MEET AT PARKSVILLE

Trustees take first look at Trust

Newly elected local trustees of the Islands Trust spent a day exploring their responsibilities on Saturday, Nov. 30, when they met at Parksville. There were 25 local trustees and the three general members of the Trust, Hilary Brown, Marc Holmes and David Brouson. In addition, there were the associate deputy minister of municipal affairs, Bob Pretie and a number of regional directors, including Salt Spring Island Regional Director George Heinekey. Saturday's initial meeting was held to enable trustees to meet each other and to discuss the Trust concept and its responsibilities.

Attending the initial meeting at Parksville were the new trustees from Salt Spring Island, who furnished this report.

Trustees were also present from all the Gulf Islands, including Galiano, North Pender, South Pender, Saturna and Mayne.

The local trustees were sworn in by Judge Eric Winch. They were introduced to Mary Lee, who will man the general office of the Islands Trust and to Judi Parr, manager-planner of the Trust. Miss Parr has come west from New Brunswick, where she was a rural planner in the St. John's River Basin.

Most of the day was devoted to discussion of areas of concern and attempts to define the role of the Trust and its relation to the Regional Districts.

Chairman Hilary Brown suggested that the Trust look at agriculture, hydro and telephone rights-of-way, highways, foreshore, forestry, Crown lands, parks, campsites, water resources, lakes and streams, ferries transportation and wildlife.

John Stepaniuk raised the question of taxation and its effect on the Islands Trust's goal of preservation of the Islands. Mrs. Brown agreed that it is a major concern.

Mike Larmour, also of Salt Spring Island, was concerned with the preservation of the environment. He urged that the Trust should make money available for specific environmental problems.

Director Heinekey expressed the confident belief that the Capital Regional District could handle most, if not all, the problems facing the Trust. His Salt Spring Island trustees did not endorse his views.

"Some of the problems are so large and so complex that they are beyond the scope of the Regional Districts," explained Mike Larmour.

He cited taxation and transportation as examples. The Islands Trust will employ a staff of four or five

PROCEEDS OF ROTARY GREY CUP DRAW

LIONS GET LION'S SHARE

Lions recreation complex at Central has gained a sharp boost from the only other service club on Salt Spring Island, the Rotarians.

Rotary Club's annual fund-raising project is the Grey Cup Draw. Each year the club sells tickets for a breakfast or luncheon. The ticketholder is also entitled to take part in the draw with a top prize of $1,000.

Island Rotarians last spring decided to allocate the Lion's share of the proceeds to the Lions. The Lions Club was invited to help sell tickets and 60% of the net proceeds would go to the sports centre at Central.

That 60% amounted to $2,284.

The revenue amounted to $6,160 from the sale of tickets. Cost of prizes, luncheon and other expenses amounted to $2,352.71, to leave a balance of $3,807.29.

Top prize was won by Mike Byron, of Beaver Point Road, school teacher at Ganges. Early Bird draw was won by Romeo Chick and Rex, of Chemainus. That prize was $100.

Consolation prize winners were Bill Trelford, Gerry Facca, Ivor Cawker, Pierre Valcourt and Tom Butler-Cole.

In charge of the highly successful project was Bert Timbers.

The money never came

Something went wrong when the Bank of Montreal at Ganges ordered cash for the weekend. It never came.

On Friday afternoon and evening the branch was desperately short of cash and some holders of cheques were unable to cash them.

The bank had ordered the cash, explained an official, but it had been delayed.

By Monday morning the bank staff were on tenterhooks, waiting for the mail. By Monday afternoon they were cashing cheques from every direction.

"It was embarrassing," commented a banker.

TWO HALLS ANSWER ALARM

Firemen from two halls attended the fire at the home of Otto Mostad, Lee's Hill, on Thursday, Nov. 28.

Alarm was sounded when the furnace in the Mostad home caught fire. It was extinguished, but the home suffered smoke and small fire damage.

Firemen and trucks came from both Ganges and Fulford

HEAVY RAIN NO RECORD

Very heavy rains characterized November weather this year, but the precipitation of 7.64 ins. was not a record.

The top point of the thermometer was 56 deg. and the cold spot was 38.1, according to figures compiled by the Dominion Weather Observer on Ganges, Hill, Howard Carlin.

Maximum mean temperature was 44.5 deg. and minimum mean, 38.1.

Last year's figures were, high, 55; low, 29; 10.27 ins.; 1972, high, 59; low, 32; 2.30 ins.; 1971, high, 52; low, 31; 5.38 ins.; 1970, high, 66; low 24; 5.71 ins.; 1969, high 55; low, 30; 1.95 ins.; 1968, high, 59; low, 31; 6.55 ins.; 1967, high 57; low, 30; 2.74 ins.; 1966, high, 56; low, 31; 5.75 ins.; 1965, high, 57; low, 37; 6.64 ins.; 1964, high, 54; low 30; 4.08 ins.

VANDALS DAMAGE BAKERY

When vandals broke into the EMBE Bakery in Ganges in the early hours of November 28 nothing was stolen.

The cooler was opened and eggs taken were thrown about the building. Damage was extensive and cleaning up was a long job for the staff.

Entry was gained by the back door. Police are investigating.

TRUCK KNOCKS OUT CABLE

Cablevision went out in many parts of the Salt Spring Cablevision area on Wednesday last week when a tandem truck tore the wires near the Ship's Anchor Inn.

RCMP was called to control traffic and the vehicle was removed. The truck box was raised and hooked the wires as it slowed down on the side of the road.

SMITHS LEAD THE WAY

NEW BOOK SHOWS 2882 LISTINGS

Islands first indication of growth is the telephone book issued each year by the BC Telephone Company.

Listings exceed any previous year. In the Islands sections there are 2,882 listings. These are broken down into 1,814 on Salt Spring Island and 1,068 among the Outer Islands.

On Salt Spring Island there are two exchanges, Ganges and Fulford. The Outer Islands are also broken down into two exchanges, Pender and the remainder of the islands. Free calling extends to all telephones on Salt Spring Island for Salt Spring subscribers. Similarly, all outer islands phones will call, free of charge, both Outer Island exchanges.

Not all the listings are to be found on the islands. In each of the two exchange areas there are 64 listings from outside. These include police telephone company service, BC Hydro and ferries as well as commercial subscribers such as air lines, doctors and suppliers.

Some of the outside listings are known only to those likely to call them. Thus, Slade and Stewart, a Victoria wholesaler is listed as are the Computer Communications Group of Vancouver.

The Outer Islands exchange numbers use the prefix 539 or 629. The latter is located on the Pender Islands. The 539 prefix refers to callers on Mayne, Galiano and Saturna and certain smaller islands.

On Salt Spring Island the Fulford exchange uses the prefix 653, while 537 numbers are in or near Ganges.

Reference to the telephone book reveals that the Pender exchange is rather bigger than that at Fulford. Pender serves 354 subscribers under the 629 prefix, whereas only 227 use a Fulford 653 prefix.

Salt Spring Island, with a greater commercial centre, shows almost exactly twice the number of black-face listings found under the Gulf Islands. Used to give added prominence to the listing, black face type occurs in 123 listings for Ganges and 54 Gulf Islands listings.

Most common surname in the two exchanges is Smith. The name appears against 28 listings, 14 under Ganges and 14 under Gulf Islands. The Gulf Islands boast the greater number, nonetheless, for the additional listing of Smyth, or B. Smyth, North Pender Island.

Second in frequency are the name of Mouat and Anderson. There are 10 of each. Including the breakdown of another four store listings, Mouat's takes top place.

In the Ganges book other names showing with regularity are Cunningham, Reynolds, Stevens, Marcotte, Saunders and Fraser, all of which show seven listings.

Those who are not directly involved in bazaars are apt to get odd ideas about their purposes. They may even believe that there is only one purpose - to raise money. Not so!

United Church bazaar not only raised money

It is true that the bazaar did raise money, over $800 of it, not one cent of which will be wasted. However, before the bazaar, some of the members of the Mizpah Group, along with some ladies who were not even members of the United Church Women, had the happiest get-togethers while they worked on monkey cats, Christmas tree decorations, etc.

The work period began at ten o'clock in the morning. From then on, one and then another, drifted or rushed in to join the workers. About five minutes to twelve, Mrs. McNally would exclaim, "I'm hungry!" and hurry to put the kettle on. Out of purses or shopping bags came each person's lunch, foolish or sensible, cookies or carrots, but food. It was quite possible that work could continue while the tea was sipped. Now one or two might leave, for husbands get hungry too. Others arrived. Work continued. At two, every thing was cleared up. Women left with half-finished toys under their arms, to bring them back complete next week. Reason two for a bazaar -- happy times together and the learning of new skills.

The day of the bazaar comes nearer. The workers look with anxiety at the few boxes of finished articles. "Will our stalls be empty? Surely we had much more last year!" Home they went. Into drawers and boxes and trunks they dived. Others gathered their friends about them as they constructed novel decorations or sat down alone at the sewing machine to make another apron. Reason three for a bazaar -- it teaches hard work and self-sacrifice.

November 21, Target Date. No rain, little wind. Said Rev. Vernon McEachern, "You are blessed in your weather." The preparations started early, for the hall had been in use the evening before. Tables were set up for tea; chairs were arranged; the large tables for the stalls were moved into place. In an unbelievably short time thanks to Messrs. McNally and William and to others, order had been brought out of chaos. Box after box after box was carried in. Artists' hands draped quilts and hung novelties so that buyers might see. Reason four for a bazaar -- practice in co-operation.

Two o'clock at last. The Mizpah President, Mrs. F. D. Artiss introduced Mrs. McEachern who opened the bazaar. Buyers pounced upon the articles beside which they had been standing, perhaps with one possessive finger on the particular treasure. The next two hours whirled past, with Rev. McEachern greeting each new guest, people from every corner of the Island happy to see others that they seldom meet, tea hostesses smiling as they hurried. Final reason for a bazaar -- a time and place where friends may meet.

The bazaar was convened by Mrs. F. D. Artiss; decorations, Christmas and most attractive, were put up by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baseley, Miss Josie Overend, and Mrs. John D. Reid. Sitting at the "seat of custom" were Mesdames H. Ashley, E. W. Graham, and L. W. Whitelock. The children's table -- bargains for younger shoppers -- was in the capable hands of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Pantony and Mrs. H. S. Noakes.

The Burgoyne Ladies, represented by Mmes. W. A. Brigden, R. H. Lee and R. M. Patterson, were in charge of the Country Store. Mrs. E. T. Walker, assisted by Mrs. Harvey E. Henderson, was busy at her attractive knitting and crochet table; Mrs. Homer Dean, Mrs. J. T. Johnston, Miss Josie Overend, and Mrs. J. D. Reid assisted their novelties to disappear into eager hands; Mrs. J. M. Buchanan, Mrs. S. J. Claibourne, and Mrs. J. R. Gibson found their sewing very much in demand. Upstairs, in charge of home cooking, and out of a job in a matter of minutes, were Gladys Komm, Anne Sober, and Grace Williams.

Serving tea and helping in the kitchen were the following: Jean Artiss, Irene Baseley, Norma Brown, Marion Critch, Kay Johnston, Julie Tessman, Dorothy McEachern, Bunty McNally, Margaret Mayo, Margaret Miller, Elaine Poole and Catherine Prior.

to be frank

By Richards

To be FALANI.....
Tired of your name? asks Doreen Cue. Change it for one night at Polynesian Night, on December 13 at Fulford Hall, she urged. Here is her explanation:

In the Tongan language there is no D, so if you have one in your name, change it to T. No R, so change that to L. J becomes S. W is not allowed, switch it to V, or perhaps U.

Now scatter soft vowels with a liberal hand (tongue?) ... at least one to separate each consonant... and always one at the end.

So, now we have: Mary is Mele (and sound that last vowel).

John is Sione.
Maureen is Molini.
Geoff is Sefo.
Stanley is Sitanilei.

And as for you, Frank, she concludes, you will become Falani. And to be Falani, I'd sooner be Frank.

I looked at the news on television and a man spoke for the striking meat inspectors. He warned me that if I didn't toe the line I would die of cancer. I only survive because the strikers save me from that death, he explained. It is about as filthy a piece of propaganda as I have seen any where. The nation now has to be scared into submission. I am confident that there is no remote connection between living on meat and dying of cancer. Indeed, if I thought there was any vestige of truth in what the television spokesman told me, I would be a vegetarian for the rest of my life.

Bob Blundell is boasting again. When Mike Byron won the Rotary Grey Cup $1,000 first prize Bob was quick to report that the ticket had been sold by Harbour Grocery. Same tale was told of the runner-up, Tom Butler-Cole. In addition, the winner of the trip to Reno had also bought his ticket from Bob. Better start winning something, yourself, I told Bob. He still wasn't crying. He bought tickets on various projects and spent $24. He won $120. After the Grey Cup he stopped in for a flutter and won another $120.

From an obituary in the London Daily Telegraph: "... We know not the time nor the hour. Cremation private..." It would have to be with so little information!

Doukhor Daze, the hilarious tale of life with the Doukhor several decades ago is now appearing on the stands as a pocket book. A large Victoria store has a number of copies with an appropriate warning to the reader. Stamped on the inside of the cover is the solemn warning, "Do not strip".

The real story of the great men of the province should be told by their servants and employees in the lower echelons. I had considerable admiration for a prominent figure in provincial affairs a few years ago. Until one of his staff remarked that his procedure was to call an inferior into his office. He would then continue working for 10 minutes or a quarter of an hour while his subordinate stood, unheard, unseen and unspeaking. I realized that while his service was good for British Columbia it was far from good for British Columbians.

Top of the week must be the Juan de Fuca News Review whose news columns last week described samples of water being sent for analyzations. After the chemist has reached a diagnosis he will probably write thesizationally on the subject and become a doctor. Of course, I am hypothesizing.

Spring onions are specially grown to fall out of sandwiches.

Advice from an automotive expert last week confirmed what I had already wondered about. A car built before 1970 is probably a better bet than a new model, he warned. Not just because of the later gadgetry to restrict fumes, he added, but because workmanship is falling off so badly. Next fellow I run into is Gavit Reynolds, near to tears over the fact that neither new pick-up nor new trailer would reach 20,000 miles without major repairs. House trailer is a good way of getting around the country. Only snag is how you get. The Reynolds set out from Salt Spring Island. First stop every drawer had dropped out of the cabinets and every door was open. Food, dishes, linen, they were all spread over the floor, well mixed. Even the top of the stove had bounced off. Back went the trailer to the suppliers. The pick-up? The manufacturers had already exchanged that. After less than 20,000 miles it was useless, the proud owner reported.

Another traveller was worried last week. She was looking to a holiday in South America. But Peru had a major earthquake and the thought of an earthquake had her quaking. She thought of a holiday in Britain, but the prospect of being peppered by a powder-monkey Paddy with a pistol put her off. Flying means the risk of being murdered by dissident Arabs, she complained. Guess where she'll spend Christmas? You're so right...

It isn't only motor cars that suffer the shortcomings of either workmanship or design. About the beginning of the year I bought a new $100 flash for my camera. It was Honey... Well, it was a reasonable piece of equipment. So far the makers have used it more than I have. It has been back for repair most of the year. Worse still, the makers have been trying to fix something that isn't wrong and ignoring the shortcoming of the thing.

Fellow I worked with years ago used to say that Canada is one of the few countries where you can start at the bottom of the ladder and work up. A man comes in as a newly qualified tradesman, works to be a charge-hand and then foreman. After a few years as foreman he can carry on until he owns the business... if he can afford the drop in pay. It's one of the few places where you can work your tail off, 16 hours a day, seven days a week and finish up earning less than an average union worker in any small city.

Of course Christmas is still popular. Where else could we get so much for so little... and so long to pay for it?

MINOR VESSELS AND MINOR PORTS

The Social Credit government did not invent the islands ferries. They merely acquired them.

The invention could be laid at the door of the CPR or of the late Sam Matson or perhaps of the first island seamen who paddled or rowed or puffed or chugged around the islands. Those were the men. They knew where they were going.

Some went west and some found success, but each knew that as soon as the traffic merited it another vessel would be forthcoming.

The picture has changed.

The Social Credit government brought new equipment to the islands and learned the problems as time passed. It is even possible that the last government had finally formulated a policy on minor vessels at the time the political world was shattered and they were left high and dry. Like the islanders.

So far, the present government has had little time to formulate a policy. Ferries were a triumph to the government of 15 years ago: or thereabouts. They are a headache to the government today. In all fairness they would be a headache to any government today.

First to be considered is the mainland ferry service. It is still being considered. While the consideration gets into high gear the oil shortage, real or contrived, has introduced a further hazard. There are various answers to the mainland ferry problem. If the government keeps on building ferries as fast and as regularly as possible, there will be more ferries than salmon in Gulf waters and salmon rarely bump into each other according to the biologists. Many fishermen, it may be noted, are of the belief that this situation has already arrived.

Government officials, elected representatives, ferrymen and a few travellers have already breathed of the possibility of ferries for passengers without cars. The scheme would provide for a rapid transit system between Vancouver and Tsawwassen and another to link Victoria and Swartz Bay. It sounds like blasphemy to any driver whose car is the nearest link to the Almighty he has ever known. It is his God-given right to drive it and he is nearer to God when he's driving than at any other time in his life. Many of us are destined to cross that barrier before the Christmas holiday has elapsed.

But these plans do not help the island residents. A rapid transit system to downtown would benefit many islanders. It would not bring food to the islands. Nor could we build. The islands and their minor ports depend on minor ferries.

On Salt Spring Island the only ferries that will fit the Vesuvius dock are the Salt Spring Queen and the Vesuvius Queen. The Salt Spring Queen is already cut back to a maximum load of 60 tons. Neither will haul materials in large quantities. No other ferry can be used. It wouldn't fit the dock. This latter consideration is not important. The docks may well have collapsed before any other ferry is available for the service. Those docks are rugged and tough and ready for anything at the present time. As long as it doesn't weigh more than

BUT, OF COURSE, A CAT MAY LOOK AT A KING!

40,000 pounds.

On Salt Spring Island a number of merchants and a number of consumers are curious. What is the government's policy regarding minor ferries and minor ports and minor people? Or do they have a policy? What is to happen when the Vesuvius Queen is too old to haul its present load? What will happen if the docks on the west side of the island and rumble into the sea with a roar and a cloud of dust? Statistically, they are half way there already, inasmuch as their maximum capacity has been chopped in half.

Life on the islands, as every politician knows, is mostly beer and skittles. But without adequate minor ferries there will be no beer and little skittles.

We'd surely like to know what the minister of Communications, Mr. Robert Strachan is thinking about these things. And we just hope he is!

Letters to the Editor

CARE TREE

Sir,
Could I have a little space to let all the many friends of C.A.R.E. know that we received a wonderful start this year with our effort to feed the hungry.

We have received 225 donations which amount to $2,500. Every cent buys food and this amount will feed for one month 3,750 really hungry people.

We wish to publicly say "Thank you" to the Gulf Islands for their continued good wishes and help, also to many all over B. C.

We are proving that in spite of all we read to the contrary there are a whole lot of unselfish people all around us. "There is a destiny That makes men brothers; None can go alone. All that we send into the lives of others Comes back into our own."

Edith and George Pearson,
Pender Island, B. C.
November 30, 1974.

THANKYOU, COME AGAIN!

Sir,
On behalf of the Salt Spring Players I wish to thank the whole community of Salt Spring for the great support they gave to our production of "HARVEY". A group such as ours depends entirely on such support and encouragement by the community.
We are grateful to all the businesses and shops who displayed our posters and to our advertisers and to all the many people who contributed in so many ways to make "HARVEY" the success it was, not least the husbands and wives of the players.

We regret that many people were disappointed owing to sold-out houses. (Next time get your tickets early!)

We hope you will all come to our Variety Show at the Activity Centre on December 14 at 8 p.m. We promise an evening of fun for the whole family.

HOW CAN I?

****

By Ann Ashley

Q. How can I clean corrosion from my bathroom showerhead?

A. Just by removing the head and soaking it in vinegar overnight.

Q. How can I patch a hole in my accordion bellows?

A. Best, of course, to let an expert take care of this. But if you want to try the job yourself, cut a small patch out of matching material or vinyl sheet, then coat the back of this patch and the area around the hole with rubber cement. Let this dry, then apply a second coat of cement to the patch and immediately press into place.

Q. How can I return some hardened, lumpy brown sugar to normal?

A. One easy and quick remedy is placing the sugar lumps on a pie tin and putting into the oven, set at 200 degrees, for three to five minutes.

the Editor, Wednesday, Nov. 20, '74.

Ingles prefers "Inquest" to your own "To be Frank" column, which he refers to as Rubbish! Obviously Inquest is not doing Ingles a bit of good, since to refer to your column as rubbish is a most unchristian remark.

Regarding your wife's burning of the toast. She's preparing you for the other place because if you persist in to be Frank, Frank, at the expense of "Inquest", more than your toast is gonna get burnt!

THESE TWO CHURCHES ARE THE SAME ST PAUL'S CHURCH AT FULFORD HARBOUR

Two churches are one and the same church. Oldest such edifice on Salt Spring Island is St. Paul's Catholic church at Fulford. For many years it was marked on marine charts of the harbour as a landmark. The white clapboard building was recovered with rock by the late Norman Shaw.

NEW TOILET OFFERED IN ISLANDS

Humus toilet which requires no plumbing and no septic tank is now to be distributed in the Gulf Islands by Valcourt Building Centre in Ganges.

The toilet decomposes human waste and converts it into fertilizer. It uses no chemicals.

Used daily by four or five people, it will resolve the discharges into about 55 pounds of dry humus in a year. This may be applied to the flower garden.

The system is an enclosed chamber in which the sewage is rotted away. The unit plugs into an electrical outlet and the decomposition chamber is maintained at a temperature of 90 deg. The evaporated water is released to the atmosphere by a controlled outlet. There are some 50,000 units already in use in 17 European countries, according to the makers.

MORE SUPPLIES FOR BUILDING

Reduced demand for building materials in the United States is being felt in Canada. According to the B. C. Construction Association, the price of building materials is leveling out.

Frank Reder, association president reports that in the second quarter of the year 41 prices went up, 16 were unchanged and three went down. The prices are those of 60 basic materials used in construction.

In the third quarter of the year only 15 prices rose. Thirty-one remained unchanged and six declined in price.

The softening of prices has not applied to petrochemical products, noted Reder. Vinyl and paint have gone way up.

The reduced demand in the United States has also resulted in a greater supply of some scarce materials, noted the association.

DRIVER CHARGED

When the car driven by George Bachen, Walker Hook Road, skidded and left the road charges were laid against the driver.

The car slipped on the wet North End Road and slid into a ditch, causing damage estimated at $1,200.

Bachen was issued with a Traffic Violation Report, charging him with failure to keep to his own side of the road.

Driver reported he met an oncoming car and lost control.

SATURNA SCENE by Papajohn

This time we will have the Lions Lyre first while my index finger is still fresh. The Lions Lyre: Our regular meeting was as always, a wonderful get-together of kindred spirits. John Silvester reported that all was ready for Saturday night's Ladies' Appreciation dinner. Work on the tennis courts was reported and a vote of thanks to Johnny Money for his work plus work done by Bob Hindmarch, Al Kerr, Bucky Crooks, Gene Marshall and Wayne Smith who is our president's son-in-law, and just happened to be there so John put him to work too. It was voted that our Club pay for and organize a trip for all the school kids down to age three to Victoria to see a play about Hans Christian Andersen's Tales in the Bastion Theatre Playhouse. The date to be announced later. Now for the big news. Saturday Night's Ladies Appreciation Gastronomic Dinner was a huge success. John Silvester and his gang really put on a do for our fair ladies. The menu would have won four stars from Michelins French guide to Gastronomic eating. We had barbecued STEAKS, etc. (Michelin never gives more than three stars to any food dispenser in Europe). If you want to enjoy life and have a wonderful time doing it come to our Island and join our Lions Club. All the work was done by members (male) of our Club, even the pie we had for dessert. Now we had better shut up and give you some less exciting news.

Incidentally it only costs you 50 cents per person per year to belong to our Community Club. If you don't belong to our club and won't come out and help us, for heaven's sake quit criticizing our efforts!

The New Year's Eve Party will be another Saturnalia. More news later.

Glad to see Lil and Tommy Barnett home from their stay in Rest Haven hospital. The way Tommy tucked away his Saturday Night dinner Lil won't have to feed him for a week.

Back to their home on Saturna are Bart and Lorene Scruggs and family. Wonder what we can think up for Bart to do this winter.

At the top of our Sunset Boulevard there is a lovely cottage where Lucille Broten lives with her wonderful garden. Lucille has just come back from a trip to Hawaii. This week she had her daughter Ronda and Ronda's husband Ron Wheeler with grandchild Jane over. Ron cut up an awful lot of wood for his mother-in-law and took Granmarie with them on their return trip to the States. Yes, we are batchin' for a few days and we don't particularly like it.

Bea Froese has come home after going into Victoria to celebrate her father's birthday. He is well past his three score years and ten and still going strong.

Ruth Connor has had her son Bill, home for a few days. Too few, says Ruth.

Don't forget our Candle-light Dinner on the 17th. Tickets are going fast.

Safe driving week

ADDED STRENGTH FOR SAFE DRIVING

First week of December is Safe Driving Week.

This is the week in the year when drivers throughout the province are urged to take extra precautions and to consciously avoid risks.

On Salt Spring Island there is an additional reminder of Safe Driving Week. There is the breathalizer located in the office of the RCMP Detachment.

Every driver checked by police or involved in an accident may be required to take a breathalizer test if the police believe he has been drinking.

First week in December on Salt Spring Island is Breathalizer Week.

TURN OTHER FENDER TO BAD DRIVERS, SAYS FRENCH ABBE

An auto-age version of the Sermon on the Mount, worthy of note by all Canadian drivers, is contained in the book "The Automobilitist and Christian Morality," written by Abbé Hubert Renard, of France.

The aggressive driver everywhere, he says, "lets himself be guided by his instincts. He tries to enjoy to the maximum the pleasure of speed, to exalt his power, to dominate those he meets on the road."

His answer to such driving is very pointed:

"Ye have heard, 'an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth'. Ye have heard it said, 'sideswipe for sideswipe, right-of-way refused for right-of-way refused'. But I say unto you, 'Turn the other fender'. If someone gets in your way at a green light, let him be first at the next light. And whosoever shall try to pass thee imprudently with a less powerful car, slow down to let him do it more easily. I say unto you, love your enemies, love those who drive dangerously. They are in peril.

"But don't forget," warns Abbé Renard, "that you may be a Pharisee yourself."

His words might well be added to the Defensive Driving Course.

WHO SAID THAT?

A safety belt is the best way to keep from leaving the scene of an accident.

The driver who has one more for the road might have a cruiser for a chaser.

Slow and steady...

How many drivers do you see racing ahead in heavy traffic, overtaking at every opportunity and weaving in and out of their lane? Do they really get where they are going any faster or are their efforts all to no avail?

In England recently, an experiment was run to find out if motorists who drive faster do so to little or no advantage. Two similar cars were driven over the same distance of 1,750 miles; one driver was instructed to drive in a relaxed manner avoiding any risk and the other was told to drive as fast as was legally possible.

The relaxed driver finished two hours 48 minutes behind the other but he used 10.5 gallons less gasoline and his tires were only worn 1 mm compared to the fast car's 2 mm.

The slower driver had to use his brakes in an emergency only seven times whereas the other driver had to brake hard 184 times. The fast driver overtook 352 more cars and trucks during the whole trip according to the report published in the accident bulletin of the Birmingham City Police and reported in RoSPA's CARE on the road.

Equal Impairment

People who don't want to believe that a few drinks can seriously impair driving ability tend to suggest they can "hold their liquor" better than others, according to the Ontario Safety League.

Because of body weight, fatigue, emotional condition or a number of other reasons, individuals may show differing effects from drinking the same amount of alcohol, but may be equally impaired.

The OSL also suggests that the person least able to operate a car safely is the one who is most convinced that he is in brilliant shape for driving.

What's that funny noise? Never mind, it'll probably go away.

I only get the shimmy at fifty, if I go faster it stops.

DRIVING CAN BE SAFE

SAFE DRIVING WEEK is aimed at alerting Canadian motorists to the scope of the traffic accident epidemic and what must be done to reduce accidents, not just during the campaign but all year.

SAFE DRIVING WEEK concentrates on proven methods of traffic accident prevention within the framework of Defensive Driving - recognize the hazard, understand the defence and act in time.

SAFE DRIVING WEEK is an integral component of the all-embracing goal of the Canadian safety movement - safety for the whole person, on the highways at home, at school, at work and at play.

SAFE DRIVING WEEK in itself will achieve no miracles in changing Canadian driving attitudes but with the co-operation of many companies, governments, associations and individuals will advance knowledge of the principles of safe driving among more and more motorists.

SAFE DRIVING WEEK encourages the participation of pedestrians who must do their part, too, if the high and unnecessary toll of lives and injuries is to be reduced.

SAFE DRIVING WEEK traffic death tolls have been consistently lower than those of the weeks preceding and following the campaign. The positive information disseminated during Safe Driving Week cannot but have a positive effect on the year-round driving habits of many, many Canadians.

and Retail Merchants" of Ganges distributed a letter through the island mails inviting residents to take advantage of a bargain sale.

For $4 in cash they could buy goods to the value of $4.80.

This is how the message ran:

***
What $4 will buy from our Grocery Department.

- 1 sack Royal Household Flour.....$1.85
  - 20 lbs. BC Granulated sugar..... 1.35
  - 1 lb. Monsoon tea..... .40
  - 10 cakes Sunlight soap.. .50
  - 1 lb. Daddy's coffee... .50
  - 2 tins Old Dutch Cleanser .20
- $4.80

As a small advertisement for our Grocery Department, we are giving you this order worth $4.80 for $4 cash.

We have been careful to list articles that are used in every household and here is an opportunity of buying them at a saving of 20%.

Please remember that we will not consider anything but cash for the above order.

For our customers living at a distance we will ship two orders, freight prepaid, on receipt of $8.

This offer opens August 20th and continues until August 31st. Please do not overlook this opportunity.
MOUAT BROS. CO. LTD.

Copy of the early advertising circular came to light at Salt Spring Lands last week and Gil Humphreys realized that there would be a wide interest in the sale today.

Miss Sheila Sykes of the Gulf Island Trading Company could not meet the prices, she admitted on Tuesday. In fact, she also admitted that she had never heard of a 49 lb. sack of flour. All sacks weighed 49 pounds at that time, commented Mr. Humphreys. He was offering other people's assurance and had no personal knowledge of the era.

Sheila offered flour at 50 pounds for $9.53. When it came to granulated sugar she was lost in laughter. Seven cents a pound was beyond her imagination.

Here is her list of the same commodities today. Some brands are not mentioned and some have changed.

- 50 lbs. flour.....$9.53
  - 20 lbs. sugar.....12.98
  - 1 lb. Nabob Tea..... 1.49

ROBERT CLOTHIER

Not every villain on television has a kind side. But Relic, of CBC television's Beachcombers series, seen each Sunday at 7 p.m., definitely has one, even though he doesn't know what to do with it most of the time. Relic, played by veteran Vancouver actor Robert Clothier, lives in an old, broken-down houseboat in Gibsons, B.C., where he does his own cooking and washing, the latter not very often.

WHO WANTS THIS BOOK?

There's a new publication from the Department of National Health and Welfare that you probably won't want to read.

It's called "Health and Fitness" and it spells out the how, what, when, where and why most Canadians are unfit. The "who" is you.

The author is from that country where 60-year-olds jog better than our 30-year-olds. He is Dr. Per-Olaf Astrand, and he and the Skandia Insurance Company, Stockholm, and the Swedish Information Services gave Canada permission to republish.

The book defines the reasons and results of poor health, like laziness and obesity. Worse still, it actually describes diets and exercises to improve health.

The book is free. The regional public relations officer has some copies. If you have the strength, write to him at Health and Welfare Canada, 408 - 1177 West Broadway, Vancouver, B.C. V6H 1G3

HEAR THAT BRASS IN GANGES

Western Brass, a quintet of wind instruments, will perform on Sunday, Dec. 8, at 2 pm in the Activity Room at the elementary school in Ganges.

Co-sponsoring the event with the Gulf Islands Community Arts Council, is the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria. Tickets will be available at the door for $2 for CAC members, $3 for non-members. New members are welcome to join the arts council at the door.

Western Brass, based in Victoria, includes the following instrumentalists: Boyd Hood, first trumpet; Jess Reynolds, second trumpet; David Watson, horn; George Krem, trombone; and Dean Monterey, tuba. Their program will encompass works by contemporary composers and range back to the 16th century. This will be the last CAC event of 1974; there will be further offerings next spring to be announced after the beginning of the new year.

Get together gets together at Hotel

At our last meeting in November we had a very nice smorgasbord luncheon served to us by the Harbour House staff. It even included a special cake with "Welcome Ladies" inscribed upon it! On this occasion it was agreed to hold our next meeting, on Friday, December 6, at the Harbour House at 12.30.

It was also suggested that each lady make or purchase a Christmas corsage which would be exchanged for someone else's at the luncheon. We are hoping to have a singsong if music can be provided.

As spokesman I would like to make it clear that this is the group called "Ladies Get-together" and all ladies are welcome to join us. If you are a stranger, or new to the island or just need a change, please call the Harbour House for reservations and come and join us.

DAY CARE SOCIETY MEETING

The Salt Spring Island Day Care Society will stage its annual meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 11 in the Gulf Islands Secondary School, Room 6.

Meeting will open at 7.30 pm.

GAS COMPANY BUILDS NEW WAREHOUSE HERE

New construction project in Ganges is a new warehouse for Gulf Islands Propane Gas. The warehouse will stand behind the Salt Spring Book and Stationery store.

The present facilities, according to proprietor Bob Blundell, are inadequate for the rapidly expanding gas business on Salt Spring Island.

MAYNE

BY MARYANN

November was an eventful month on Mayne. The Masquerade Ball at the Mayne Inn on Nov. 2 set the trend for fun. The costumes were funny and I'm sure everyone enjoyed admiring and laughing at the variety.

The Silver Maynes sponsored a retirement party for Mary Kline, who retired as Postmistress after having served our community for several years. There was an abundance of good food and Mary was presented with a wallet of money. Best wishes, Mary!

The Silver Maynes had another great success with the Christmas tea. They wish to thank the community who supported their efforts.

On Remembrance Day, the Mayne Island Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, led by President Bill Ferguson, placed a wreath and poppies on the Lych Gate of St. Mary Magdalene's Church. Afterwards they met with the Saturna Branch at the Saturna Community Hall for coffee, sandwiches and reminiscences.

Congratulations to Foy Miles and Chris Berghorson as our newly-elected Island Trustees.

Mayne Islanders were saddened to learn that Grace Evans, after a prolonged illness, passed away in Lady Minto Hospital earlier this month. Services were conducted by Rev. James Daniels at St. Mary Magdalene's Church.

The Mayne Inn on Grey Cup week-end had the aura of fun and frolic but was especially fruitful for Nan, who won the $100 football raffle.

Miss Jill Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ferguson, was married to Dr. William Schramm in St. Mary Magdalene's Church on Mayne last Saturday. We wish them a long and happy future.

All bridge enthusiasts who may be interested in a dinner-tournament are requested to contact MaryAnn Grosvenor.

OUTINGS ARE IN AGAIN

Annual meeting of the Salt Spring Trail and Nature Club will be on January 13, at 8 p.m. in St. George's Hall.

All regular members and interested prospective members are invited to attend.

As for December, the club had considered suspending activities, due to the uncertain weather and the usual Christmas activities.

However, there has been such a popular demand for the Tuesday outings, that we have arranged for outings on December 10 as follows:

Walk along Toynbee Road: leader: Vera Pirillo; meet Fulford Drive-in, 9, 30; Centennial Park, 10 a.m.

Hike: up Mt. Erskine from Toynbee Road. Leader: Arthur Halfnights. Meet, Fulford Drive-in, 9, 30; Centennial Park, 10 a.m.

Plans are underway for a bird-count on the Island, probably some time in January. Watch Driftwood for further notices.

Merry Christmas to all our members.

Hoot, man! Getting tickets to Scotland didn't cost me one penny extra here!

They're NOT Out To Get You

Good to be home?

Canada Customs really means it 'Welcome to Canada!'

But some of the things you bring back with you will not be nearly as welcome as you are.

Canada's 4,000 Customs Officers are part of her first line of defence against the entry of diseases, pests, and potentially dangerous drugs and foods. Some of your souvenirs may not be allowed in at all, or only if the Customs Officer is satisfied they do not threaten the well-being of the country in any way.

Why are things that seem quite harmless or only of personal value so closely scrutinized when you pass through Customs? Quite simple! Unwanted pests and dangerous plant or animal diseases may hitch-hike in on your rare tropical plant or in that traditional family-recipe summer sausage you hoped to share with relatives in Canada. Even the soil in a plant's pot may harbour unwelcome visitors.

INCREDIBLE?

It's not, you know. There have been outbreaks of both plant and animal diseases directly traceable to the illegal importation of pets, meat, plants or their products. The blight on some of British Columbia's fruit trees caused by the oriental fruit moth, the disaster of Dutch elm disease, and epidemics of Hoof and Mouth disease were all imported.

So the care used in examining plants, pets and foodstuffs is justified. Occasionally you may even be asked to surrender such items to Canada Customs for quarantine or disposal.

Customs Officers must enforce a bewildering array of government legislation. This requires a large measure of personal judgement in permitting the entry of certain goods or subjecting them to a more detailed examination. Depending on the country you are returning from and conditions there, goods usually restricted may be allowed entry. However, if officials are notified of an outbreak of serious illness, crop pests or animal diseases the entry of potentially harmful items must be denied.

SOME GUIDELINES

Under existing regulations meat, raw or processed, is generally prohibited, because disease-bearing micro-organisms can survive in meats and other animal products.

For the same reason many plants, plant products, and soils are banned. Consult the Plant Protection Division of Canada Agriculture about what plants are permitted entry.

YOUR PETS . . .

Rabies may enter Canada with a sick pet. Vaccinate your pet regularly against rabies. The Veterinarian's Certificate, signed within one year of a pet's entry, will facilitate Customs procedures, although the animal will still have to be inspected before it is allowed in. Dogs from certain countries are subject to further precautionary measures; they may be quarantined for one month to be sure they are healthy. Vaccinations are not required for cats, although they, too, must be inspected before entry.

Parrots and related birds, if healthy and isolated from similar birds for ninety days are admitted. No more than two birds of the parrot family for each household may be allowed entry at any one time under Agricultural regulations currently in effect.

AND PEOPLE?

Customs protects the health of Canada's people, too - one more reason why pets must be vaccinated. You, too, may be asked to produce a valid International Certificate of Vaccination against smallpox, cholera, yellow fever, or any combination of them. The certificate must be validated before you leave Canada at your local Medical Health Office or at the Medical Branch of the Department of Health and Welfare, who can also clarify any special requirements for the country you plan to visit.

IN SUM

Maintain regular immunization for family and pets, and familiarize yourself with the restrictions on things you can bring back. It will smooth your passage through Customs, and you will be doing your part to help Customs protect the well-being of Canadians, Canada's industries, and the Canadian environment.

A LOOK AT THE BUDGET

by
John N. Turner
Minister of Finance

We in this country are confronted by two major economic challenges - dealing with persistent, deep-seated inflation and at the same time maintaining a good level of production and employment. This will require us to steer a narrow course if we are to avoid more inflation on the one hand and the risk of a recession on the other. And in doing so, we must also do everything we reasonably can to protect Canadians who are least able to protect themselves from the ravages of both. That is what the budget was all about.

The Canadian economy has firm under-pinnings in consumer buying and capital investment. The real incomes of Canadians continue to improve and employment continues to rise. Unemployment now is lower than a year ago.

But signs of slowing down have appeared in the economy since early summer. Weakening economies abroad have affected our exports, housing construction has declined and work stoppages have caused a serious loss of production. Disappointing harvests in many countries, high commodity prices, and cost escalation at home, have combined to postpone expected relief from high rates of inflation.

The principal threat to the growth of our production and employment comes to us from abroad. Massive balance of payments deficits and surpluses resulting from a fourfold increase of world oil prices are imposing serious strains on the entire world system.

For many developing countries the shortages and high cost of food and fertilizers and the drastically increased prices of energy have raised the spectre of disaster.

Solutions to these problems depend heavily on international co-operation: by action, good counsel and leadership where opportunities are given to us. Canada will do what it can to help resolve them.

With the benefit of measures in this budget, and with no unforeseen deterioration of the economic environment abroad or unforeseen shocks at home, the Canadian economy is expected to grow at a rate of about 4 per cent in 1975.

It is projected that about a quarter of a million new jobs will be created in 1975, on top of some 870,000 jobs created in Canada in the past two years.

A determined effort will be required by all sectors of our society to get inflation down over the next few years. We are striving to get the rate below the two digit level next year.

With these goals in mind, measures were put in the budget to sustain demand by means of tax reductions rather than through an increase in government expenditure. Tax cuts will reduce prices and costs directly or indirectly and increase the take-home pay of Canadians.

Measures were included to restrain the growth in government expenditure and provide selective help to weak points in the economy.

Provision was also made in the budget to sustain business investment since this sector is expected to be a main driving force in the economy in the period ahead. This will also contribute to increasing the supply of goods - so central to dealing with inflation.

The budget also contained measures to help those in our society most vulnerable to inflation.

Our twin goals are to moderate inflation and to achieve sound growth of production and employment. These are the goals which every Canadian supports. It should be clear that in today's circumstances, the achievement of one depends upon the attainment of the other.

In the budget I tried not to understate the challenges which face us. I have not claimed that we can be sure of success, no matter what happens elsewhere. Nor have I pressed any panic buttons, because I am confident that, working together at home and abroad, we can overcome our difficulties.

DIES AT PENDER HOME AFTER 63 YEARS

Mrs. Margaret Falconer came to Port Washington before the First World War. Last week she died at her home on Clam Bay Road, at the age of 83. For 63 years she had lived on Pender Island.

Mrs. Falconer was born in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Funeral services are being held in Sands Funeral Chapel of Roses at Sidney, on Wednesday, Dec. 4, with Rev. R.H. Pratt officiating, followed by cremation.

Mrs. Falconer leaves her two daughters, Mrs. Mary Daykin, Sidney and Mrs. Margaret Mennie, Port Washington; three sons, Jack, in Quebec; Bill, Vancouver and Jim, Surrey, B.C.; four granddaughters; two grandsons and one great grandson and two sisters, Elizabeth Findlay, Scotland and Isobel Findlay, New South Wales, Australia.

Three drivers were mulcted $1,050 in Ganges Provincial Court last week when they were charged with mixing alcohol and driving.

Each of the three was fined $350, or one month's imprisonment.

Marvin Leroy Bergstrom, Ganges pleaded guilty to impaired driving. He was fined and his driver's license was suspended for three months. Second charge of refusing a breathalyzer test was withdrawn.

Ian Edwin Niquidet, of Blackburn Lake Road, Ganges was sentenced for driving with the alcohol blood count in excess of 0.08%. Breathalyzer test was given after an accident.

Barry William Popowich was charged with impaired driving following an automobile accident on November 20. Charge of excessive alcohol content was withdrawn.

All appeared on Wednesday Nov. 27 before Judge D. G. Ashby.

On & Off The Island

Mrs. Flossie Zenke, former resident of Salt Spring Island, visited the island again last Sunday in the company of her grandson, Charles Haynes. After attending morning service at the United Church, where Mrs. Zenke renewed acquaintance with many long-time friends, they lunched with the John Reids on Rainbow Road. Then making brief stops at several homes, they visited with Myrtle Holloman before taking the 4:40 ferry back to Vancouver.

Bob Anderson, BC Ferries Gulf Islands Terminal Agent, is progressing favourably in the Royal Jubilee Hospital and expects to be home shortly. He sustained serious injury when struck by a falling tree.

Miss Sharon Barber and Miss Louise Bastedo have returned from a holiday in Hawaii.

Valdy is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Paul Horsdal, of Fulford.

Miss Bronwyn Stewart of Christchurch, New Zealand, was a guest recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Swanson of Ganges for ten days.

JUVENILE TO PAY COSTS OF DAMAGE TO AUTOMOBILE

Juvenile was ordered to pay restitution when he appeared in court in Ganges last week charged with mischief.

Offence consisted of damaging the windshield of the car owned by the vice-principal at Gulf Islands Secondary School during a school function.

Amount to be repaid is $263. The juvenile was also placed on probation for a year.

BOWLERS OF THE WEEK

Bowlers of the week at Leisure Lanes, Ganges, last week were Jean Jefferies, whose 290, 217 and 325 made 832 and Alex Shelby, with 241, 260 and 263 for 764.

Notable three-game scores were rolled by Stan Sage, with 735; Bunty McNally, 717 and Kit Moulton, 722.

Directors of Chamber mark last meeting of year

In the top picture Jack Albhouse and Ellen Bennett are seated at the table with Leann Lawson, near the camera and Susan Ronne, two May Day princesses.

Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce went festive on Thursday evening when the last executive meeting of the year was staged as a dinner meeting in the Ganges Crest.

Small group of Chamber directors, accompanied by their wives, enjoyed the Crest's gourmet menu.

Taking part were Susanne Ronne and Leann Lawson, May Day princesses this year.

Program consisted of a series of reports from various spokesmen on matters of Chamber concern.

As director of the Chamber, Dave Hill, host of the evening, was also a participant.

To the right are seen Bank of Montreal manager Art Mellin and his wife laughing. With his back to the camera is Gerry Bourdin.

Below are Ray Simard with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hardie. All are listening attentively to President Tom Toynbee.

TO ELECT OFFICERS

Annual meeting of the Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce will be staged in Ganges on Thursday evening Dec. 12.

Election of officers will be held the same evening.

The meeting will take place in the Legion Hall on Hereford Ave.

Members will be called on to elect a new president and vice-president. President Tom Toynbee has served out his second and final year and vice-president, Gunter Burger, has declined to serve a further term due to the pressure of business.

Four directors will also be elected.

First call on the new executive will be to name a secretary. Mrs. J. R. Sturdy is retiring from the office.

WOMEN AND FILMS

It's women and films this week at the secondary school in Ganges. Sponsored by the Gulf Islands Community Arts Council, Isis-Women and Film will be showed Thursday at 2.30 and 7.30 pm.

REPORT IS FEW YEARS LATE

Concert includes large cast

It was 1898 and it was an evening in May and it was Salt Spring Island. No cars, no paved roads, no electricity, no telephones and it was, Salt Spring Island.

That was the pattern when a concert was presented in Ganges on May 18, 1898. The program for the evening came into the possession of Salt Spring Lands Ltd., recently.

Opening address was by the chairman, who was unnamed.

Frank Scott then played a march on an instrument described as an "aeolian". A song by George Halley was followed by Sam Horel's recitation. Edward Harrison and Freddy Abbott both sang and George A. Horel gave a reading.

The Scott aeolian was played and Joel A. Broadwell sang. The Bittancourt Brothers offered a mouth organ selection and Paschal Walker also sang. Miss Harupp then offered a recitation.

Two Little Girls in Blue was sung by Mrs. Mansell and Miss Norton. A reading by A. W. Cook, a violin solo by Mr. Cullinson and a further aeolian music by Frank Scott brought the show to its intermission.

The names of the contributors are still familiar around the islands.

... TO BE FRANK

(From Page Three)

Rotary Club's publication on Salt Spring, the Salt Spring Island Sentinel, reports that a new member, Charlie Krekel came to the island as the result of a story in the Ford Times. Formerly of New Jersey and Oregon, Charlie came here two years ago. The story appeared about 1967. It would be nice to get a copy of that interesting article, commented the bulletin editor Jack Williams. I'm sticking my neck out a long way, but I think it was written by the late John Sturdy. I have a hazy recollection of someone showing me a copy when it was published.

ANOTHER STYLE

Modelling by Val Richards. She was too busy to take a picture on Friday evening.

Refreshments were offered to the accompaniment of a phonograph. The machine would be valuable today. It would be worth far more than it was in 1898.

Miss May Horel presented a recitation and George Halley again sang a song. Prof. Stochenberger offered a vaudeville entertainment and Cris (sic) Chittick sang. A. L. Wilson played his accordion. This was followed by a recitation by Miss Polly Rogers and a song by Freddy Abbott.

While the participants recovered their breath the phonograph was played.

Paschal Walker came back for another song and Frank Scott for more aeolian and, finally, came an act entitled The Death of Cock Robin.

The evening closed with the traditional anthem.

Soccer

DIVISION 2

Salt Spring "Orange" Legion 1; Cowichan Comets, 0.

In one of the most sloppily played games of the season, the Legion eked out a one-goal victory over the Comets. It was a game that lacked excitement for the spectators as the Legion players seemed to work only as hard as needed.

On a rather slippery pitch neither side was able to muster up much of an attack, in the early stages. In an attempt to shake the Orange up, several substitutions were made and, led by the aggressive play of Jay Bourdin and Todd Farup, the Legion started to come on. The pressure paid off, as a cross by David Stepaniuk was hand-balled by an opponent. The resultant penalty shot was calmly slammed high into the left side of the net by Gordie Lee.

The second half of the game was almost as uninspiring as the first, as both teams lacked ball control and thrustful attacks. Even so, the Legion defence held firm, led by Mark Hughes' solid effort, and preserved Alex McManus' second shut-out as well as the team's second win of the season.

The over-all performance of the Orange was quite poor, as they lacked the well-balanced cohesion and the strong positional type of play characterized by previous performances. The hustle and aggressive play of Mike Rozzano, Jay Bourdin, Randy Howard, Todd Farup, Mark Hughes and David Woodley stood out in the victory. The other boys seemed to suffer from the two-week lay-off due to bad weather.

Even so, if the boys can win while not playing their best, one can imagine how well they will do with improvement. It is hoped that next week the Orange will once again return to the style of soccer that is not only entertaining, but also victorious in result. ***

DIVISION 6

Saturday, Nov. 30, at Salt Spring, vs. Duncan Legion.

This was a 1:1 tie. A thriller with a much better brand of soccer being played by this division. This writer felt that the Salt Spring eleven controlled the field, with shot after shot blocked by an astute youngster in Duncan's goal. Bill Tenveen scored for Salt Spring.

Sunday, Dec. 1, at Salt Spring vs. Cowichan.

A game to make up for the previous week end rain-out, proved victorious for our boys with a 2 to 1 cliff-hanger, that had the small group of fans and parents jumping.

Young Billy Tenveen who scored our only goal on Saturday, came up with two big ones today, but he had lots of help from his fired-up teammates.

Our Division 6 now has five wins, two ties and two losses for 12 points.

GALIANO

BY MARY BACKLUND

The world around has sure been getting its face washed these past few weeks, last night she really took a washing, as the rain poured down in torrents. It's welcome rain, as the water table has been so very very low for the past few months. One strange thing we have noticed, lately, there have been millions of birds coming around, all sizes and shapes, and you can hear the joy in their voices as they sing out in the welcome rain.

Another fine thing these days, is the trees still with their leaves on them. Usually we have a few windstorms, and all of the leaves are gone, this year, they are still on the trees, and a drive to the north end of the Island is such a treat. Really a treat on Sunday afternoon, as I was pleased to be among the honored guests at a coffee party at the new gourmet restaurant, The Pink Geranium. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Mouncey have worked hard to build this place.

Teddy Prior has returned home, after spending several months travelling across Canada, ending up in New Brunswick, where he enjoyed working for a little while. "I'll dance the buttons off my shoes, with you my pretty Ann", so go the words of an old song.

Well, buttons and bows, and the beautiful finish of the floor got danced off last Saturday night, when more than 150 people went to Galiano Hall to really enjoy the music of the Redwing orchestra. Coming over from Victoria, the five musicians and their ladies and some friends all went to Tom Carolan's home, where he, the Tom Hennesseys and the Nordens had prepared a dinner for them. The crowd started coming early to the hall, and exactly why the finish on the floor came off during the evening we do not know. It is a shame that all of that hard work went only for a few weeks.

This group will not be playing together any more. They have decided to break up, and go their separate ways.

TO THE WILD COUNTRY

John and Janet Foster, seen here in an Ontario wood, are the host-adventurers on CBC-TV's To the Wild Country series. On the programs they explore Canada's untamed wilderness in TV nature specials. This season they travel The Great Gulf - The St. Lawrence in a program to be seen Dec. 8 at 8 p.m. Later programs are The Wild Pacific Shore (Jan. 6), Wild Corners of the Great Lakes (Feb. 2) and Land of the Big Ice (Feb. 24).

CARE TREE FUND $3,000

George Pearson, author of Pender Island's CARE Tree, can no longer keep up with himself.

Elsewhere in this issue is a letter from Mr. Pearson reporting that his CARE Fund has reached $2,500. Even before it was published, there was another note from the CARE man that the figure had exceeded $3,000.

"I have faith enough to believe that we shall reach our hoped-for target of $5,000," he told Driftwood, "and we are swamped with letters every day."

George and Edith Pearson light a lamp on their Christmas Tree overlooking Navy Channel, for every donation they receive for CARE. It is their annual Christmas chore and it has grown steadily each year.

Every penny goes to feed the hungry, explains George.

Contributions in the form of a Christmas present to people who have nothing may be mailed to George Pearson, CARE Fund, Pender Island, B. C.

Fashion Show packs dining room at Harbour House

This was the scene which greeted models showing their wears at Friday evening's fashion parade in Harbour House Hotel. Show was arranged by Aunty Viv's.

Fashion show presented by Aunty Viv's Fancy Goods in Harbour House Hotel, at Ganges, on Friday evening drew a packed dining room to watch the display of women's and men's clothes by a dozen models.

The room was filled and latecomers had to be escorted to seats not readily seen from the doorway.

About 150 different styles were modelled. Showing was largely confined to leather and suede fashions.

Linda Twa and Jerry Scheff show what to wear when out on a date.
