time I met him, during that 1957 campaign. He wanted to see me at Sidney and couldn't get into the office during the day, so I arranged to meet him at home. When Ernie came to the house, I introduced him to someone with me and my small son dashed into the kitchen. "Mummy," he gasped, "Daddy's got a Communist in our living room!" The McCarthy days are gone, replied Knott, "we are no longer 14 feet tall and we don't eat babies any more."

Politics breed political forecasts. My forecast came out early in the campaign and it stands unchanged. Not what I want, but what I think... Tommy Douglas will go back to Ottawa to speak for the islands and Pierre Elliott will once again lead a diminutive government. Could be wrong, of course. I was wrong once. There are others in the forecasting business. Alex Matthews, Cariboomlay, reported in the 100 Mile House Free Press, looks to a provincial election in the fall of 1976. He's a year out in the books of Nanaimo Liberal organizer, Clint. Fall of '75, says Clint. Any more offers?

When Michael Hobbs came home the other day he was greeted by his horse. It was a warm greeting as it was unusual. Horse stood in the hall and Hobbs stood outside the hall. He walked slowly away and around the house to the back. Very gently he walked in behind the animal and it trotted out and away. Michael was fearful of spooking the horse. It could have gone through the floor, he explained. Trouble is that the horse is like love, he laughs at locksmiths, now he can open the door himself.

This is a big week in my career. In a quarter-century of Canadian reporting I have seen my first-ever news report telling voters how or where to vote. It does my heart good to realize that we weren't forgotten all those years. The chief electoral office was busy preparing this story on voting. It's a good, meaty story, but I'm not sure that it really should have taken 25 years to write.

Mushrooms are tasty, pleasant and nutritious. Unless they happen to be poisonous mushrooms. Then they are tasty, pleasant and deadly. Care should, therefore, be taken to recognize the safe varieties, says Regional Health Officer, A. S. Arniel. More care, I think, should be taken to recognize the poisonous ones. Then the good doctor went on to warn of the dangers of other plants. A physician has recently treated a visitor who had eaten a poisonous Canas, he writes. Best advice is not to eat any plant or part of any plant until you are sure what it is, concluded Dr. Arniel. That did it. I didn't know what a canas was. Turned out nobody else did. It was a canas. Also turned out that canases are tasty, pleasant and nu-

LIVING LONGER IS MORE FUN

The sea is deep. It contains more water than fish. Casual visitors are often more shallow. They think more of the fish than the water.

It is easy to fall into the sea. It is extremely difficult to climb out again.

Small boats are fun: people are fun. People in small boats are funny. But when disaster strikes, they soon stop laughing.

Canoes are the greatest. You sit in a canoe and you feel like you're part of it. And when trouble hits, you go down together.

The tourist season is starting. Thousands of people will be among the islands. Some of them have seen the sea before. Some can even swim a few strokes.

There's nothing like a holiday on the water. All you need is a boat and a case of rye and you'll never want to spend a holiday any other way. You may never be able to.

Diving is fun. But diving for the remains of someone whose fun stopped rather abruptly is no fun at all.

Islands are neat. And they are populated by people who know the sea and who love the sea. Even islanders get caught at times.

Care and commonsense are living. And there's no fun in dying!

Letters To The Editor

SEWER SYSTEM

Sir,
Driftwood has indeed grown in 1943 when I first read Driftwood, it was printed in sepia on a medium double sided letter and very pleasant heading. Being almost an old timer here, having paid taxes for 31 years, Driftwood has come to my home in Ottawa, and I have followed the growth of Ganges and its unhappy state of its soil. Many hours I have spent trying for a solution, and now that a decision as to sewer installation is near, I wish to air my own findings.

Can anyone put their finger on the exact cost of the installation of sewers? Trenching, and in many cases blasting, along every street and into every house, laying and connecting pipes - ending in a collecting place near the Harbour; here a partly chemical-treating is planned, and this partly treated effluent is to be sent a couple of miles down the Harbour.

If we do not accept the lessons of history, we will continue to make the same mistakes.

Take, for example, the Humber River, running through Toronto, - not from mountains but from flat land; here in 1828, when the farmers had cleared enough land to need help, a farmhand would accept the job only, if he was served salmon not more than three times a week. There the Atlantic salmon came up over 500 miles, into Lake Ontario and up in the streams.

With the growth of the population and of farm animals, the spring run-off, from the frozen ground, - soon sent the salmon away. And now we have the City of Montreal, with over 2 million people, being one of the worst polluters in Canada, sending raw sewage down the St. Lawrence River, scaring the salmon off; no wonder the famous salmon rivers are getting poor. Our minister of fisheries gave out with great fanfare, published in almost every paper in the land, that the Atlantic salmon was being seriously depleted, by the heavy fishing by the Danes off Greenland.

What a childish statement, and what a colossal red herring that was! In 1972 the Danes used 14 boats for their salmon fishing, and took 800 metric tons. This was the fifth largest catch; Canada using close to 1,000 boats, fishing for the homecoming spawning salmon caught 1,800 metric tons. So, if partly treated effluent is dumped a few miles out in the Ganges Harbour, it is goodbye to the salmon.

But what else can Ganges do? We have right at hand many millions of willing workers, ready to help us. All they ask for is time. They work well in a septic tank, where the household is not over five persons, and where drainage goes through gravel. In a household of between five or ten persons - another septic tank should connect up to the outflow from existing one.

As for the hospital, the schools and for the large business establishment, sewers should be laid, and the outflow should be directed to the lowest spot in Ganges, behind McPhillips Avenue. Here should a low profile building be erected, containing three large Brownies who had grown wings with the Ganges pack flew up on Wednesday to the Guides. This picture shows the girls during the ceremony.

LOOKS BACK ON FESTIVAL

BY H. C. G.

The repetition of this island event on 15 and 16 June was tanks, about 70'x45' each; here the bacteria would have time to do their work properly, without chemicals used, and clean water would go to the harbour, and little boys could again catch salmon from the wharf at Ganges. And as for cost, it would be less than one-third. Paul Horsdal, Fulford Harbour, June 22, 1974.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

Sir,
As I have been hospitalized twice since the above campaign for North Salt Spring started, I am afraid we are running a bit late.

I have not been able to find volunteer canvassers for the following areas:
South Beddis Road, Rainbow Road, 100 Hills Subdivision.

If the residents of these areas would kindly take their contributions direct to the Bank of Montreal in Ganges it would be greatly appreciated. An official receipt will be issued.

Thank you, Mr. Editor, and thanks in anticipation to all the residents in above areas who kindly answer this appeal.

George S. Wills, Campaign Chairman, Canadian Red Cross Society, For North Salt Spring, Ganges, June 24, 1974.

SCHOOL CURRICULA

Sir,
The Department of Education has in the past year or so, encouraged community involvement in almost all aspects of public education including the design of curriculum. This can be an excellent means of providing flexibility in meeting the educational needs of the students. However much harm could be done if, as reported in last week's Driftwood, Doctor Dixon and Mr. Baltzer persist in criticizing vocational courses in particular and educational offerings of the school in general, with all the sensation of a Watergate revelation. Perhaps if these school board members would refrain from this "intellectual form of streaking" and give positive suggestions for curriculum design, Gulf Island schools could function without being cannibalized by opinionated generalities.

Ted Harrison, President, Gulf Island Teachers' Association, Ganges, June 26, 1974.

welcomed by almost everybody one has met since that weekend, and the verdict evidently is that it was an improvement on the first Festival a year ago. Once again the whole thing was full of interest, even for someone whose concern with flowers is but slight.

Perhaps it would be generally agreed that the brilliant display at the United Church was the highlight, and certainly that sheer wall of colour stacked up at the far end as one came in was a splendid sight. This time one could see every arrangement, and nobody could fail to admire the splendid and massive blaze of yellow broom at one end of this display. This is a difficult building to decorate, but one wonders if it would not have been even more effective if some of the arrangements could have been set up along the two sides of the Church. Individual efforts - and there were some good ones there - would thus have been more easy to appreciate. There is nothing to be said against massive array in a large building, except perhaps that it reminds the viewer of any flower show, and that, of course, was far from the objective of the Festival. There was here a notably successful use of coloured foliage which is at any time at least as effective a decoration as the flowers themselves.

Down at Fulford that delightful little Church of St. Paul repeated last year's effect of three large and beautiful bouquets chiefly of peonies and delphinium. For a small building full of light, such as this is, the effect was very fine, and it could probably have supported a few more scattered arrangements with some advantage - but not too many. It is only too easy to overcrowd floral decorations, as one saw elsewhere.

One of the principal attractions of such a Festival is that you can learn so much. Amongst such lessons are these: sweet rocket with perhaps toning iris, or some other large flower, makes a really lovely combination. Try it with roses next year - thoes pale mauve ones. Another lesson: styrofoam containers are very convenient and very ugly, though it may be possible to paint them an inconspicuous green.

The only large arrangement of mixed flowers resembling a Dutch painting, or a Fantin-Latour, was to be found low down beneath the pulpit at St. Mark's. It was not symmetrical; it was overloaded with dark greenery; and it was in a difficult position - but it had begun to be very beautiful. This type of arrangement seems to be either too difficult or to be unknown to the majority of decorators, and it is the most effective of all. Do get hold of one of those glossy expensive books of coloured illustrations of old master paintings and dig out the flower pictures and try to copy one with the modern flowers you have got. They start with an interesting container at the base; there is a very large bloom low down, and there is always something blue, something brilliant red, and splashes of yellow and white; then, out at the edges and at the top some filigree delicate coloured materials. They build up their glorious displays on that basis. We can well afford to become shameless imitators of the beauty they created.

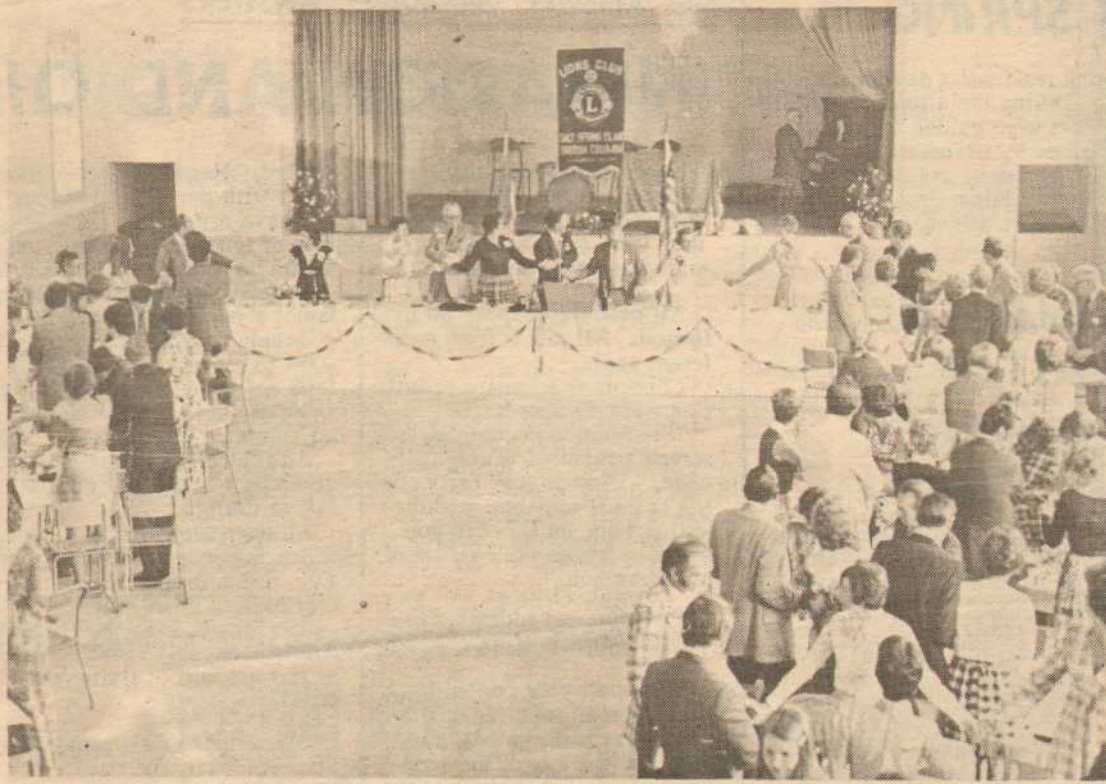

One cannot forget St. Mary's where the keynote at the east end was a lavish display of those huge and brilliant oriental poppies that overpower all their neighbours both indoors and out in the garden. And they looked quite splendid here because they were isolated from everything else. There was also, high up near the door, and easy to miss, a charming bowl of pink clover and wild white dog daisies, a reminder that wild flowers can outmatch the very best the horticulturist produces, for they have an infallible charm that appeals to every country- (Turn To Page Five)

LIONS SING AT THEIR BANQUET IN FULFORD HALL LAST WEEK

VILLAGERS MEET NANAIMO

Cricket on Sunday saw Salt Spring Villagers host Nanaimo XI to an afternoon's game.

In to bat first, Nanaimo batted confidently for 164 runs.

Lacking speed bowlers, Salt Spring had to rely on spinners on a lifeless wicket. Sneddon (62), Ian Smith (38) and Dube (36) were the notable batsmen. Bhattacharjee, who took four for 20 runs and David Roberts, with 3 for 25, helped keep the runs down with medium paced bowling.

Villagers, going in next, were off to a bad start, losing three wickets for 15 runs. As usual Marsh, 8 and Bhattacharjee 14, came to the rescue, moving the score to 40 before P. K. hung his bat out to one which came up sharply.

A gallant 18 runs by Dave Roberts, inspite of a facial injury and a curious mixture of aggression and stonewalling by Tony Morley (22 not out) saw Salt Spring through to the end of the game with help from Pat Broughton. Salt Spring Villagers scored 91 runs.

FESTIVAL OF FLOWERS (From Page Four)

man. A whole Church done in that sort of a style - a small church - could be absolutely breath-taking.

Driving up to the Gospel Hall I noticed the yellow glass windows and wondered how on earth one would cope with that sort of light. I learned the successful answer - yellow roses. These were placed right against the glass in each window, and thinking back, to me that was the most lovely of all the arrangements I saw. But then, I have a "thing" about yellow roses anyway.

Not everyone would agree, but I am beginning to think that the greatest future need is for some sort of top general in command at each church who has the decorator's eye that notices what is out of proportion, what does not "go" with the bouquet next door, and also the tact to tell an enthusiastic decorator that his effort is inadequate to the particular situation and must be re-done. We may have to wait for some while to get this person born, for not everybody likes to be told that his effort is a mess even when he knows this is the truth.

One church did not have the lighting fully switched on, and groping in the twilight as best I could, I still failed to make head or tail of half the arrangements. And while I think of it, the small broken droopy leaves of lupins and the heavy greenery of syringa had best be stripped off before use.

St. Mark's had the infrequent advantage of a wedding on the first day and certainly produced the most skilful altar decoration of a perfectly matched pair of vases of mixed flowers, with bright pink pyrethrum at the centre. This is a flower whose colour and stiff habit I have always considered unmanageable - but how wrong I have been!

Yes, the improvement was marked, so marked that colour television could well be arranged for 1975. And what about a flower arranging course for us amateurs later on? Let's encourage the Garden Club to do it all again, for they have contributed something of solid worth to our island.

ACQUIRED WISDOM

I have learned through the years
The truth that was told
By wise men of old.
It is better to love
Than to be loved.
Yes, better than gold.

If the one that you love
Loves you in return,
(Oh, for that do we yearn!)
Even that gracious gift,
Though it makes the heart lift,
Is a lesser reward
Than to love.

A recent telephone survey indicated that 48% of Salt Spring households use the recycle depot in Ganges.

Eighty-six per cent of persons contacted knew of the location and the purpose of the Ganges facility in the survey, which polled a wholly random sample of 50 phone numbers.

The 48% who use the depot may represent the fullest response to recycling of any centre in British Columbia. Victoria recycling, by comparison, has a 15% involvement rate.

A previous survey on Salt Spring, carried out in early 1973, showed 25% using the recycling service.

INFLATION AND OIL R

When four candidates appeared at the Elementary School in Ganges on Sunday, they were questioned on a wide variety of subjects.

All candidates spoke on inflation. All saw it from a different angle.

Controls as a barrier to inflation were discussed.

"Stanfield says controls," observed a member of the audience, "What is your party going to do if someone says they will not accept it? Are you going to ignore the evasion of an injunction?"

Question was addressed to Conservative candidates, Don Taylor.

"I support your contention that when an injunction is issued, that is the law of the land and the law of the land must be obeyed," agreed Taylor.

The airport firemen and the mailmen were unfairly treated by the treasury board, he recalled. Had they been fairly dealt with the dispute would not have arisen and the question of ignoring an injunction would have been obviated.

It only happens when there is not a just negotiation, he concluded. All Canadians want to see the laws of the land enforced, agreed Tommy Douglas, but laws, to be obeyed, must be just laws.

An injunction is an order given by a judge and not the law of the land.

An ex-parte injunction, in which the judge hears only one side of the dispute, is completely unjust, he added.

The answer is to establish a firm relationship between wages and the cost of living, he urged.

Oil going to the United States is really American oil because the United States owns all the oil in Canada, said Tom Wright.

ANK HIGH IN DISCUSSION

be American oil by the time it goes over the border?"

Before getting into the question of whose oil it is, he would look into who was going to develop it, said Tory Taylor.

"Who supplies the technology?" he asked.

He would like to know the state of oil reserves in Canada, he added, and the first thing a Conservative government would do would be to take an inventory of all oil in Canada.

That is what the Conservative government did, reported

New Democrat Douglas. By 1980, according to the inventory, Canada will be a million barrels short.

"We have less oil than the United States, yet we are shipping out half of it to the United States."

The tar sands are not a development of the future, continued Douglas, energy spokesman for the NDP. The Sun Oil Company is already producing 60,000 barrels a day.

"The Conservatives and Premier Lougheed have taken the stand that they should be developed by an international corporation," reported Douglas. "The oil companies would be guaranteed no price freezes, no export controls and no taxes in exchange for the United States development of northern Albertan oil."

Letters of intent have been drawn up by Premier Lougheed, he added.

Technology is Canadian and not American, said the candidate. Method of extracting oil from the sands has been developed by the Canadian taxpayer by way of the National Research Council.

Canada should develop her own oil, urged Communist Ernie Knott. If there is not enough money for the development, take the troops out of Germany. It is 30 years since the Second World War and Canadian troops are still serving there.

"If we need more money, get the troops out of Norad, that would save a bit more."

Mrs. Yvette Valcourt wanted to know where was Tommy Douglas four years ago when opposition was voiced to the Gulf Islands Plan in which integration of management of the Gulf Islands and the San Juan Islands was proposed.

He was not concerned with legislation other than on the federal level, replied the former islands member. When the question reached the federal level he had taken immediate action.

Mrs. D. K. Crofton expressed commendation for the manner in which three newcomers to public life had stood up to the one candidate with a long experience in affairs.

The candidates left for Fulford to return home over the Malahat.

Recreation Notes

BY BARBARA WARREN

As June quickly draws to an end, so do many of our baseball and softball teams end their season. Gerry Marleau said he was very happy to help coach his Minor League boys and they had an excellent season. He wishes to personally thank Mr. Bob Reid for his great and valuable assistance.

The Little League teams end their season this Thursday night at 6:30 with a game between Don Pipperno's Cardinals and Jack Bumstead's Expos. Let's have everyone out for a final support of this league!

Alan Marsh's Little League girls baseball team, the Salt Spring Belles, finished their season on a high note by beating the Expos 17 to 4 behind the pitching of Liz Ronne and Jill Johnson. The girls fielded very competently and everyone hit powerfully to finish the season with 4 wins and 5 losses.

Mr. Marsh's comment was, "It's a welcome sight to see girls participate in Little League. At this age level I feel girls can compete on an equal level with boys and this team has shown this to be a fact." Marsh has advised many of the girls to try for the Babe Ruth league next year. Well done, girls!

In the final game of the Babe Ruth league, Glen Woodley's and Hal Leighton's team did not end on such a happy note. Ladysmith beat them 10 to 1, but overall they had a good season.

Other coaches who have now ended their season were: for Minor League, Bob McWhirter and Wayne Reynolds, for girls teams, Carol Kaye, Bev Byron, Pat Taylor, Mrs. McFadyen, down there. However, he found that the work lacked challenge.

There is a picture in the boatyard office of an aircraft he designed.

For a hobby he designed, built and drove his cars in many racing meets.

They'd heard vague rumors that there might be a boatyard for sale on Salt Spring so, having made their decision, they liquidated their interests there and came up here where in time, they plan to become Canadian citizens. They are living in the log house on the senior Dunbabin's property-- the late Harry Bullock's farm. The house is situated on the lake there.

They wrote to Warren Hastings at just the right time. He was very surprised to hear from them since he'd only just decided to sell and had not advertised the yard for sale.

Both the young people are interested in all athletic activities, especially scuba diving and water skiing. They are sailing enthusiasts, too. In fact they were married in the bow of their boat, just at sunset in Aboline, after scuba diving all day. The judge who performed the ceremony was brought to the scene in a Boston Whaler. Afterward he refused to accept any remuneration saying, "I've never enjoyed a wedding so much."

They'd considered sailing all the way up here but, since that would take too long, they trucked their boat to Seattle and sailed from there to Salt Spring.

They plan to have animals on the farm but, so far, have only one lonely rooster and their dachshund, Moonstone, named for the street where they lived in Manhattan Beach.

Mrs. Miller, Mike Alexander and Wayne Taylor.

For anyone interested in joining the Sailing Club the monthly meeting is this Thursday, June 27 at 8:00 in the Home Economics room of the high school.

In cricket this last week the Villagers played a strong Nanaimo team to a draw on Sunday. Batting confidently the Nanaimo team scored 160 runs. With no chance to score the runs to win in the allotted time the Villagers defended stoutly and, when the game ended, had scored 91 for the loss of 9 batsmen.

A reminder of the parents meeting for all parents with children registered in the Day Camp sessions this summer. The meeting is tonight, June 26, from 7:30 to 9:30 in the Art Portable at the high school to remember,

 not one you'd rather forget.

No fun seeing your holiday hopes become crashing disappointments. Drive sensibly. Defensively.
 Stay one . . . and . . . two . . . and . . . behind the car in front. It's a safe distance you can count on.
 And, if you have to drive long hauls without a break, stay alert — keep a window open; tune in some lively music; and, before you get really drowsy, pull over. It's time well spent.

 BY MARY BACKLUND

Two of Galiano Island's favorite people came back home the other day, after an extended time in hospitals, at Ganges and Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Page have both been away for some time and we are all pleased that they are well and back to their comfortable home.

Mrs. Bill Cottrell is very ill in Lady Minto Hospital at Ganges.

Tom Carolan was pleased to see his grandson, Brian Derksen, for a few days. Brian is a head radio operator on huge vessels sailing under Liberian registry. He has been at sea for the past five years, and not had much shore time. Soon he will fly to Japan, to join one of the biggest oil tankers plying from Tokyo to the Persian Gulf.

Mrs. Dorie Killick spent a few days visiting Miss Jean Lockwood. Dorie now lives in Duncan. The two ladies went for a short motoring trip to the Interior.

Nice to see Misses Juan Wycoff and Ethel Clarkson back on the island. They are former Island residents, and will spend some time at the Tolan cottage at Georgeson Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Steward came over from Mayne Island to visit Mr. and Mrs. Peter Denroche on the occasion of Peter and Alan's birthday. They observe this day together every year. It has also been Ed Callaghan's birthday, and Jean Lockwood's too. Happy days to them all!

Overweight people run a higher risk of death from heart disease.

AS OF JULY 1 YOU MUST HAVE A DRIVER'S CERTIFICATE AND A DRIVER'S LICENCE TO DRIVE.

Driver's certificates are something new for British Columbia motorists . . . a way of spreading the cost of automobile insurance between vehicle owners and drivers.

Effective July 1, you'll need both a driver's certificate and a driver's licence in order to drive a car. Without your driver's certificate, your driver's licence is not valid and you could also find yourself without insurance coverage. If you drive without a certificate you risk a minimum fine of $250 and 10 demerit points.

Application forms for certificates were mailed out last March so you should have received one by now. Just sign and date it where indicated, then take it to any Motor Vehicle Licence Office for processing. REMEMBER, IT'S TOO LATE TO MAIL IT SO BRING IT IN.

If for some reason your application didn't arrive in the mail, take your driver's licence to any Motor Vehicle Licence Office and you'll get your certificate.

How much you pay for your driver's certificate will depend upon the number of demerit points on your driving record.

IF YOUR BIRTHDAY IS IN JULY OR AUGUST you'll soon receive your second application form. This second form is actually to renew your driver's certificate until your next birthday in 1975. Your first driver's certificate was for the start-up period — March 1, 1974 until your 1974 birthday, and it expires on your birthday.

If you have any questions call your Autoplan Information at 665-2800. Outside Vancouver please call collect.

HERE'S HOW TO GET YOUR DRIVER'S CERTIFICATE.

1. Sign and date your application in two places, as in the sample.
2. Take all three portions to any Motor Vehicle Licence Office for processing.
3. If your application form has not arrived in the mail, take your driver's licence to any Motor Vehicle Licence Office and you'll get your certificate.

DOMINION DAY NEXT MONDAY

It's Dominion Day on Monday. The official Canadian calendar, published by the Canada Post Office doesn't actually say that. It has a flag on that day ... a Canadian flag. But the Royal Bank calendar and the Trading Co. calendar and the Mout Esso calendar all say it is Dominion Day on July 1 on Monday.

Dominion Day is a holiday for everyone, including the staff of Driftwood. No work will be done on Monday and Driftwood will not be published until Thursday.

Mayne Island

The main coming event on Mayne Island is the Third Annual Salmon Derby, Sunday June 30. Tickets are available at Miners Bay Trading Post, Mayne Centre Store and Spring water Lodge, as well as from Chairman Bob Sauerberg, phone 539-2900 or any member of the Lions Club. Tickets are $1 and there are prizes galore. Weigh-in time is 1 pm.

The Wine-Arts Club held its annual wind-up party at the home of Al and Joan Drummond, "Wathla", Village Bay Road, Saturday, June 22, during the afternoon and evening. Members and guests played croquet, darts and generally enjoyed the afternoon relaxing. A delicious Smorgasbord supper was served by the committee who were Chairman Roy Crispin, Joan Drummond, Jean Beaumont, Helen Buckland and outgoing president, Vic Griffiths. Vintage wines were sampled by the Connoisseurs as well as those who were not and valuable information was exchanged in the process. The group will re-convene in the fall. A vote of thanks was given Al and Joan Drummond for a most delightful afternoon. More than 30 people attended the function.

Joyce Mitchell accompanied by daughter, Laurice and her mother, Mrs. R. Johnson, Victoria, attended the World's Fair in May. A return visit will be made by Joyce in September when she will spend 10 days at the Art Exhibit, where a selection of her paintings will be shown. The well-known artist will also have an exhibit at Emily Carr Art Centre, 207 Government Street in Victoria from July 12 to 22. Opening night is Friday, July 12 from 4:30 to 10 pm. Week-end hours are 5 pm - 10 pm and during the week, 10 am - 5 pm.

KNOTT RUNS AS COMMUNIST

Communist candidate in the July 8 election here is Ernie Knott, of Nanaimo.

He is running on a platform of Canadian independence, both economic and military. He wants a new constitution which will recognize the bi-national character of Canada and stabilize the unity of French and English Canada.

He also looks askance at the national and multi-national corporations and their deprivations particularly in the area of pricing and gouging, he told Driftwood.

In 1953 Knott ran in the Nanaimo riding and in 1957 he was a Communist candidate in the Esquimalt-Saanich riding.

A native son of Nanaimo, he has lived there all his life with the exception of the war years when he was serving in the RCAF.

Knott is a logger and for 20 years was a faller. His first visit to Salt Spring Island, more than 20 years ago was to cut down some trees on the Caldwell property. On Sunday he visited the Cawdells again. "Even though they don't agree."

He is married to a former school teacher and they have three children.

When he is not cutting trees and not campaigning, he looks after his bees.

continue for the balance of the summer until the new minister takes charge. Next service will be July 14. Lay services will also continue on the first and third Sundays. Phil Vernon has kindly supplied the organ accompaniment which is very much appreciated. There will be no service next Sunday, it is the fifth Sunday.

Taking advantage of the fine weather are Maurice and Etta Reitz who are working hard on their summer home on Waugh's Road. Helping with the building project were other members of the family, John and Carolyn, Callie and Shaun, Scottie and Marietta Ashton who are property owners at Bennett Bay.

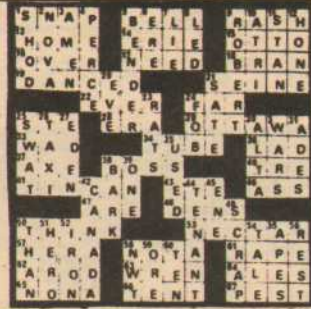

Visiting Gerry and Jean Beaumont has been Jean's mother Mrs. Beth Brandreth of Vancouver. The Beaumonts are also making progress on their permanent home on Georgina Shoals.

Visiting Al and Pearl Brau has been their granddaughter Susan of Vancouver. School Board activities keep Pearl busy as well as a great number of visitors during the summer months.

Visiting the Jesse Browns were Jesse's sister Kaye March from Regina, Saskatchewan and a sister-in-law, Laura Brown from New Westminster. A trip to Victoria was enjoyed where Miniature World and Butchart Gardens were visited. Other members of the family visited during the week were Dave and Rosemary McGill with small daughters, Shannon and Bridget of Delta and Laurel Brown accompanied by sister Jackie Edgar and her two little tykes Candy and Miranda (Randy).

Clifford James reports he is also a native some of Regina. He and Clara were also seeing off their family down at Village Bay last week.

HOW DO THEY SETTLE DOWN?

How does a sailor settle down to the hard, still earth? On Saturday evening there was a houseful of guests at the home of Mike Hobbs, Southey Point. They took a first-hand look, all 150 of them.

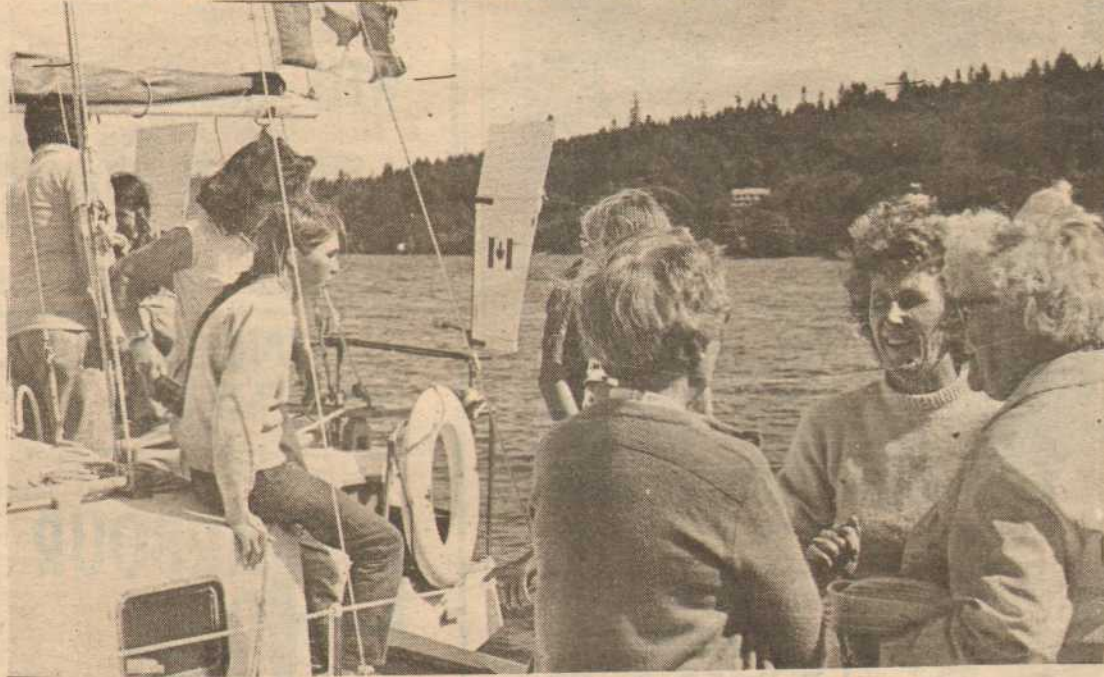

Islanders, sailors, landlubbers, visitors: they all gathered around to greet Ernest and Valerie Haigh and to wish them well after their world voyage.

The sailors settled down to the hard, still earth for the evening and spent hours talking and singing with their guests.

Ernest Haigh admitted that his feet were beginning to itch. Another ship, another voyage, it's all in the future.

The island couple went off, five years ago, with their daughters, to the South Seas. They meandered from port to port through islands almost unknown to any but their inhabitants. From large southern port to small settlement, they made their way to Australia and New Zealand.

Thence, across the Indian Ocean and to South Africa, they stopped over where they liked it and sailed on when they wanted to.

Of course it wasn't a lonely life, there were so many other doing it, explained Haigh.

They would meet another vessel in one small port and in a matter of months they would encounter the same vessel in another port selected at random.

That was the easy-going, pleasant side. Sitting in the living room over a glass, neither of the voyagers goes into details of the difficulties. They were part of the whole experience. They were the challenge of the voyage and they were memories the day after they happened.

Tryste was built at Southey Point, after careful examination of plans for trimarans. Launching day brought out a bulldozer to drag the vessel down to the sea, standing on a cradle. It brought crowds of envious neighbours and as many friends to watch the new triple-hulled sailboat float for the first time. No slide down the ways for Tryste. She sat on the beach and waited for the tide to float her.

On Saturday she completed the 1st lap of her journey home. Under power, she sailed to Southey Point from Ganges and thus completed the trip.

The review of the voyage wasn't a matter of casual name dropping. It was an evening of vivid memories brought out to show an interested gathering.

Biggest problem faced by Haigh, he admitted, is the wearing of footwear. For the past five years he's been bare-foot and now he can't wear shoes.

Ernest and Val and their daughters, Susan and Nicola have sailed round the world in their yacht, Trysts II, taking five years to travel some 48,000 miles. Carol and Anne left them last year on their second visit back to Australia. The two girls went to England and worked their until they joined the family back on Salt Spring.

The sailing family called at four continents during their voyage, Americas, Australia, Asia and Africa.

On Saturday they younger members of the families had their own beach party while the elders enjoyed the buffet supper they brought to the party.

FALLS 30 FEET AND LIVES

While hiking along the Bluffs at Alcala Point a rock broke off behind him and Josh Thompson fell 30 feet to the rocks below.

He sustained a severely sprained ankle and a cracked bone in the ankle. Dr. Beach was called as Russ Read and some of his diver's class rescued the lad from the rocks. Josh is now recovering from his harrowing experience and is doing well at his home in Sidney.

IN CASE OF SPILL OPEN HUT

Gordon Cartwright, Erling Jorgenson and Bob Timbers get the equipment stored away.

In case of oil spill, the equipment is all at hand. The picture shows Salt Spring Island firemen packing away the equipment in a building on Shelby's Ganges Marine wharf. There is equipment valued at $8,000 here ready for an oil spill. Main item is the snake-like boom which contains the oil. The equipment is stored at Ganges Marina, but it is available to control oil on the water irrespective of what company's oil might be responsible. It is also available for use in adjacent areas, although basically intended for the Gulf Islands. Equipment on Vancouver Island may be brought to the islands if needed. The system is part of a coast-wide oil-spill service. Firemen are part-custodians of the equipment in order that they might need it should an oil spill ignite on the water.

TO A ROSEBUD

Your silken petals tightly furled,
All fragrant with the dew,
What fairer sight within this world
Is there for man's review?
You come in every perfect shade,
Pale pink to deepest red,
Each hue the rainbow has displayed,
Or purest white instead,
What innocence is locked within
Each little bud divine;
The youth that keeps you free from sin,
I would that it were mine,
Though plucked before maturity,
You did not live in vain,
Distilled in all your purity,
Your essence will remain.

SATURNA

BY PAPAJOHN

Uncle Art Ralph had his daughter, Margaret Denholm over from Cobble Hill for a visit. Eddie Reid says she does more work than checking up on them. At any rate she always leaves the two of them cheered up and maybe a little cheered up her self.

This is a sad piece of news with happy overtones. Harold and Joan Keenlyside have sold their home here, which they have had for many years. We will all miss the Judge's quiet and friendly visits. A group of three families have bought the property. We met one of them, Rod and Linda McKenzie of Vancouver and are looking forward to meeting the others in the future. Welcome, folks!

Bob and Taimi Hindmarch have as a guest, Riitta Pithamen from Helsinki, Finland. Riitta has been a pen pal of Deanna Scruggs and has been up to Powell River to visit after Deanna's visit here. Taimi says she is having a grand time and her grasp of English is fantastic. Now all Deanna has to do is learn Finnish.

George and Edie Whiting are home from their spring holiday in Reno. George came home with his shirt and unworn pants pockets but they had a good holiday and didn't lose, or win very much.

Jim Money is quite a collector and one of his collections over the years has been shells. He recently donated a lot of scallop shells to our school for the kids to decorate. Needless to say, the school kids jumped at this chance and the results pretty near stumped Donna Begon as judge, but Lori Cunningham won the $2 donated by Jim. Now they may or may not try to sell them at our Barbecue.

Our favourite Padre Rev. Jack Dangerfield and his wife Elsie, had their annual visit from very old friends, Rev. J. M. Lax and wife Dorothy from El Cajon, California. Jack and Elsie took them to Qualicum for a few days of golf. Mr. Lax gave our padre a rest last Sunday and preached the sermon. We know that these visitors were more than welcome as their being here always gives Jack and Elsie a real lift. Welcome again, Folks!

GOLF & COUNTRY CLUB CLUBHOUSE NOTES

Last week I complained to Joy Tuckey that she hadn't won anything that week and she wasn't helping me fill up my column. So being a very well brought up girl and having been taught to be obedient, she went out and won herself another cup. Joy celebrated a Birthday this week, and just to prove that being 39 is no big thing, she left her golf cart in the shed and walked around the course, in the meantime picking up the Kennedy Cup, on the way. That makes THREE cups so far this year for Joy which must be some sort of record.

Our Ladies travelled to Galiano this week and had a resounding victory.

In the mixed No. 1 competition, Betty Harrison and Ralph Alpen easily turned aside the challenge of Pros Gordie Hutton and Irene Hawksworth.

The Scottish International Team had a real tough match against the Canadian team of Ray Parsons and Dave Nisbet. Everything was nip and tuck until Dave switched into high gear at the 15th hole and went par, birdie, birdie, which the Scottish team couldn't match. Dave finished up with a beautiful 75.

Four of our members, Buzz Brown, Tom Butt, Hart Bradley and Bill Trelford, travelled down to Friday Harbour to play in the San Juan Open.

The final audit was made on the Aage Villadsen Golf Classic and it turns out that we made $321.40. This has got to be a wonderful show for a Mickey Mouse Operation such as we run. We must thank all our members and friends who helped to make it such a success. As you know all the profits from the Aage Villadsen classic go towards the new recreational project and it was a fine effort by all concerned.

Any Juniors on the Island who are interested in taking lessons are asked to put their names in at the Pro Shop and Bob Marshal who is in charge of Junior Golf Development will arrange for lessons. Bob already has a line up of talented golfers who are willing to donate their time to instruct the tyros in the fundamentals of the game.

Don't forget that on July 6 we are holding a pot luck supper and Klondike... so look out your old time duds -- and we'll see you on July 6.

up elsewhere in ye Driftwood. It was a grand success, our local ladies and men had quite a job on their hands but, in true Saturna style, they did it.

Our schools kids had quite a week. A group of children from the H. T. Thrift School in Surrey, under the care of a Saturna Islander, Mrs. H. Smith came for the afternoon. Then on Thursday they journeyed to Galiano to play ball. They lost but that is something not mentioned. They had a good time, thanks to the Galiano hospitality.

With all these rising costs etc. etc. we are becoming confused, so like W. C. Fields when asked about inflation, We say "The cost of living has gone up a dollar a quart".

See you all at the Barbecue, for a gourmet feed, plus the Refreshments!

ARTCRAFT OPENS ON SATURDAY

On Saturday voters can vote in the advance polls. On Monday, holiday or no, voters can vote in the advance polls.

Besides voting, they can also visit Mahon Hall to take in the first days of the annual Art craft show sponsored by the Gulf Islands Community Arts Council.

Show will be in Mahon Hall and will include paintings and crafts by island artists and craftsmen. They will be for exhibition and for sale.

BY PASTOR DAVID G. LOW

Last week I started a series "Who is Jesus?". We found out that Jesus was existent along with the eternal God, in fact Jesus was the eternal God and He created the universe.

Jesus did not create the world and then sit back and relax for a few thousand years. He was actually working out a plan that He had started even before the foundation of the world. (1 Peter 1:19, 20). Jesus planned to give himself up to die for me, even before the world began. (revelation 13:8) Oh what love!!! He saw me and loved me before I was even born (Ephesians 1:4 Jeremiah 1:5). Imagine Jesus saying as He creates the world that he sees and loves David Low in 1974 and right now, as He creates the world, He is planning to save my soul and give me happiness and peace. No wonder when I think of Christ's love for me, I want to sing His praises continually.

After I was born and sinned, Jesus still loved me. Amazingly enough, (Romans 5:8). He loved me so much in fact, he allowed me to come to Him and ask forgiveness for my sin so that I can be His child, and become heir to His salvation.

God has also prepared a heavenly kingdom for me. That also was done before the earth began. (Matthew 25:34)

It's wonderful to realize all that Jesus has done for me. Its also a shame for anyone to reject Christ's love.

Next week in our study of Jesus, we will see what happened at Bethlehem. Instead of relating himself to us as the eternal Jehovah of the Old Testament, Jesus begins to show himself in a different way.

Please send all inquiries to Pastor David G. Low, c/o Box 250, Ganges, B.C.

VOTE ON ONE OF THREE DAYS

Canadians eligible to vote in the current general election actually have three days in which to cast their ballot, rather than just July 8. The other two days for voting are the advance polls on Saturday, June 29, and Monday, July 1.

The early voting dates are set forth in the Canada Elections Act as the ninth and seventh days before polling day. Other dates are not possible under the terms of the Act.

Because of the summer vacation timing of election day, the advance polls assume more than-ordinary importance for many people planning an early July departure on their holidays.

The eligibility requirements concerning early voting are flexible enough to accommodate virtually anyone on the voters' list. Anyone having any reason to believe they will be unable to vote July 8 may take advantage of either of the two advance polling dates.

Not only does this mean that the elderly and handicapped may vote June 29 or July 1, but also vacationers who will be absent from their home electoral district on election day.

Locations of advance polls are listed in all post offices, or may be obtained by calling the returning officer for the district. Advance poll locations are also printed at the top of the list of electors mailed to the household of each urban voter.

There is no provision for absentee voting, meaning that no vote on June 29, July 1, or July 8, is a lost vote.

LIBERAL KANE IS VETERAN

Liberal candidate in the July 8 election for the Nanaimo Cowichan-Islands seat is Ray Kane, army veteran and air force veteran.

In the army at the age of 17 he came out of the RCAF 27 years later. He served overseas from 1940 until 1945.

Kane has not always been a Vancouver Islander. He was born in Red Deer Hill, Saskatchewan and went into the army from the prairie town. After coming out of the air force in 1966 he settled in Duncan, where he is a partner in the firm of Atwell and Kane Insurance Company.

In 1972 he was Citizen of the Year in Duncan and is notable for his work for children. During the war he saw many children suffering as the victims of war. The memory stayed with him and when he and his wife, Doris, settled down on Vancouver Island they opened a receiving house for children. They have 10 foster children at the present time.

This is his first entry into politics.

INFLATION AND THE COST OF HOME REPAIRS

THE COST OF MATERIALS AND LABOUR USED IN HOME REPAIRS ARE RISING AT A STARTLING RATE.

Even if you have not recently made a claim on your insurance - or never had occasion to - the possibility that you will is ever present.

One way to keep up is to make sure your home insurance provides coverage at current replacement cost levels and hasn't been left behind by inflation.
