A MOUSE!

Seen any mice on South Pender Island?

RCMP report the discovery of 56 loaded mouse traps on a property on South Pender. The traps had been set out around the property of Lot 10, Spalding Road.

Each trap was baited with cheese and marked with a green plastic ribbon.

It was a frustrated effort. Every trap was empty.

There is no indication of who might have set out the traps.

"NOT PREPARED TO LET ANOTHER PRINCIPAL COME IN"

PENDER PARENTS PROTEST CHANGE IN STAFF

Confrontation was the key word when trustees of Gulf Islands School District failed to Pender Island on Thursday to hold the August board meeting in Port Washington Hall.

About 25 Pender Islanders attended to demand reasons for the recent change in principals at Pender Island school.

Gordon Wallace and N. H. Doyle spoke for Pender Island when they protested the appointment of Mrs. D. Austin as principal with the former principal, A. Rundle-Woodcock on staff.

Both speakers also criticized the Pender Island trustee, Mrs. Betty Vasilev for her failure to keep islanders informed on the board's activities.

Mr. Doyle reported that the island group, and specifically the Pender Parent-Teacher Club, had learned of the change in administration in the school in the form of a rumour.

TWO NEW TEACHERS NAMED

Two new teachers were appointed by Gulf Islands School Board on Thursday evening.

Mrs. J. R. Pidcock will be girls' physical education teacher at Gulf Islands Secondary School. Mrs. C. Gunn will teach kindergarten on a part-time basis at Galiano.

During the exchange Chairman Charles Baltzer explained that the board had received requests from parents to make a change. Neither Mr. Doyle nor Mr. Wallace was aware of such requests, they explained. Another speaker explained that the protests had originated before either spokesman had come to live on Pender Island.

Mr. Woolcock was acting principal and he and Mrs. Austin applied for the position continued the chairman.

"Mrs. Austin got. It was as simple as that!"

It was not as simple as that, retorted Mr. Doyle.

The islanders felt that they had a working relationship with the principal and the announcement of an impending change had come as a shock.

It was criminal to take this step without recourse to the islanders, he charged.

"We are not prepared to sit down and let another principal come in here," he warned the board.

The club had submitted a petition asking that no change be made but it arrived in the hands of the board after the appointment had been made.

Could the board not buy out Mrs. Austin's contract, enquired Mr. Doyle.

"This isn't Hollywood, you know," countered Dr. E. R. Dixon.

MUSEUM CATCHES INTEREST

PREMIER GOES TO GAOL AT MAYNE

Premier David Barrett went to jail last week.

On Saturday afternoon he attended Mayne Island Fall Fair. During his tour he visited Mayne Island Gaol, the museum established on the island under a centennial grant.

The premier was late arriving at the fair. He took part in the PNE and flew across to Mayne in a chartered plane. After formally opening the island fair, he flew back to Vancouver. He is a frequent visitor to Mayne Island, he told the gathering, although he usually travels "incognito".

Premier was fishing last week off the islands but had no luck, he admitted.

"I believe the fishing is better this week," he added.

He expressed his congratulations to the sponsors and exhibitors and to those who had organized the event.

Premier Barrett is the first premier to open Mayne Island

Fall Fair in its 49 years of almost continuous operation.

PENDER FALL FAIR SATURDAY

Last fall fair among the islands will be staged on Saturday at Pender Island.

The Pender Island Fall Fair will be held in the Hope Bay Hall on Saturday afternoon.

TOTAL OF 159 NEW HOMES THIS YEAR

Total of 159 new homes were started in the first seven months of the year in the islands. Biggest single contributor was Salt Spring Island, with 67 single family dwellings and 10 mobile homes up to the end of July.

Pender came second in the housing stakes with 28 permits for single-family dwellings.

There were 17 permits issued for Mayne Island and 12 for Galiano. Saturna had three and Wise and Gossip Island, one each.

Of the total, 16 were taken out in the month of July.

Value of the building undertaken has been estimated at $2,373,193, of which $1,879,579 represents Salt Spring Island and $1,492,614 is in respect of the Outer Islands.

In July there were permits issued for 12 homes on Salt Spring Island, three on Mayne and one on Pender.

Lists are compiled by the Capital Regional District engineering department.

NO MORE RAFFLE TICKETS, PLEASE

Driftwood will not undertake production of printed raffle tickets in future.

Raffles must be licensed under new provincial government regulations. The same regulations hold the printer responsible for the tickets printed.

Penalty for a printer manufacturing tickets which fail to conform with the new provincial law is $500.

Driftwood has few spare $500's lying around. Rather than risk a fine which might prove crippling, the policy has been adopted to print no more raffle tickets.

It is most unlikely that anyone will be sentenced to a prison term for not printing raffle tickets.

Printer has always been held responsible for his product. With new and mystifying laws it is becoming increasingly difficult to keep out of jail.

BY-LAW TAKING SHAPE

George Heinekey, Capital Regional Director, reports that the Salt Spring Island Subdivision Committee has produced a final draft by-law. Committee has been meeting over the last five months.

The draft by-law has been sent to the Capital Regional Board for its consideration and checking as to legality.

When the draft is finalized it will be posted in public areas so that the community will have an opportunity of studying it, said the director.

Mr. Heinekey will welcome any written comments from the public. If any organization wants a copy of the draft, Mr. Heinekey will obtain it.

A public meeting, notice of which will be given well in advance, will be held, in order that islanders can say what they think of the subdivision recommendations.

He is, in fact, the first B.C. Premier ever to visit the island fall fair.

Veteran fairman Walter Hunt-Sowrey explained that the fair was missed during the Second World War and that it has been held 44 times in 49 years. First fair was in 1925, but Hunt-Sowrey was not there to take part.

The display in the hall, consisting of produce, cooked foods, domestic skill and arts and crafts was as big as ever. The number of people taking part was bigger than ever.

The midway was busy throughout the afternoon and the grounds were filled.

Top winner was Mrs. Clara Imrie.

Trophy and cup winners were the following:

Foster Cup, awarded to the contestant with the most points in the Fair, Mrs. Clara Imrie;

B. C. Telephone Trophy, awarded to the Mayne Islander with the most points in the Fair, Mrs. Clara Imrie;

Bank of Montreal, most points, produce section, Mrs. Millie Paton;

Prize for most points, Silver Mayne's Senior Citizens' Garden, Mrs. Ina Iwasaki;

Memorial Cup, most points in floral section, Mrs. Marjorie Haggart;

Williams Trophy, most points in Div. 4, Domestic Science, Mrs. Winnie Hayhurst;

NEW OFFICER AT GANGES DETACHMENT

Newcomer to Ganges is Const. Roy Peach, RCMP. He takes the place of Const. Ken Danforth who has been transferred to Edmonton.

A Nova Scotian, Const. Peach is from Cape Breton. More recently he is from Victoria and Campbell River, where he has been serving.

He was appointed to Ganges last month.

WHO PUT THEM IN OFFICE?

When school trustees were discussing insurance at the Pender meeting of the board last week on incredulous Pender observer asked, "Did I hear that the school board is compelled to deal with ICBC?"

As Chairman Charles Baltzer agreed, a soft anonymous voice in the hall, said, "You elected them!"

Second anonymous voice came in quick reply, "No, I did not!"

BOAT MISSING

RCMP at Ganges are looking for a missing boat. Lost is a dinghy, eight feet long and equipped with a 3 hp Evinrude and a set of oars.

THEFT AT THIEVES BAY FRIDAY

Thieves Bay, at North Pender, proved well-named last week.

Mrs. N. Tews reported the theft of an outboard motor from her boat while tied up in Thieves Bay.

RCMP detachment at Ganges is investigating the theft.

Evinrude motor was taken from the back of the boat while tied up in the bay, on Friday night.

OIL TANK REMOVAL AT GALIANO PROVES A JOB FOR THE EXPERTS AS EVERYTHING RUNS SMOOTHLY

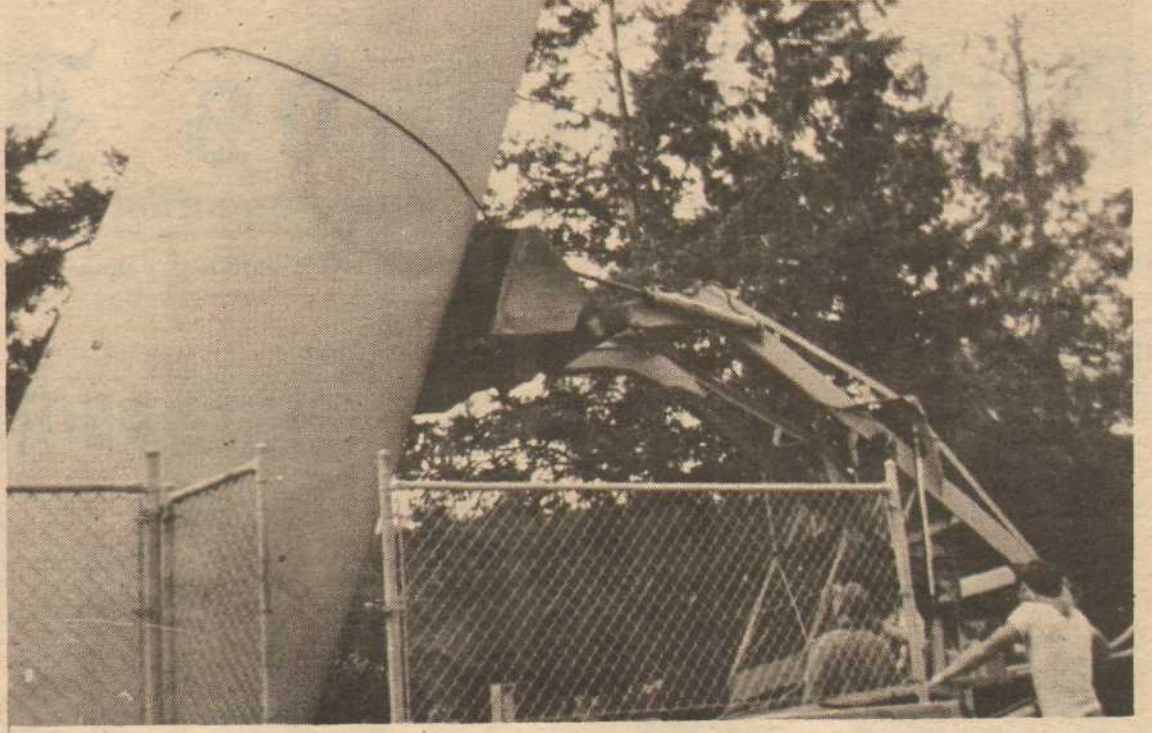

BY MARY BACKLUND

One day last week, the last tank was moved from near the Fred Robson home, over to the Standard Oil station. It was a smooth job.

It took many years of experience and expertise to move the huge tanks, each weighing about five tons apiece.

Fred Robson and Ollie Garner both now retired after spending years in the logging and machinery business, consulted with W. W. (Pat) Weaver, who owns K and P Construction and is, himself, an expert in the business. Roy Harding, an operating engineer, works for Mr. Weaver, and between the four of them, they devised a way to move the big tanks to a new home.

Mr. Garner has a grapple loader with tires on it and this was the big machine to move it. Mr. Harding on the trench hoe, which he operates with ease, worked along with Garner, and it poetry in motion to see the four men work together so well. Two men from Standard Oil also helped, as winches and side braces were put in the right places.

They began by putting the ropes around the tanks and then they had to ease each one down from the resting place, secure all lines, then tow it across a field behind Galiano Lodge and through some bushes to the new place.

Each tank holds 8,000 gallons of fuel.

Up until this time, operators of the service station, Dan Petty and Dave Laughlin, had to drive over from their gas station to fill up their tank truck with fuel for delivery, and it has been difficult for them to do the job quickly. Decision then came to move the big tanks over to the present station, so that the whole operation could be in one place, and give more efficiency.

These tanks were installed on the hill behind Galiano Lodge in 1959, by Standard Oil, to service the floats there. The Robsons owned and operated the Lodge at that time, and later on son Don Robson operated the service station for a short time.

Robsons sold the Lodge in 1962, but kept land adjoining and built their home near the big tanks.

Now the tanks are gone, and service will be much easier for the men who keep the home fires burning on Galiano.

to be frank

By Richards

My trouble is I'm looking well and seeing poorly.

Fr. Frank Sutherland is back in Ganges. He discovered in Europe that it doesn't pay to travel at the same time as a celebrity. He landed in London when they were expecting the Prime Minister of Israel. The airport was dotted with army guards and he was vigorously frisked for weapons before he was allowed to leave the airport area. Looks like they figured he was a young Arab in disguise.

Fellow was telling me his boss pays speeding tickets when he goes out on a business trip in a hurry. Bully for him! Only snag is how do you pay another man's points?

Mike Byron was taking a beef home in the back of a borrowed pick-up. He was stopped by a RCMP patrol. "Where did you get the meat?" he was asked.

Fellow on CBC was saying the other day that when the metric system comes in, in 1980, we shouldn't translate everything from Kilos to Pounds and so on. Why not? Everyone else will. They've had metric money in Britain for years, but half the country still carefully relates prices and costs to the familiar terms of pounds, shillings and pence.

Salt Spring Rod and Gun are having fun-shooting at the luau on Saturday, Aug. 24. I can think of half a dozen candidates for that and it would be fun shooting all of them!

I take a poor view of Mayne Island Gaol. The museum has a number of interesting relics from the island's past. But among the exhibits are a Swedish saw just like the one I use and brush hook exactly like mine. Makes my grey hairs so much greyer. They have a radio almost identical with the one that rotted away in my sun room some years ago. I have learned my lesson from Mayne. I'm a museum piece, in terms of years.

The flour mill, with its massive electric motor is an interesting relic and the ancient Beatty washer would leave an interesting pattern on any garment sent through its weary rollers.

Probably the real legacy from the past is the flour sack on the wall from the Robin Hood Mills.

Only two islands have established museums so far and the Salt Spring Island project at Beaver Point School has not yet gained the support of all the island. Mayne is leading the way to retain the lost features of the growing years.

Premier Barrett was promoted at Mayne Island on Saturday. He was the first president to attend Mayne Island Fall Fair, announced Fred Dodds.

BOIL SURFACE WATER BEFORE DRINKING

It is an unfortunate fact of life that surface waters are open to contamination by man and beast, warns Regional Health Officer A. S. Arneil. Only in limited access watersheds is there any control over this state of affairs.

"Regretfully, I must remind consumers that even when water looks clear and sparkling, nevertheless it can be contaminated," he says. "This does not mean that it will necessarily cause disease, but it does mean the potential is there."

Medical Health Officers of this province have advised that all surface waters be treated either by chlorination or boiling before consumption

This timely reminder is prompted by the complaint of a consumer that she had never been told that it was necessary to treat surface water.

"On that particular water source, the cows upstream had only too obviously been indiscriminate in their deposition of faeces," he concluded

FOR WHAT ARE THEY DYING?

During the past week soldiers have died in fair numbers in Viet Nam, in Cyprus and in other parts of the world. During the same week, civilians have been killed all over the world as strife breaks out among nations and peoples.

Canadian soldiers who went to keep the peace in Cyprus have lost the peace and their lives as well.

Events during the past week merely point up what the last decade has taught us. The United Nations is an excellent means of communicating between nations. It has no slightest value as a deterrent to war.

It is time Canadian troops came home from a duty which is dangerous and meaningless. When they are asked by the Israelis and the Arabs; when they are asked to help by the Viet Nameese on both sides; when they are asked to help by Irish of north and south, then is the time to leave Canada with a purpose and a hope.

In the meantime, United Nations and so many other associations of nations have lost any credibility they might have had in their early years.

Men will fight and Canada will weep.

TOO MUCH CONCERN?

There are too many mountains made out of too many molehills. This is particularly so in the realm of education.

During the present year there have been three incidents of parents within the Gulf Islands School District pressing for retention of a named teacher. It has been gratifying to the teachers concerned and quite salutary for the trustees of the district.

It is, however, the introduction of an emotional influence into school administration, in place of the colder guiding spirit of the head. In its earliest days education was almost free of emotional influences. A child, usually male, attended and underwent a close, tight, harsh discipline. He was taught a long-accepted curriculum, already familiar to his father and his grandfather before him. There was no room for an emotional reaction.

Today the philosophy of education has changed. The philosophy of people has changed.

Nevertheless, there are few students left among us who will suffer unduly from an encounter with a teacher who fails to meet the needs at that time of that particular student.

We tend to forget that the student will ultimately graduate, enter the world of commerce or industry and pursue his way through life, unaware that he has missed something or that he has gained something beyond the normal.

He will live his life and leave his name to posterity and none will pause and reflect that something happened when he was in school.

Schools and schooling are credited with an importance they may not merit.

DEPARTMENT NOT YET SOLD ON IDEA AS

MIDDLE SCHOOL FURTHER DISCUSSED

Middle school, to provide junior secondary education for Outer Island students in the Outer Islands has not met with the complete approval of the department of education.

Proposal was made first by a committee drawing support from Mayne, Saturna and Galiano Islands. Location of the school was proposed for Mayne Island.

Subsequent proposal from Pender Islanders endorsed the recommendation for a middle school and suggested that a more suitable location would be Pender Island.

School trustees selected Mayne as the appropriate location and made that recommendation to the department.

Last week the board received a dampener from the assistant deputy minister of education, J. Phillipson.

Although he favours the principle of keeping students near home until the 10th grade, he fears that the educational experience would be very limited. That means that he feels that students would suffer from small staff and limited equipment and facilities.

With such a small enrolment students would gain no more than they would get in their existing schools on the Outer Islands, he warned the board.

With transportation still involved, the claim that parents would be in closer contact with teachers and able to follow their child's progress more easily "just isn't so."

Arguments used in favour of a middle school are those which were used in favour of a central junior-senior secondary school at Ganges. Some of the arguments against that school will also apply to the middle school, said Phillipson.

The writer referred to the problems of Pender Island, where parents wish to have their children attend school on Pender or at Sidney. Would Pender Island parents be required to send their children to the Mayne middle school, or would they have a choice, he enquired. Does water transportation depend on Pender Island parents sending the children to Mayne?

The board was asked what alternatives have been considered. Do schools such as Galiano have sufficient growth potential to justify adding to staff and facilities for a modified junior secondary program, he enquired.

Original question raised in the islands was raised by Mr. Phillipson. How practical is daily water transportation, he enquired.

GALIANO

BY MARY BACKLUND

Mrs. Pat Wilson has returned from Prince Rupert, where she and her six children went to spend a week or so to see her husband, who is fishing for the summer there.

Mrs. Leora Wellenbrink and two children, of Vancouver, came over to visit her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robson for a few days.

From faraway Sweden a visitor came to visit Peaceful Valley friends. Mrs. Martha Norberg, of Bolluar, Helsingland, came with her niece, Mrs. Bea Erickson, from Port Alberni. Mrs. Norberg does not speak English, but was enjoying the people and country, and it was most interesting to see her niece interpret instantly for her everything that is going on.

Galiano Islanders will be saddened to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Julia Turner. She had flown to the East to visit her sister, who is seriously ill, and died in her sleep, after arriving there.

 Have you visited Art Craft '74 lately? If not, you are missing a show which has intrigued visitors from around the world. The visitors' book reads like the United Nations - England, Scotland, Ireland, India, Germany, Denmark, Holland, Australia, Zambia, Old Crow, Anchorage, Hay River, and almost every province and state on the continent. They come, they look and they buy. As the paintings, pottery, weavings and other craft objects are sold, they are replaced, so a second view would show you many new and interesting things.

Artists exhibiting since the July preview include - Gwen Ruckles with fresh local scenes; David Marr with some large bright canvases of intriguing subject matter; Harold Dobson's beautiful watercolor and ink compositions; Gay Taylor's clear-cut acrylics; Charlotte Keeping's portraits and Village Inn by Evelyn Napper. Other artists have replaced or added to their hangings.

As the pottery sells, and it does in gratifying volume, new and excellent "pots" appear on the display tables, brought in by Gerry Clayton, Maggie Schubart, Bas Cobanli and Katie Schlegl. Most of the original woven articles have also been replaced several times over and there have been many new hangings, cushions, bags and belts. Although perhaps not as crowded as at the beginning, the display is still very colorful and there is plenty of selection.

There is a good supply of cards, notes and photographs by Betty Fairbank, Shari Street, Pat Wright and Mrs. Platten. Mrs. Reynolds keeps us stocked with her amusing little animals and dolls, and if leather is your bag, see the work of Susan Haigh and Joan Strauss who also has some lovely plants in Macrame hangers.

There are 12 days left for Art Craft '74 and then we close the doors on another very successful show and sale, hopefully to reappear with a smaller pre-Christmas sale. Visit us before September 2, the last day of the show.

COST OF GOING TO SIDNEY PROVES HIGH

Cost proved prohibitive when parents of Pender students looked across to Sidney for high school.

N. H. Doyle told trustees of Gulf Islands School District on Thursday evening last week that there were eight students geared up to attend school in Sidney until they learned the cost would be about $500 for the year for each student.

Mr. Doyle had written to the minister of education protesting the administration of Gulf Islands School District, on behalf of the Pender Parent Teacher Club and informing her of the lack of confidence in the school board evinced by parents on Pender Island.

Mrs. Nonie Guthrie could not understand why the island group did not send representatives to every school board meeting and be heard.

"You wait till you get mad ... and then go away mad!"

Islanders thought they had representation, commented Mr. Doyle.

Mrs. Guthrie came out in defence of Mrs. Betty Vasilev, Pender Island trustee who was absent and in hospital.

"How could she talk to you?" asked the trustee, "This island is split a dozen different ways!"

Would the board pursue the matter of sending grade eight students to Sidney, asked Mr. Doyle.

By this means parents would have their children into school and back each day.

Chairman Charles Baltzer was not sure that it could be done. He understood that the ferry could not get them into Sidney school for a full day.

It only requires a change in the BC Ferries schedule, reported Mr. Doyle.

The commuting students would be able to attend a full day if the ferry schedule is changed and the cost could be borne by the school district if the trustees favour the proposal and if there is provision in the schools act whereby the transfer of funds for this purpose may be made.

Parents on Pender will formally write to the board asking for help in negotiating with Saanich School District.

Letter from the department of education recommended that no action could be taken by anyone without the support of the islands school trustees.

BY FRANK RICHARDS

The other day I missed the ferry at Swartz Bay.

It wasn't that I didn't get there in time. It was simply that the Vancouver traffic had the road so badly snarled up that I couldn't get through. About four lines of traffic was augmented by cars straddling the lines and parked at angles

Ferry line-up has them hopping around to the road. It took about 10 minutes to my way through plastic traffic cones, only to be thoroughly get from the snarl to the terminal, about 250 yards.

Last week at the same point, faced with the same heavy traffic, I was directed forward by one patrolman and threaded balled out by a second patrolman who was run off his feet.

Traffic problems at Swartz Bay have now reached the point where they cannot be adequately handled by the limited staff of untrained traffic officers available to the ferry terminal.

Travelling to the islands is critical because a traffic jam on the Patricia Bay Highway only delays islands traffic. The mainland traffic must queue for an extended period in order to get aboard. Islands traffic can get aboard if there is space on the highway to get through. Local traffic held up by the jam is not so seriously affected, having no deadline.

If I were directing traffic to Vancouver, I would have the mainland traffic line up on the left side of the road, leaving a free lane on the right for through-traffic. Some of the through-traffic turns left at the terminal, for Deep Cove and there would have to be provision for letting such vehicles past the line-up. The majority of through-traffic is going to the islands, Canoe Cove or the area to the east of the terminal. This could then all pass through without being trapped.

Only other problem is seeing it happen. The highway is not in sight of the terminal and first warning the ferry employees get of a traffic jam is when no more cars can arrive in sight. They need a man

Kindergarten classes pose problem

Kindergarten is going ahead among the Outer Islands in September.

It is only mandatory where there are 10 or more students. Mayne Island is the only island with the magic number. Ten or more students make the school eligible for government assistance towards the costs of the kindergarten.

There are nine enrolled at Galiano and four at Pender and four at Saturna. All will commence in September, except on Mayne, where they will wait for the completion of the new classroom.

Board was urged last week to make provision for kindergarten at Pender Island away from the primary grades. It was beneficial to neither the kindergarten nor the primary grades to mix them, trustees were told.

Trustees have tried various methods, but there is no way they can set it up without breaking the law, explained Chairman Charles Baltzer.

It would be a nice job. He could lie on the grass or stroll up and down the roadside waiting for a traffic snarl. It's just the sort of job I could do myself. He could have a walkie-talkie or a Second War Verey pistol to shoot flares so that the terminal would be aware of what was happening. Even a bonfire and a blanket would keep in touch.

Anything would be better than the present situation, which can only get worse.

AUTUMN FLOWERS FOR FALL SHOW

BY ELSIE MACDONALD

September brings to our gardens the chrysanthemum, queen of autumn flowers. Some after 2.30 p.m.

In the mixed No. 1 match last week, Joy Tuckey and Malcolm Robertson succeeded in dethroning Irene Hawksworth and Gordon Hutton. There was no play in the men's No. 1 competition.

The play-offs are under way in the Parsons Cup, and all the matches are going off on time. In the Tom Sutt - Bill Kernaghan match, Bill was hobbling around the course like the hunchback of Notre Dame. Seems he had been sunbathing on the patio, fell asleep, and did not wake up till the chilly evening air had entered all his bones. So take heed all you sun worshippers! are in bloom already, but the best is yet to come.

There will be the beautiful incurves, their petals turned into the centre with exquisite precision to form lovely balls of bloom. There will be the handsome reflex blooms; some shaggy, others with neatly arranged petals, all radiating out and down from the centre as if opening their hearts for all the world to see. There will be tiny pompons and spray mums too, and there will be many lovely colours, from white through to purple.

Dahlias have been with us since late June. Shorter days will bring deeper colour and larger size to their gay blooms. We can look for colour explosion in the dahlia garden as autumn advances. These charming flowers come in many types and sizes, from tiny ball pompons to large 10-inch blooms.

Gardeners will have the opportunity to display their beau-getting the course in the best possible shape for the big Salt Spring Open Tournament, which takes place this coming weekend. Friday is practice day for the entrants, with the serious golf taking place Saturday and Sunday.

Things are very quiet, golf-wise, among the ladies' section these days.

We would like to offer our heartiest best wishes to the golf club's only honorary member, W. M. Mouat, who celebrated his 90th birthday last week, among his many friends and well wishers.

The mixed two-ball and smorgasbord was the usual well run affair last Saturday.

Read in the Gordie Hunter column in the Colonist that he had commented on the number of golf courses that were being bought up by Japanese interests, and he had been worried about it. However a friend told him not to worry about the Japanese, the ladies had already taken over all the golf courses!

tiful chrysanthemums and dahlias in the Garden Club Fall Show to be held Saturday, September 21, in Ganges United Church Hall. This will be the twentieth consecutive year that competitive classes have been held for chrysanthemums on Salt Spring Island.

The first chrysanthemum show, staged by a dozen enthusiasts in 1954, was displayed on two or three small tables in the old Legion Hall, itself a small building.

Over the years, other competitive classes were added. Dahlias came first, followed by general flowers and floral arrangements. In more recent years fruits and vegetables have been added to the schedule.

As the yearly shows increased in size and popularity the Peter Principle, of reaching the limit of one's competence, became apparent. The Garden Club had reached the limit of its physical competence to successfully continue the staging of large shows.

The 1974 Show will feature all the attractions of the recent large shows, but with a difference. As before, the whole show will be on display to the public.

The Show schedule will be in two sections. The first section, covering chrysanthemums, dahlias, and three floral art classes featuring these two flowers, will be open to public competition. Section two, containing general flowers, decorative classes, fruits and vegetables, will be open for competition to Garden Club members only.

This section is actually a continuation of the popular mini-shows held through the year at Garden Club monthly meetings.

Show schedules will be available soon at local stores for those wishing to compete in the Show. Full information is contained in the schedule.

Spring bulbs and perennials for fall planting will be on sale at the Show. There will also be a door prize for some lucky person.

MODERNISE WITH PROPANE

Unconscionable Practices: Illegal tricks of the trade.

Unconscionable business practices became illegal in British Columbia after July 5, 1974 when the Trade Practices Act became law.

Ingredients of an Unconscionable Practice.

Take one shabby, high pressure transaction, combine it with one unsuspecting consumer and you've got an unconscionable practice.

It's not a difficult situation to create and it does happen.

Whether or not a practice is unconscionable must be decided by the courts who can fine the business in question and rule the transaction unenforceable.

Examples of Unconscionable Practices.

It never was fair and now it's illegal, under the Trade Practices Act, to take advantage of consumers because of their age, infirmity, illiteracy or their inability to understand English. When this type of situation occurs it's called an unconscionable practice.

Some door to door sales can also be unfair. Fast talking, persuasive salespersons convince consumers they're getting a real bargain. If the consumer had known the price was so excessively high the transaction would never have taken place. Again you have an unconscionable practice.

Salespersons who draw consumers into a deal knowing that the person can't keep up payments are engaging in an unconscionable act. When payments aren't met the unscrupulous merchant moves in to claim the merchandise and any of the consumer's goods signed over as collateral. The consumer ends up with nothing — just what the salesperson had in mind all along.

We've given you just a few examples, unfortunately there are many more.

Who can help you?

The Department of Consumer Services administers the Trade Practices Act and its director handles consumer complaints and investigates possible wrongdoings.

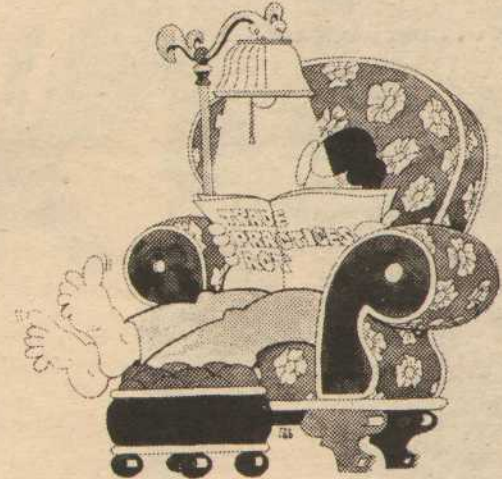

Service Centres, staffed by researchers, investigators and counsellors will be opened in Victoria, Vancouver, Kamloops and Prince George. Watch your newspaper for announcements of their openings.

Throwing a little light on shady deals.

The Trade Practices Act was designed not only to halt unfair business practices but to give consumers new rights to protect themselves from being taken in on a business transaction.

By now you'll probably want to know more about the Trade Practices Act and what it does for you — that's why we've prepared informative Trade Practices Act brochures, one for consumers, one for business. For your copy write the Community Information Officer, Department of Consumer Services, Parliament Buildings, Victoria and please specify which brochure you want.

Help yourself to a fair deal. With the Trade Practices Act you've got what it takes.

MARIONETTES COME TO TOWN

BY P. K. BHATTACHARJEE
A group of people from Seattle, headed by Sam Towers and Dan Wisdom were guests of the Gulf Islands Community Arts Council on Friday,

Aug. 16. Two shows were presented, one, free, for CAC members and a group of children and another in the Beaver Point Hall in the evening.

I was fortunate to meet the artists behind the stage and all the little people who move by strings. Each of these puppets had a definite character of its own, of course. Smokey, with his loose ways and wonderful dialogue, stole my heart. The scarcity of CAC members at the show was felt, but it was well-received by the children who even went back stage and met the artists and their puppets.

The puppets themselves are all hand-crafted, each one a work of art. Human beings, I thought, are puppets, too, on this stage of the universe. Each one has, too, to play a part only the strings are moved by that unseen hand.

A large number of people at Beaver Point Hall were there to see the Wisdom Marionettes. The show was well received and at the Boogie which followed, the puppets came down and danced with the audience.

This was the first time I had been to a boogie, great music, tremendous energy and everybody danced barefoot, including me. The dancing crowd included young and old and even a 13-day old babe-in-arms who slept through the whole proceedings, enjoying it all in his mother's arms.

If you haven't been to a boogie, well, you have missed something!

Our Chicken Barbecue was another success. Under the watchful eyes of two of our Kitchen Generals, Donna Begon and Ann Bavis, the chicken just melted in your mouth. As usual, George Whiting handled the refreshments with his usual aplomb and skill. Jim Money and his gang contrived a tank with cauldron to cook the corn, which, with lots of butter and salt, was out of this world. Jack Vincent and his crew kept the fires just so. They are going to have quite a job bettering that one.

The Lions Lyre: Now, this is no lie: three of our Island's Kitchen Generals, Lora Coombs, Lill Barnett and Kathy Fleming gave us a superb dinner. John Silvester as wood-cutting chairman, called for another bee in the near future. Club agreed to look into the job of painting the church basement. Accepted the very good garbage burner in the hall and agreed to sell it. A lot of discussion took place which our president, John McDonald handled in easy-going but decisive form. Uncle Art Ralph gave the motion to adjourn, with his customary vigor. One of the members was there and every one was asking who he was. It was Mike Graham, minus his luxuriant beard.

Out on the trans-Saturna Highway there is a lovely stretch of flat land which has been owned by the Newall family. In July a group of 30 men and their families bought the over-200 acres. This company is composed of doctors, dentists and business people in general. At first there were rumours galore about them.

They all proved false and we are glad to hear their plans. It should be a happy addition to our island. One of their group, Mary Murray has promised to give us an article for Driftwood outlining as near as possible their aims and names of members, as well as the company name. Welcome to Saturna, folks, and any help we can give you will be done willingly!

Over for the week end was John and Betty Macdonald's daughter, Sue, whose happy smile at me made that last piece of chicken taste real good. John, Betty and Sue are going over to Vancouver Monday, Aug. 19, to attend the wedding of daughter, Judy Taimi Hindmarch and her daughter Lennie Hoover just got back from a drive to Ottawa. Wonder if Taimi's absence could account for Bob's voracious appetite at the chicken barbecue.

Dave and Bernice Brown had a houseful this week end; Albert and Eve Brown, Allan and Lora Brown. As part of the clan Alec and Emily Close; Bob and Kay Close were over for the party.

Over for last week were Doug and Irene Frew staying in The Pool cottage. We think Doug should have been a farmer the way he cut all that grass around there.

The sad news this week is sad. Tom Davidson with his mother and father were on a trip to Scotland. We expected to see Tom step off the ferry in a new set of Davidson kilts but he had a heart attack in Scotland and after being released from hospital there flew home. He was only home a short time when he had another attack and is now in Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria. When we get more news will let you all know. Tom, I had mine 24 years ago, and if an old reprobate like me can take it, YOU can!

Visiting Jack and Devina Vincent at East Point is Devina's sister, Aileen and her looking husband Dennis Bowers. The Bowers are Salt Spring people and are enjoying our balmy southern climate.

Dr. Parfitt of UBC is here staying in his hexadecimal-sided cottage with his family. His son spelled out the word hexadecimal for me. It means 16 in English.

Glad to see Uncle Art Ralph's daughter, Margaret over last week. She sure cheers Uncle Art and Eddie up.

nity. Much emphasis is placed on their desire to serve those who are less fortunate. The theme is life, learning and friendship, exemplified by the sorority's involvement in fund raising, as attractive sales ladies in gold blazers at B. C. Lions Football games. For 20 years proceeds from program sales have been donated to The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

The Carscraft Shop is an active base for Preceptor Beta's time and talent where they work with patients and their handicraft projects.

Miss Mary Pack, well known in the islands as the founder of C. A. R. S. is an international honorary member of Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. D. McVeigh is the convener of beginning day and as the chairman of the social activities of Preceptor Beta has many plans for an enjoyable day. Mrs. John Pettit and Mrs. Art Fish plan to spend the week end at Lois' and see some of Mayne Island.

Ruth Dubbins, who is no stranger to Mayne Island, has been invited by Vice-President Betty Fish to spend the day with the other 22 members of the chapter. One of the chapter members, Miss Ellen Getty has been an active member of Beta Sigma Phi for over 35 years and is looking forward to her first visit to Mayne. Ellen lived many years in Moose Jaw and will be remembered by former residents who now live in the Gulf Islands.

Preceptor Beta's president, Mr. E. Waterman has spent the last two weeks with her husband sailing on their boat, "Scampi" and hopes to be able to drop into Mayne for the day. They own property on Galiano and will one day be full time residents there.

The members are all hoping for another one of the islands beautiful days, where from the patio's aura of calm serenity they may look across the water to Tsawwassen and its activity, see Mt. Baker at its best, discuss life in the island and their plans for a new and active year.

Some people go to school in order to pursue a career, gain a degree or get ahead in their chosen vocation.

Others go to school just for the fun of it.

They're the people you'll find at high schools and Community Colleges throughout British Columbia — writing, painting, learning languages, exploring, discussing, advancing and, simply, enjoying life to the fullest.

You could be one of them. You could turn those spare hours into fascinating new interests.

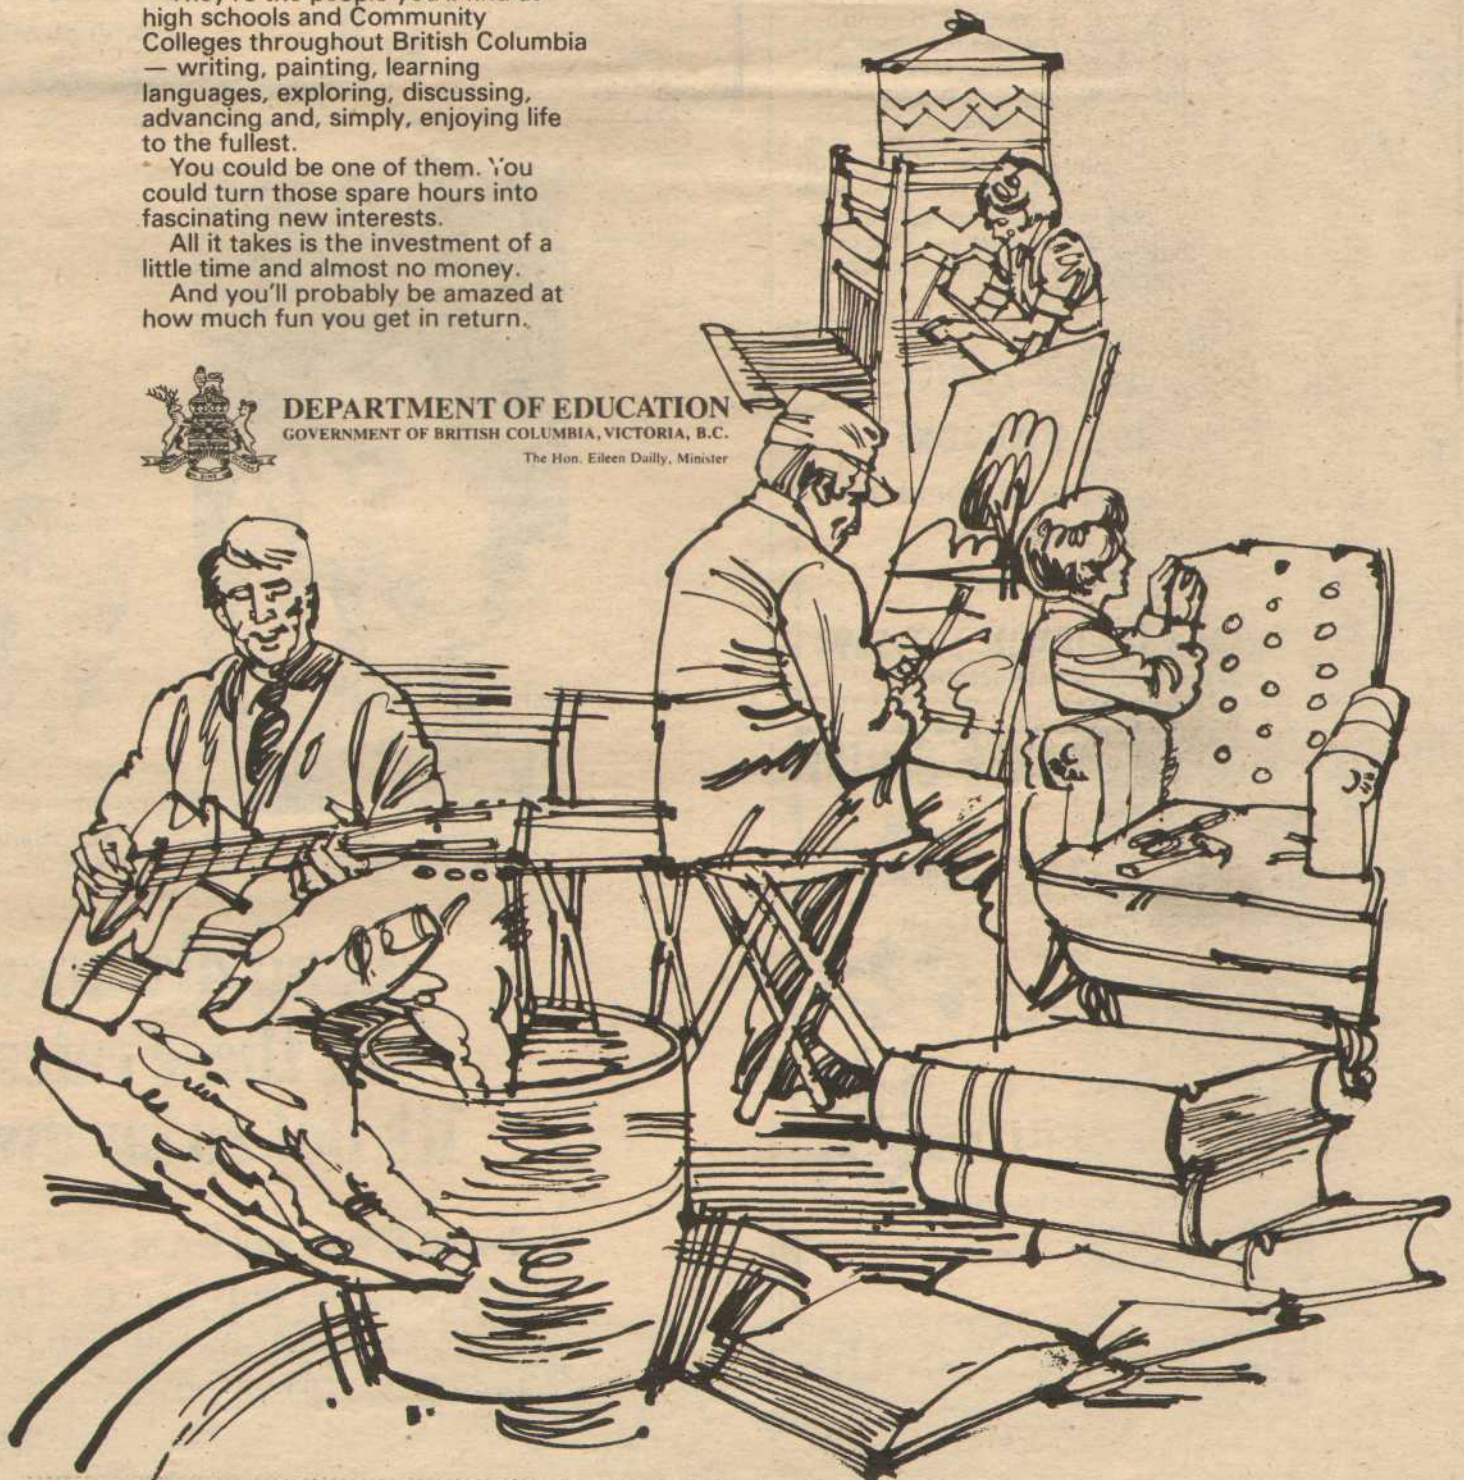

All it takes is the investment of a little time and almost no money.

And you'll probably be amazed at how much fun you get in return.

NEVER SAY NEVER AND IT'S BACK!

Never say never, says the Salt Spring Island Royal Canadian Legion.

Last week, a report on the vandalism to flag poles in Centennial Park stated that the Legion was accepting defeat. Not so, reports Col. Peter Bingham.

"As long as we have funds," said the former Legion president, "we shall keep the flags flying in the park."

BC Hydro came to the rescue and threaded new halyards through the poles.

Judges are entertained by Mayne Island Agricultural Society on Saturday after judging is over. Picture was taken by Mrs. Fred Bennett.

PENDER CENTRE GAINS AWARD

The Pender Island Silver Threads Organization has been awarded a New Horizons program grant of $3,512.

The money will be used to form a senior citizens' recreation program in a centre where seniors can drop in for companionship, cards, billiards, and shuffleboard.

The project officer is Finlay Sterling of R. R. #1, Port Washington.

The award is one of 19 New Horizons awards totalling $109,211 made in B. C. in August.

New Horizons is a program of the Department of National Health and Welfare. It gives grants of money to groups of retired Canadians to initiate and take part in activities of benefit to themselves and the community.

HIT-AND-RUN FOR $100

Damage of about $200 was estimated after a hit-and-run accident in the car park of Harbour House Hotel on Wednesday, Aug. 14.

Mr. Wiebe, of Rainbow Road reported the incident to RCMP at Ganges.

Right rear fender of his car was damaged.

PENDER PARENTS

(From Page One)

While chief spokesmen for the island were Mr. Doyle and Mr. Wallace, there were dissenters in the hall who spoke across the room without addressing the board.

One speaker suggested that the meetings on the island have been "undemocratic" and questioned how anyone could stand up against them.

Mr. Wallace expressed satisfaction with the result of the exchange.

"Now I know the reasons," he said, "The feelings of islanders were not before the board."

It was the third time in a year, commented Donna Watt, from the floor, that parents have moved to protest the action of the board in appointing a teacher. She referred to the incidents on Salt Spring Island earlier in the year when Miss Barbara Perssons and Jacques Goldman were appointed only after strong representations from parents.

MARKS HIS 90th YEAR AT GANGES

Eighty-nine and a half years ago William M. Mouat came to Salt Spring Island. He didn't have much say in the matter, although he had no inhibitions about airing his views.

On Friday William M. Mouat reflected back on the 90 years of his life.

More talkative than when he came here, he is more reserved than he was when his mother, Mrs. Jane Mouat brought him to the island. He came here 90 years ago in his mother's arms. He came to his birthday party at the wheel of his own car.

At 90, he is a very able and composed island resident. He still drives his own car and he is well able to look after himself, although he prefers to have someone in the house with him to take care of the chores.

He still keeps a close watch on his business affairs and the political stages in Victoria and Ottawa are his constant concern.

A lifelong Liberal, he is in close touch with his friends in all parties. A lifelong churchman, he celebrated his birthday in the basement hall of the Ganges United Church.

It was like old-home week. Everyone was there. There were some pegging close to W. M.'s 90 years, but the majority were youngsters of 70 and less.

A few could remember some of W. M. Mouat's earliest recollections, of Indian canoes, unpaved trails and horses and oxen doing the heavy work. Many were prepared to discuss the arrival of the first cars and the first ferry steamers. Many did.

He looks back on 90 years, from the most primitive methods of farming and working to the present day with its universal power in the home and on the farm. He has grown up with these things. They are as much a part of his living as of any other islander's. Only difference is that he remembers when it wasn't like that.

It is 78 years since he went to his first Liberal convention. He has probably not yet attended his last.

In the near-century he has moved around the island, but not frequently. In the last 10 years or so he abandoned the old house on Ganges Hill and built a modern home on Charlesworth Road from which he can look down on Ganges Harbour and the town's activities.

It's his town. He grew up around the community and he has spent a long working life in the community.

His father was a stonemason in his native Shetland. The constant exposure to stone dust was to lead to his death at the age of 45. Leaving Scotland, he had brought his family to Canada via the United States. While the immigrant Scottish family was travelling through the United States their son, William, was born in Spokane. Their target was Nanaimo, where they had relatives. From the Hub City they moved to Salt Spring Island and acquired a farm near St. Mary Lake.

Shortly after the turn of the century the Ganges store operated by Malcolm and Purvis came up for sale and the Mouat family bought it. Since 1906 Mouat Brothers has been

NEW STAFF MEMBERS NAMED

Three new staff members have been named to schools and school board office in the islands. Resource Centre clerk at Gulf Islands Secondary School will be Mrs. D. Haig.

Mrs. Barbara Armstrong has resigned and her place as accountant has been taken by Mrs. C. H. Mackenzie.

At Saturna Mrs. I. E. Lawson has been named custodian of the school.

Fire kept to machine at bakery

Fire broke out in the doughnut machine at Embe Bakery in Ganges on Saturday. There was no damage and the fire was contained.

Salt Spring Island firemen were called out at 9.40 am on Saturday.

Police find 100 marijuana plants here

Police confiscated more than 100 marijuana plants in the vicinity of the mobile home court at Blackburn Lake recently.

On Wednesday last week the seizure had its sequel in Ganges Provincial Court when two men pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana.

Donald Robert McEachern and Michael James Cherry were each fined $100 or 10 days. Both were living in the area.

Cultivating marijuana carries a maximum penalty of seven years in prison. Police at Ganges levied the lesser charge of possession.

ARTHUR BOOKER DIES IN HOSPITAL

NEW ROOM FOR SCHOOL AT MAYNE

School construction is plaguing Gulf Islands School District. Trustees have administered the construction of new facilities on Salt Spring Island and only the corners remain to be cleaned up.

On Pender Island the construction of a new classroom is bogging down, according to reports at last week's board meeting. At the same meeting a further tender for construction was approved and work will start shortly on a new room for Mayne Island school.

MAYNE-PENDER-SATURNA

It is hoped to have the Pender job completed by the time school opens, Mrs. Nonie Guthrie told the meeting in Port Washington Hall.

"You're going to have to work night and day to open on time," commented Gordon Wallace, of Clam Bay Road.

Mrs. Guthrie continued her tale of woe, with a progress report on the Ganges construction projects. The extractor system in the woodworking shop is excessively noisy.

It was supposed to have a noise at the level of a busy office, she told the board.

"It sounds like a noisy jet," she added.

The washroom area attached to the new gymnasium in the Salt Spring elementary school also has problems. If a toilet overflows there is no escape for the water until it reaches a depth of four inches.

In the meantime, bid of $50,945 from Crusader Contracting was the only bid received for the Mayne Island classroom and it was accepted.

There was a sharp exchange all evening between Dr. E. R. Dixon and Gordon Wallace, Pender Island, when Gulf Islands School District met in Port Washington Hall, Thursday evening.

Problem on Pender had arisen, explained the Doctor, because a third teacher had been appointed. The board is now building a new classroom on an emergency basis, he added.

"That is the board in which you have no confidence," he reminded the Pender Island Parent-Teacher Club.

"Is that not the job of the school board," replied Mr. Wallace.

"You should run for office," retorted Dr. Dixon, "You know everything about the board."

NO HUNTING ON BOWEN ISLAND

The provincial Fish and Wildlife Branch has announced a No-shooting-area on Bowen Island. The closure has been made necessary due to public feeling against the use of firearms on the small island. The closure includes air guns and spring guns.

Hunting with bow and arrow will be allowed during the regular hunting season as set out in the hunting regulations.

Bowen Island is described as all that portion of land, including the foreshore above the low water mark of Bowen Island, situated and lying at the entrance to Howe Sound, New Westminster District.

Over one-third of the visitors to Canada's national parks are from outside the country.

FOUR FIND SMALL FISH OUT WEST

There's fish off the west coast. Four Island fishermen went off to prove it last week. They found plenty of fish, but no heavyweights.

Driving to Gold River were Gil Humphreys, Bill Trelford, Mac Mouat and Carl Simpson. They took the Humphreys boat and they launched it at Gold River.

The fjord runs out 30 miles to the sea from Gold River, ranging from very narrow, with overhanging rock to a broad, riverlike stretch of water. It comes out to Friendly Cove, where Capt. Cook once landed.

They caught 31 salmon ranging from about seven pounds and down. They came back full of enthusiasm and fish but disappointed at the lack of really big ones.

90TH BIRTHDAY

a familiar trade name to islanders and visitors. The brothers were Gilbert and W. M. and they financed the purchase through the assistance of their mother.

Initially, the store was operated by Gilbert and his brother came to join him after attending college in New Westminster.

In 1913 William Mouat married Miss Effie Wayne, of Vancouver. She died in 1967 at the age of 81.

While engaged in commerce in the community for half a century and more, W. M. Mouat took part in a wide variety of activities here. He is a charter member of the Lady Minto Hospital Board and served on that board for 46 years. He has been associated with school boards and other administrative functions most of his life.

Mr. and Mrs. Mouat had four children, of whom two, Gilbert and Grace, have died. Helping him mark his 90th year were Oliver, of Seattle and Ivan, of Edmonton.

The Mouat family from all parts were here to celebrate his birthday last week. During the afternoon he met his friends and in the evening the family met over dinner in the Golf and Country Club.

It was a day of rejoicing and a day of accomplishment, but the 90-year-old islander was still shooting for new targets.

He reminded the dinner meeting that he would still like to see the Fulford ferry terminal moved to Isabella Point. He spoke for a second community target he has voiced on occasion before. Ganges should be incorporated as a village, he stated.

His third project was a business one. He wants an elevator in Mouat's Store, he told his family. It was the stairs that kept him young for 90 years, he was reminded.

DISCLOSURE ACT

Tell all or don't run

— SEPTEMBER 15 DEADLINE

Running for office? Want to be a school trustee? Thinking of the Regional Board? Anyone who runs now has to tell all.

The Public Officials and Employees Disclosure Act is in force. Every candidate for office must be prepared to write in detail just what he is and how much.

Act was introduced to avoid conflict of interests and monkey business by elected, and appointed, public officials.

There are five sections to the forms which must be completed.

First page calls for the listing of all corporations in which the signator holds one or more shares.

Second page requires the candidate for office to list the names of every business in the regional district from which he gains any remuneration as employee, officer, part-owner, owner, director, trustee or partner.

Third sheet asks for the names of all persons to whom the candidate owes money.

Fourth section requires a listing of all properties in the regional district owned by the candidate or in which he has an interest.

Final section is a declaration.

Bone of contention in the new regulations is that the forms are then filed in the School Board office, in respect of school trustees and in the Regional Board office, in respect of directors and any resident may examine them at will.

The disclosure must be completed by September 15 by all public officials, elected or appointed, who plan to continue in office next year. Those who are not prepared to serve after December will not be required to complete the forms.
