

Power goes off with bang!

Seagull is victim of high voltage

When the power failed in Ganges just before Christmas, Rita Dods knew all about it. And Ruby Vaughan soon learned all about it.

A dead sea gull dropped at Mrs. Dods' feet as the high-power lines above her made like a bomb going off.

Rita Dods fastidiously picked up the dead and offensive bird to move it to one side. Her hand was foul with the stench of the burned bird, she said afterwards.

Mrs. Vaughan was driving alongside the high tension wires when the explosion occurred. She stopped her car on the spot and jumped out to see whether she had a burst tire.

The victim of the incident, an inoffensive seagull, flew into the high-tension wires, shorted them and died.

Gilbert calls for central meeting point in education

A presentation of ideas was given by school-community worker, Nick Gilbert last Thursday at the Gulf Islands School District meeting.

Gilbert suggested that communication between all education systems be made through a meeting to share various concerns of teachers, parents, and board members. He spoke of behaviour control and suggested that students suffering learning handicaps be programmed early to correct them.

He suggested that teen programmes be established to get something going between parents and teenagers.

Gilbert explained that teachers ideas could be shared with those also involved in the educational system.

The speaker concluded by announcing a meeting to be held at the Community Centre on Monday, Jan. 16.

Memorial for active islander

Hudson Kimball memorial is to be launched on Salt Spring Island.

The impetus came from an anonymous donor. Friends of the late Hudson Kimball, who have derived inspiration from him and would like to see his aspirations and efforts continued for the benefit of others, are supporting the plan.

Suggestions have included the fostering of study and discussion groups such as he had planned and started. Leaders and participants are invited. Recommendations in respect of other topics, studies and books will be welcomed.

Shared listening to the greatest in music is also mooted.

One such record listening group was initiated by him last April and meets monthly. Publication of his and others' writings will be considered.

Mrs. Madge Kimball is preparing to organize and publish his writings.

An open discussion is to be held over a cup of tea, on Sunday, Jan. 15 at 12.30 pm at the Salt Spring Island Community Centre.

Canoe is found and lost again

Last year, and one week before Christmas, Tony and Lil Raynor found a 16-foot Baycrest canoe. They pulled their find above high water mark, secured it, and proceeded to contact police about the green, sea-going vessel.

Approximately two weeks later, on January 3, a near neighbour of the Raynors contacted police about a missing 16 foot Baycrest canoe. Jack Hughes had been missing a canoe for a few weeks, he told police.

Ganges detachment, RCMP were busy trying to re-unite owner and boat when, on January 8, Tony Raynor reported the canoe had been stolen.

Police are investigating the theft.

Green light given

Don Fairweather, trustee of the Gulf Islands School Board announced last week that the Fernwood school project had received approval from the ministry of education.

He told the school board last week that the architect will be placing a notice in off island and the local newspaper to call for tenders for the project.

The return date for the tenders will be the month's end.

LESS WORK: LESS PAY!

Campbell looks over Region

This report is not intended to be a full review of the past, or a detailed work program for the future, but it will contain some suggestions which may give some direction if acceptable.

At the beginning I want to pay tribute to a competent and hard-working staff. I want also to remind the Board of the very significant and valuable service rendered by the seven members of last year's Board who have retired.

The board has an ever-increasing role in this community. It is a marvellously flexible and convenient instrument for service and, notwithstanding the detailed and various criticism it receives, it is always being asked to do more by the electoral areas, the municipalities, and the provincial government.

I have always resisted the easy statistical analysis of growth by comparing budgets, because unless we are going to look at the total local service budgets for the region we do not get a meaningful result.

GROWTH IN EVIDENCE

I think a real expression of growth is the number of persons we employ in community service.

In my experience, I remember that the first payroll I signed included 44 pay cheques, in January, 1973.

In November, 1977, 475 pay cheques were issued; this includes 291 full-time on salary, and 184 part-time and casual.

It is my observation that these people are on our payroll because they are providing services that the statutes and the public expect us to provide. What we must concern ourselves with is the quality and efficiency of the service.

There is a well-established custom in municipal circles under which the mayor reviews the kinds of things he sees as important in the ensuing year. He does this from the base of his constituency, which is the community at large, and he does it with the authority of one directly elected. I am conscious that my constituency is the membership of this Board on the one hand and, as with each of us, my own particular parish.

I believe that, in politics, the source of authority defines the role, and in these matters regional districts sometimes have difficulty in rising above being an assembly of not-too-co-operative parishes.

For the purposes of chairmanship, however, my constituency for the most part has to be the members of this table, and a chairman of such a board as this must restrict himself to leading the willing to a regional perception. But for once, at this time, I am going to assume for myself the larger constituency which is the people of the region, and try to speak for them on some fundamental issues.

WHAT DO THEY WANT?

It is from them that we draw our authority, and not really from any intervening corporate body.

What do they want us to do?

I think that they want us to treat this Capital Region as a place which is unique and special in the world. I think that most of them, if you meet them in Winnipeg or Washington, or Toronto or Trinidad, will tell you that they come from Victoria, or nearby, in British Columbia.

When they are away, that is home.

When they are home, they feel the same way even though they may be more specific about their address.

I believe that first of all they each want the integrity of their individual neighbourhoods maintained. The message is loud and clear. They do not want planning decisions made which serve only the economic objectives of the particular corporation they live in.

They do not want to be surprised and confronted with the impact of a significant planning or public works initiative in an adjoining corporation. They do want their services to be coordinated.

They want their police and fire services to be as good as they can be, and they do not expect any problems of jurisdiction to get in the way of that. They want their solid waste to be managed and disposed of with some enlightenment.

They are not happy about marine disposal of sewage, but they will accept long outfalls as a stage in an upgrading process.

They are probably shocked at the short outfall proposed for the McMicking Point area, but they are so pleased that a pumping station isn't going to be necessary on the beach that they only grumble quietly.

NOT CLEAR

Hardly any of them understand why it is that a corporation owned by three of the municipalities has total control over the sale of water from the only source that can truly meet the needs of the region as a whole.

Those who live in the Peninsula were gratified when the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing took the first bold steps to rationalize the Peninsula water problems. I think they want him to take the next step now, and make water a fully regional function.

I do not think they mind paying taxes at all to get the services they want, but I think they object to waste and inefficiency. They do not expect government to be as efficient as small businesses, but they do live in hope.

They want their representatives to stimulate and fund recreational activities out of their taxes. They are willing to pay for what they can see and use.

They are much more willing to spend their tax money on really good and useful public facilities and amenities than we give them credit for; and I believe they would like their municipal politicians to be bolder in these kinds of initiatives.

They do not hold local government responsible for the state of the economy or the level of unemployment but they would be delighted with any credible attempt to deal with these problems at any level.

They do not really want these problems solved by growth alone. Growth, which has been an ideal solution for thousands of years, isn't really popular with people any more.

POLITICS BORING

They do not want to talk to their politicians very often because most of them find local politics boring, except when there is a real and immediate issue that affects them personally. They are gently cynical about us most of the time, but remarkably forgiving of errors unless they are repeated.

I think that we as a Board have a duty to try to respond to these kinds of expectations from the regional community. To do that we must look beyond our local parish in ways that I don't think we have yet attempted.

An 18-member board with such a variety of duties must have a diverse committee system if it is to study and filter the material effectively, and committee work will continue to absorb considerable time.

In the nature of things, each of us will find it appropriate to accept the advice of our fellow board members on particular matters from time to time. To do this satisfactorily we should know each other better.

It has been suggested that we should take our meetings away from lower Yates Street in the afternoon, and into the community in the evening.

I do not oppose the concept, but I do suggest we do not go overboard. The occasional meeting in the outlying parts of the region, with an opportunity to socialize with fellow board members and local citizens, would be useful.

PAYMENT FOR SERVICES

The growth we experience in the region increases the work load for members, and I have always believed that the matter of remuneration to elected representatives should be dealt with publicly and positively early in their term.

I will be asking the executive committee to make a recommendation in the near future.

With the transfer of planning from the region to the Islands Trust the work in the Outer Gulf Islands and Salt Spring Island will be reduced, and the remuneration for directors for these electoral areas must therefore be reduced accordingly.

In that connection, I note that the transfer of records has been satisfactorily arranged, and I am sure you all join in wishing the best to the Trust in its new role.

Stay with belt urges insurer

Stay with that seat belt, urges ICBC.

The provincial insurance corporation reports that the number of drivers conforming to the new seat belt law is steadily rising.

The corporation also reports that the effect of seat belts in Ontario has shown improvements of nearly one-third in terms of reduced injuries and hospital costs.

These are the Ontario statistics, according to ICBC: cost of active treatment care declined by 30% during the first three months of seat belt legislation.

Number of hospitalized victims went down 22% and the number of in-patients was reduced 29% with out-patients down 18%.

The same report tells of 13% of motorists using seat belts in March of last year in B.C., on Vancouver Island and the interior. This figure rose to 25% in August and went up to 59% in November after the new regulation.

New cobbler opens shop in Ganges at foot of hill

BY VALERIE RICHARDS

For ailing boots and leathers, The Albatross repair shop is the healing enterprise in Ganges.

Located next door to Et Cetera Book and Stationery store the new leather works factory holds an impressive display of machinery and solidly repaired bootery.

Owner and operator is Craig Jensen, an Alberta born ex-trapper. Jensen hails from Redcliffe, a small town beyond the Rockies. At 15, Jensen moved with his family to Edmonton and from Edmonton struck out new roots near Prince George where he trapped various furs for a year.

He tried his hand at farming in the same BC locale, enjoyed it, and now with his wife, farms at Tassaday Farm.

He took his apprenticeship course through Manpower in 1976 and still appreciates the aid he received through the federal government program.

From the apprenticeship he moved to Lillooet, where he acquired some leather-working equipment.

At The Albatross, Jensen works with a Curve needle stitcher, which will sew through three quarters of an inch of leather. His larger piece of equipment buffs, polishes and trims leather and is called a finisher. In addition to the solid machinery in his possession, he has also a patcher which works as a heavy-duty sewing machine.

Whereas in the past his craft has been a spasmodic venture, it is now a full-time occupation for Jensen. The shop, open all week, displays its repaired wares in the window.

Craig Jensen looks over his equipment in Ganges shoe repair.

Fined $300 for refusing to blow

Island lady found not guilty of impaired driving when trial ends

Delores Seagrave was found not guilty of impaired driving in Provincial Court at Ganges Wednesday and was found guilty on another charge of refusing to give a breath sample. She was fined $300.

Mrs. Seagrave, who defended herself, was in court for the continuation of a trial that had been adjourned from November 23.

In the impaired driving case, defence witness Andrew Loveridge, of Burnaby, testified that he had been on Salt Spring the day in question, August 20, and had gone to a party with Mrs. Seagrave and Marcie Berner.

They were at the party for several hours, said Loveridge, during which time Mrs. Seagrave became intoxicated. He said that he hadn't drunk much himself and that Miss Berner did not show any sign of having been drinking.

They left the party in Del Seagrave's car with Marcie Berner driving, he testified. Just outside of Ganges they stopped and Miss Berner got out of the car.

"I was sitting in the front seat holding Mrs. Seagrave's baby," explained Loveridge.

When Miss Berner got out of the car, he continued, Mrs. Seagrave moved from the back to the driver's seat and was searching for the keys when the police came along.

SHE DIDN'T DRIVE

"Mrs. Seagrave didn't drive the car," he asserted.

In reply to a question by Judge D.K. McAdam, Loveridge told the court he had never driven a car and didn't have a license.

Crown counsel R. Law asked if the vehicle had moved while Mrs. Seagrave was in the driver's seat, to which Loveridge replied he had no recollection of the vehicle moving "a single inch".

Mr. Law suggested that someone outside the car would be in a better position to tell whether or not the car was moving. Mr. Loveridge did not agree.

He did agree with Mr. Law, though, when he suggested that Mrs. Seagrave had been trying to get into the driver's seat.

"At the party, yes" he said,

"but not while driving."

In finding Mrs. Seagrave not guilty, Judge McAdam noted that the evidence indicated that Marcie had been driving even though the former had been behind the wheel when Constable Simmonds approached the vehicle.

"It doesn't seem to me that she succeeded in driving," he concluded.

There is not much difficulty about count two (refusing to blow), noted Judge McAdam.

"There is satisfactory evidence that she failed to comply with the police officer's demand," he said.

Kitchen Korner

BY MARIANNE GOODRICH

January is the month for resolutions, new beginnings, and fresh expectations - it is also the month to make up for December's giddy spending and girth-expanding feasts. Hence, for the sake of our waists and wallets, we are, like poor poets, dining simply.

A plain meal of baked beans, cole slaw, and corn bread is singularly unremarkable, but satisfying. Embellished with little pots of relishes and pickles, it becomes a feast, and "spruces up" a family supper for unexpected guests.

MUSTARD OLIVES

1/4 cup vinegar
1 tablespoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon mustard seeds
1 can ripe or green-ripe olives
1 tablespoon olive oil
...Dump mustard and mustard seeds into a small saucepan and slowly blend in the vinegar, olive oil, and liquid from the canned olives.
...Bring the mixture to a boil, add olives and simmer 10 minutes.
...Cool and refrigerate. Age for several days, and drain before serving.

FRUITS IN HONEY AND WINE

1 cup honey
1/4 cup cider vinegar
10 whole cloves
1 stick cinnamon
1/4 cup port or muscatel wine
1 1/2 quarts well-drained canned fruit
...Combine and simmer for 5 minutes the honey, vinegar, cloves and cinnamon.
...Add the wine and fruit and continue to simmer 15 minutes longer, then cool and store in refrigerator. (A superb side dish with meats or poultry)

QUICK PICKLED BEETS

1 can sliced beets (about 2 cups)
1/2 cup juice from beets
6 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar
1 scant teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons each cloves and dry mustard
Dash of cinnamon and allspice
1 small clove garlic
...Pack drained beets in a quart jar, then mix the other ingredients in a saucepan, bring to a boil, and pour over the beets.
...Cover, cool, and refrigerate until

ready to use. (Good with sour cream!)

...This dish can grow and grow. As the number of beet slices in the jar diminishes, whole hard-cooked eggs, sliced onions, or parboiled celery or carrot sticks can be dropped into the pickling liquid. They should be ready to eat in a day or two.

A HOT MUSTARD

1/4 cup dry mustard
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon turmeric
Dash of salt
1 small clove garlic, mashed
Cider vinegar
Water
...Combine the dry ingredients and garlic
...Add sufficient water and vinegar (about half as much vinegar as water) to make a thick cream. Mix well, cover and let stand about 10 minutes before using.
...A drop or two of oil will give the mustard a smoother consistency and brighter color. Makes 1/4 cup.

PLUM SAUCE

1 cup plum jelly
1/2 cup chutney
1 tablespoon cider vinegar
1 tablespoon sugar
...Blend the four ingredients, let stand several hours, and the sauce is ready. (An excellent dip for fried shrimp, barbecued spareribs, roast pork and roast chicken.)

WINE JELLY

1 package raspberry-flavored gelatin
3/4 cup boiling water
1/4 cup sherry
1 tablespoon claret
2 tablespoons brandy
...Dissolve the gelatin in boiling water and stir in the wines and brandy
...Pour into a mold and chill until set.

YOGURT

(An excellent main dish, side dish, or snack)
...Bring 1 quart of milk (whole, skim, canned, or reconstituted dry) just to a boil. Cool to lukewarm and stir in 1 tablespoon commercial yogurt.
...Cover the container and let stand in a warm place overnight, then chill before using.

Girth observers look for island leader

In order to establish a class through "Weight Watchers", the islands must have about 35 prospective members, according to Virginia Newman, Continuing Education co-ordinator for Gulf Islands School District.

"Finding a local instructor, in order to keep the cost of the course down may be another stumbling block", said Mrs. Newman, this week, "we need to find a lifetime member of "Weight Watchers" to do the job."

Classes are already in progress in and around Victoria and Sidney during the day and in the evening reports Mrs. Newman.

"If any lifetime member of the organization is living on Salt Spring Island and would be interested in training to be an instructor in a local class, please contact me at 537-9251", urges the co-ordinator.

 BY MARY ELLEN HARDING

May we begin this brand new page of 1978 by wishing all of the readers a most happy and healthy New Year. May you all be looking forward to joy and peace. Due to one of the coldest nights in the year, many people stayed at home, and either watched the telly, or listened to the marvelous program coming from the Isle Royale Hotel, away over in Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, where they quite obviously had a great time, as we listened to the old-time music of the Maritimes, familiar to all of us.

Up at the Rod and Gun Clubhouse, there was a party for members and friends, the room was tastefully decorated, and about 40 attended. The door prize was won by Sam Maberley, and the raffle by Pat Weaver. President Hank Knudson welcomed all, and his wife, assisted by several other ladies, was responsible for the buffet dinner.

In other Rod and Gun News, their annual meeting and election of officers will be at the Rod and Gun Clubhouse on January 27, at 8 pm.

We are so sorry that Geordie Georgeson has been in hospital for some time, he was taken to Lady Minto Hospital at Ganges, then later transferred to Royal Jubilee, in Victoria. He is feeling better now, and we hope he will be home soon.

With great sorrow we heard of the sudden death of Mrs. W.J. Ager, of Jack Drive, who passed away on January 6.

The January meeting of the Senior Citizens, branch 94, was cancelled for this month, but the next meeting will be held on February 6.

Jim Manly declares support for telephone workers

Recently nominated New Democratic Party candidate for Cowichan - Malahat - The Islands, Jim Manly, has spoken out in support of striking/locked out telecommunications workers at B.C. Tel.

Speaking to a group of campaign committee workers at the NDP headquarters in Duncan, Manly said, "BC Tel is noted for its disregard for consumers: can we expect that it would treat its workers any better?"

"We can draw a direct parallel between the way BC Tel treats its workers and the way it treats its consumers.

"Through the use of subsidiaries to inflate costs of supplies and through other siphoning off of profits to its American parent company, General Telephone and Electric Company, it has created an artificially low profit picture to justify rate increases. Now it wants to use some of these same corporate affiliations to avoid fulfilling its obligations to its employees."

Pointing out that federal and provincial governments have shown themselves helpless and incompetent in the face of massive layoffs at Inco and Falconbridge, in Ontario, Manly said that TWU workers had no option but to stand firm to protect their jobs.

Elementary Days

BY SARAH WIEBE

Students are back at work after low attendance on the first two days because of the snow. This term is the longest one without a holiday break.

The grade seven students are presently scheduled to take part in a swimming program in Duncan and the grade four classes are the next groups to go skating.

At lunch hour there will be weaving classes for grades 1 to 7. Grades 1 & 2 begin on Monday, grades 3 & 4 begin on Tuesday, grades 5 & 6 begin on Wednesday and Thursdays are reserved for grade 7.

An opera group from Vancouver is visiting Salt Spring Elementary on February 2.

Tommy Tomkins is presenting a performance on the evening of February 6 and will perform again for school students on the morning of February 7.

A noon-hour film program begins on January 12 with a soccer movie. Hopefully this program will continue every Thursday.

VOYAGEUR
By Pamela D.

Guy E. Randall, a voyageur, is coming to the Salt Spring Elementary school for a visit some time in February.

He will tell us about his trip with nine other men and a half-wolf dog and how they paddled a canoe 5,400 miles from Fort St. John, B.C. to Expo, Montreal, Quebec. They re-enacted Sir Alexander Mackenzie's canoe trips across Canada.

Mr. Randall will also show us a series of 200 slides taken along the fur route across Canada. He is also going to bring some of the furs that made Canada famous.

Room at home

A Railway Station Museum

BY LYN HANCOCK

You cannot catch the early-morning Kootenay Express or the night train to Vancouver from West Summerland any more. The last passenger train ran to the coast with full ceremonial honours in 1964. But you can sit on a bench at the restored railway station and dream of the days of steam on the Kettle Valley Railroad.

The freight trains still go by, perhaps one a day, carrying their load of woodchips and lumber from Midway to Merritt, crossing the Okanagan Valley at Summerland by the Trout Creek route. But the famous tracks are quieter now. And the quaint white-washed station almost hidden under a shroud of willows is now a museum.

You can best capture Summerland's quiet charm both past and present, by a visit to the Kettle Valley Railway Museum, though the active and enthusiastic supporters of the Summerland Museum Society hasten to assure you that it is the Summerland Museum in the Railway Station. It does not display relics of the railway but of the area that the railway served.

Inside the station you will be able to reconstruct how pioneering families lived at the turn of the century, how they grew and sold their fruit. There are wooden butter molds and hands, clay milk and butter coolers, metal butter churns, milk separators and cheese cutters. There are potato ploughs, fruit dryers and chick brooders.

THEY MADE 100 AN HOUR

University students may pay their way through college now by picking and packing fruit, but in the old days, they also made boxes with a wooden nail stripper. They could make 100 an hour if they worked fast.

There are old carpentry tools, sewing machines, typewriters and vacuum cleaners, lamps and flat irons to show the youngsters of today how their parents and grandparents did things when they were their age.

School children visiting the museum today like sitting in the thick leather barber's chair from 1902, trying the cash register, ringing the old school bell from the Okanagan College on Giant's Head Mountain.

One display gives the history of the nearby Department of Agriculture's Research Station. A fire through the Okanagan in 1912 was a chief factor in focussing attention on the need for research work in the area. Since its establishment in 1914 as the Dominion Experimental Farm, the station has been a boon to farmers and orchardists in developing many new varieties of fruit, in combatting diseases in crops, in devising more efficient methods of production. The shady lawns and gardens at the "Farm" also provide a cool spot out of the Summerland's sun when sight-seeing's over.

FREE ADMISSION

The museum is open every afternoon between 2 pm and 5 pm between May and October. But such is the zeal of the volunteers who run it that a phone call showing your genuine interest in their efforts will probably have some of the society members meeting you there in 15 minutes. Admission is free. There's no need to tell you whom to phone as the town is friendly and small enough for you to find out from the first person you ask.

That is part of the pleasure in a visit to the old railway station museum.

Take time to dream in the sun on a bench on the platform, wait for a train or watch the horses and cows on the hill above the tracks.

But the exhibits and the atmosphere will come alive if you also take time to chat to the dedicated oldtimers who pop in during the afternoons. Maybe go with one on a regular check of the village dump to collect some trash that could become a museum treasure.

Board office keeping up with district

Increased size of Gulf Islands School District is what necessitated the expansion of the school board office in Ganges. An extra 500 square feet of space has been added to the building, which was erected 15 years ago.

L.S. Brown Construction was in charge of the expansion project.

The building houses school district administration staff as well as the regional health office.

If you won't buckle up to save your life, do it to save money.

If more of us had buckled up last year, we'd be paying lower Autoplan rates this year.

We've heard about the emotional and social costs of auto accidents. And at the Insurance Corporation, our knowledge is first-hand. We talk to the survivors.

Still, many people don't buckle up. So maybe it will help to look at the "practical" costs. The dollars-and-cents facts about accidents and seat belts.

Fact: Injuries and deaths will cost B.C. motorists just under $100 million in 1977. This includes hospital and medical costs, lost wages, and injury and death benefit settlements.

Fact: Nothing costs more or pushes insurance rates higher than injury and fatality claims. And, alarmingly, the cost of these claims keeps going up. The cost of our average bodily injury claim rose from $3,736 for the eight months ending October, 1976 to $6,358 for the same period in 1977—an increase of 70 per cent.

Fact: Seat belts can reduce the cost of your insurance premium. If every B.C. driver and passenger had been protected by properly worn lap and shoulder belts last year, hundreds of lives might have been saved. And millions of dollars.

Experience in Ontario proves the effectiveness of seat belts. In the first three months of 1976, compulsory use of seat belts together with lower speed limits reduced injuries by 22 per cent and saved $1-million in medical costs alone.

Fact: When seat belts are in use, the chance of bodily injury in an auto accident is reduced by 50 per cent.

Remember that next time you drive. Anywhere. At any speed. Make sure that you and your passengers are securely buckled up. And if it makes you uncomfortable to think of your seat belt as a life belt—try thinking of it as a money belt.

Where the driver sets the rates.

More Food for Thought

BY MARY WILLIAMSON

For six years Ten Days For World Development has conducted a Canada-wide campaign of education in an effort to bring about changes in Canadian public policy which will broaden the opportunities for human growth, especially by the peoples of the developing countries.

Ten Days seeks to achieve this goal by:

- *mobilizing public opinion favorable to such changes
- *clearly demonstrating positive public opinion to policy makers
- *countering resistance to these changes.

This joint development education program of the Anglican, Catholic, Lutheran, Presbyterian and United Churches of Canada, is handled in each area by local, autonomous inter-church and community committees.

Hitherto, on Salt Spring Island, a new committee has been struck each year, continuity being provided by one or two concerned people.

This year, however, the core members remaining from last year have made a New Year's Resolution. Instead of wasting time and energy contacting likely individuals by phone or in person, a standing committee will be gathered from readers of this column and their friends, and this committee will meet regularly, embarking on a program of self-education, and sharing their findings with the community.

The first meeting will be held on Sunday, January 22 at 7.30 pm in St. George's Church Hall. All are welcome to come, listen to presentations and watch a movie, but if you come, it will be assumed that you are prepared to serve on the World Relief and Development Committee. This will entail meeting every other month, with concentrated efforts being called for during the spring program. At this time Argelia Pejada, a visitor from the Dominican Republic, will come to Salt Spring Island, films will be shown, public meetings will be held.

As we know to our sorrow, natural disasters occur with appalling frequency and the Standing Committee will be expected to act as a channel at such times. When fund-raising efforts are required, the Standing Committee will be the people first called upon.

If you are concerned about the continuing life of mankind on this space-ship earth; if you believe that we in the affluent world have a duty to those less fortunate than ourselves, then we will look forward to seeing you at St. George's Church Hall, Sunday, January 22 at 7.30 pm.

Fined $350 for impaired driving

Impaired driving cost Bill de Long, of Salt Spring Island, a fine of $350 when he appeared before Judge D.K. McAdam in Ganges Provincial Court Wednesday.

Charge was laid after Mr. de Long gave breathalyzer readings of 0.11.

Rev. P. Bergin, of Ganges, testified as a character witness for deLong, who pleaded guilty to the charge.

Mr. deLong explained that he wouldn't have driven if he'd known he was over the limit. He questioned the validity of a pamphlet issued by the Attorney-General's office that outlines the number of drinks required to give a breath test reading of 0.08 or more. He said he'd only had two drinks, and that weighing 190 pounds, he should have been well under 0.08, according to the pamphlet.

Judge McAdam replied that that was not something for the court to consider.

Verdict is guilty in impaired case

Guy Pilon, of Victoria, was found guilty by Judge D.K. McAdam in Ganges Provincial Court Wednesday when he contested a charge of impaired driving.

Charge was laid after Pilon was stopped by RCMP Constable D. Geistlinger in Ganges on September 4. The constable testified that Pilon had failed three sobriety tests.

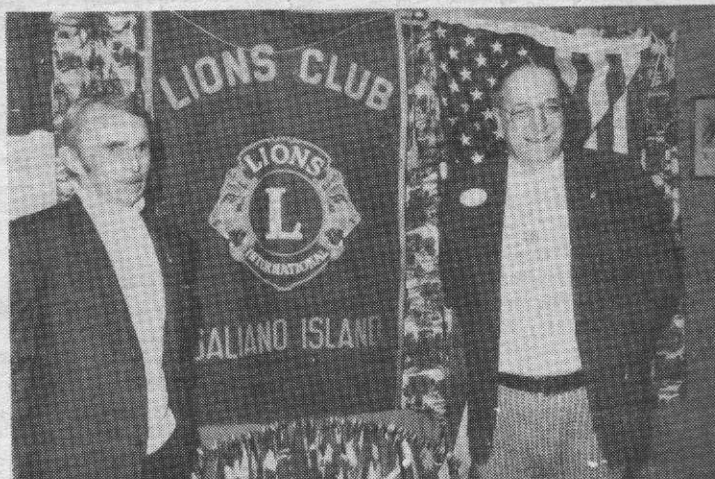

He said he had had a lot of experience with impaired and traffic cases and that he considered Pilon to be intoxicated at the time.

There had been no one available at the time to conduct a breathalyzer test.

Defence counsel asked for a pre-sentence report and Pilon will appear for sentencing January 20 at Victoria.

BY MARY HARDING

On January 5, the Galiano Lions Club were pleased to have two honored guests, District Governor for Lions International District 19-1, Lyle Tinker, of Brinnon, Washington, and Zone Chairman Colin Mouat, of Salt Spring Island.

Due to ferry schedules, their stay was short, but Galiano president Roy Harding was pleased to welcome them and introduce them to one of the largest turn-outs of Lions for quite some time.

The dinner meeting was held at the Rod and Gun Clubhouse: Lionette Mary Knudson was responsible for the dinner. She was helped by Betsy Baines and Marg Basarab.

Mr. Tinker addressed the meeting, after being introduced by Mr. Mouat, a man with a long experience in Lionism, he told of the many aspects of Lions clubs all over the world.

President Roy thanked the two guests for coming, and there followed a business meeting.

It was decided to postpone the Charter night, scheduled for January 28, to a later date.

Some of the Lions will cut some wood for several of the elderly folks on the Island, as they usually do every year, in keeping with their motto, of "People caring for people."

Next meeting of Lions will be at Galiano Hall on January 19.

Grounds in sorry state

Only one plays soccer and wins game

Salt Spring Rotary Canadians, 4;
Gordon Head, 1
BY GEORGE LEGG

Owing to the adverse weather conditions in recent weeks the available fields in playable condition limited the games played to only "A" category teams in league competition.

Salt Spring Rotary Canadians were, therefore, the only Island team to start the New Year on January 8 and they did it in winning style.

Their convincing win over Gordon Head enabled Rotary Canadians to maintain second from top spot in the Vancouver Island league:

- Lakehill 13 points
- Salt Spring 11 points
- Gorge 10 points
- Oak Bay 8 points
- Duncan 7 points
- Gordon Head 3 points

In light of Lakehill's steadiness in competition and Gorge's resurgence to form, Salt Spring Canadians cannot afford complacency to enter into any part of their game or practise before competition.

ONLY LOSS

Significantly, it was Canadian's only loss of the season to Lakehill, due to illness and injury, which placed that team at the top of the standings - showing the importance of physical fitness in a game that demands the most from the participants.

The outstanding feature of Sunday's game was the tremendous team effort displayed by Canadians.

Whether in reading attacking plays or controlling defensive moves, Canadians exhibit a substantially improved awareness of the finer points of the strategic game.

It was also a pleasure to hear the voices of the players helping each other in highly constructive manoeuvres, realizing that a timely call substitutes effectively for fruitless running and exhaustion.

At times Canadians mesmerized their opposition with controlled ball play. This was particularly evident in the second half, when, with the game sown up, Canadians moved the ball up and down and back and forth across the field with the opposition rooted to the spot, unable to establish which way they were supposed to be kicking.

TEAM EFFORT!

Apart from the cohesive team effort, perhaps Canadians strength on this occasion lay in the half-backs recognition of the importance of their two-way assignments.

Hengstler, Legg and Spence despatched their forwards with adroitness and, yet, bolstered the defence when necessary. While often an unglamorous role to play these players shone.

Shining performances were also manifest from the defensive wall of Ten Veen, with the diving headers, Tamboline with the crunching slides, Menzies with the elastic looping legs and Black, whose ferociousness would scare any opposing attack.

In contrast, Walker's goalkeeping stance is akin to delicate gentlemanliness until the ball enters the 18-yard box. Then, a panther is unleashed whose ravenous appetite is only satisfied by his prey, the ball.

The forwards found their New Year feet and goals too. Gossett opened the scoring with a characteristically sizzling left foot drive which gave the team the needed initial uplift; MacLean with aggressiveness, drive and a beautiful bunch of banana shots scored his second hat-trick; Cottrell criss-crossed some excellent passes, always a threat; Toynbee begins to show some first class potential as a supportive player with lots of courage and intelligence; diminu-tive Quesnel darts like a mosquito stinging the opposition from the rear; Cornwall also begins to show significant leadership in the middle and came close on many occasions. Well played all Canadians!

INTRODUCING A NEW APPROACH TO INDIVIDUAL LONG-TERM CARE

Health care doesn't begin and end with a hospital bed.

There was a time when hospitals or nursing homes were virtually the only places a person could receive long-term health care.

But now there's a new approach—a new program designed to provide needed care in the most comfortable surroundings possible—and at a cost the patient can afford. In many cases, we can bring that care right to your door.

The Long-Term Care Program—a new way to care about people. If you feel it could benefit you or someone you know, we urge you to get more information. Simply contact the Long-Term Care Administrator at your local Health Unit, where, together with trained, qualified personnel, you can discuss the care that's needed—and how it can best be provided.

Night school registration

New registration procedure has been adopted for continuing education.

Schedule of spring classes in Continuing Education is listed elsewhere in this issue. Most classes will be starting the week of January 30, but several have earlier dates.

Of importance to all prospective students is the new registration procedure. A registration form can be found in the full-page advertisement.

"It should be properly filled out," said Newman, "and returned with fees to myself, as Co-ordinator of Continuing Education, at the School Board Office, next to Mahon Hall the week of January 23 and on January 30."

Form and fees can be mailed to the School District, Box 128, Ganges, Attention V. Newman.

"These changes are being instituted to allow teachers and students more time during the opening sessions, and to allow students to better take advantage of the Volume Discount which is available where more than one class is being taken or where more than one member of a family want to enroll."

In addition to several of the classes which are continuing from the Fall session there are a number of new offerings, including Ham Radio, basic code and theory; the Law and You; Belly Dancing; and Folk Singing.

Henry Elder and Jack Fisher will co-ordinate an informational class consisting of panel discussions and question-and-answer time using Quentin Wilson, Les Ramsay, Mike Larmour, James Rae-side, Tom Toynbee, Gail Secor, and others in a course entitled "Our Community: What we need to do, and How it can be done." This will be offered on Monday evenings.

School band to tour United States west coast at Easter Mouat's make changes

A very successful Gulf Islands Secondary Bands Christmas Concert was held December 20. Over 300 people attended as performances were given by the school concert and stage bands. The elementary school dancers gave their presentation of "The Magic Toyshop" under the direction of Mrs. Irene Wright.

The evening's band program featured many soloists. Notable among them were Loreta Dods on the piano and Jan Hull on the trumpet. Included in the program was the very popular and lively rendition of "Tuxedo Junction" by the stage band. The evening was highlighted by the presentation of "Twas the Night Before Christmas" narrated by Scott Fraser, assisted by R. Stacey.

Raffles, door prizes and a Christmas sale were organized by the band's auxiliary and the efforts of R.D. McWhirter, Wilf Davies, Mrs. T. Rooke, Mrs. M. Hull, Mr. and Mrs. B. Cobanli, Mr. and Mrs. T. Elford, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ramsey Mrs. D. Elliott, Mrs. M. Delafrazier, Mrs. D. Hele, Mr. and Mrs. Hengstler, Mrs. R. Dods, Mrs. Harland and Cathy Anderson were much appreciated.

Delinquent

New stretch of paving on this city street, carefully cordoned off from human feet, shows a neat circle, tiny feather marks, pigeons like paving stones as much as parks.

For the first time in more than 70 years, Mouat's Store in Ganges has closed off its buy now - pay later system. As of the first of February, the island general store will have no credit department.

The island store, according to Tom Toynbee, is now engaging in merchandising and leaving the credit function to the specialists.

Two internationally known credit cards will be accepted, as well as the new Cubbon accounts, but the familiar instructions to "charge it to my account" will no longer hold good.

Announcing the change, Toynbee explained that he hopes to pass the saving on to the customer. And he is confident that the change will result in savings.

The island store also withdrew from the lumber and building supply business at the beginning of the new year. The Rainbow Road branch now trades under the long-established Victoria name of Cubbon Lumber.

New direction unrelated to planning

Islands have taken a new direction in the Capital Regional District this year as the Salt Spring Island Regional Director, James Bryce, is named to three regional board committees, none of which is concerned with planning.

Director Bryce will serve on the Public Works Committee, the Regional Grants Committee and the Local Works and Services Committee.

Capital Regional District no longer administers zoning and planning in the islands. These functions are now the responsibility of the Islands Trust.
