Christmas Carol Services

BY MARY WILLIAMSON

The Community Carol Services are always a big pre-Christmas draw. This year, because of conflicting commitments of choir members, Cinderella and the Parish Hall, the two services will be held on different days.

The afternoon service will take place on Sunday, December 16 at 4.30 pm, and the evening service will be held the following day at 7 pm.

The location will be St. George's Anglican Church, Ganges, and it would be wise to get there early if you want to be sure of a seat!

Joy Johnsen will once again direct the Community Choir, and nobody who attended the service last year, when it was held in the Roman Catholic church, will forget the way she galvanized both choir and congregation into the kind of singing they never believed possible!

The choir is still working hard to perfect its considerable contribution to the service (12 musical items are being practised) in addition to learning the harmonies to the nine ever-popular Christmas and Advent hymns.

So mark one of these dates on your calendar, and take time off from your other pre-Christmas duties. The pause that refreshes is sometimes musical, and it's also good to hear the readings which put the familiar tidings of Christmas into their context of prophecy and history.

Pacific Wind Quintet feels warm response from audience

BY BRIAN SOBER

Running as smoothly as a well-tuned machine, the expert parts of the Pacific Wind Quintet sounded out in unison and counterpoint that was a privilege for the audience to hear at last Sunday's concert in St. George's Church.

The five members of the quintet are all teachers at the music faculty of the University of Victoria and have been playing together since 1973. They give few public concerts and only go on tour once or twice each year.

The tours are all in the Lower Mainland and particularly the Vancouver Island area.

Besides touring they play regularly at the Shawnigan Lake Summer School of the Arts each year. TWICE A WEEK

Flute player and founder of the quintet, Lanny Pollet, said they meet twice each week for a two-hour practice and three times a week before they go on tour.

Last Sunday's concert was not part of a tour, although the quintet played as well as they could ever have done.

After the concert the clarinet player, Thomas Dowling, was heard to remark in very excited tones what a remarkable experience it had been playing that afternoon.

Pollet said he felt a very warm response from the audience, although the church was just slightly more than half full.

The audience, in their turn, felt an equal degree of warmth from the musicians who were given three curtain calls.

QUITE SHORT

The sets before and after the intermission were 35 and 30 minutes in duration, which is quite short compared to other concerts.

When asked why they didn't play longer, Pollet said that playing any of the wind instruments places a great physical demand on the player.

He said in an orchestra each member of the wind section can rest while another section plays.

In a quintet of wind instruments, the musicians are playing constantly and cannot stop to rest. This could be seen every time William Benjamin put his oboe down for cleaning.

The little time he had in which to clean it and the regular need for a sound wiping out did not seem to disconcert him, however.

Pollet remarked that the church was a little on the cold side and a player's warm breath condenses quickly in instruments such as the oboe with its narrow mouth piece.

The instruments used by the Pacific Wind Quintet include the flute, clarinet, oboe, bassoon and horn.

The first piece they played on the program was a Passacaille by H. Barthe, which was approximately five minutes in duration.

WRITTEN FOR QUINTET

The second selection was written for quintet by Anton Reicha. Reicha was a contemporary of Beethoven's, and apparently they learned together from Mozart and Handel.

The Quintet in F, Op. 88, No. 6 in four movements by Reicha is a full-blown classical piece expressing the esoteric classical period founded by Mozart.

At times the movements seemed to suddenly take on the expressive nature apparent in Beethoven's Pastoral Symphony, only to lapse again into the majesty of the classical form.

The last two selections of the afternoon were a quartet (without the horn) in C major by Arthur Berger, and a quintet from the contemporary period by Paul Taffanel.

Although both selections are from a period where composers reflected their discontent with tradition through the use of dissonant sounds, the Pacific Wind Quintet chose music from the era that contained little dissonance and instead, much beauty.

Cinderella to be produced in traditional pantomime style by Salt Spring Players

BY GWEN HIND-SMITH

Once upon a time there was a beautiful young girl who lived in a wicked step-Mama and the ugly sisters (and the fact that she has a small and delicate foot which fits

Director David Fitchew helps Cinderella's two ugly sisters to get dressed for the ball. The sisters are large and draughty castle with her elderly papa, her wicked step-mother and her two ugly step-sisters.

She was called Cinderella because she was made to spend most of her time in clouds of dust sweeping up the large and draughty castle and keeping warm by crouching by the fire amongst the ashes.

In spite of the fact that she was usually, no doubt, rather dusty and a bit bedraggled, her beauty shone on all who beheld her, and thus inspired the envy and jealousy of her step-Mama and the two ungainly and lumpish, ugly step-sisters.

We all know the rest of the story. Her fairy godmother appears and transforms Cinderella into a dazzling princess. She meets her Prince Charming at the Royal Ball and much to the rage and chagrin of the glass slipper) she captures the heart of the prince and lives happily ever after.

In time-honoured tradition, the Salt Spring Players are presenting this well-loved fairy tale as a pantomime. The pantomime is a tradition in Britain and is an established entertainment over the Christmas season there. Pantomime is generally based on a fairy tale being liberally laced with music, songs, chorus, dancing and lavishly costumed.

LARGE CAST

Under the able and enthusiastic direction of David Fitchew, whose credits include the direction of Jesus Christ Superstar, a very large cast has been assembled, all sharing David's energy and enthusiasm.

Liane Oben is an appealing and charming Cinderella. As is customary, the part of Prince Charming is played by a girl, in this case, lovely Liduin Currell, who will be remembered for her role as the sculptress, Henrietta, in The Hollow and also as Mary Magdalene in Jesus Christ Superstar.

In this production, again carrying on the tradition of English pantomime, the two ugly sisters are played by males. Trevor Tamboline and Robert Holmes, both students at Gulf Islands Secondary School, are quite hilarious.

The Demon King is played by Greg Nord-Leth, also of Gulf Islands Secondary School. The fairy godmother is played by Jo-Anne Logan. Maggie Warbey is the wicked stepmother and the dowager queen is played by Dorothy Cummings. Dawn Luker is a pert and saucy Buttons.

AGED SEVEN AND UP

A cast of about 20 supporting actors sing, dance and add to the fun and spectacle. The ages of this group run from seven and up.

Bryan Smith provides the music, dance routines are by Susan Bowler and choreography is by Alice Friedman. The set is designed by David Fitchew, assisted by Alfred and Gladys Perrin and Hugh Cummings. Wardrobe is by Maggie Warbey.

The total company is throwing itself heart and soul into this production, with many hours being spent on rehearsals, creation of the set and characterization. Cinderella is building up to be a real block-buster and it will be enjoyed by young and old alike.

The show will be performed at Mahon Hall on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, December 14, 15 and 16 at 7.30 pm. There will be two performances on Saturday: a matinee at 2 pm. and an evening performance at 7.30 pm. Tickets may be obtained at Et Cetera for $2. Book early and avoid disappointment.

Local band produces second album

The "faithful" have not waited in vain Driftwood learned this week. The second record by the Loyal Central Salt Spring Temperance Dixieland Jazz Ensemble should be available in local stores on Thursday, December 6.

The group consists of David Stacey, cornet; Tony Knight, trombone; Bill Smith, drums; Ray Hill, gutbucket; Virginia Newman, piano; Ray Newman, clarinet and sax; and Amy Newman, vocals.

Since organization in the spring of 1976, they have made their first record and have played for numerous functions on the Gulf Islands.

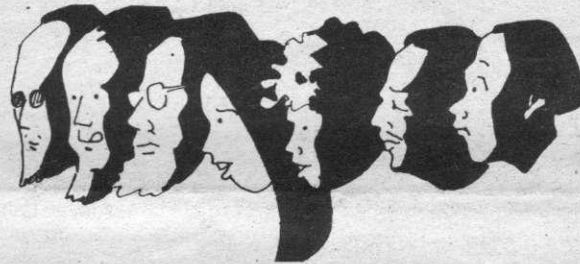

Clyde Gilmour elected to play selections from the first record on his CBC radio program, Gilmour's Albums, early this past summer, sparking the group to record again.

Annie's Music Box, D & D News, Et Cetera and Western Drug Mart will handle sales of the records.

Any person who qualifies as an objector under section 13 of the Pollution Control Act may, within 30 days of the date of application, or within 30 days of the date of publication in The British Columbia Gazette or in a newspaper, or where service is required, within 30 days of serving a copy of the application file with the Director at the above address an objection in writing to the granting of a permit, stating the manner in which he is affected.

Preamble - The purpose of this application is to apply for a permit to discharge fish processing effluent and septic tank effluent to the ground.

1. We, Gulf Island Septic Ltd., of Box 17, Ganges, B.C. VOS 1E0, hereby apply to the Director for permit to discharge effluent from Fish processing and domestic septic tank sludge located at Rainbow Road, Salt Spring Island in the ground.

2. The land upon which the works are located is Lot 1, Sec. 8, Plan 2908, Range 2 East, North Salt Spring Island.

3. The discharge shall be located at Near Central Road and North End Road (Cunningham Farm).

4. The quantity of effluent to be discharged is as follows: Average daily discharge (based on operating period) 1000 gals. Maximum daily discharge, 1000 gals. The operating period during which the effluent will be discharged is continuous (and seasonal fish waste).

5. The characteristics of the effluent discharged shall be equivalent to or better than typical septic tank waste and fish processing waste.

6. The type of treatment to be applied to the effluent before discharge is as follows: Lagoon storage.

This application, dated on November 5, 1979 was posted on the ground in accordance with the Pollution Control Regulations. Gulf Island Septic Ltd., E. Marcotte.

In support of the application the following information is submitted: (a) The characteristics of the effluent before and after treatment are as follows: Total suspended solids (mg./l.) Typical Septic tank; total solids (mg./l.) Waste and fish; Biochemical oxygen demand (mg./l.) Processing waste. 49-1

Pot-luck dinner party

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Pender Island Legion Branch held a pot-luck dinner party attended by about 60 invited guests on Sunday.

Mrs. Libby Leicht, president, welcomed the guest and during the evening thanked the members for their support during the past year.

Off-island guests attending were Mrs. Audrey Jackson and Mrs. Letty Hamilton, both from Victoria.

Market Place at Pender

The Pender Island Hall Association sponsored a Market Place in the School Community Centre on Saturday, at which various island organizations and individuals purchased table space for $2.

Hot apple cider was sold by the girls from the Pony Club and the Choral Society sang Christmas carols. Mrs. Vi Smith was in charge of the event for the Hall Association.

In the evening the association sponsored a giant bingo game which was attended by about 125 people.

Preparations for the Christmas season are being made by the many organizations on the island and a few dates to remember are among the following:

Sunday, December 9: Christmas Carol Service at St. Mary Magdalene Church at 11.30 am; Rev. John Dyer is in charge of the service. Singing will be led by the choir with Nancy Sutton at the organ. The new organ, a gift from the late Dr. Coolie Verner, was dedicated Sunday, November 11.

Saturday, December 8: Annual Lions Christmas Bingo at the Agricultural Hall, 8.00 pm. Among the prizes will be turkeys, hams, dinners, gift certificates and hampers. For further information, contact Harry Lane.

Christmas Ship will make its annual visit Sunday, December 16 and will arrive complete with Santa and his merry men with their bags of goodies for the children. Bellingham Jaycees are responsible for this annual event and are warmly received by islanders. Fred and Margaret Bennett are in charge of arrangements, assisted by the Lions. The time is usually about 10 am.

The annual school Christmas Concert will be held at the school Activity Centre, Thursday, December 20 at 7 pm. All students will be participating in the program arranged by their teachers. Santa will arrive later in the evening.

At the annual meeting of the Mayne School Association the following officers were elected: president, Ted Burden; secretary, Carolyn Aldenburg; treasurer, Renate Waterlow. Tickets on the raffle are available from both stores and any of the students. The draw will be made the night of the concert.

Annual Christmas Dance sponsored by Mayne Volunteer Firemen is on Saturday, December 15 at the school Activity Centre at 9 pm. Admission is $15 per couple. For further information, contact Paddy Lambert.

Spending the weekend at their island home were David and Judy Wolfe, with Stephen and Elizabeth, of Coquitlam.

The Supper Dance sponsored by Mayne Island Paint and Sketch

Club on Saturday, November 24 was very successful. The evening began with a buffet supper accompanied by a candlelight and wine atmosphere. The hall was festive with coloured lanterns and posters of 19th century artists decorating the walls.

Salt Spring Island "Country Estate"

In Ganges, down a Country Lane, situated on a 2½ acre picturesque peninsula with 1600' of WATERFRONT. The driveway follows along the ocean past the charming caretaker's cottage, and leads to the entrance with its antique glass doors. The main level of this 1927 home has a large living room with fireplace which opens to a bar room (suitable as an office) as well as a bright family room offering warm southern and western views over Ganges Harbour.

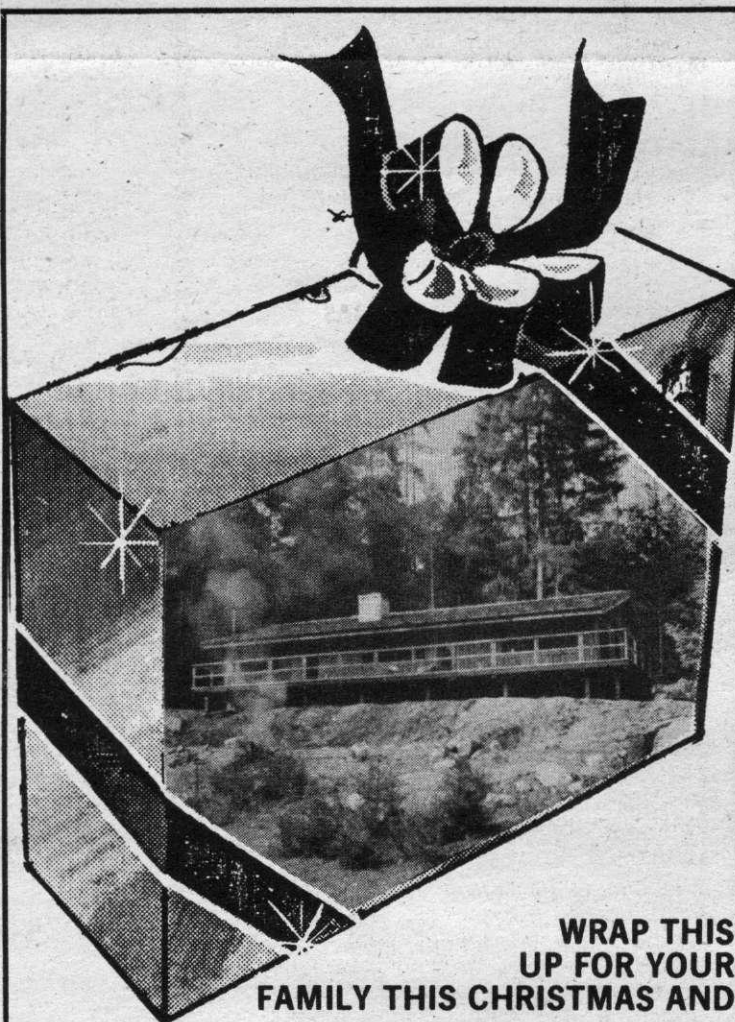

Stairs lead to the second level from the L.R. as well as from the kitchen past a guest room with ensuite to the 4 large bedrooms and 2 full baths, all with ocean views. The 2 room attic is full height and perfect as a gallery or studio, again both rooms offer warm marine views. The property is as nature made it and requires no maintenance. There are areas of low and high bank waterfront, rocky as well as clam shell beach, and possible year round moorage. Truly a rare opportunity for the purchaser with an appreciation for what is one of the Gulf Islands more unique properties.

Most reasonably priced at $175,000.

What's happening at Salt Spring Elementary School?

Act 1: the scene, a quiet ferry terminal somewhere in the Gulf Islands. Disembarking are 30 students and two teachers from a small elementary school in Delta. Little do they know what awaits them in the islands of the mist.

Act 2: the scene, a larger elementary school (somewhere in the Gulf Islands) Parents and students await their guests. Little do they know what awaits.

Act 3: the scene, a small elementary activity centre (in a school somewhere in the Gulf Islands - sound familiar?) Dozens of parents and nearly 100 children await the start of a "Friendship Exchange". Little do they anticipate the events to come.

SMALL HOSPITAL

Act 4: (roll of drums, sombre music in the background) - the scene, a small rural hospital somewhere in the Gulf Islands. A quiet Friday evening; the low buzz of people talking; a television is playing. Suddenly, enter stage left, a young girl holding her jaw (while simultaneously laughing) followed by an anxious looking teacher (tall, dark - could be Mork). Enter - stage right, another young girl, bent over at the waist, holding her back. Another victim of this apparent holocaust.

Slowly they turn to one another. A look of bemusement crosses their faces. Says Jackie to Jackie: "If this is a Friendship Exchange, I'd sure hate to see what enemies do to one another."

MARKED ONE TOO MANY?

What is he talking about? Poor guy - he's obviously marked one too many and is over the hill (classroom). (What I'm trying to tell you about is a great exchange we had last weekend with Boundary Bay from Delta: full of good fun, great games and terrific food (thanks, Mrs. Jukes).

But one of the most amazing things was the casualties. For no apparent reason, no less than four students had to make visits to the hospital to be examined.

NOTHING LIKE IT

Fortunately, nothing serious -

never before have I seen anything like it.

That aside - it was great! Friday, two rousing games of ping-pong, with the mainland girls edging out our island side with a late flurry, while our boys thumped the visitors.

Saturday, a monstrous volleyball tournament with no less than 13 teams participating in two gyms. When the smoke cleared (and the doctors left) Salt Spring boys and Salt Spring girls had emerged as winners.

NEW FRIENDS

This, of course, was secondary to the new friends that had been made. As the 4.15 sailed into the distance, we stood with a smile on our faces remembering and anticipating our visit in February. Meanwhile the doctors breathed a collective sigh of relief.

Otherwise, three weeks and counting; our chess "competition" has begun. Apparently a large number of novice and experienced players are participating. Rumour has it that Jeff Moger is again the one to beat.

I'm running out of space. Coming up: Bastion Theatre, December 7. Most of us remember last year's spectacular performance. Looking forward to that. Also, report cards out on the 10th.

For some strange reason, everything seems to be going faster - can Christmas be far? See you next week.

Lions' gift helps Pearson

George Pearson is a happy man. Founder of the Pearson CARE Tree at Pender, he has been given a gift to help him to read despite his failing sight. And it is the Lions who have helped him.

The 92-year-old part-time Pender Islander has been presented with a closed television unit which enables him to read. The unit reads the book for him and illustrates the original print up to 50 times its original size.

It is 20 years since George Pearson and his wife set up the Tree of Light. Instead of sending Christmas cards they would send donations to CARE. To mark the donation they placed a light on a tall tree near their Pender home. Then they invited others to do the same.

The tree grew brighter every year.

TOO MUCH

One day the work was too much for an aging couple and they handed over their trust to the Pender Island Lions Club.

Retaining their Pender Island home, the couple began to spend more time in Victoria.

The Empress Lions Club, in Victoria, learned of George Pearson's failing sight. Members launched a fund to help him. They gained assistance from other Lions Clubs as well as George's former employers, Chevron Canada Ltd.

For $1,800 they bought the reader.

On Friday afternoon the presentation was made and George Pearson started reading again. The machine remains the property of the Lions and can be lent to others if Pearson should relinquish it at any time.

George Heinekey

Citizen of the Year is guest of honour

George Heinekey, former regional director, former school trustee, former president of the Legion, former president of the Farmers' Institute and so on, was named Citizen of the Year on Sunday by Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce.

He was presented with a plaque on a planter in recognition of the nomination.

A special luncheon was held in the Harbour House Hotel at Ganges at noon on Sunday. About 60 people attended to pay tribute to the man who never lost an election in all his public life.

President of the Chamber, Gavin Reynolds recalled that Heinekey came to Salt Spring Island in 1919 as a small boy and subsequently married a local girl. After the Second World War he returned to Ganges and began a public life which ended two years ago when he retired from the regional board.

The practice of naming a worthy citizen for recognition had been dropped by the Chamber in latter years, noted Reynolds. He hoped that with the revival this week the Chamber would continue it in future years.

The guest of honour looked back on his 60 years on Salt Spring Island. When he came here with his parents in 1919 there were about 1,100 people on the island. The population has increased at an annual average rate of 60 persons.

"Some came, some left and some came naturally," he observed brightly.

He didn't know whether to speak as a politician or a statesman or an islander, said George Heinekey. He elected to speak as an islander.

"Whatever I did for Salt Spring Island was done by a large number of people of Salt Spring Island," he asserted.

He reminded the audience to be on their guard against any changes in the community plan without their prior knowledge.

He was proud of the Legion Hall, the Lady Minto Hospital, the schools on the island. He had been involved in all the things that make Salt Spring a better place.

In conclusion he paid warm tribute to the support he had always enjoyed from his wife, Ruth, and his family.

The presentation had been set up by Bob Nicholson, who had directed balloting for the nomination and carried out the planning.

Saturna Scene

By MARJORIE RATZLAFF

December, with all the seasonal events, is going to be very busy for Saturna residents. To give an overview, the main events will be: December 3, 8 pm., O.A.P.O. Christmas party for senior citizens.

December 15, 7.30 pm. Saturna School Christmas concert. Students and teachers are busy preparing for it. This annual event is one of the highlights of our island, and very worth while attending.

December 16, 2.15 pm., Christmas service at St. Christopher's Church. Preparations not yet completed; watch for further announcements.

December 20, 5.30 pm., the Christmas Candlelight Dinner. This year the dinner will be prepared and served by Jean Ratzlaff and associates. Proceeds will go toward helping the infant son of Hong Son Le and Kim Lien Tran, and partly toward the purchase of some musical equipment for Saturna School.

December 31, starting sometime during the evening and continuing to the usual small hours of January 1, 1980, the Saturna Lions will hold their gala New Year's Dance.

Forty crib players enjoyed very much the cribbage tournament sponsored by the Saturna Lions Club Saturday evening, November 24. The winners were: first prize, Bernice Crooks, with 966 points; second prize, Don McLellan, with 958 points; third prize, Ron Garth, with 951 points.

The proceeds are going to the Lions Club "Timmy's Telethon" to be held Saturday, December 1. Thanks very much, Lions, for a very "fun" evening.

Would you believe tennis was being played on the John McMahon tennis courts November 25? One couple with an observer, sorry, can't say who they were, but they must be enthusiastic tennis players. (Can spring be far behind?)

Tracey Pillsbury gave a very interesting talk about her experiences in Prince Rupert at the recent meeting of the Gulf Islands Branch, B.C. Historical Association. Thank you, Tracey, for a most interesting talk with visual aids. The next meeting is planned for February 3, 1980, when Donald New will present a tape recording of A Character Sketch of Sir James Douglas, by former provincial archivist Willard Ireland. Ireland, who was a most interesting speaker, was a good friend of our branch. He died a few years ago after having been retired for only a short while.

We are pleased to report that Desiree Houston is now back at school and happy to have her illness due to burns behind her.

Ian Gaines celebrated his ninth birthday on Friday and Saturday by entertaining his friends Charley Johnson, Dougie Money and Robin McNeil. Accompanied by Ian's mother Melanie Gaines, they went to Victoria and stayed overnight. They saw a movie and took in several other entertaining events.

Expansion to cost $204,000

A $177,407 contract to improve ferry terminal buildings at Long Harbour on Salt Spring Island has been awarded to the Victoria firm of Herb Bate Ltd.

The job will last between three and four months.

Total cost, including engineering supervision and materials, will be $204,000.

The project involves a major expansion of the terminal, including the addition of a second building containing offices, washrooms, lunchrooms and stairways.

Society to continue opposing airstrip

President of the Village Bay Preservation Society, Dennis Wood, told Driftwood Monday that his organization will continue to oppose the airstrip granted to Mayne Airfield Inc. by the B.C. Agricultural Land Commission last month.

Wood said the preservation society would be approaching the civil aviation branch of Transport Canada. Wood said that civil aviation has certain requirements for landing planes over and near domiciles.

Wood said he believes the Land Commission did not pay enough attention to the opposing briefs from two property owners who have land adjoining the strip and who raise livestock on their property.

ENOUGH TIME

He said, however, he felt the commission "gave us enough time to approach different agencies and form an organized opposition to the airstrip".

But, he said, they oppose the strip because it will be used by non-residents. He said that Peter Smith and Phil Jarman, both Mayne Airfield shareholders, have lived on the island for a while and the preservation society feels a certain "obligation" to them but none to the other members who, Wood claimed, do not live on Mayne.

Wood said his society has a "few cards" up their sleeve; namely a letter from a top B.C. ferry official, Charles Gallagher, stating the ferry company's opposition to the over-flight of planes landing and taking off above the ferry terminal at Village Bay.

Wood said the society met last weekend with a lawyer who discussed the legalities concerning the rights of a property owner gaining access to his property by airplane, "vis a vis" leased land.

DOESN'T OWN IT

Wood said that Mayne Air Inc. does not own the land under the strip but leases it from the owners.

He added that they are also seeking legal advice concerning the definition of "private use" which was granted to the members of Mayne Airfield.

Wood said only Jarman could claim that the strip gives him access to his house, which is situated on Lot 10. The other members of the company have residences elsewhere and Jarman does not have room on his own property to land a plane, Wood said.

He added that the preservation society would have been quite prepared to give access to Smith and Jarman. The problem is, he said, "we are having problems nailing it down to just these two. The list of users keeps getting broader and broader," he added.

B. C. Ferries wants to meet with trustees

The B.C. Ferry Corporation has asked for a meeting in December with Trust representatives from all the southern islands to discuss ferry service and ways of increasing the company's liaison with the islands.

This was announced at the Islands Trust Council meeting in Victoria last weekend after Salt Spring Trustee Bud Kreissl reported that his transportation committee had met with ferry officials.

Kreissl said that B.C. Ferries has recognized that they could destroy the islands by providing all the service anyone asked for. Kreissl said that ferry service and planning must go "hand in hand".

He said ferry officials would like to have one group on each island with whom they could deal. Kreissl said there must also be a group of trustees representing all the islands if a ferry decision affects more than one island.

He said that ferry official Bill Bouchard said that in 1981 the corporation will begin a replacement program of vessels that are 20 years old or more.

Kreissl said that this could mean the Vesuvius ferry with a 35-car capacity, could be replaced with a newer vessel that could carry 70 vehicles. "There is no way we want that to happen," Kreissl added.

He said if the ferry people meet only with the local trustees over decisions affecting the islands then "we have a defense from political pressure being put on the ferry company by vested interest groups".
