SPORTS

Anyone for tennis?

BY JOAN TIERNAN

The "spirit of tennis" was rekindled last Saturday by the Salt Spring Tennis Association spring open tennis scramble at Portlock Park.

Many old-timers dusted off their racquets and arrived eager to greet the new season. Thirty-seven players joined the battle for the "Hidden Score".

The public is cordially invited to participate in all tennis tournaments and indeed several new faces were evident this day adding to the enjoyment of all participants. Five players managed to win all their sets and were awarded gift certificates from the Sunshine Shop. Fourteen players managed to achieve the "Hidden Score" and received cans of tennis balls. Many thanks to Larry Colero of the Sunshine Shop for his assistance with the prizes.

A general meeting was held in the evening at Cedar Beach Resort, followed by a potluck dinner and dance. Aside from good tennis players, it was discovered that there were some excellent gourmets and cooks who donated some outstanding dishes which were most enjoyable.

It is hoped that we can arrange to have similar events take place throughout the coming tennis season. It was great to see the junior members attending both the scramble and dinner. They certainly show a growing enthusiasm for the game and some high-calibre playing was in evidence.

The most exciting news, by far, was contained in a letter from the chairman of the Recreation Commission indicating that the commission would probably proceed with the addition of a third tennis court at Portlock Park in the near future.

Full program for club in April

Salt Spring Island Trail and Nature Club is planning a full program for April.

April 3 there will be a walk and hike on Bryant's Hill, leader Val Keys. Meet at Centennial Park 10 am; Drummond Park 10.15 am.

On April 10 Anne Marie Dahlke is leading a nature walk in Ruckle Park to study mosses and lichens. Members are advised to take a magnifying glass if possible. Meeting places: Centennial Park 10 am; Drummond Park 10.15 am.

Don Kertland is leading a circular hike round Mount Maxwell; meeting place, Centennial Park, 10 am.

On April 17 Jack Webb will lead a walk in Arnell Park, and Gerry Holland is leading a Hikers' Choice hike. Meeting places for both, Centennial Park, 10 am.

On April 24 Marion Foote is leading a combined walk and hike to Woodley Ridge to enjoy the spring flowers. Meeting place, Vesuvius Bay for the 9 am ferry.

New team at islands school

A relatively new team at Gulf Islands Secondary School is the G.I. Islanders rugby team. The boys have played two games so far. They lost both games, but hopes for improvement are high.

Terry Jenkins 882; Julien Valcourt 762; Mike Kelly 795-743; Frank Keoppel 711; Pat Byron 810; Lois Codd 741; Julie Collins 827; Cy Beech 728; Lily Noble 701; and Deanna Marleau 774.

The bowlers of the week were for the ladies, Julie Collins, and for the men, Terry Jenkins.

As the season winds down I would like to wish everyone the best of luck in their respective roll-offs.

DOWN THE GUTTER

...with Ken Collins

It's always nice to see some of the lower bowlers coming up with some good scores. This was the case the other day when Walter Bugden, who is 83 years young, came up with his first ever 600 series. He bowled games of 206-176-226. This is quite an achievement when his average is 148. Well done, Walter.

The 300 games came from Ken

Collins 304; Rick Paton 309; Carol Kaye 337; Terry Jenkins 300-317; Julien Valcourt 327; Mike Kelly 378; Pat Byron 310; Julie Collins 314; Cy Beech 302; Gordon Hitchcock 308; and Nellie Herbert 320.

We had some really good scores last week and they are as follows: Leo Toutant 703-719; Ken Collins 814-735; Jim Glenn 713; Carol Kaye 825; John Buitenwerf 721;

Local basketball teams

Friday with Victoria's Central Junior High School team. The local team lost the game, 32-28.

Here's some of the action that took place in the Gulf Islands Secondary School gym Friday evening when the school's Junior Boys Basketball team played a team from Central Junior High of Victoria. Central won the game 61-55.

Carnival at Pender is huge success

BY GELI JOHNSON

The third annual Pender School Carnival has once again proved the huge success of community efforts on the Penders. The carnival, which took place Thursday at North Pender School/community centre, attracted 200 Penderites including children, parents and many well-wishers who otherwise have no connection with the school.

Sponsored by the Parent Teacher Club and co-ordinated by Anne Orlaw, the carnival was made possible by the generous donation of time, effort and material necessities from parents, children, teachers and island businesses.

Fun and bargains were featured with bingo, a cakewalk and numerous games of skill, a spine-chilling Spook House, book table, white elephant stall and the ever-popular bake sale which showed ample evidence of the recent bread baking class.

Winners of the door prizes were: Sheila Bergenham, electric knife; Phil Ireland, grocery hamper; and the Bellamars, whose unique prize from B.C. Tel was a six-minute long-distance telephone call to anywhere in the world.

The final reckoning is not yet in, but it is estimated that the total raised is nearly $400, which will go towards equipment, games, film rental and field trips.

No decision on vending machine

The matter of a vending machine for Gulf Islands Secondary School came up again at Thursday's meeting of Gulf Islands School Board, but trustees have yet to decide on the issue.

Fulford Vending has asked for permission to install such a machine in the school but trustees signified two weeks ago that they wanted to know what kind of drinks would be sold.

The company responded last week by offering to provide samples of the drinks for the board's inspection. Ivan Mouat observed that he was concerned about the sugar content of the drinks.

However, the board will check with the school first because trustees were informed Thursday that the school had said no to the proposal.

Conservative candidate at Ganges

The only chance to get out of the two-way fight in British Columbia is to vote Conservative, asserts John Green, Progressive Conservative candidate for Saanich and the Islands in the next provincial election.

Green was visiting Salt Spring Island on Monday, accompanied by Ray Harrington, his agent.

When the party recently undertook a poll of British Columbian voters they found that of all party leaders, the Tory, Vic Stephens had the greatest public confidence.

Pollsters even suggested that with their leaders at so low an ebb, neither the Social Credit nor NDP could hope to win the next election, said the candidate-elect.

Thoughts on the election

(From Page Five)

What's that got to do with jobs? Or with money? Or with politics? LIBERAL PLOY?

Unity is identified with the Liberals, according to at least one prominent Tory. Can the others afford to leave it that way?

It's a red herring, urge the cynics, "Vote and be damned!"

And we might. We might be damned. Although few of us know. Will Quebec...? And there is a pause.

Sooner or later all of Canada must reach a decision, not just on the relationship between Ottawa and Quebec, but on the relationship between British Columbia and every other part of Canada.

If Quebec did and Canada broke up into the Balkan States of America, would every Canadian be better off?

Or worse off?

And British Columbia, as an entity or as part of a west coast sovereignty or a nation from Lakes to Sea, would undergo great changes. To our benefit?

On these first two considerations, top 10 in Canadian town tonight, the next election could pivot.

BRAINS ON TOAST

We must all trust that prejudice, unthinking, instinctive dislike for oddballs and a profound conviction that brains only come out well on toast will save the day.

Then almost anything can happen and in Canadian elections it usually does.

No Canadian, even steeped in beer and armed with the latest latrinograms, can honestly aver that Mr. Broadbent is going to form the next government.

We all know that it will be more of the same medicine or a change to a new prescription.

The same old medicine brings us a revamped approach to handling the failing economy; a determined effort to hold Canada in one piece, coupled with a conviction that the national integrity is, indeed, threatened.

It brings us Trudeau, a leader with a difference; the same old difference: a leadership for flairs and a flair for leadership. It brings us a shrewd fox of a leader who speaks with the same accents as the Quebec leader, though entertaining very different views.

HE'S GOT LOTS!

If the Chinese are right and the greatness of a man is measurable by the extent of his calumniators, then Trudeau has some claim to greatness. He's lots of them!

Or Joe?

Better the devil you know? Or the devil you don't know? It's up to the voters to decide.

Joe Clark is a newcomer to politics who is learning the ropes, but fast. But is fast fast enough? Good enough, preached the air force, is not good enough! But fast?

Shrewd, gaining stature on his feet, albeit slowly, Joe Clark is the Tory choice. Pleasant, earnest, hardworking: he's all of those. But the next prime minister?

Out of high school into college. Out of college into the prime minister's chair? It may work out that way. And it may not. Only the voter knows and on a Friday evening (as this is being written) many a voter is steeped in fumes and knows all the answers. Come voting day and the liquor outlets will be closed and the political pundits just won't be available for advice at the 11th hour on the 19th hole.

The voter will be the final judge. He may make the right decision. We won't ever know whether he did!

In better than 100 years Canada has never needed the support and guidance of the voters more than today. Conversely, the Canadian voter has never enjoyed so wide a range of entertainments so far removed from the vital facts of Canadianism.

On the face of it and despite his controversial administration, Pierre Elliott Trudeau is possibly the only national leader qualified to take the nation through its present growing pains.

Three farmers receive life memberships

Three Salt Spring Island farmers are life members of Salt Spring Island Farmers' Institute, following Saturday night's old-timers' banquet in Fulford Hall.

Jack and Dorothy James were presented with the award. They were followed by Willie Shaw and Lloyd and Celia Reynolds.

Annual banquet was entertained by Alex McCauley and Liduin Currell before the presentations were made.

McCauley recited Albert and the Lion and the Bricklayer. Liduin Currell sang the part of Mary Magdalene from Jesus Christ Sup- erstar, to be presented in Ganges next month. She was accompanied by pianist, Mae George.

Introducing Jack James, Dave Phillips illustrated the manner in which he learned to safeguard his fruit trees. Using a shrub and pruning shears he showed how he would cut out all extraneous growth until a solitary, naked stem remained. After spraying, it was brilliantly identifiable.

BLEW IT UP

He then applied fertilizer around the roots in liberal proportions. The situation was explosive when the deer came to sample his pruned stick, so he used his plunger and blew up shrub and deer.

Shrub was introduced as a fruit tree.

Receiving his life membership, James pleaded that his advice had been exaggerated in the skit.

George Heinekey introduced Willie Shaw, looking back on island farming decades ago. He remembered the time when he shared equipment with Shaw and Ted Gear. Shaw delivered milk in the south island and Heinekey delivered in the north. The only time they could meet and discuss their equipment was when they were on their routes, he suggested.

Lloyd Reynolds was introduced by the master of ceremonies, Mike Byron. He recalled the occasion when Lloyd showed up late on the job. It proved that he had run out of snooze and had waited for the store to open. On a previous occasion he had waited for Mike Byron to deliver and he had waited a long, long time.

Each recipient was presented with a certificate by institute president Al Gear. Supper was potluck and the evening's program was prepared by Tom Gossett.

Galiano Island

BY MARY ELLEN HARDING

BY MARY ELLEN HARDING
Don't forget to come to the annual general meeting of the Galiano Chamber of Commerce on Saturday at 7 pm.

On the afternoon of the 31st, several National Film Board films will be shown. An Islands Trust public hearing will be held in the community hall on April 3 at 1.30 pm.

On April 14 the Galiano Ladies Service Club will hold its annual rummage sale, from 1 to 3 pm and on April 21 the L.A. to the Galiano Volunteer Firemen will hold a Book and Bake sale.

With all the annual meetings held during the past two months, we missed the annual meeting of Galiano Club. The following were elected for the coming year: president, Tom Hennessey; vice-president, Marie Hardy; treasurer, Huguette Bengier; secretary, Judi Pattison; directors, Enid Gaylor, Roy Harding, Jean Wilson, Joan Patterson, May Ferguson, Gordon Georgeson, Stephen Pattison, Frank Greenhalgh.

We note with Scottish pride that a Georgeson is again on the board of directors. We have had several ladies of the Georgeson family, but this is the first time for many years that a gentleman of the clan is on the board. Congratulations, Gordon.

I would like to sincerely thank Mr. Critchley for taking my news over on Monday mornings, he goes over frequently to see his wife who is ill in Lady Minto Hospital.

On Saturday night at the Galiano Rod and Gun Club, the Galiano Lions Club entertained the District Governor, Ron Webber of Courtenay, Zone Chairman Ron Drayton of Saanich, and two guests from the Comox Valley Lions, Frank Kato and first vice-president Marvin Lee.

The meal was catered by Mr. and Mrs. Hank Knudson, with helpers George and Rosemary Georgeson. More than 30 Lions, their ladies and guests attended.

Grace was said by vice-president Tom Carolan, and guests introduced by president Roy Harding.

Toast to the ladies was given by Bob Knowles and replied to by Lionettes president Mary Knudson.

Following the delicious meal, Zone Chairman Ron Drayton introduced the District Governor, saying that he has visited 51 out of the 53 clubs in his district.

District Governor Ron Webber, in his speech, told of the many aspects of Lionism, and of the ones that they especially like.

He told of the used glasses gathered for C.N.I.B., Youth Exchange, and a new Hearing Conservation program, with film just begun.

The evening was a great success with everyone thoroughly enjoying themselves.

AT GALIANO

Meeting hears talk on regional library

Contributed
BY SHAY FOSTER

An interesting meeting was held at the Galiano School Tuesday night, March 20.

First part of the program was a talk and discussion by Fred White, director of the Vancouver Island Regional Library. Mr. White introduced this library and its services, showed the areas it serves and fielded many questions from the audience.

He gave quite a comprehensive picture of what services would be provided if the Gulf Islands request through the school board to join the Regional Library. A bookmobile probably would not be available to the Outer Islands due to travel time. (There are only three bookmobiles to serve all of Vancouver Island.)

A book deposit of approximately 4,000 volumes would be available to each island which could find a central location to house the books as well as a volunteer librarian to oversee them. Many people were pleased to learn that this library does provide a free book ordering and mailing service comparable to the excellent Open Shelf Library service which many islanders use regularly.

COVERED PLAY AREA

During the second part of the meeting the teachers and parents of school children were given a report on the progress of the school covered play area by Sandy Riley and principal Ken Maneker.

Informative talk given to Garden Club

Salt Spring Island Garden Notes By Optimist

The recent well-attended meeting of the Garden Club was treated to a most informative talk by H.J. Barker and J.C. Shank on gladiolus and dahlia culture. A series of slides was shown to illustrate their beauty in the garden and home.

A workshop on dahlias will be held April 2 at 10am in the United Church Hall under the leadership of Mr. Shank.

A report by Mrs. Elsie Macdonald, who, with president Charles Orchard, represented the garden club at the B.C. Council of Garden Clubs convention held in Delta, was also given during the meeting. Our next regular meeting will feature chrysanthemum culture.

Make a note: on the afternoon of April 19 a plant sale and spring flower show will be held in the church hall.

SALT SPRING OPTICAL

After visiting the Galiano school, the school district architect drew up an unusual design for the covered area. It would be a simple A-frame structure, covered on one side by painted metal or possibly island split and donated cedar shakes and on the other side by translucent plastic. The ground area covered would be 30 feet by 50 feet. The school board has given the green light to the project and at the present time the plans are in Victoria awaiting the approval of the Ministry of Education. Galiano parents are hopeful that approval will come soon so that construction can begin and the covered area completed in time for next winter's rainy season.

The second Galiano School spring fair will be held on Saturday, May 19. Everyone at the meeting was enthusiastic about working hard to make the fair a great success so that a generous contribution can be given to boost the covered play area project. All of the popular booths from last year will be held again such as palm reading by Gillian Allen, children's art table, plants, cake walk, baked goods, white elephants, horse rides, a raffle, games of chance as well as plenty of good food and games for children and adults. Babysitting will be provided.

An auction by Jim Ripley will be one of the main features. The school hopes that anyone doing spring cleaning will donate useful items to the auction.

"Call the school and items will be picked up and stored, starting immediately," says Mr. Ripley.

Advertising in local papers

Advertising of proposed land and water usage tied in with leases was under fire at Wednesday's meeting of the Islands Trust on Salt Spring Island.

In question was the application of Otter Bay Logging for a log storage lease in Fulford Harbour. It appeared that the information available to the meeting was derived from notices at the site.

"Does the applicant legally have to advertise in the local paper?" asked Bud Kreissl.

"Not to my knowledge," replied staff planner Chris Foord.

Committee suggested that the whole picture of advertising such applications should be investigated.

Ken Arnott recalled the flop when the Eckhart commission failed to advertise its islands visit in Driftwood and very few persons attended.

Ganges youth charged with public mischief

Dal Seymour, 18, has been charged with public mischief by Ganges RCMP.

Seymour was charged after police were told that 19 highway signs in the North End Road-Malaview Drive area were run down by a four-wheel drive vehicle on the weekend. Total estimated value of the signs is $268.07.

Power boat restriction of 10 hp mooted for lake

Power boats on St. Mary Lake are to be restricted to 10 hp if the recommendation of the Salt Spring Island Trust Committee is accepted.

Of the various alternatives available to exert a control on the use of the lake, it was decided that the horsepower restriction was the fairest.

North Salt Spring water trustee, Bud Kreissl, described it as a fair compromise and a fair start on a conservation program.

The aim of the restriction is to control the spread of milfoil weed. Boats brought to the island from infected lakes could bring it here, commented Mike Larmour, of the water board.

Ottawa has authority over the use of the lake, commented Highland Water District president, Bevis Walters. Ottawa is in favour of controls, he noted.

"But what is the definition of small lake?"

THEY DO NO HARM

He added that rowboats do no harm to the lake.

Kreissl expressed gratification that another water district was concerned with the quality of lake water.

The next meeting of the committee, in April, will hear recommendations from the sub-committee on restrictions to be imposed.

Movement of surface water is no indication of the direction of flow, noted the water district secretary, Mike Larmour. The movement on the surface is influenced by winds and could indicate a movement opposite to the flow.

Trust to take action as Beddis Water District proposes advisory agency for water boards on Salt Spring

Beddis Water District has very tight restrictions on development in the watershed area at Cusheon Lake, Islands Trust was told last week.

The district wants help in controlling development.

Speaking to the Salt Spring Island Trust Committee, Doug Maclachlan, president of the water board, told the committee that construction is a problem on both Cusheon and Blackburn Lakes. Blackburn Lake feeds Cusheon Lake.

"We are concerned with the amount of building around Cusheon Lake," he explained.

All construction in the area must gain approval of the water district, according to its own bylaws, he noted. If a development requires an augmented water service, the entire cost of installing heavier pipes or other changes must be paid for wholly by the developer, said Maclachlan. Development fees are also levied by the water district on all projects.

"Building around the lake could be detrimental to the water system if not properly controlled," he warned.

ADVISORY GROUPS

Maclachlan did not come empty-handed. His recommendations were headed by the proposal that the Trust form water advisory groups for all water districts. Such groups might put down basic controls, he told the committee.

The proposal was in keeping with trustee Bud Kreissl's concerns. It might be an on-going thing, he agreed.

Trustee for the North Salt Spring Waterworks District, Kreissl looked back on the history of protecting water resources on the island.

It is three years since the island first looked to the protection of its lakes, he recalled.

"The general public had been very lax," he recalled, "in the last two years, at least, people have become more aware."

OVERPUMPING

Water districts have gone dry from overpumping, he warned his colleagues.

"The advisory body would help us when applications are made." Kreissl was not alone.

"We are all very concerned," he was assured by Ray Simard, from the floor.

"I don't know whether we can correct all the past mistakes," ruminated Bud Kreissl, "but we can try."

Islands water districts are to be invited to consider taking part in the formation of the proposed advisory bodies and a joint water committee.

Trust is not able to use Legion Hall

Islands Trust was locked out on Wednesday afternoon last week.

Meeting had been called by the Salt Spring Island Trust Committee for 1 pm in the Legion Hall at Ganges. The hall was locked up and nobody could ascertain where the key was.

Trustees and visitors moved to the basement hall of Our Lady of Grace church.

Board approves one of biggest field trips ever

What could be one of the biggest field trips ever contemplated in Gulf Islands School District was approved in principle by the school board Thursday.

Supervisor of instruction Larry

Holbrook told the board he wanted to get as many elementary school students as possible to participate in a trip to Victoria to see the Greatest Little Travelling Super-show.

Holbrook said he would like to see all 650 students go on the trip but didn't think it would be possible because of transportation difficulties. Trustees thought that even 300 students would present problems because the two ferries from Fulford wouldn't be able to carry that many passengers.

The show will be set up in a circus tent and will also feature sideshows and workshops. It will run from May 1 to 4.

In other field trip news, several phone calls were received by the school district following a field trip by local students to Vernon.

Secretary-treasurer Wilf Peck said a number of people in Vernon who had billeted local students had called to say how well they had behaved. The school in Vernon had also called to say that islands students were welcome to return any time, Peck said.

Fernwood

(From Page One)

Further tests were carried out but this time the CRD wouldn't accept the results: they had to be in writing and had to include the signature of the contractor who made the tests. That signature was then obtained, said Peck, by "special courier".

No payment has been made by the school district to the contractor since December, the meeting learned. There remains a total of $117,000 yet to be paid.

If the district ends up finishing the job, Peck said after the meeting, the costs of completion would come out of that sum. The contractor would get whatever was left after the job was finished.
