

KICK OFF

NEW SOCCER SEASON OPENS SOON ON SALT SPRING

By Malcolm Legg

Another soccer season is rapidly approaching and the executives of the Salt Spring Youth Soccer Association are beginning preparations for Salt Spring's soccer stars in the upcoming year.

Player registrations are the first item on the soccer agenda. This year we are mailing the registrations out to last year's players. Points to remember with these registrations are:

Either mail them to the Salt Spring Youth Soccer Association or bring to our registration day on August 26, from 12 noon to 2 p.m. on the school grounds.

Cheque or cash should accompany the form. Player's registration:

$15 for players competing in Victoria.

$7.50 for intra-island players (under 10 years of age.)

$5 every player in family after first one registered.

If you have uniforms please state this on the registration form and we will contact you.

Referees' course available for all boys or girls 12 or older.

Players who have not played in Victoria must send in birth certificate or copy with registration forms.

Registration Day is on Saturday August 26, from 12 noon to 2 p.m. on the Elementary School grounds. This is for new players, people with questions or people bringing in forms and/or birth certificates.

Our 1978/79 season should be packed with plenty of exciting projects, such as:

Referee's course in the fall,

Whitecaps clinic-hopefully in the fall,

Player exchange with Kerrisdale (Vancouver),

Exhibition games with Wesburn (Burnaby),

A Washington exchange, Soccer school next summer and possible five-a-side league in summer.

Already the wheels are turning as our local girls team have been very fortunate in getting a sponsor, already.

John Christianson of the S.S.I. Sea Products Ltd., has put his support behind the girls for the coming season. The Association and girls are very grateful for this support and look forward to his enthusiasm from the sidelines.

Any questions or information or boot exchange please call Malcolm Legg.

David Williams dies suddenly Friday at home in Cloverdale

David A. Williams, died in his Cloverdale home on August 18. He was 24 years of age.

Death occurred suddenly and he was rushed to hospital by ambulance, but failed to respond to treatment.

Former Salt Spring Island man had been married a year.

David Williams came to Salt Spring Island while a school boy about 10 years ago. He attended Gulf Islands Secondary School and subsequently went to live on the mainland where he was enrolled for the next semester at university.

He was one of the Salt Spring Island high school students to join the Sidney Air Cadet Squadron while boys were recruited from the island.

He leaves his father, Ed Williams, on Mayne and his mother, Bev Williams, at Ganges; three sisters, Laurie in McKenzie; Sandy of Edmonton and Rhonda, at Ganges; grandparents and his great-grandmother in Vancouver.

Service was at the Cloverdale funeral home of S. Bull and Sons on Wednesday afternoon, August 23. Cremation followed.

Farewell to Salt Spring Island home

Fulford Harbour wading in hip boots through the sea-grass in pursuit of those fine, broad-beamed crabs and the feeds afterwards. (one night four of us ate 32 of them and fell asleep on our claws.)

We'll remember setting out before the dawn to reach Porlier Pass at that precise moment when the big ones are biting with the phosphorescent wake behind like blossoms of quicksilver and the first pink satin of the morning far-off across the Gulf and over the distant city.

We'll remember the beach parties with the aromatic fragrance of the baby butter clams steaming and the Olympic oysters baking their shells around the perimeter of the driftwood fire and the lights of Ladysmith winking across Stuart Channel.

WILLIE THE WHALE

We'll remember Willie the Whale and his gymnastics in Booth Bay and the day the basking shark came in along the shore where we swam and the men standing along the beach with their rifles, like frontiersmen, shooting at that great evil fin.

We'll remember the deer on the road at night and the bald-headed eagle that took a fancy to the upper branches of the Emily Carr fir in our front yard and the bitter winter night when a small boat was holed by a dead-head and we heard the thin cries of "Help!" coming across the water and....

But enough. Adieu, dear island friends; adieu, dear island, adieu.

There was, of course, a happy sequel.

He came back. He's still an islander, enjoying those things he remembered on leaving. And he has all the hours of the day to enjoy them now he's retired.

David Anderson
Speaks Out
On Business

One response to my column of a couple of weeks ago really surprised me. A lady came up to me and asked why I supported a free enterprise system, when at the same time I was well known for my concern for environmental and social issues. Like many British Columbians, she felt that one couldn't be pro-business and also pro-environment or pro-people.

How wrong such ideas are! All government programs, whether they be old age pensions, family allowances, medicare or whatever are dependent on tax revenues and tax revenues are dependent on business and the jobs business creates. A government--any government--must pay for its programs by taxation, if it is to avoid the runaway inflation that is so damaging to people on fixed incomes. It seems to be that a healthy business climate is therefore the key to healthy government revenues, and thus the key to generous social programs. Governments can't help those who need help if there is no money to fund programs. It is as simple as that. It comes back to a healthy business climate and a healthy business community being the essential base for healthy level of government social services.

Mind you, there are businessmen who seem to believe that a healthy business climate is to allow them to do what they wish unchecked by the desires or rights of other citizens, or of society as a whole, and that attitude is clearly wrong as well. A healthy business climate doesn't mean 19th century style exploitation of people and resources.

To me, a healthy business climate exists where Canadians can get their businesses going without excessive red tape, where they are not harried by bureaucratic regulations at every turn, and where they have the opportunity to expand if the public supports their product. It also means a reasonable return for enterprise and risk.

As your MP, that is a message I'll make sure Ottawa will hear-and hear loud and clear.

North Galiano

BY DEVINA BAINES

Recently visiting Mr. and Mrs. Howard at Portier Pass Light House were Rene's brother, Peter Godfrey and his son, Richard, of Wootton Bassett, Wiltshire, England. They toured all over B.C., then down to Seattle and Grande Coulee Dam. Peter is a member of the Lions Club and after meeting Bill Bamford, he sent a small flag as a token to our Lions Club on Galiano. Young Richard was thrilled to spend his 12th birthday at the Light House. He also went out with his Uncle Geoff to tow in a small boat, which had developed engine trouble.

Little Tracey Macaviddie has had her Uncle, Aunt and cousin, Ann, staying with them for a while.

Mrs. Lloyd Baines has been up at Namer with her husband, Lloyd, on the "Searcher" for two weeks.

Mrs. Cis Karr, of Montrose, B.C., her son-in-law, Peter O'Brien, son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kim Karr and family of Duncan, have been staying at Salishan this week.

Mrs. Francis Brown, of Victoria, came out for the Fiesta.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Coward and family, from Winnipeg, Manitoba, have been spending summer holidays with parents, Woody and Ellen Coward.

THEY MEASURED UP

Lawrence "Bud" Baines, of South Galiano had "quite a catch" Saturday night while heading home to Whalers Bay.

His trolling lines became entangled in something unseen. He finally got his lines mostly cleared and started to pull fathoms of small rope, when it became too heavy to pull anymore, he called the government hovercraft, who was not too far away standing by for a plane that had run low on fuel.

The hovercraft stood by while Bud pulled up two cement blocks which held some kind of devices for measuring tides. The buoy attached to the lines had been dragged under water and was not visible. The tidal devices had been lost for some time. It was rather trying day for Bud as he didn't arrive in the Bay until way after dark, around 11 pm still with his fish to dress and ice.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kolosoff have returned home after spending most of the summer fishing up around Campbell River in his "Libra."

We are sorry for the trists but the rain is certainly a welcome sight on our tinder-dry island. The fire wardens are starting to breathe easier now.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Bamford, of Sidney, were also around for the Fiesta. We were also happy to see George and Janet Georgeson, both looking well and happy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Webster were over for our Senior Citizens Harvest Festival and Flower show, which seemed to be quite successful. There was a beautiful showing of flowers and vegetables in spite of the long dry summer. The Galiano people deserve a great deal of credit, and our president Mrs. I.A. Murphy, was on hand to greet everyone, although she had just come through a long illness.

Gourmet

I like French fries in porridge,
I love ice cream on ham,
And I wish I had the courage,
To eat live snails with jam.

Doug Logan tops the lists at Mayne Fair on Saturday to win three cups

By ELSIE BROWN

Top exhibitor in the show was Doug Logan, who took the top three trophies: the Bank of Montreal cup, most points for produce; the B.C. Telephone trophy, most points in the Fair; and the Foster Cup, most points by a Mayne Island resident.

Other trophies were awarded as follows: Memorial Cup, floral trophy, Marjorie Haggart; Matthews Trophy, baking and canning, Millie Paton; Williams Trophy, sewing and knitting, Marie McWilliams; McGill Trophy, best bread in the fair, Nancy Rainsford.

Trophy for Silver Maynes Gardeners went to Ben Iwasaki and in other classes as follows: craft, Millie Paton; wine arts, Bill Smith; fine arts, Randall Trophy, Marjorie Haggart; Photolec Trophy, photography, Edith Griffiths.

Dodds Cup, for the most points, children's section: Winnie Hayhurst Cup for sewing, Joyce Mitchell Cup, art class, were all awarded to Lisa Bellamy.

Draw prize winners were, 1, hamper of groceries, Bev Burden; 2, ham, Julie Hall; 3, footstool, Denis Towgood.

Door prize winners were: 1, Julie Hall, painting donated by Joyce Mitchell, and, 2, David Laidlaw, fruit hamper, donated by Miners Bay Trading Post.

Winner of the Silver Maynes draw, Lapidary table, was Maxine McClure.

Other trophy winners: Ron Pither and Artie Wickheim were in charge: Shakes Trophy, Chris Mummery; men's handsaw, Dick Wagner; shake-splitting, Ken Hardy; Rolling Pin Throwing Contest: Nancy Rainsford and Jennie Botterill. John Dought was in charge of operations.

Manning various booths were: tea and refreshments: Silver Maynes members; convener, Margaret Twamley, assisted by Nancy Sutton, Mable Johnston, Marlen Fousek and others.

Hot dog stand, soft drinks: Vic Griffiths, assisted by Frank and Verlie Cooter and George Sutton.

Ex-Airforce: Stu Sinclair, Jack Evans, Herb Wilson, Jack Bellamy, John Mundie, Foye Miles; wives assisted.

Raffle tickets, sponsored by Agricultural Society: Sally Burden, Effie Piggot and Margaret Bennett.

Raffle tickets, lapidary table, auspices Silver Maynes: Blanche Anderson and Mildred Paton.

Museum: Ann Chatwin and Amy Lambert.

Popcorn stand: Don Grant and Wendy Van Dort.

At the door: Albert Wardle and Jesse Brown.

A vote of thanks to the judges who had to catch the early ferry from Salt Spring Island Saturday morning. They were Jack and Dorothy James, produce and flowers; Mrs. Jean Shopland, domestic science; Maria Tippett, fine arts and photography; Charlie Purdon, crafts; Hugh Campkin, honey and wine; Sue Wagner, children's section.

The Agricultural Society would like to express thanks to the merchants, business enterprises and individuals for their generous support of the Fair.

Also the various organizations for their help in the booths. The tea provided by Silver Maynes and the games by Ex-Airforce.

Members of the Lions who helped set things up and assisted generally.

Golf Club

In the draw for the decorative figurines of the finest of Canadian Rye, the winners were Ruth Kreissl on Saturday, and Rudy Motter, of Surrey, on Sunday.

One hundred and forty people sat down to eat on Saturday evening, and Jan and her staff are to be congratulated for the really sumptuous and satisfying meal they produced under less than ideal conditions. If there is anyone we have forgotten to thank, and we are sure there must be, we apologise.

Men are reminded that qualifying round for the Crofton Cup which is synblimatic of the club championship takes place on Saturday, Aug. 26. If you haven't got your name on the sheet already, now is the hour.

DON'T CRACK THAT EGG!

Good Egg!

Cracked eggs don't score with the judges.

Eggs shown in a fair should be intact and good looking in an eggy way. Eleven of a dozen are viewed from the outside. One will be broken open and the judge assesses it from the inside of the shell.

The position of the yolk, the condition of the white and the air sac will be checked.

A good egg stands up when it is broken. The yolk is high and curved and stands in the middle of a thick white, with a thinner white around the edges.

If there is little thick white and the yolk lies exhausted in the watery white, the egg is not new. Pullets' eggs weigh 18 to 21 ounce per dozen. Large eggs run over 24 ounces a dozen.

A well-dressed fowl wears a paper hat. That's a new York dressed fowl. Bloodless and unfeathered, the exhibit needs viscera and feet. Eviscerated they are ready for cooking.

Broilers or fryers are young birds, male or female, about 10 to 16 weeks old. The skin is smooth and soft. Dressed weight is 1½ to 4 pounds.

Roasting chicken can be either sex, four to seven pounds, larger than a broiler, with the same appearance and soft meat but the breastbone is less flexible.

Boiling fowl is over 10 months old, mature, less tender, firm flesh. From 2½ to 6 pounds, they still have a layer of fat under the skin to look well-rounded and the breastbone is not flexible.

At Salt Spring Island Fall Fair there will be refrigerated storage for the entries.
